DEATH OF GEN. GLENN

Her and Secretary of the Governor.

Weather Bright and Summer Like. Thousands Pouring into Capitol City. Statue to Sir Walter Raleigh. Big Premiums in Georgia Fair.

Raleigh, Oct. 18.—The death of Gen. James D. Glenn, brother of the Governor and his private secretary, which occurred late last night, was a great shock to the Governor and to the people of Raleigh. Gen. Glenn had been in extremely poor health two years. It was stated that his trouble was acute indigestion, but it may have been something more serious. His age was 53. He was a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute and had been in the service of the Southern railway as adjutant general for years, under Governors Fowl and Holt. His last illness began early last summer. He had really never been well since he went on duty as private secretary, but stuck at his post. In fact, he wanted to be to his desk Monday. Governor Glenn informed your correspondent. The Governor was very anxious about his brother yesterday, but last night felt easier.

The council of Raleigh met this morning to take action regarding the death of Gen. Glenn. The National and State flags in the Capitol are put at half staff. The executive office was closed. There were many callers including the State officers, at the late home of Gen. Glenn, which is near the Executive Mansion. It was announced that the Governor will leave with the body of his brother for Greensboro this afternoon. Gen. Glenn's wife and children were with him at the time of his death. The end came very suddenly.

People poured into Raleigh today by thousands. There had been early in the morning some fear of rain, but the day was bright and summer-like in its warmth. The various places of interest were thronged. Many Confederate veterans are here and "crosses of four" were frequently seen. The work of decorating the city for the President was completed.

One of the street sights is a big black North Carolina bear which will greet the President from a platform built out from the long portico of the agricultural building.

Around the statue of Vance in the Capitol Square are four Confederate flags set in the grassy mound from which the statue rises.

The fact that the money for the statue of Sir Walter Raleigh, to be placed in Nash Square here, is at last to be raised is certainly gratifying. There was $500 in the hands of treasurer Joseph G. Brown. To this is now added $462 from the Virginia Dare Association. The remainder of the $5000 needed is to be raised under the auspices of the N. C. Literary and Historical association, which has so far failed in nothing it has undertaken. It is proposed that it shall obtain offerings from the school children of the State for this purpose.

Mr. McCallum of the State Board of Agriculture arrived today from Georgia where he won a prize at the fair. He says it is a revelation for ahead of anything ever dreamed of in this State, with $22,500 for agricultural premiums, $1,500 for the best county display, $400 for the best individual display, $50 for the best bushel of corn, wheat, etc. He says that anyone of the 6 county exhibits will exceed the entire display of agricultural products at the State Fair here.

The Raleigh Excursion.

The excursion to Raleigh yesterday did not catch as many New Bernians as was expected. Although the great attraction was the presence of President Roosevelt there was but little disposition among the citizens to take the trip. The total number of tickets to the fair did not exceed 200 and only 46 were sold on the special train yesterday morning. Doubtless the forecast of rain issued on Wednesday kept many from going. The train was well patronized at stations east of New Bern.

Two Theatre Tickets For Five Cents

With every five cent purchase on toilet articles, stationery, confectioneries, cigars and tobacco the patron signs a ticket which is deposited in a box. These tickets will be shuffled and drawn at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The party's name on the ticket will receive free of charge two of the best seats at the Drama "The Player Maid" to show at the opera house Tuesday night Oct. 31. Theatre tickets will be given away from time to time at

WARREN'S,
42 Pollock Street.

ROYAL Baking Powder

The Absolutely Pure
Made of Cream of Tartar, and Free From Alum or Phosphatic Acid

Royal Baking Powder renders bread, biscuit, cake and all flour foods finer and more healthful.

Baking powders made from alum, phosphates and other harsh, caustic acids are lower in price, but they are injurious to the stomach.

"The injurious effect of alum on the mucous coat of the stomach is positive and beyond dispute; it is both an irritant and an astringent. The use of alum in any article of food or article used in the preparation of food should be prohibited."

JOHN C. WISE, M.D., Medical Inspector, U. S. Navy.

