NEW BERN, CRAVEN COUNTY, N. C., TUESDAY JULY 18 1905 - FIRST SECTION.

28th YEAR

Races Clash in New York Streets.

New York, July 14.—“San Juan Hill,” the district bounded by Amsterdam and West End Avenues and Sixty first and Sixty-third streets, so called because of its notoriety as a battle ground, was the scene here tonight of a serious race riot, which required two hundred and fifty policemen to quell, after many shots had been fired and several persons had been seriously injured.

The trouble began shortly after 9 o'clock, when a policeman arrested Edward Connelly for attacking Henry Williams, a negro, and was pursued to the station house with his prisoner by a mob of Connelly's friends, hurling showers of stones and other missiles. When the station house reserves turned out, the entire neighborhood was in an uproar, and whites and blacks engaged in desperate struggles in the streets. Torrents of missiles were hurled from roofs and windows. Within three minutes not less than a thousand men, boys and women, black and white, were engaged in furious combat.

BYNUM SUBMITS TO MURDER.

In Second Degree for Killing His Partner. Judge Will Fix Term Monday. More of Embracery Case.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, July 15.—Judge Allen in the Rogers and Sorrell embracery case today, ordered a subpoena for a new and perhaps important witness named Banks, who had a brother on the jury in the Gattis-Kilgo libel suit, and who it is said was seen by Rowan Rogers and asked to take a message to Jurymen Banks. As yet the subpoena is not served.

The grand jury will on Monday resume the investigation of this matter. No lawyers have yet been examined by it, but the judge gives it full authority to summon any. Judge Allen directs it to fully probe the matter. It is the comment here that Sorrell does not know who wanted jurors seen, and that Rogers does know but will never tell. This may checkmate the investigation.

Raymond D. Bynum submitted in the Superior court here to murder in the second degree for shooting his aged partner Deacon James H. Alford, in their printing office during the last holidays. The judge will hear evidence Monday to fix the term of imprisonment. The defence is that constant and heavy drinking made Bynum irresponsible.

Rogers Before Grand Jury.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, July 17.—Everitt Banks was before Judge Allen and examined regarding attempt by Rowan Rogers to induce him to influence his cousin juror Miller Banks. Everett swore Rogers went to see him and offered him $25 if he would induce Miller to stand by Kilgo and that Miller should have like sum. Everett was then sent before the grand jury. James H. Poi and A. W. Graham, attorneys on either side were before grand jury.

Bynum Sentenced.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, July 17.—To-day Judge Allen sentenced Raymond D. Bynum, who submitted to murder in the second degree for killing Alford to fifteen years in penitentiary.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION HELD BACK COTTON

Largely Favored in This State. The Negro Eliminated.

Such is Expression From Farmers. Auditor Dixon A Popular Man. Claud Bernard in Good Shape. Cherokees County Game Preserve.

Raleigh, N. C., July 15th, 1905.—Chairman McNeill of the State Corporation Commission says that the State Board of Tax Assessors it has nearly completed its assessment of the property of common carriers the reports of a few of these are incomplete and so had to be returned.

State Auditor Dixon who is very popular as a speaker has a number of invitations to deliver addresses at various points but says he has been compelled to decline all of them except one to deliver an address at his home town, Shelby, on the occasion of what is known as the "home coming" of Cleveland State Treasurer. Lacy has returned from his mountain trip which occupied just one month. He went as the guest of Marshall W. Bell of Cherokee county into Graham county, on a 40,000 acre game preserve, the other members of the party being the sister of Mr. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Sake Hilliard. They lived in log cabins and had a grand time in the primeval forests, in which no axe has ever felled a tree. They caught more trout daily than they could eat and enjoyed that grand fish three times a day. Mr. Lacy says his trip was a delight from start to finish. On the way home he stopped at Marion and visited the Elhanan orphanage of which Miss Perry is the head. There are 150 orphans and she receives in gifts $10,000 a year for them everything coming in response to prayer. He says that though sometimes there is hardly anything left to eat yet a fresh supply comes in and that it is one of the most remarkable places he ever visited.

Judge Allen did not take any further step today so far as the sentence of Rowan Rogers and J. P. Sorrell is concerned. He gave them six months in jail yesterday though a longer sentence was expected by a good many people. It has been said that the Judge said he would mitigate the sentence but he did not really make this statement. The grand jury today continued its investigation into what may be back of the action of Rogers and Sorrell in talking to jurors in the Gattis-Kilgo case.

One of the closest friends of Claud Bernard said today "He is in good life good spirits and good health and soon will return to his home here. I have seen him within a few days but will not tell you where."

Labor Commissioner Varner says that replies have come in from 800 farmers regarding wages, labor, education, etc. and that a very large majority favor compulsory education with the negro left out. In the east and in a good deal of the center of the state the objection is almost solely on account of the negro as a great many farmers claim that to educate the latter ruins him as a farm laborer. A great majority of the farmers therefore favor compulsory education and in fact education generally for the whites only. A few favor it for both races and say the negro ought to have a practical education. Very nearly all the farmers complain of a tendency on the part of wage earners both white and black to leave the farms and go to where there is labor in factories, saw mills, railroads etc. There is great and general complaint of the shortage of labor this coming from everywhere.

