HISTORICAL SKETCHES.

By Col. John D. Whitford.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE

By virtue of a deed of trust to the subscribers and at the instance of the president and directors of the Bank of Cape Fear Wilmington and of John F. Burgwin, Esquire, will be sold at the court house door on Monday, 11th day of December next, this valuable plantation on Pamlico river in Jones county about eight miles from New Bern called Lyons Pasture or Alveston Ball adjoining the lands of Frederick Foy, Esq., at present in the occupancy of John Burgwin. This was in 1830. Thus went from John Carruthers Staley this splendid property which ran back before his ownership as follows: The Hancock owned this property from away back. It was known in history. The first William was brought here by Col Pollock as his attorney and he was at Bath before Dr. Grafford came to Catiwka, now New Bern. Yes the Hancock owned that land on the south side of Trent river where Lawson located the Palatine. For many years passing down from father to son William Hancock the grandfather of one branch of the family in this town and a relative of the other was third in descent from the original owner. The Lyons Pasture was one of the tracts and defied its name from an old ox "Lion" that would hide there where too lazy to enjoy the cut as much as the woods. After the Nash's the last William Hancock also owned Peabroke for a term of years. Without deviation he included the land in his name and here he only allowed the example of those before him as will presently be shown from 1723. We are aware that Hawks in his history refers to Capt William Hancock in 1714, as having some trouble with his men John Stocumb and others and to an Indian Chief calling himself Hancock in 1723. De Grafford states when captured with Lawson by the Indians they were carried to Huncoktown, H. refers frequently to this place and always as Hancock. It was a place near Snow Hill in Craven county, an Indian for the Indian called Fort Run afterwards. Observe how Lion Pasture is written in the advertisement for its sale—Lyon Pasture. It was certainly so called for an old red ox. Alveston Hall another name for the place without doubt came from the first Hancock as it will be recollecting one of the plantations inherited by the Burgwins from George Pollock on the Hancock is called Alveston also. The connection between the Attorney Hancock and Thomas Pollock leads to this conclusion. Thomas Pollock Burgwin died at Alveston in a small house on the plantation. Undoubtedly John Carruthers Staley held more property than any colored man before or since in North Carolina, and the money kept in their stockings by the old colored women for a "rainy day" was found out to him for safer keeping, which from indolence or inability was never returned. But New Bern had another colored man before mentioned, Denum Mumford as he himself wrote his name, that held slaves. One was well known as New Bern as Isaac New, and a good one too. Mumford also owned land, a plantation at the mouth of Little Swift Creek. He finally sold that and also Isaac's, the latter to George S Attmore, the grandfather of Dr R S Primercas and related also as before mentioned in connection with William Attmore. This Isaac New was the great father of Edward Richardson, the colored postmaster at New Bern a few years ago. Denum Mumford's birth is recorded in the family record of the Hon John Staley as having been born in 1771. Though there the name is written Mostford. It is so too on a tomb set up by his nephew as having died in 1853. His age is not given, I suppose not at the time known. The house in which Moses Kennedy died and in which life interest was given him by the Hon Edward Staley belonged to Mumford at the time of his death. He was a loud talker though not pert. You know there are people that speak their words as if a mile off and others believe. We received from a gentleman a picture cut from a newspaper he thought like Mr Richardson's home at Bellair. It was very much like the Harlan Carthy house at New Bern which was burned in April 1845. We thank the gentleman for his Bellair in Maryland. Continued.

Cared his Mother of Rheumatism. "My mother has been a sufferer for many years from rheumatism," says W H Howard, of Hoston, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at other times walking was painful. I procured her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by all Druggists.

ZORAH

December 23th.

