REVOLVED RUSSIA.

Philadelphia Record.
The outbreaks in Russia have become so general and simultaneous that it would not be an exaggeration to dignify them with the name of a rebellion against the autocracy. The erection of barricades in the streets of Warsaw may be regarded as ominous of a more determined struggle between the people and the military than any that has hitherto occurred. The butchery at Lodz was an altogether one-sided affair. There are revolvers, hand-grenades and other weapons enough in the possession of the people of Warsaw to give some assurance that the expected affray will be made unusually interesting for the Czar's Cossacks.

The population of Warsaw is about 500,000, and ordinarily its garrison consists of 35,000 men, which has now been increased, it is said, by thirty-five additional battalions. But the indications are that a proportionally large number of soldiers will be required "to make a cemetery and call it peace," in a score of other cities of the Russian Empire. If one battalion 1000 strong to each 7000 inhabitants (men, women and children) be required to maintain the autocracy in Russia that institution has ceased to be maintained. It will be bound to fall ere long for lack of troops. The attempt of the Czar to carry on in the centre of his Empire at once and the same time cannot but end in failure. The "Little Father" must choose between making peace with Japan or with his revolted subjects. He cannot fight both except at the risk of disaster in both quarters.

THE NATION'S NEWSPAPERS.

Columbus Journal.
The growth in newspapers publishing in the United States has been one of the wonders of a free and untrammelled press. According to the latest authoritative information there were 22,312 publications of all classes issued on the United States last year, or one for about every 3,000 population. This includes weekly, monthly and quarterly periodicals as well as daily newspapers. Of the latter there were 2,377—while of weekly publications the number was 16,152 and of monthlies, 2,250. The gain for the year was 39 dailies, 34 weeklies and one monthly. The total gain in number of publications was 89, or 4-10 of one per cent.

In New York and the Middle States there were 67 fewer publications than in the preceding year; in the Southern States 49 more, and in the Western States a gain of 73. The loss in the older sections was pretty evenly distributed between the various classes of publications, as was the gain in the South and West. Many thousand years ago the wise men wrote "of making many books there is no end." In this latter day he would have included newspapers and magazines.

THE TURN IN THE COTTON TIDE

From Atlanta Constitution.
Ten-cent cotton and better has been realized by the time the first bales are appearing in the most advanced portions of the cotton belt and before the old crop has anything like passed into the hands of the factors and speculators.

The hope and object of the cotton growers of the south has been realized. The fleecy king has returned to his throne, never to be deposed by change of gamblers and artificial influences intent on beating the producer of the great southern field staple down to the lowest point possible, with no consideration of the cost of production and the economic basis of supply and demand.

The cotton market is soaring, advancing almost daily by leaps and bounds. The Federal department of agriculture has confirmed in its latest statistical bulletin the fact so well known where the cotton is grown, namely—that the growing crop is remarkably short. The shortage is so great that last season's "overplus," added to the promised new production, will barely suffice for the needs of commerce, and the demand being active, it would be strange if the staple did not command something like its intrinsic value.

For this gratifying condition the growers of the fleecy staple, and the south as a section are to be felicitated. They have reached the turn in the road at last, and before them stretches an easy down grade of the broad highway of prosperity.

It is an occasion for universal southern jubilation!

GUILTY OF EAVES DROPPING.

The Big Woman Who Lights Up New York Harbor Steals Wireless Telegrams.

New York, July 6—Officers of the Brooklyn Navy Yard believe they have at last convicted Miss Liberty, of Bedloe's Island, of larceny of many Government messages sent by wireless telegraph from various points in the harbor to others near by, but which never reached their destination.
According to the statement of a naval officer today a knowledge that the goddess in bronze is causing the trouble was gained by tracing the break in the messages direct to the big figure. To do this one vessel was stationed above and one below, and by slowly following the interruption it was found at the green-stained goddess' spiked crown.

COMES QUICKLY.

Don't Have To Wait For Weeks. A New Bern Illustration.