It is somewhat significant that some of the most ardent supporters of compulsory education declare that they have this idea because they believe it will benefit wage earners by preparing them for more useful work on the farm where it is felt that an agricultural education is of special value. The farmers in a number of cases express their appreciation of the instruction given at the Agricultural College here. The labor commissioner says he is impressed in looking over these letters from over 800 farmers reporting from every county in the state by the improvement in penmanship, expression, etc. This fact amounts to a revelation. The replies have also been marked by promptness.

Farmers Now Realizing The Advance Price.

Farmers Institute. Athletic Park. Big Corn Acreage. Court Cases. Farmers Alliance Strength. Rain in Mountain Section. Von Herrman to Remain.

Raleigh, July 17.—Today the two parties who conduct the summer series of farmers institutes left to begin their work, to be out a month, one party in charge of Dr. Tait Butler and the other in charge of Dr. H. H. Hume. Mr. W. K. McQuarrie, an expert from Florida arrived to be with one of the parties.

Governor Glenn has returned from Atlantic City, much benefitted by his rest there. He had a very busy day as he leaves for Winston where he will make an address before the State Firemen's Association.

The condition of John Dockery shows improvement as compared with a week ago. Indigestion gave him trouble for several days but this is now ended and his brother, Mr. Settle Dockery says he is almost out of danger. It will be some days probably before the preliminary hearing of policeman Isaac Rogers who shot him will be held. It was set for today but was postponed by the trial judge.

Arrangements are being made for the construction of an athletic park on part of the property of the Agricultural and Mechanical College and west of the latter institution, the work to be done jointly by the city and the college under the direction of President Winston. The location is a very fine one and not a great deal of grading will have to be done.

It is learned that the regiments will take almost all their strength to the encampments. Not many officers from here will go, Col. Alfred Williams is not under orders to be president and General Woodruff, U. S. A. says he will not attend either of the encampments.

It is stated that one half of the total crop acreage in crops in this State is in corn, which is not up to the average this year according to the general report.

In the Superior court today Judge Allen heard the evidence in the murder case of J. H. Alfred by R. D. Bynum, there being no jury in the case, the purpose being to ascertain what would be the amount of his punishment.

A great deal of cotton is coming out for sale in this section showing very conclusively that the statement that farmers had held a large part of the crop was true.

The grand jury in the Superior court today continued the investigation into the Rogers and Sorrell embracery case. One of the interesting questions has been all the while whether lawyers would be brought in, the names of several having been mentioned quite publicly.

Work on the new agricultural building at the A. & M. College was to have been much further under way than it now is, and it does not seem probable that the building can be finished by the time the college begins its next term.

Curator Herbert Brimley of the State Museum is now at Cape Hatteras, or rather on Hatteras Island which is a long one, adding to the great collection now in the museum which is now better arranged and far more complete than ever before.

State entomologist Franklin Sherman is very busy just now making his annual inspection of fruit tree nurseries in various parts of the State, this inspection having begun July 1. It will occupy nearly all his time this month and August.

For some years no figures have been given out as to the strength of the Farmers' Alliance in this State, but Secretary Parker has asked for returns from the various sub-alliances and will give out the figures as soon as these are in hand. He says the order is growing very satisfactorily.

There must be a great deal of rain in the mountain regions as a letter has been received by a person here saying that the mud is ten inches deep. Heavy as the rain fall has been in this section it must have been much heavier there.

Very sincere expressions of hope that weather observer Von Herrmann will not leave North Carolina are heard and indeed he does not seem to be inclined to take this step even though it means prom Eon.

A memorandum of names of young women was found in his possession among which was the name of Miss Scott of this city as was noted Saturday. Telegrams were received in New York from all the women concerned and they disavow all communication or knowledge of the man Carlton.

SCRATCHED DAY AND NIGHT

Lady Suffered Tortures with Itching Scalp Humor—One Box of Cuticura Ointment and One Cake of Cuticura Soap Cured Her.

WILL NEVER BE WITHOUT CUTICURA

"My scalp was covered with little pimples and I suffered tortures from the itching. I was scratching all day and night, and I could get no rest. I washed my head with hot water and Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment as a dressing. One box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap cured me. Now my head is entirely clear and my hair is growing splendidly. I have used Cuticura Soap ever since, and shall never be without it. (signed) Ada C. Smith, 309 Grand St., Jersey City, N. J."

A DEEP SCHEMING VILLIAN.

Fred E. Carlton, The New York Man, Who Has Been Trying To Entice Young Southern Women Away From Home On Trial For Murder.

Saturday's Journal contained an account of a sensation in New York in which the name of a young lady of New Bern was involved. Fred E. Carlton was arrested in Brooklyn, N. Y. Thursday on the charge of swindling but suspicions are entertained by officials that he has murdered two of his wives for the insurance on their lives. The case as reported in the New York Journal gives a most sensational appearance to the case.