Christmas has come and every one seems to have had a good time. Our young folks have had several dances this week. Mrs W H and Miss Amanda Whitford are visiting relatives in Pitt Co. Miss Mamie Whitford is visiting at Vaceboro. Mr Lafayette Winfield of Rocky Mount spent Christmas here. Mr Boss Mills and sister, Miss Caddie of Dover, spent Christmas in our vicinity. Messrs Outlaw and Dixon of Dover are spending the holidays here. Mr Amos Bell, Arthur and Roscoe Simpson of Mayville spent Christmas here. Messrs Dennis O'Neill, Leon and J M Whitford are spending a few days at their homes. Mr Claude Whitford spent last week here, but returned to Kinston on Monday. Misses Mabel and Erma Maxwell of near Kinston are the guests of Misses Lizzie and Julia O'Neill. Mr and Mrs Banks of New Bern are visiting relatives here. Mr J M Whitford and sister, Miss Coas, spent Sunday night and Monday at Glendon. Mr J O Wiley and Miss Della Whitford spent last Wednesday night at Vaceboro. Messrs Bryan and Henry Wetherington and Mr Joseph Stille attended the tournament at Aurora Thursday. Mr W H Cayton of New Bern is spending the week with his parents. Mr and Mrs Charlie Cayton have moved to Beaufort Co. Mr D P Whitford is preparing to put down a mill and cotton gin, which will be a great improvement to our community. Mr Joshua Stille spent Monday at Blounts Creek. Mr and Mrs Daniel Furcher of New Bern spent Sunday here. Married at the residence of Mr W D Whitford, Jr., Wednesday afternoon in the presence of a number of friends, Mr Thomas A Tate of Edward and Miss Nannie Ernal, daughter of Mr F S Ernal. Rumor reports that the wedding bells will ring again next week.

TUSCARORA

January 1st, 1905.

We are having fine weather for the first of the year and our farmers are making good use of the time. Mr A B Wetherington lost his saw mill and cotton gin Thursday night by fire. His loss is estimated at $1,000, with no insurance. It was set on fire about 10 or 11 o'clock. It is a pity that such low down people could not be caught and get the law. Mr R O Adams went to Southport Wednesday. Mr Ashley Fulford of Kinston was the guest of Mr S A Adams, last week. Mr M O Williams was in our berg last week on business. Hog killing is all the go now. It looks like our farmers will have a plenty of meat for 1905. The farmers had a meeting at Jasper, Saturday, the object was to secure better prices for cotton and not to plant so much this year.

HONEY DEW.

From South River.

Jan 3. Mr W H Gilly formerly of No 2 township, this county but now of South River, was in the city yesterday and gave a few items from his neighborhood. South River settlement is by land route, at 45 miles distant from New Bern, being in the northern part of Carteret county. Its post office is Lukens named because of a mill plant situated there belonging to that firm. The mill has not been in operation for considerably more than a year, but it is said that work will be resumed in a few days. The operation of the plant is quite expensive and gives an employment to many workers, who will hail with delight the starting up of the mill. The section embracing South River, is one of the finest stock ranges in the State. Cattle and hogs are easily grown requiring scarcely any feed or attention, only enough to keep them gentle. A domesticated Game of all description abound. Bears are often trapped and hunted by dogs successfully, while deer hunting is a daily sport among the residents. Five of these noble animals were killed there a short time ago in as many days. Small game is plentiful and can be taken with scarcely any trouble. The waters of South River have long been a favorite place among the local fishermen for the catching of trout and other native fish, but it was said that the fish have failed to show up this season which has been a great disappointment and loss.

BYNUM IN THE STATE

So Say County Officials. Raleigh's Moral Dispensary Makes Money

Confident Candidates For Speakership.

Raleigh, Jan 2.—The dispensary was closed today and all hands were busy making up the statement of the first year's business. Chairman Wesley N Jones of the dispensary board said the receipts were something like $179,000, and the net profits which go to the city and county being $55,000 and $80,000. He may resign from the board. He is now considering the matter. He regards the dispensary as far superior to the bar room system and said church people had treated him with extreme consideration and kindness. It was said today by county officials that R D Bynum, the murderer of Alfred, had not left the State. Further than this they declined to talk, saying they were not in a position to give out any thing. Governor Aycock today put the finishing touch on his message to the legislature. He expected to have it ready today but it will not be until tomorrow. Many members of the legislature are here and yet more office seekers, who want all sorts of places. There is a pretty lively contest for the speakership each of the four aspirants thinking his chances good.

SHORT PASSING EVENTS.

Mr S J Lane who has been with J A Jones livery and sales business for some time has removed to Bath, N C, where he will open large stables for sale and livery under the firm name of Jones & Lane. Mr E H Wood who has been prescription clerk for F S Duffy & Co for four years has resigned his position and will leave in a few days for Richmond to take a six months course in pharmacy at the University of Virginia. There will be a dance on tomorrow, Wednesday night at Staley Hall, to commence promptly at 9 o'clock. Risk orchestra will furnish the music, and the dance is likely to prove most enjoyable. The Glover house and lot, occupied by the late Mr Charles Glover, corner of Union and East Front Sts, is offered for public sale, as can be noted in the ad, appearing in this paper. This property is most desirable and its approaching sale is a matter of public interest in many ways. Emancipation Day was observed here yesterday by the colored people of the city and surrounding county. A parade of some of the lodges, and speeches at the court house constituted the exercises. The day seemed to pass off pleasantly to those who participated in its celebration, and good order prevailed. Several houses were noticed decorated.

