

SHORT PASSING EVENTS.

The game of base ball to be played between New Bern and Bayboro to-day has been called off on account of the rainy weather.

The Journal office is in receipt of a booklet entitled "Experience of a Confederate Chaplain," by Rev. A. D. Betts, of the North Carolina Conference. It is a book with day to day entries as are made in diaries and contains many interesting facts concerning life in the Confederate army. It is not without humorous as well as pathetic tales taken from real life on the field, in camp and in the hospital. The book is well worth reading.

The telephone exchange improvement have got to a stage where the completion is in sight. Although great confusion still exists it is believed the work will be finished by Sept 1. Work has begun on the new switch boards.

The all day rain yesterday had a tendency to successfully impeach the reputation of the weather clerk for truth and veracity. The forecast was for fair and warmer weather but the fulfillment was different.

Detectives are working on the case of the stoning of the Atlantic Coast Line excursion train last Friday night. It is believed that more than one is guilty. No new developments have been made.

The wholesale business of Mr. P. S. Duffy the Middle Street druggist has increased to such an extent that he finds it necessary to fit up the second floor of his store to be devoted entirely to that branch. Mr. Duffy is having shelves and other appliances put in, and will enter into this line on quite an extensive scale.

The New Bern base ball club are bustling around making arrangements for a series of games to last throughout the season. The team, for an amateur team is without doubt one of the best in the section of the State and some interesting and exciting games are expected. A game has been arranged with Bayboro for next Friday, to be played here, when it is understood that Kingston will try to get even with the New Bern team some time next week.

A number of launches are advertised for hire here now, and some of them are not getting over much to do. It is just a suggestion, to be acted upon or not, just as our enterprising city and county officials see fit. Why not hire one of these launches and put it at the corner of York and Hancock streets, on rainy weather, so people can be ferried across without having to swim? Yesterday there was a considerable lake of water there and while it was quite pleasant to the eye, it was uncomfortable to wade through without one's clothes or shoes on. Another launch could be used on the Hancock street from Broad to the N. C. depot to the great advantage of pedestrians in sloppy weather. The question arises "whose duty is it to see that Hancock street properly drained?" It is answered, "The railroad." "Whose duty is it to see that the railroad keeps Hancock street properly drained?" Echo answers, "the city's."

It is taken a long time to do it, but at last between this, that, and the other the transfer or hack service has become quite respectable. A year ago the Journal took occasion to "roast" the transfers, deploring their unsightly appearance, and condemning the use of any such rigs as public utilities. The city authorities became interested in the matter and a few of the unightly and unsafe turnouts were ordered to keep off the streets. The pace began, and now each driver is vying with the other in the good appearance of his rig. We have now a really good hack service.

The Journal received a very touching and pathetic account of the wounding and demise of a much valued and beloved pup, last night through the mail and while perforce we are impelled to shed copious tears over the untimely fate of the respected canine it is hardly good newspaper etiquette to devote very much space to obituary notices of that character. We deeply sympathize however with the bereaved owner, in the loss of his pet.

A very lively scrap took place last night aboard the barge Jupiter between the captain of that craft and the captain of another barge, lying hard by. The scrapper was Capt. James Wilson, a burly down easter, master of the barge mentioned, and Capt. James Feeny, a transplant from the Verdant Isle. It seems that the worthy navigators of the roaring main had been "convivially" as seafaring folk usually do, and about the time a mutual interest had been developed not unlike that akin to brotherly love, the trouble began, and a woman was the cause of it. A damsel of more or less comeliness had awakened an interest in the breast of the Down Easter, and he in the bigness of heart, took his Irish friend around for an introduction. Things went along swimmingly until the rosette son of Erin began to bring his charms to bear upon the fascinating female, then a great trouble was precipitated. Chief Hargett appeared, and later on two discursive sea captains were seen at the city headquarters, our with a very much swollen fat and the other with a badly disfigured mug.

Time to Holler, Boys!

An order has been issued by the post-office department that will bring gladness to the hearts of 10,000 free delivery carriers and add from eighteen to seventy dollars yearly to the salary of each. The announcement is made that all rural carriers appointed prior to June 30, this year who are entitled to a maximum pay of $600, under the rules shall receive a maximum pay of $750. The schedule which becomes effective July 1st is to prevail in fixing the compensation of all carriers appointed since June the 30th.

Rev. J. W. Lee Has Consumption

Greensboro Record. Rev. J. W. Lee, remembered here as the Irish evangelist, has fallen a victim of that dread disease, consumption. He has lately been residing in Philadelphia and was brought to his home on Litch street, in this city, this morning on a stretcher. His condition is very alarming. He weighs only 110 pounds.