MITCHELL'S NEW STORE

A Dry Goods Establishment Which Has Fine Goods and Rare Bargains.

J. M. Mitchell & Co., the dry goods merchants, are now established in their new store No. 61 Pollock street and they have one of the most attractive and handsomely displayed stores in the city. The store is equipped with fine new display cases which show small goods to the very best advantage.

From the very point of entrance to the store, ladies who love to dress well will find something to interest them. For Mr. Mitchell has selected a stock of goods that is bound to sell because it is composed of articles that are wanted and are sold at reasonable prices. These goods are fresh from the New York market and bought by an experienced man.

Among the beautiful fall and winter goods on sale is the mousseline, a changeable silk; another very desirable article is costume velvet, a rich and handsome material for ladies' suits; other dress goods are plaid waistings of all colors as well as silk plaids and D esden silks for waists. Dress fabrics that will attract interested attention will be the stock of broadcloths, mohairs and Panamas. Other goods will be found there but these are the leading materials.

Particularly attractive for evening wear are the chiffon scarfs and neck wear; which are worn together with the light and beautiful woven shawls made of silk or Shetland wool. They have a very handsome line of jerseys, the Norfolk cut is most popular. The latest styles of jackets and furs will be found in this store.

The millinery department is filled with a new and up-to-date line of millinery; ready to wear and trimmed hats at all prices; also the patent leather rainy day hat which meets a need in a common sense way. They invite particular inspection on these goods.

A department which has recently been introduced in this store is the rug department. They have an uncommonly fine assortment of art squares. These take the place of carpets and are very popular. They are ingrain or tapestry; the smaller rugs are Smyrna or moquette. In this line we may also mention some pretty sofa pillow covers and some art screens. The latter are a new departure and afford a beautiful and useful addition to the household furniture. The most notable of a screen woven with tapestry effect and landscape scenes and flowers are made in the work. They are exceedingly unique and attractive.

They have a large line of Rieker's perfumes and toilet preparations which are regarded as good as any on the market. They have had the exclusive agency for these goods and they have found them to give general satisfaction.

Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is positive, never nauseates or upsets the stomach. Cleanses and purifies the entire system. A great blessing to suffering humanity. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. For sale by F. S. Duffy.

SHORT PASSING EVENTS.

In the vivid red habiliments of Satan, Lewis Morrison himself will soon appear here as the mocking Mephisto exulting over lost souls in the spectacular version of his new "Faust." The power and fervor of Lewis Morrison's rendition of this complex character made him famous in all English speaking countries, and though many imitators have appeared, he is conceded to be the envy and despair of all competitors.

The following gentlemen were among the guests registered at the Cattwaka last night: J. S. Wooten, Dover; E. M. Stribling, Norfolk; J. R. N. Clark, Chicago; F. L. Hanford, New York. The latter a government inspector of the marine hospitals on the eastern coast.

The Kingston Free Press says that it is likely that there will be a good many come from its city to New Bern next Sunday to attend the dedicatory exercises of Centenary Methodist church.

The daily runaway stunt yesterday was the transfer belonging to Mr. E. W. Armstrong and driven by Jim Hammill. The horse started on Pollock St. near the railroad and ran east to East Front street. The driver kept clear of the many vehicles and obstructions along the way in a marvelous manner. Seeing that he was unable to control the horse on the front seat climbed to a rear seat where he had better leverage and soon got the animal down to normal speed. There were no damages. The horse did not belong to Mr. Armstrong but was one he was trying with a view to purchasing. The animal will remain unpurchased.

The New York Cotton market was strong yesterday, on shorts concerning, lighter receipts and estimates of smaller yield in sections of the cotton belt. The local market here, was 9.50 to 9.62.

A railroad velocipede has been received by the A. & N. C. Co. for the use of roadmaster, W. F. Carlyle. It is a simply constructed affair, operated like a bicycle but is light and convenient and just right for his work. It has four wheels built on bicycle plans with rubber tires and can be geared to run 10 or 15 miles an hour. It was made in Kalamazoo, Mich.

