DOES ONE ACCOUNT FOR THE OTHER?

Chairman Simmons speaks of a Demo cratic majority in North Carolina this year of 75,000 to 85,000; Candidate R B Glenn says he will have a majority of 70,000, and the Raleigh News-Observer speaks of the majority as being 60,000 and over for the Democrats.

These are tremendous majorities, and all from sources which ought to know, and whose forecast must carry weight. To contrast these estimates how is the enthusiasm among Democratic voters? At Charlotte a few days ago 110 was said to be the attendance at a public speaking, and at another point, where large crowd was expected, there were present 75 persons. These were at places where large crowds were to be expected.

At nearly all places throughout the State, there is reported an indifference among the people on politics. A Durham paper a few days ago noted that the registration was 600 short of what it ought to be, and at other points there is a hurrying up of the slow ones to reg-

Why this political apathy among the people this year, the indifference to hear speeches and the carelessness to register? It is not largely due to the fact that a tremendous Democratic majority is already forecast, and there being little of political interest or issues to warrant taking time to hear speeches. While business is good in the cities and people have nothing to cause them to of men. give special heed to politics and voting.

It is not that North Carolinians are indifferent to their welfare, for if there was thought to be any chance of Republican success there would be activity among Democrats.

Naturally, the politician, the nominee on the ticket is solicitous, and urges the voters to register, but when 60,000 to 85,000 majority is announced, what is there to hasten the voter's steps to hear speakers or to hurry him to register in an election which is all one way, and an election in which the voter's vote in such an overwhelming majority is like a flake of snow in a snow bank,

EVER BLUNDERING RUSSIA.

Russia's latest war maneuver, the attack of her Baltic squadron of warships, battleships and eruisers, upon the English fishing fleet of boats in the North Ses, is the most unparallised and astound ing action in all maritime history of

The action of the Russian fleet in first by their search lights revealing the English fishing boats, preparing for the night, and then deliberately pouring a perfect hurricane of shot upon these selpless boats lying at anchor for at least twenty minutes, or until the boats could cast away their auchorage and escape, presents a new phase of warfare which would have done credit to Malay pirates or the Buccaneers in their worst

It is hardly surprising that the people in England could hardly appreciate the raports which were brought to shore by their fishing boats, as they came drag-ging into English ports, shot riddled, with dead and wounded men on board. But that Great Britain will meet the mergency is not to be doubted, and min will pay a heavy indemnity for this horrible blauder of her naval com-

WHAT AGE SHOULD MAN ATTAIN.

A religious contemporary contends that man should today attain to an age of 190 years or over, and this in the face of the fact that there has been no special change in the age of men during the past four or five thousand years.

The assumption for the basis of the above assertion comes from the following quotation in Genesis-"And the Lord said, My Spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he is also flesh these addresses and learn their duty as yet his days shall be an hundred and American citizens. twenty years "

Abraham lived to be 175 years old, Abraham's wife, Sarah, lived to be 127 years old; Isaac. lived to be 180; Ishmael night at the Court house at 8 o'clock. lived to be 187, Jacob lived to be 147. Joseph lived to be 110; Kohatt lived to be 133; his son, Amram, lived to be 137; his son, Moses, lived to be 120, Aaron was three years older than his brother, and died some years before him; Joshua lived to be 110.

While these are some ancient worthles who atained ripe old age there were many who did not, yet it cannot be held that those who did not live 120 years or over must have been vielators of the Divine law, any more than it is to be assumed today that the present age is degenerate because there are so few centenar-

In 1900 there wer reports of 170 persons in England, 578 in Ireland, 401 in Spain, 575 in Servia, 213 in France, who were 100 years or over, which makes a respectable list, but it is not to be contended that these centenarians were granted many days because of individual merit in following holy ordi-

There is much in the contention that men may live longer, and with years added which can be made of value to the world, instead of a shorter life, a socalled merry one, that is, one devoted to individual gratifications and a personal seeking of pleasure, but there is no actual basis for the Genesis quotation being applicable to the sons of men in this fore Judge Purnell Tuesday and Wed age, or the assumption that the human race has fallen from Divine favor, because the long years of the patriarchs farmers can gather profitable crops, the are not given to the present generations

THE STUDY OF NATURE

A Society For the Encouragement of an Important Branch of Education.

The study of nature is becoming recognized as a very important branch of education. Because of his adeptness in the science of nature the country child has an advantage over the city child in being able to comprehend the forces of nature as well as understand much of animal life.

A society was formed in Raleigh July 15th which was known as the North Carolina Nature Study Society. It is the purpose of this organization to encourage by systematic effort the more intimate acquaintance of school children with the elements of nature.

It is recommended to all teachers of the State, and to other people in assisting in the Nature Study movement, that they jo'n this Nature Study Society Four kinds of memdership are provided for-patrons, $10.00; honorary members $1.00; active members, 10 cents, and mem bers at no cost. Membership of any of these grades entitles the person to all of the publications of the Society: and to the privilege of consulting the Board of Advisors upon any subject concerning which they desire information. This is a aplendid opportunity to carry on, practically without any cost, under the direction of scholarly specialists, a study of the everyday world about you that will lend to every commonplace object & new meaning and beauty.

The board of advisors is composed of well known fustructors in our schools and colleges and through them teachers and members of the society will receive many suggestions of a special or general nature to help them in teaching this new