Waiting is discouraging. Prompt action pleases everybody. A burden on the back is a heavy weight. Hard to bear day after day. Harder still year after year. Lifting weight, removing the burden. Brings appreciative responses. New Bern people tell of it. Tell how it can be done. Tell of relief that's quick and sure. Here is a case of it.
C. P. Bartling proprietor of the Hazelton barber shop, place of address 109 Middle street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at Bradham's Pharmacy, for my back and kidneys, and I found them to be all that is claimed for them. I had trouble with my back for some time, the secretions from the kidneys were very dark and full of sediment and my back gave me any amount of trouble. It pained me and ached so badly at times that I could not attend to business. Doan's Kidney Pills went to the right spot so quickly that I could hardly believe it. The first box did me so much good that I bought a second and used four pills a day. My back has not hurt me since and I can stand on my feet all day and do not get tired like I used to. You can use my name and welcome for I know the great value of Doan's Kidney Pills."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. a box.—Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the U. S.
Remember the name,—Doan's—and take no other.

A large panther or mountain lion measuring 11 feet 6 inches from its nose to the tip of its tail, was killed by a 12 year-old lad in Parry county, Florida, with a small single barrel shot gun as the creature was preparing to spring upon him.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live From One Hour to Another, But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by F. S. Duffy and Davis' Pharmacy.

Elith Root, former secretary of war has been appointed secretary of State.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.
Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it and after taking three bottles I began to feel better and continued to improve until I was as well as usual." For sale by Davis' Pharmacy.

THE GREATEST OPHOR OF MARRIAGE

The first is the most crucial time. If for the first time the greatest event in your married life is about to occur, how expectant, how wrapt up in it you find yourselves. You try to overlook, but in vain, that element of uncertainty and danger that you have been led to expect from the experience of those mothers and fathers who have struggled through this ordeal in ignorance of Mother's Friend what it is, and what it does.

If at this time every expectant man and wife might know of this greatest of boons, devised for the express purpose of alleviating and dispelling the suffering and consequent danger of childbirth, how quickly would all doubt and worry be dissipated. Mother's Friend is an invaluable liniment for external massage, through whose potent agency countless mothers have been enabled to experience the joy of parturition for the first time without danger to themselves or their offspring.

TRIED FOR MURDER.

John Peterson, the Negro Alleged to Have Set His Wife on Fire and Caused Her Death.

A murder case which in many respects was one of the most spectacular affairs of the kind ever seen in New Bern was tried at the court house yesterday. John Peterson was put on trial for his life, being charged with setting fire to his wife and causing injuries from which she died. The crime occurred December 4, 1904.

The case was called about 10:30 yesterday morning but it was afternoon before a jury was obtained. Two special venire of 75 talsmen were exhausted in the effort to get twelve men to pass on the evidence and determine whether "John Pete" should live or die.

The jury selected was as follows: A. D. Thomas, J. S. Miller, John R. Bowden, L. M. Edgerton, Furnie Gas-kill, W. H. Griffin, S. A. Gaskins, W. J. Barrington, W. B. Parker, F. M. Bowden, W. K. Baxter, G. T. Winfield.

The first witness for the State on the stand was Dr. Jones who as coroner viewed the remains of the woman and stated the character of the injuries and gave evidence that the woman died directly from the burns.

Hattie Perry stated that she saw the fire and the woman run out on the street with her night clothing on fire. She stated that Peterson and his wife were at her house on the Wednesday before the woman was killed and they quarreled a good deal. When she went to the place she found the bed on fire and all the woman's clothing burned from her body. A good deal of evidence was produced to show that the characters of both parties were such that respectable people held their noses and it will hardly meet with the principles of decency to publish. The evidence of officer C. Lupton was that he saw the woman on fire, having responded to the firebell as he is bound to do by his duty. He saw the woman and heard her cry murder and fire. The woman made statement to him between three and four o'clock Sunday morning in which she declared she was going to die, and that her husband, John Peterson, set fire to her. She was rational.

Officer Montague was on the witness stand and stated that he saw the woman Sunday morning at 8 or 9 o'clock and got her statement which was essentially the same as that taken by officer Lupton.

The defense produced testimony tending to show that the woman was seen the night of the alleged murder; she was drunk and was seen with several men. She consorted with Portuguese and was swearing and cursing in a very disorderly manner, other witnesses said that the character of Katie Peterson was bad. The most convicting testimony of the state witnesses was that of Henry McRae who told the story of the fire and his positive identification of the defendant. His testimony could not be shaken by a sharp cross questioning. The evidence was closed at six o'clock and the speeches will be made this morning.

