NEW YORK, CHAMPIONS.

Wins Four Games Out of Five From Philadelphia. All Shut Out Games. Special to Journal.

New York, Oct. 14. - The New York Nationals are champions of American base ball, today's game settling the question, the Giants taking the fifth game played, and winning four out of the five games played.

It was the great Matthewson again, he winning every game in which he pitched, and everyone a shut out. Bender opposed him but while he pitched great ball, allowing New York but five hits, the men behind him could not get a man across the home plate.

Thirty thousand people viewed the contest, which ends the struggle between the two leagues. New York made two runs and five hits, Athletics no runs and four hits.

FELL THIRTY FEET.

A Workman For Blades Lumber Company Suffers A Severe Accident.

Mr. Ellis Hall, a workman for the Blades Lumber Co. at their plant on Griffith street, is confined to his home on East Front street on account of painful injuries he received yesterday morning. He was at work repairing the pipe used to convey the saw dust from the saw mill to the ice factory and was sitting on the pipe, about 20 feet above the ground.

The pipe broke at a joint and he was thrown up several feet and when he struck the ground he landed on his back. His descent is judged to be all of 30 feet.

When he was taken home it was feared that his injuries were of a serious nature but Dr. Primrose was summoned who found that he was suffering from concussion of a vertebrae, one of the small sections of the backbone. The doctor announced that he was not dangerously hurt but that he would be required to remain in bed for some time.

Allen's Minstrel Show

A. G. Allen's big minstrel show entertained a large audience here Monday night. The tent was packed, the crowd was perfectly orderly and seemed to enjoy themselves in the heartiest manner.

The acting was clean and refined. The jokes were the best cracked here in some time, and the chorus was splendid. This is the fourth performance of Allen's minstrels in this city and the performance last night merited the large attendance it received.

COMING RECEPTION

Capitol City Making Final Arrangements.

Preparations for 50,000 Visitors. Fair Makes Good First Day. Decorations on Building. New State Bank Examiner Haywood, Enters Upon His Duties.

Raleigh, Oct. 16. - The committee having in charge the reception of the President here met this afternoon and made the final arrangements. Secretary Loeb sent word by a gentleman who came here to look over the ground that it was desired to have the street along which the procession would pass roped, as is done in the large cities, and Mayor Johnson said this would be attended to. The President will be taken to the Executive Mansion and after breakfast the line of march will be taken to the fair grounds, quite a section of the city being covered in the route. On the boat of the President's carriage will be a secret service man and three others will be in the carriage immediately following that of the President. On arrival at the fair grounds the procession will enter the race course, the Presidential party, the Governor, Council of State, etc., going to the right, and the military to the left. The military will then march past the President and Governor, who will be in the speaker's stand between the grand-stand and the race course. Provision has been made by which at least 50,000 people can easily see the President. On the stand will be the President, and his party of seven, Governor Glenn, the Council of State and the personal staff.

Ten thousand persons visited the fair grounds yesterday and the street cars were crowded all day. Everybody seemed to be pleased with arrangements made. A great deal of decoration was done today. For the first time the Postoffice was decorated. A regulation of the Treasury Department prohibits this, but all the occupants of the building requested that they be allowed to decorate it at their own cost, the work is very elaborate indeed.

General James D. Glenn, Private Secretary of the Governor, yesterday had the fourth attack of acute indigestion, and this was very severe, but today he is very much better though having fever.

State Bank Examiner Fabius J. Haywood, Jr., today began his official duties in the field, having for some days been at the office of the Corporation Commission, which appointed him.

BID FAREWELL TO THE OLD CHURCH. Appropriate and Affecting Services in the Old Centenary Methodist Church.

"Farewell" a word that must be, and hath been a sound which makes us linger. - Yet, farewell! - BYRON.

The last religious services in the old Centenary Methodist Church were held Sunday night. The congregation was very large and the services were impressive. There were many who were affected by the meeting and the thought of leaving a place which had such memories, some joyous and some sad, was one which brought the tears to many eyes. It was like parting with a dear friend and though the change is for the better the association and memories of the old church cannot be erased from the heart.

Rev. G. T. Adams preached a touching and appropriate sermon on the text found in Deuteronomy 1:6: "The Lord God Spake Unto us in Horab saying: Ye have dwelt long enough in this Mount." His remarks were to the effect that religious affairs grow and develop as secular things do and they have the same needs. A House of God should meet the requirements of His people who worship in that house the same as a private residence meets the demands of its occupants. A large and well built church is not for show, it is for the greater development of God's Kingdom, and as the church has been put into a larger and better house of worship so their responsibility in cause of Christianity increases. He spoke feelingly of the tender memories which hang around the old church and that if the walls could speak, wonderful things would be heard.

Following the sermon, the pastor officiated in a love feast in which all participated. Afterwards a testimony meeting in which several spoke some in a reminiscent mood and all pledging to renew their faith and to live more for Christ's Kingdom.

Mr. Hudson appealed from the Justice's opinion and the case will go to court.

MORDAUNTS QUIT THE ROAD.

The Repertoire Company Break up on Account of Poor Business.

