POLLOCKSVILLE.

January 21.

We are glad to have a change in the weather which has been so very cold all this year.

Business has been at a stand still all this year owing to the extreme cold weather. There has been but very little done in any department of business.

All who have held their cotton are reaping a big reward in the way of prices. It sells readily here at 13.87 and 14 cts. Cotton seed are also high at $8 per ton

The Musical and Dramatic entertainment which showed at this place last night was a grand success in all parts, more especially the music under the management of Prof Albert Cobb of Trenton and Prof J W Portis of Bouis Creek Academy. The parts taken in all the pieces by little Lucy Portis, the 8 year old child is worth special mention. They had a crowde[illegible] satisfaction

Miss Ada Barry who has been engaged in business in Sanford N C, is visiting her mother and grand father, Mr E P Sanderson near here.

Mr Nick Leary and wife have moved to this place, they have rented their farm of Mr Ira Ayers and will reside here in the future.

Mr Buster Koonce is running the old Koonce hotel at this place and enjoys a large patronage of the traveling men who come here.

Prof Alex H White has taken the school at this place and has a very full school. He will run a ten month school from this on and we wish him the cooperation and sympathies of all the patrons of the school.

Accusation of Embezzlement.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, January 20.—Charles O McDonald was acquitted in court here today of the charge of embezzling the funds of the Knights of Honor Lodge.

OLIVERS.

January 19th.

Messrs Burrel Parker, Thomas Barker Wade Ketchum and Guy Hadnot and others attended the Band Concert at Trenton Saturday night. They said it was splendid.

Miss Marie Duvall and Miss Florence Duvall of Pollocksville came to Olivers, Saturday to visit Mr George Duvall and family. Miss Marie Duvall returned to her home Sunday. Miss Florence remaining to spend some time with her brother.

Dr H R Parker and wife of Trenton, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs C I Ward.

Mr George Duvall and Miss Florence Duvall and Miss May Simmons made a short visit at Mrs John Simmons Sunday evening.

We think the Trenton correspondence of last week was in error when he said that a gentleman after a stay of two weeks there said he had not seen a drunken man during his stay. We think he must have been blind on Saturdays, or had not been on the streets.

Mr C C Smith formerly of this place, but a resident of Trenton for the past year has removed from Trenton to the new store at Olivers cross roads

Mr Alonzo Kellum of Fort Barnwell, came on a business trip to Olivers, yesterday.

Messrs M H Parker, R P Parker, and D L Littleton went to Trenton Saturday on business.

Miss Margie Waters returned to her home here last week from a visit near Jacksonville.

Paid Jones County Tax.

Sheriff Lon Taylor, of Jones county was in the city yesterday and deposited the portion of the State tax collected by him, in the National bank, He was the second official to comply with the law this year. Sheriff Taylor says that the taxes in that county were harder to collect than last year but he met with very good success.

The Democratic Attitude Toward Panama.

"It is said that the so-called Republic of Panama is an accomplished fact. France repeats that it is 'un fait accompli.' We want it distinctly understood that we had nothing to do with the 'accomplishment,' and are proud of the part our country took in it," says John Sharp Williams in Everybody's Magazine for February. "It has been or soon will be recognized as one of the 'independent nations of the earth' by our Government, by France, by Great Britain, by Germany, and by Russia. Recognition was marvellously sudden in comparison with the failure to recognize even belligerent rights for the Republic of Cuba or independence for the Boer Republic in South Africa. Amongst honest men, who believe in certain recognized fundamental principles of international dealing, the so-called Republic of Panama is an abortion, misbegotten, hag-horn, a mishappen Caliban among the 'independent nations' of the earth."

TUSCAROKA.

January 1st.

Well, the weather keeps cold, and the farmers seem slow in starting their farms. But if a cold winter brings good crop they will be all smiles next fall.

Miss Fonly Taylor came home Sunday after a few weeks visit with relatives at Newman.

Mr J R Bedard of Kinston, spent a few days last week with his uncle, Archibal Adams.

Messrs James and R M Stanly of Charlotte, are in our town and will locate in this community. We are glad to welcome them.

Mr Ed Moore of Cove, has moved in our neighborhood.

