and the outlook for high prices for the crops not yet marketed. Lettuce during most of the season has brought good prices and the farmers are not complaining. One thing is certain more money has been derived from the lettuce crop this spring than ever before. There was a larger acreage in lettuce than heretofore and the crop was very fine.

Mr. Arnold Borden's Condition.

A report from Goldsboro last night, in regard to Mr. Arnold Borden, who was shot a few days ago, said that while there was no dangerous symptoms at present, the doctors had serious fears about his chances for recovery.

BOOKWORMS.

They Are Not Worms at All, but Very Industrious Insects.

The name bookworm is made to cov er an army of little creatures of various sizes, shapes and kinds which can be found in books. Really no one of them is a worm, though perhaps the fish moth and silver fish come nearer to his father in tow. As soon as they is a worm, though perhaps the flab were both seated Discaell turned moth and sliver fish come nearer to pround and, looking at his father as if it than any of the others. There are it than any of the others. There are the book scorpions and mites, which are not insects, but are primarily car-nivorous. Their presence in books may be due to the fact that they find there animal as well as vegetable food. This is certainly true of the scorpions, which field on mites, book lice and other small insects. The book lice, cock-roach, sliver fish and fish moth can have no reason for infesting books except their liking for farinaceous substances such as are used in and about the their liking for farinaceous substances such as are used in and about the labels and bindings of books. The damage done by them is hirgely confin-ed to the exterior or interior of the bindings themselves. The white sats reed principally on wood, and is and about books there is more or less wood fiber which is to the liking of these veracions feeders. The moths and beetles are the borers and burrowers. They seek retired places to bay their eggs, where the larcas will have plenty of food at hand when histchoid. They will sometimes unmei from one cover to the other.—New York Heraid.

There are three essentials in merchandise to make it attractive to the prospective purchaser-QUALITY, STYLE, PRICE. Quality, without style gives a limp to the argument; style, without quality, is a delusion; price without either, is, in the long run, the most unsatisfactory proposition of all In this store's merchandise the three essentials are combined; the result is a host of satisfied purchasers. There is nothing pleases us more than to know a at our buying public is pleased.