Forced to Starve.

B. F. Leek, of Concord, Ky., says: "For 20 years I suffered agonies, with a sore on my upper lip, so painful, some times, that I could not eat. After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Buckle's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At all druggists; Only 25c.

THE CONFEDERATE SOLDIER.

Speech of Hon. Charles R. Thomas July 4, 1895, at the Confederate Veterans Dinner in Response to The Toast.

We take great pleasure in publishing the excellent speech which Hon. Charles R. Thomas delivered on the occasion of the dinner to the Confederate Veterans at the Naval Reserves armory July 4.

"I feel myself specially honored in being called upon to respond to this particular toast. Had I the golden mouth of Chrysostom, or the silver tongue of the greatest orators of the world in the past and in the present, living and dead I would be unable to do such a theme and such a subject the justice it merits.

The Confederate Soldier: In his conception of duty, his heroism, his fortitude and his courage, the superior of any soldier of ancient or modern times. The soldiers of the Revolution, fighting for the liberties of thirteen united Colonies at Moore's Creek, Guilford Court-House, Kings' Mountain, Lexington and Bunker Hill and Yorkton; with their bleeding feet, staining the snows of winter at Valley Forge, securing the liberty and independence which our forefathers decreed upon this "Birth-day of the Republic" the soldiers of the war of 1812 reflecting unfading glory and lustre upon the flag of the Republic, with Jackson at New Orleans; the soldiers of the Mexican War, under Scott and Taylor, in one unbroken succession of victories, carrying the flag of the Republic and planting it in triumph upon the glittering halls and palaces of the Montezuman kings in the City of Mexico; the soldiers of Wellington and Napoleon at Waterloo engaged in a battle involving the destinies of the world—none of these surpassed the soldier of the Confederacy, who for four long years with unflinching courage, followed that banner, which bore the St. Andrew's Cross and the Stars and Bars which is now furled upon the broken flag-staff of a "Lost Cause" but which is still unstained and undishonored.

The Confederate Soldier: May God bless his declining years. Born of race of fighters, of a race and stock which from 1800 to 1861 controlled the Government and the destinies of the Republic; chivalrous, knightly, brave, tender and true, loyal to every duty, acknowledging no superior but God and the women of "Dixie Land" I have no words in which to portray his valor and his virtues nor phrases of speech in which to do him justice. I know not what you and other men may think, and what opinions others may have entertained in the past, but the cause for which he fought was in my opinion the cause which was eternally right, admitted to be right by even the statesmen of the North; for Daniel Webster said Senator Pickens, of Massachusetts said the Constitution was but a compact between the States. I know not how you and other men may feel, but for my single self I never see one of these men with an empty sleeve and halting gait, who has sacrificed his all in devotion to principle and duty, without saluting him as the peasant salutes his prince. No more gallant men ever breathed than the soldiers of the South.

The Confederate Soldier: Dead, the South honors his memory and transmits to future generations his name and fame. Living, the South will teach the children their virtues and courage, and to emulate his example, and while this earth holds a true Son of the South no maimed and helpless soldier of the Confederacy shall suffer for the needs of life.

The Confederate Soldier! I see him as he leaves his home and fireside to enter the war, accompanied by the prayers and tears and the undying love of the wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts of the Southland; the purest, sweetest, best women upon whom God's sunshine, telling him with Spartan virtue, but with tears dimming their eyes, to return from the field of battle dead upon his shield or not at all. I see him in the first weary days of the war around the camp fire, uncertain of the future, thinking of the loved ones at home, but facing all with a brave and courageous heart. I see him in the trenches, cold and hungry and weary, but still brave and unflinching. I see him upon a hundred battlefields from Bethel to Bentonville, in Tennessee, in the Valley of Virginia, in Maryland, in Pennsylvania, at Chancellorsville and Gettysburg, and finally at Appomattox, where over-powered by numbers he laid down his arms.

Often times in the closing years of the war, half clad and half famished, his gray jacket faded and torn, oftentimes plucking victory from defeat, but always the same brave, generous, noble, gallant soul.