J. J. Baxter has on hand a nice line of stylish straw hats to be closed out at your own price. They must be sold. A few Panamas left.

Remember Me.

I will give more satisfaction on your watch far less money than anyone in the city. All work guaranteed.

ARAPAHOE.

Aug 3rd. Our people are having fine crop weather at this writing. We have been blessed with refreshing showers since last writing. Our crops are looking fine especially cotton, old corn is somewhat damaged by the drought, but not so bad as was expected before the rains set in. The potato crop is too late to yield a full crop.

The little town of Arapahoe continues to improve. Mr. J. M. Reel hopes to get moved into his new store next week, he having finished up in good style. It will be a credit to our little town.

Mr. H. R. H. is putting up his new red brick building. We are glad to see an effort made to improve our cotton ginning facilities.

There is another store going up in Arapahoe.

Mr. E. Bennett has three mechanics working on his store. He will be ready for the fall trade.

Our Methodist friends have been holding a series of meetings at Arapahoe for the past two weeks, four concerts to present.

Last Friday a young colored manly friend of Henry Wright ran into Mrs. C. Johnson with his bicycle on the back of a Creek road near her home, he was tried for his misconduct to-day.

Some of our young people took a trip to the river city last Friday at the mouth of the Adams Creek. They report a pleasant trip.

Miss Fannie Tenth of Alliance has been visiting friends in Arapahoe for the past two weeks.

Miss Flossie Lee, of Bridgeton has been visiting friends in Arapahoe for the past two weeks. A. B.

Onslow County Convention. Everybody laboring under the delusion that E. M. Koonce was not a favorite of the Democrats of Onslow county and that he at the county convention in Jacksonville, Tuesday, would have disappeared the delusion. In fact Mr. Koonce is seated up head and shoulders above all the candidates.

The people of the county felt that Mr. Koonce had been sacrificed in the Senatorial convention and they were determined to accord to him all the honor that was in their power.

The nomination of E. M. Koonce to represent Onslow county in the next session of the legislature was unanimous to say no more about it, but it came with in a very few votes of being by acclamation.

The convention was unusually harmonious, what little bickering was among a few politicians who always seek to control the political situation in that county.

Mr. W. C. Mills was nominated for Sheriff to succeed the present incumbent Mr. D. J. Sanders.

Register of Deeds, M. M. Capps was renominated for his present office and E. W. Summers III was also renominated for county Treasurer.

Dr. B. L. Kellam and Messrs J. S. Petteway and N. Sylvester are the nominees for county commissioners.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE. Good Old Pamlico. Mr. Edtbur: If you will allow me space in your columns to say a word in behalf of Pamlico County my old native home which is dear to me. There are ninety seven counties in North Carolina and Pamlico county is one of them. It is said that she has the richest soil of any county in North Carolina. She has several growing little towns. She has fifteen or eighteen saw mills. She has a guano factory. She has a telephone at almost every man's door. She has first class transportation by both rail and steam boats; and prospects of a railroad at some time but the prospects look dim now.

The farmers of Pamlico county have been bountifully blessed for the last three or four years with good crops and good prices and they are in good shape. They have sixteen or seventeen hundred voters, but politics are uncertain as the wind that blows.

CLAUD KITCHEN'S GREAT SPEECH.

Great Demand for the Congressman Speech in Congress Against Teddy.

The following concerning a well known Congressman from this State may be of interest to our readers:

Washington, Aug 2.—Although there have as yet been but few conferences of great importance at the headquarters of the Democratic congressional committee here, work in the shipping and mailing bureau has begun in earnest, and men women are busy filling franked envelopes with copies of speeches made in congress that are in great demand.

Although directed against the administration, and in many instances more especially against the postoffice department, the government has no other choice than to distribute it free of cost. A congressional frank demands official recognition, whether it be the frank of a Republican leader, or of an obscure member of the minority.

The speech in greatest demand is the one delivered at the last session by Congressman Kitchen, of North Carolina, lampooning President Roosevelt, attacking his personality and holding him up to the scrutiny for his criticisms of former presidents in one of his books.

Chairman C. Ward, of the commission says that the demand for the speech alone, coming in the mails from chairmen of Democratic district committees aggregates 1,500 copies.

The government printing office is being kept busy day and night to supply the demand. Today six hundred bags of speeches were mailed from headquarters, most of them stuffed with Kitchen speeches. They weigh more than two tons and Uncle Sam will see to it that they are distributed in accordance with the wishes of the Democratic managers, even though the result should be the defeat of President Roosevelt.