The developments in the court indicate that Carlton became acquainted with his victims either by correspondence or personally and being one of those affable, oily mouthed individuals on ingratiated himself in the affections of a young woman and soon succeeded in making a match. He would have the brides life insured for a large amount and after due process of time the wife would die. Two women died having symptoms of lockjaw exactly alike and the cause of the disease was found to be a scratch or bite on the arm of one person and the neck of the other. The places were badly swollen and discolored and showed the animal making the wound was either a serpent or some beast that had been inoculated with a virus.

Carlton testified that his first wife died after receiving a bite from a pet cat which she had been fondling. He also admitted that the second might have had such an injury but he did not know that to be a fact. He said he could not account for the fact that the circumstances attending the deaths of the two women were as near alike as they were, that doctors and nurses were puzzled over the manner of their deaths and it was all a matter of grave mystery.

The court has found it advisable to hold the young man for murder as enough evidence has been found against him to try him on the charge of murder.

The tales of Poe and of Bluebeard and records of Hoch of Chicago and of H. H. Holmes who killed 22 people for the insurance on their lives has had another worthy addition to their execrable craft. Had he been allowed to proceed with his nefarious practices would probably have had as many victims as any of his competers.

A memorandum of names of young women was found in his possession among which was the name of Miss Scott of this city as was noted Saturday. Telegrams were received in New York from all the women concerned and they disavow all communication or knowledge of the man Carlton.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE AT THE SURF.

A Brave And Daring Attempt to Save Drowning Man.

Human Chain Breaks, Leaving Six Men In The Rushing Current of The Sea.

The surf at Morehead is claimed to be one of the safest bathing places on the South Atlantic coast but accidents may happen there as well as elsewhere. An occurrence there Sunday afternoon demonstrated that fact as there was a very narrow escape from an awful accident.

There were a great many bathers enjoying themselves in the water, which was fine. The breakers were high but that feature usually adds to the enjoyment. It also increases the peril. The tide was at its ebb and there was a very strong current running out. One of the swimmers, Mr. Will Fuller had got out quite a distance from the shore and was unable to get back; his shouts for help were heard and when the bathers saw him struggling a long human chain was formed which extended from the shore almost to where Fuller was. There were over fifty men in the chain. They had almost reached the helpless man when the chain broke and six men were at the mercy of the sea. They were Messrs Tom Lindsay, T. M. Owings, Clyde Bizzell, W. A. Jordan, Kinoston T. R. Twilley. Consternation filled their minds as they saw their condition and a few of them cast a longing lingering look shoreward and never expected to get back any more, at least not alive.

In the absence of a life line or other rope to throw out to the struggling man a rope was stripped from the flag pole on the beach and that was used for the purpose, but that did not avail. Fortunately the current carried them to a shoal where the water was very shallow and they were able to get upon the land, the undertow not being strong at that particular point. Once upon the land the men were enabled to return to the beach by following the line of the shoal to within a few feet of the shore. Will Fuller was assisted to the beach, and he was then given treatment usually practiced upon men who have been in danger of drowning. He was restored after some time of hard work and was revived, and aside from the strain and soreness caused by the experience, he is none the worse.

Mr. T. M. Owings, who is the purser of the steamer Ocracoke fared rather worse than the others. He is a man of slight physical proportions and not constitutionally strong and the experience he had in the sea was very hard on him. He required a good deal of attention on the way from Morehead to New Bern and was taken to his room in hotel Chatlawka, where he suffered very much all day yesterday. His condition is not regarded as serious but he will be confined to his room for some days.

There is a good deal of criticism about the management at the surf, because there is not proper protection given bathers there. It is maintained that the place is the safest of any beach as has been said before and that a life line is abused as often as it is used. However these statements may be they do not stand as an excuse for the absence of some kind of protection against the strong ocean tides. Had some substantial assistance of this kind been at hand all the peril and suffering would have been avoided.

Too much cannot be said of the brave men who risked their lives to save another. It is the evidence of the greatest courage and heroism when a man or men will take a peril upon themselves when they see a fellow being in danger and their bravery is appreciated.

Attidavits of Fire-Proof Safes. Cincinnati, O., April 15, 1903. J. Baum Safe & Lock Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. Gentlemen:—Please enter our order for a No-10 safe at once and get it out as soon as possible.

We are now located in the Blymyer Building o. Main St., and are getting in shape for business. Everything in our establishment in the Pike Building was destroyed by the fire, and the only thing which was left was our iron safe which we bought of you. We at first were of the belief that everything in the safe would be in ashes, as the safe was on the top floor, fell six stories and was in the hottest part of the fire, but to our surprise the books were found to be in as perfect condition as preceding the fire and could be used again if it were not that they had a musty smell from the fire. We will send you one of the books as soon as we have it recopied, as a testimonial of what your safe will do, and we will write you up a testimonial of any description you may desire, for we can not say too much of the way the safe stood the fire. Yours Very Truly,