Governor's Child Sick.

Raleigh, Jan 2.—Governor Aycock who returned yesterday from Florida, is deeply saddened by the illness of his little daughter, Louise, aged 4, who has diphtheria. He said today: "She is seriously sick." Three or four days ago she became ill and has tonsillitis. Saturday diphtheria developed. My wife and children are quarantined and cannot leave the square on which the executive mansion stands. I do not go near Louise, nor have I seen her for a week. The Governor left here Christmas day, for Florida. Last autumn one of his boys, Connor, had an attack of typhoid fever; a mild case. Dr Albert Andrews, Mrs Aycock's brother, is here, from Wilson, to attend Louise. Governor-elect Glenn was officially notified today of the sickness, which will prevent his occupying the mansion open February. The Governor said he wished he had time to talk about his trip to the South—Louisiana and Florida—and said it was a delightful one. "A great trip," was his brief way of putting it.

Justice for Bank Wreckers.

Indianapolis News.

The Federal jury did a good job in promptly convicting the Matthews bank er, John H. Wood. If speculating swindling, faith-breaking, trust-betraying bankers are not punished the whole fabric of modern business credit is endangered. Every man that has a share in wrecking a bank ought to feel the heavy hand of justice. Mandate plea for sympathy because of family ties have no place. The banker that forgets his family in betraying his trust has no right to hide behind his family when the law calls him to account.

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as Death claims, in each case, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F G Hunter, of Oakland, Ind, writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1 by G D Bradburn, druggist. Trial bottle free.

Spilled Her Beauty.

Harriet Howard, of 299 W. 32th St., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had Salt Rheum or Eczema for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. See at G D Bradburn's drug store.

AT LAST SURRENDERED.

Port Arthur Now in Japanese Hands.

Stoessel Found Further Resistance Useless.

London, Jan 2.—A special dispatch to the news agency from Tokio says that Gen. Stoessel, the Russian commander at Port Arthur, has surrendered to the Japanese. The receipt of the report that Port Arthur has at last surrendered has caused the greatest excitement in this city. There was an early gathering at the clubs to discuss the news and the newspapers sold like wildfire. Even strangers stopped on the streets and exchanged opinions. Baron Haysashi, the Japanese Minister, has got as yet received an official confirmation of the report that Stoessel has surrendered. Tokio, Jan 2.—The Mikado has telegraphed Nogi extolling the conduct of Gen. Stoessel, the Russian commander, directing that he be accorded full military honors. Gen. Nogi appointed Gen. Ijichi, his representative, with full plenary powers to discuss terms of surrender with Stoessel. Gen. Stoessel's letter to Gen. Nogi read as follows:—"I offer to surrender because further practical resistance useless."

Washington, Jan 2.—The Japanese legation at Washington has received word from Tokio that Port Arthur has surrendered. Tokio, Jan 2.—The siege began almost with the firing of the first gun in the war, now nearly 11 months ago, and when perhaps the greatest stronghold in the world was garrisoned by 40,000 Russian soldiers, supported by a formidable squadron of modern battleships, cruisers and torpedo boats. These warships have been destroyed or dispersed until but a few torpedo boats remain in the harbor. The garrison at latest accounts, had been reduced to about 15,000.

Ninth Township Farmers Organization.

Jasper N C, Dec 31, 1904.

The farmers of No 9 township met at Jasper, Saturday Dec 31, 1904, and organized by electing A E Wadsworth, chairman and W R Dixon secretary. The following were elected township executive committee: O H Perry, E Z R Davis, N T Weeks, Ed Wetherington and E W Wadsworth. By motion the chairman and secretary were added to the executive committee, the above executive committee were elected delegates to the county association to be held at New Bern Jan. 7th, 1905. There were about fifty present and subscribed to the following resolutions, viz: "The undersigned members of this association agree that we will hold all cotton of the present crop now in our hands until prices agreed upon at the State or cotton States meeting have been received and also to reduce acreage to be planted in cotton as agreed upon at those meetings. This agreement not to be enforced until farmers representing two thirds of the production of the cotton crop have signed the same or a similar agreement. This obligation not to be binding upon a man who is forced to sell his cotton, provided such person shall first try to borrow money on his cotton as provided for by the association, and if he fails in this he shall report his needs to the executive committee of his township who shall try to procure the necessary loan for him. If this committee fails to secure the money needed, he may sell his cotton without in any way violating his obligation or standing in the association. Second.