Fighting against such tremendous odds it was impossible for the Confederate soldier to succeed, but never in the history of the world has such splendid courage been exhibited, or such magnificent generalship been seen.

Finally I see him after the war, returning foot-sore and weary to his home and loved ones, his plantation devastated, his home in ruins; often times with one arm following the plough and rebuilding the waste places. And I see him today, having redeemed and restored the South to its pristine prosperity, greater in peace than in war, as the citizen of the great country loyal to her every interest; rejoicing in the property of the Southland and of the whole country; in the war with Spain the bravest defender and the most gallant fighter under the same flag against which he fought from 1861 to 1865.

May his closing years be bright with unalloyed happiness and when he passes through the peerly gates there with Jackson and Lee and his other great leaders "to rest under the shade of the trees" may he find there the palms and crowns of victory.

The Confederate Soldier! Those of you who prefer, may drink to him in the most sparkling mineral-water gushing from "Mother Earth," and those who may wish to do so, may drink to him in sparkling champagne from the sunny fields of France, but living or dead we honor him now and for all time and the cause for which he fought, which still lives and is cherished in its undying memories in the hearts of all the people of the South.

HAS STOOD THE TEST 25 YEARS

The old, original GROVES' Tasteless Chill Tonic. You know what you are taking. It is iron and quinine in a tasteless form.

Seeking Temporary Peace.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—In spite of denials at the foreign office there is excellent authority for stating that Russia is persisting in her efforts to secure an armistice. Representations to that effect have been made direct to Japan but Tokio thus far has vouchsafed no reply. It is said the request is made no less on account of the rebellious spirit being manifested throughout the empire than to a desire to end the war and prevent further fighting and bloodshed in Manchuria pending peace negotiations at Washington.

A Notable Honor.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Beaufort his week Mr. T. A. Uzzell, cashier of the Citizens bank was elected president of the first named bank. He was cashier of that institution for two years after its organization.

The honor is well placed and well deserved. He is a young financier of acknowledged ability and his friends rejoice in the handsome compliment paid him.

The new office will not necessitate his removal from New Bern as he will be able to hold his present position and look after the interests of the Bank of Beaufort also.

A Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party may be given to your stomach and liver, by taking a medicine which will relieve their pain and discomfort, viz: Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are a most wonderful remedy, affording relief and cure, for headache, dizziness and constipation. 25c at all druggists.

The Dewey Deadlock.

Affairs in the Dewey case are at a standstill pending the verdict which it is believed by most of the people will be a mistrial. The jury have been kept in their little room for about 36 hours and they would like to get out but the demands of the law are imperative and the officers are only performing their sworn duty. It is probable that the jury will remain until the last adjournment of court or at least until the Judge sees fit to discharge them unless a verdict is reached at an earlier time and that is not likely to occur.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at all druggists; price 50c.

The Bridge Will be Built.

Contracts have been made and active work will soon be started on the bridge between Morehead City and Beaufort. The A. & N. C. Company have promised to have it built provided the city of Beaufort would grant some some favors which were readily complied with by the Board of Aldermen of that city.

It is estimated that the cost of the bridge will be from $150,000 to $200,000.

The Original.

Foley & Co, Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mild and laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons by Davis' Pharmacy.

From a careful compilation of the losses in Baltimore county by the freshest the entire sum will likely not exceed $100,000. Ten to fifteen bridges were washed away, or partly so, yet nearly all the bridges were small structures.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by F. S. Duffy and Davis' Pharmacy.

You Can Be Cured.

No. 11 Cedar Terrace, New Bern, N. C., April 28, 1905.

When I was first married I found that my strength and health were gradually diminishing. I became nervous and irritable, and was in bed a week and sometimes ten days every month, and had intense bearing down pains. My husband had the best physician for me and I used his medicine for nearly four months, but I gradually grew worse, had less strength, and finally, I was unable to leave my bed at all.

A friend who was calling on me brought me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and was so kind in the words that I told her that I would take it to please her.

I was surprised and pleased that before I had used the bottle I really felt better, so I began using it. Eight bottles brought back my lost health and strength, and I have not had a sick day in six months.