The Mordaunt Stock Co., which was to have been the attraction and the Opera House all this week, broke up at Rocky Mount Saturday night at the actors have returned to New York. The reason assigned for the failure was poor business. It had been their misfortune to either follow high priced shows or to follow another repertoire company and the large crowds on which they are dependent for success did not materialize. Manager Matthews announces the engagements of drama "The Player Maid" Tuesday Oct. 31, and "Daredevil Dorothy" Wednesday Nov. 1st.

RAPID WRITERS.

Authors Who Did a Great Deal of Work in Little Time.

The rapidity of the ancient writers is seen from the great number of works prepared by them. Livy, for instance, wrote 142 books. Among the Romans, Cicero often wrote three or four important works in a single year. Of later writers, Dr. Johnson, Scott and Byron were all rapid writers. Byron, it is related, wrote "The Corsair" in ten days, while Scott wrote a work for which he was paid $1,000 in ten days. "Rob and His Friends," by Dr. John Brown, was written, it is said, at a single sitting.

The story is told that Dean Shipley once said to Heber, "Suppose you write a hymn for the service tomorrow morning," and by the next morning the hymn known all around the world, "From Greenland's icy Mountains," was written, printed and used in that day's missionary service. Chalmers was once asked how long it took to prepare a sermon. He replied: "That depends on how long you want it. If your sermon is to be half an hour long, it will take you three days; if it is to be three-quarters of an hour, it will take two or perhaps one, but if you are going to preach an hour, then there is not much occasion to think a great deal about it. It may be done in an hour."

Samuel Johnson would write at a single sitting the manuscript for forty-eight printed octavo pages. In one week he wrote "Rasselas" to pay for his mother's funeral, sent it off to the publishers without reading it over and was paid $100 for it.

SARCASTIC DEAN SWIFT.

Rules and Directions For Servants That He Wrote.

There was a servant problem when Dean Swift was alive just as there is today, and he died in 1745. In his "Rules and Directions For Servants" he wrote: "When you have broken all your earthen vessels below stairs, which is usually done in a week, the copper pot will do as well. It can boil milk, heat porridge, hold small beer. Apply it indifferently to all these uses, but never wash or scour it." And again: "If you want paper to singe a fowl, tear the first book you see about the house. Wipe your shoes, for want of a cloth, on the bottom of a curtain or a damask napkin." "In roasting and boiling," he goes on, "use none but the large coals and save the small ones for the fire above stairs." Another touch that might have been written today is the following: "When a butler cleans the plate leave the whiting plainly to be seen in all the china, for fear your lady should not believe you had cleaned it." Once more: "There are several ways of putting out a candle. You may run the candle end against the wainscot, which puts the snuff out immediately; you may lay it on the ground and tread the snuff out with your foot; you may hold it upside down until it is choked in its own grease or cram it into the socket of the candlestick; you may whirl it round in your hand till it goes out."

On Thursday, Roosevelt day, the special train will leave New Bern at 6:55 a. m. Cars will be at the depot for the accommodation of the New Bern passengers and the company greatly desires that the people will occupy the cars before the train arrives in order that there may be as little delay as possible.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt so long a resident of Kinston has moved his office to Goldsboro for the convenience of his patients who seek from a distance, Goldsboro being the railroad centre of Eastern Carolina. 25 YEARS OF AGONY ENDED

Boston Business Man Cured By Cuticura of Awful Humor Covering Head, Neck, and Shoulders After Hospital and Doctors Failed.

Under date of September 9, 1904, Mr. S. P. Keyes, a well-known business man of No. 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., says: "Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensiveness to sight and smell, that to my friends, and even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the—hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and on this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura, and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured."

CUTICURA—THE SET, $1.

Complete Treatment for Every Humor from Pimples to Scrofula.

A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring skin scalp, and blood humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

Death at Pollocksville

Died Sunday, Oct. 15 at his home near this place, Mr. Geo. Stanley, 16 was in his place late Saturday evening selling fish and oysters in apparent good health. Mr. Stanley returned to his home late in the evening, had a chill at night but was up and able to be around attending to the feeding of stock next Sunday morning, but was taken suddenly ill, dying in a few hours. He leaves a wife and several small children. He was about 30 years old, industrious hard worker, a good provider, kind, loving and affectionate husband and father of sterling character.

We all bow in humble submission to the will of God and deeply mourn in sympathy with bereaved and stricken family. We shall miss his genial face among us, better men are scarce.

A Friend.

A Great Minstrel Show.

Winston-Salem Journal Oct. 15. The Donnelly & Hatfield Minstrels held the boards at Auditorium last night and gave a pleasing and much varied performance. The costumes were pretty and new, the music excellent and the jokes were actually funny. All in all, the popular verdict was decidedly favorable to the aggregation.

Opening with a spectacular scenic effect, "The Evolution of Minstrelsy" there followed the ballad singing a negro skit entitled "The Meeting of the Trustees;" then an olio beginning with Truscuro Brothers, Roman ax jugglers, followed by Messrs Donnelly and Shunk in a double monologue, a decided novelty that brought the laughter. Some clever feats of contortion were performed by the Toledo Troupe, and Crawford and Fanning had an acceptable musical act. The finale was a circus burlesque that sent the audience away in great good humor.

The Donnelly & Hatfield Minstrels will be seen here Friday October 20.