Only a Volunteer.

The above military drama was presented at the New Masonic Theatre, last night, to a large audience, who were there to greet the first appearance of the Lyric Stock Co. in this city, and see if the company merited the favorable comments it has received in other cities, and judging from the applause, the company here and good houses will be at all their performances. Only a Volunteer, is a drama which possesses the elements that touch the average human heart. The scene is laid in the Far East, mostly at Port Arthur, and there is patriotism and treachery, love and hatred, with plenty of climaxes to hold the attention and win applause. The entire company was strong, and the four acts gave ample opportunity for a display of individual acting well worth seeing, and which held the attention of the audience throughout. Tonight, "The Lobster," a farce comedy will be rendered, and it is a play that promises a laugh every minute. There is up-to-date vaudeville between acts which adds to the interest of the performance.

Leading Colored Citizen Dead.

The funeral services over the remains of the late M P Holley one of the leading colored citizens of this city will be held at St. Peter's A M E Z Church today at 2 o'clock p. m. He was for several years President of the E. N. C. Industrial Fair Association and represented for many years the 4th ward in the Board of City Council. Nearly 30 years he has been one of the leading merchant tailors of our city and was a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow. He departed this life Saturday December 31st 1904 at 10:30 p. m. at the age of 49 years.

Hadn't Heard It. Bourke Cockran is a capital story teller, but a good many of his latest yarns have himself for one of the leading figures. A Kentucky Democrat who sat in the Riggs House headquarters in Washington during the recent campaign was aware of this peculiarity in the distinguished New Yorker. Therefore when a Tammany man asked, "Have you heard the latest story Cockran tells?" he answered, "No, I don't believe I have. Was it about himself?" "No." "Then I have not heard it." And then the New York politician went over to a corner seat and studied over the situation.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

A Famous Soldier.

Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, who has been selected by Governor Elect Douglas of Massachusetts as adjutant general of the state militia, may be detailed for that service by the secretary of war under the Dick law, which says: "The secretary of war may assign retired officers of the army, with their consent, for service in connection with the organized militia in the several states and territories upon the request of the governor thereof. * * * and such officers while assigned shall receive full pay and allowances of their respective grades." If General Miles is assigned to Massachusetts he will receive the full pay of a lieutenant general, which is $11,500 a year and allowances. His pay from the state as adjutant general will be $3,000. His pay as a retired officer is $8,250. General Miles is a native of Massachusetts and went to the front in 1801 as lieutenant of volunteers, reaching the grade of major general in 1855, when but twenty-six years old. After the war he entered the regular service as a colonel and as senior major general was assigned to the command of the army in 1895. General Miles was raised to the rank of lieutenant general in 1900 by act of congress and was retired on Aug. 9, 1903, having reached the age of sixty-four.

Poor Policy.

"A liberal policy pays best," said Mayor Stoy of Atlantic City. "The government and the townspeople of this resort are liberal, and that is why—partly why—Atlantic City has so well succeeded. "We had a grocer here once who was not liberal. He did not get on. He soon had to shut up shop. His methods did not suit a place like this. "Here is an example of that grocer's way of doing business: "A millionaire cottager called on him one morning and said, half amused and half angry: "You have charged me on this bill, sir, with things I never got. What do you mean by such items as one handful of raisins, three lumps of cheese, one pocketful of almonds, two pieces of candy and three mouthfuls of sugar?" "I mean, sir," said the grocer, "that they who bring their boys with them when they do their marketing must pay for all they get."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Scenes From Frontier

Litola J Carter's play of frontier life entitled, "The Flaming Arrow," will be seen at the New Masonic Theatre on Saturday night January 7th.

A feature of the play will be a band of sixteen full blooded Indians, all of them straight as an arrow, with their picture head gear, costumes and moccasins. Four finely trained horses, commonly called in the west "bronchos," cow boys, scouts, ex. United States Soldiers, etc. In fact, everything is carried to portray exactly the West as it is seen today on the Frontier. The scenery is especially life like, many of the scenes being actual representations of historical places in the West that have gone down into history along with Custer and the other brave martyrs during the stirring times of the Indian uprising.