Mr W T McCoy of Cove, was in our town yesterday.

Mrs George A Williams, of Greenville, S C, is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs Bettie Wetherington.

Mr O H Griffin of Dover, has moved to Tuscarora.

In the Calamity Class.

The great man had written his autobiography.

The purist placed his critical finger upon the sentence which began, "My wedding occurred"—

Mildly he remonstrated. "Calamities occur," he said. "Marriages, balls, receptions and previously ordered events take place."

The great man looked up wearily.

"That being the distinction," he said, "we will let the sentence stand."

So it went unrevised.—Philadelphia Press.

ORIENTAL.

Jan. 20.

Miss Jennie Hall who has been visiting friends here returned to her home at Vandemere last Saturday.

Mr J T Davenport of Pamlico was here last week prospecting. We hope to have him with us.

There were several drummers here last week. One of our merchants put up a sign. "No drummers allowed in here."

Our cabbage crop is completely cut off. Some are going to try hot beds.

Mrs Josephine Hodges, wife of J R Hodges died Jan. 19th. She leaves a husband and four children, and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

Our little town is growing fast. Houses are in large demand, and rent for a good price.

Those who have lots here it would pay them to build some houses on them.

Mr W J Morgan has been right sick, but glad to say is much better now.

There was a fine lot of fish on the market last Thursday. One man caught eighty dollars worth,

Some of our farmers are bothered to get their cotton picked out.

Mr R D Hodges has some cotton that has never been picked, the first time he has offered seventy-five cents a hundred to have it picked.

Dr Daniels is putting up a nice drug store here. We hope him success.

Mrs O W Hawkins and daughter returned from New Bern last Wednesday night,

Mr and Mrs J E Carson returned from Kinston last week where they have been on a visit.

Dr Daniels returned Sunday morning from Richmond where he has been to take a patient.

Mr Jim Sawyer of Merritt is in town tonight on his way to Ayden.

Trenton Items.

January 21st.

Senator Thos D Warren and Mr M W Whitaker went to Kinston this week.

Mr and Mrs J E Waters of Dover, visited at Sheriff Taylor's Sunday and Monday.

Messrs W D Pollock and J F Noble of Kinston, is in town for a few days.]

Messrs Lindsey, Land and Smith of New Bern, is in town today drumming groceries.

Messrs Nathan Richardson and C B. Gill of Dover, are in town this week.

Mr C C May went to Cove this morning to buy cotton. In last week's items should have stated that Mr May was also dealer in fertilizers.

Our two R F D carriers seem to be very much interested in their routes. It is claimed almost every month to be better than their previous.

Mr R L May, agent Str Howard, is making preparations for a nice dwelling on the corner of Jones and Market Sts. He will have the old house removed shortly for his new structure.

The T C Band returned from Pollocksville today. Say they are having very good success as full houses and their program. The estimated number at Trenton being 300.

Mr Fred Smith was here this morning to see after the phone line. It is said that they are very much troubled with wood cutters along the county road The phone out of fix causes very much inconvenience at times, this morning a man eager to get news, had to drive to Cove, a distance of 9 miles.

The mail route from Trenton to Richlands has caused a great deal dissatisfaction of late. The carrier not able to perform his service as should be. Note the Olivers correspondent of this week found error in the statement we gave last week about the dispensary. We will ask him where he found this correspondent in error. He should have thought before he wrote, that if any error it was with the man that made the statement to the reporter. We regret that our Olivers correspondent should have been told of this.

Sheriff Taylor went to New Bern Wednesday where he made a deposit, the amount being for State tax collected. It is said that he was the second to comply with the law.

SEVERE COLLEGE FIRE

State Normal School Dormitory at Greensboro Destroyed. Students Suffer Losses. No Fatalities. School Continues.

Special to Journal.

Greensboro, N. C., January 21.—At four o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the dormitory at the State Normal and Industrial College for women. The flames were under very strong headway and the building was quickly consumed. It was of brick, four stories in height and cost about $50,000 On it there is $15,000 insurance and also $1,600 on the furniture which [illegible] at $3,000.