Fashions decree changes oft But baby's needs—no, never! Styles may come, styles may go But for the babe "TEETHINA" ever.

"TEETHINA" (Teething Powders) Counteracts and Overcomes the Effects of the Summer's Heat, Aids digestion, Regulates the Bowels of children of any age and makes teething easy.

"FROM LIMA" (The Cove base ball team seem to be a little sore because of the defeat they received at Lima July 26 and claims their defeat was due to a pitcher from Vanceboro who played with Lima and they call attention to the fact that both teams promised not to play any outsiders but Cove seemed to have lost sight of this promise for when they came they brought with them three players from Asbury team and played them too.

It seems a little funny that Cove did not mention this fact also. Lima had a pitcher from Vanceboro who pitched part of the game. Cove had a pitcher, catcher and a fielder from Asbury team.

Now boys what are you kicking for, you got licked its true just as you did four times out of the six games you have played with Lima.

We think this sufficient proof to convince you and all that it was not the Vanceboro pitcher that defeated you but Lima's good playing.

SERGEANT Weather Report The month of July which is always a rainy season in this section was more than usually so this year although the amount of precipitation was not so great. There were only four clear days, while there were 21 partly cloudy days, and 6 totally clouded on 18 days. Of an inch or more of rain fell. The total amount of precipitation for the month was 6.11.

In the weather bureau report giving a record of July weather for the 34 years, it was observed that the year 1886 has the largest rainfall, it having been 21.12 inches for that year. The least was in 1875 when only 1.95 inches fell.

The temperature for the month has been normal, but few days have been excessively warm. On the 20th day the mercury reached the highest point 95 degrees. The lowest was on the 19th when it was 63 degrees.

The average maximum was 82.7; minimum 11.3 the mean maximum and minimum temperatures was 79.1. During the past 34 years the highest average temperature was in 1889 which is recorded at 83 degrees.

Kingston Free Press Items. Miss Norma Cox, of New Bern, and Mrs. S. A. Lindsey, of Richmond, Va, are visiting Mrs. Geo. E. Kernegay.

The society for historical research, which has been excavating in the ruins on Gordon street have unearthed a stone covered with strange hieroglyphics. Nothing will be known of its historical value until the archaeological expert makes his report.

The A. & N. C. Railroad street from the Imperial Tobacco Co's corner to the western town limits ought to be put into shape by the railroad or town. There are embankments three or four feet high nearly the whole distance high weeds, and nothing to show that it is in town but water-piping strung along the way. If the aldermen living out there will get a move on, his neighbors will appreciate it.

A free bottle of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup will be sent to any reader of this paper who will write to the Thacher Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

POLLOCKSVILLE. Aug. 2. The farmers are all smiles. They say the outlook was never brighter for a big crop.

Mrs. Susan Koonce of Trenton, our grand mother is visiting relatives at this place.

Mr. Charles Whitty is in Baltimore buying his fall stock of goods.

Professor Nye of Winterville High School is here in the interest of his school.

There is a move on foot here to buy a two acre lot of Prof. A. H. White and build a modern and up-to-date school house. May success crown the efforts.

Mr. A. Lee the livery man of the place is adding new and up-to-date equipments and is now fully equipped for the business.

There is a splendid opening at this place in the hotel business. The right person could soon build up a good business here as we are sadly in need on this line.

There is also an opening for a first class seamstress and dress maker and all who do sewing are kept busy and we hear complaint that they can not fill orders. Let some enterprising seamstress come here. There is lots of work and plenty of money.

TUSCARORA.

Aug 3rd. We are having plenty of rain now, but crops are fine.

The Free Will Baptists held their Union meeting at Gettemene church last Friday, and the meetings were protracted until night. There was a very large attendance.

Mr. B. O. Adams went to Salisbury last Friday.

Mrs. R. M. Stanly went to Charlotte last week to spend a few days with her brother.

Notwithstanding the great heat packers strike, we are well supplied with meat, and of different kinds too. The strike don't affect us.

Last week our little place had an opportunity to consume four heaves, three deer and all the fish they wanted, and the trusts had never seen any of it.

From the appearance of some horses and mules in this neighborhood, one would infer that corn was scarce or the price of it was very high.

Mr. M. C. Williams of New Bern was up here the other day trying to collect taxes. He threatened to take some of the horses belonging to certain residents here, but after examining the animals, thought better of it. It is quite improbable that the impoverished creatures could have walked to New Bern.
