SENATOR SIMMONS AND WATT'S

BILL.

The report as published in the ital eigh papers of Senator Simmons' address to the State Democratic Executive Committee, after Mr Simmons had been elected State Chairman of the Democratic party, created an enormous i lea in many minds, as it credited Chairman Simmons with claiming the Watts bill as being the most prominent issue in this State, upon which els party was tdo its chief fighting.

In an interview afterwards, Chalrman Simmons is reported as follows:

"My remarks before the State commitee were not correctly quoted in all respects in the Raleigh morning papers I cld not say that the Wates bill would be the paramount issue in this campaign or that there would be any paramoun issue, nor do I believe it. The Republican party, by taking the side of liquor and assaulting Democratic temperature legislation has made the Watts bill an issue, and the Democratic party will defend and support that [legislation. But neither the Watts bill nor any other question will be paramount. We are not in the paramount business. will be many issues upon which the Democratic party will go to the people of this State and ask for continuance of their confidence.'

Just why the Watts law should be an all important issue, the Journal is unable to say, unless it should be said of it that it was the weak point in Democratic legislation, hence demanded the greatest support of the party.

If the Watts law is legislation infmical to the State's welfare, it will be the Democmatic party's business to see to its repeal, because it is such a bad law, and not wait for its political enemies to force its repeal, through a fear of party defeat. The Watts law is no more than any other party legislation, for which the party must contend if it believes it a good law, and if unwise, ther. it should seek its repeal at the first opportunity. and of its own accord, not by any political party fear, or because of political expediency.

When a political party begins seeking the expediency route, it is getting into shoal political waters, and will soon be hard aground, but there is nothing ayet to indicate that the North Carolina Democracy, is in such waters.

SCARING REPUBLICANS INTO ACTIVITY.

On too many sides the Democrats are already indulging in a political hysteria and figuring out a sure thing for Judge Parker, as the next president of this country, and this before the gentleman at Esopus has received official notification of his nomination at the hands of drought being most serious in the north the Democratic party.

There may be some justification for the Democracy to feel aroused, and be- ing continues in Sothern Texas where at this time, before the campaign has 15th and has begun in Alabama and opened, to make declarations that Judge Florida. Parker will be the next President, is political buncomb without reason or basis, and very far from showing political eagacity.

If some of those who in every politi- that we are in for a tale of woe and cal year, send forth these same extravagant and unnecessary political forecasts long before the day of election, would go out of the forecast business, the Democratic party would be better

There are times in political campaigns when some well expressed confidence in the election day results is effective in securing votes, but when boasting begins before the party has notified its candidate, and long before the campaign has opened, it is apt to make the party Record-Herald, ous in the eyes of the conservative voter, and is likely frighten into activity and make alert the political op- A summer cold is not only annoying but bright and this causes a lot of encouragement, but is it not too soon to do so much crowing? The truth is there was a period in 1896 when it looked like Bryan was going to win and this very fact was used by Mark Hanna to scare big contributions out of the man who had the stuff. Of course this year the scarecrow cannot be used on this class of men, but if you will notice, the Republicans are sawing wood and saying nothing, watching and profiting by what their opponents are doing, the idea being to let the Democrats scare the Republicans, after which it will be easier to make the moneyed men shell out and make the moneyed men shell out and the worker work the harder.

The good time for this exhibition will be after the November election meanwhile there are a good many votes which must be secured and be ready to be deposited for Judge Parker in No-