Tonight about two hundred of the Normal college students who roomed in burned dormitory have rooms at private homes, while the others are sleeping in the dormitories of the college which were left intact. Those students not in private homes were served with supper in the domestic science hall, but they will get board at the hotels Citizens have started a subscription list already amounting to over a thousand dollars to be placed at the disposal of the college for benefit of destitute students.

Student building and other buildings will be coverted into sleeping rooms and work has already commenced on temporary kitchen and dining room. Meeting of board of directors today to take steps looking to erection of modern dormitory buildings to be ready for use at beginning of fall term. It is a great disaster but President McIver states that it is not a circumstance to the typhoid fever epidemic a few years ago. State Supt. Joyner, State Treas. Lacy are here and Governor Aycock will come tomorrow. Letters and telegrams of sympathy have come from all leading institutions. Only twenty four students will go home.

The fire originated in kitchen of building used as dining room, laundry, containing boiler, cold storage and heating plant. There were rooms for one hundred and fifty in this, and in the four story dormitory were two hundred. Every girl was safely gotten out, over one hundred of the girls losing all their clothing.

The citizens sent invitations to those burned out to accommodate them, while the city banks offered money and the Southern Railway offered free transportation to girls wishing to return home. Arrangements are made to continue school, and President McIver gave assurance that there would be no closing on account of the fire."

Misses Mary Jones, Lelia Styron, Elinor Marshall, and Bertie Williams, of this city and Miss Mamie Buys of Havelock, were attending the School and were among those burned out, and losing their personal effects.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

Warring Railway Barons.

The most exciting campaign in the almost constant strife between factions of railway barons in recent years is that in which the Gould-Rockefeller interests are engaged against President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad. The object of the attack upon Cassatt is to secure his displacement from the position of president of the Pennsylvania, and the method employed is the control of the company's capital stock. It is said that Gould's attack upon Cassatt is inspired by the desire to get revenge for the ousting of the Western Union Telegraph company from the Pennsylvania line and the destruction of a large amount of the telegraph company's property, in the shape of poles, wires, etc. Rockefeller's special interest, aside from his desire to extend his financial power in the railroad field, is said to be to secure satisfactory transportation facilities and rates for the business of the Standard Oil company over the Pennsylvania's lines. The directorate of the Pennsylvania has so far stood squarely up in support of President Cassatt, but as the plan of campaign in all such wars is directed toward the end of controlling the stock of the railway concerned, the combined power of the Gould and Rockefeller interests in the stock market may, eventually, work changes inimical to the interests of President Cassatt in the directorate of the company.

PRESIDENT J. J. CASSATT.

Sturgis and the Doctor.

Frank Sturgis of Strong, Sturgis & Co. consulted a doctor and was advised to go away to some resort for a good, long rest. Mr. Sturgis expressed his contempt for the advice something like this:

"Rest! Shucks! What else have I been doing for the past six months? For a real, right down, thoroughgoing rest give me Wall street in the summer of 1903. Wall street at present, compared with the sleepiest summer resort in the sleepiest mountains on earth, is like solitaire in a hearse compared with a game of poker with Gates, Clark et al. And I paid $10 for that advice!"—New York Times.

Preaching and Practicing.

Bishop Frederic Burgess of the diocese of Long Island has a ready wit that he uses well in argument.

A man argued recently with Bishop Burgess about clergymen. This man claimed they did not practice what they preached.

"Oh, well," said the bishop, "maybe you expect too much of them. Did you ever hear of a signpost that followed its own direction?"

Sarafoff Lionized.

General Boris Sarafoff, the recognized leader of the Macedonian revolutionists, arrived at Sofia, Bulgaria, recently and immediately became the lion of the hour. He was proclaimed a national hero by the thousands who gathered at the railway station to receive him. He was crowned with a laurel wreath and literally covered with flowers. In response to the applause of the people he declared that the revolutionists were not only unconquered, but that their work was just beginning. Sarafoff spent nine months in Macedonia sedulously laboring to the cause of the revolution. His life was one of constant peril and hardship. He slept mostly in the open air. Of the band of sixty that he led to Monastir but eight survive. Though his spirit is undaunted, Sarafoff talked only in general terms and refused to discuss his plans for the future.