A steam heating furnace was received yesterday to be set up in the Stewart Sanatorium which will be ready for occupancy between Nov. 1st and 15th.

The meeting of Daughters yesterday was a most interesting one, there being a full attendance and important matters were discussed. Mrs. W. P. M. Bryan read a full and excellent report from the recent convention at Morganton. The convention will be held at Durham next year. At the meeting in November the officers will be elected for the coming year.

Four handsome bronze light posts have been placed at the two front entrances of Centenary church. Twenty four incandescent globes will show the way into the sanctuary.

The tickets for the Minstrel show tonight which were offered by R. M. Warren in return for purchases of goods were awarded to Mrs. Carl Percival.

ROOSEVELT DAY

North Carolina's Splendid Greeting to Nation's Chief Executive

Greatest Gathering Ever Held. Intense Patriotism Shown. The President's Personality Charms. Brilliant Assemblage of North Carolina's Distinguished Citizens. Tantalizing Greetings. Some of Day's Incidents.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, Oct. 19.—This was "Roosevelt Day" here. The greatest number of people ever together in North Carolina, did the President honor with Tar Heel heartiness, the features were the wonderful weather, the intense interest and patriotism of the crowd; the President's personality, his attentions to Confederate soldiers, and boldness of his speech in which he declared for complete governmental control of railroads. His character and talk were such as to appeal to North Carolinians as much as to any people on earth, for they dearly love a man who does things and they were swift and sure to recognize in the President one of their own kind. On the committee of welcome at the railway, were many noted men, and a line mingling of blue and gray, among those in gray being Generals William R. Cox and William P. Roberts, Julian S. Carr, Commander North Carolina Confederate Veterans, his chief of staff, Henry A. London, and Senators Simmons and Overman, Congressman Pou, Page and Thomas, Ex-gov. Aycock, Ex. Senator Jarvis and Ex. Chief Justice Shepherd.

The city was effectively decorated, the cheering for the President never ceased during his visit, it rose to a clamor when he after concluding his speech at the Fair grounds, led the cheering for "Dixie." There was cheering for Mrs. Roosevelt at the Fair grounds. The notable assemblage in the grand stand rose and gave her a tumultuous greeting, which was acknowledged by bows and smiles, with all her husband's heartiness.

At the railway station the committee was presented to the President by Lt. Governor Winston, he warmly greeted Ex. Governor Aycock, and declared it a great pleasure to see him again. When Henry London, in his Confederate uniform said he had worn it four years, but that now his son "wore the blue as an officer in our Navy," the President gave him a fresh handshake and said "that is fine, that is fine."

There was no need for the sharp eyed secret service men who closed in around the President's carriage. Only a chosen few were allowed to enter the Senate Chamber, and not over a hundred were there to witness the reception to President and Mrs. Roosevelt. A group of prominent ladies greeted her and stood with her in the reception line. Presentations were made by Col. Chas. Earl Johnson, chief of Governor Glenn's personal staff. Senators Overman and Simmons were beside the President. The affair was quite informal. He was especially attentive to Mrs. Margaret Busbee Shipp, whose husband was killed at San Juan Hill, and whose little boys presented Mrs. Roosevelt with a bouquet of carnations. He had warm greeting for little Worth Bagley Daniels, nephew of Ensign Worth Bagley, who presented pink roses to Mrs. Roosevelt, and little Mary Aycock, daughter of ex-Governor, was especially noticed by the genial President.

The President presented a loving cup awarded with North Carolina gems, and which had been awarded to John Charles McNeill, for best literary work produced during the year. Lt. Governor Winston presented ex-Governor Aycock, who said that the splendid gift fills the arteries with rich, red blood. Makes new flesh and healthy men and women. That's why "Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea" will do. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. For sale by F. S. Duffy.

from a splendid woman, as memorial of her noble father had added value when presented to the talented winner by the President of this great nation, who is a promoter of literature, writer of it and patron of it. In a few but incisive words the President made the presentation.

The President enjoyed the two mile drive to the fair grounds through cheering people. School after school was in line. Thousands of National and Confederate flags were waved at the President. On the speaker's stand were only thirty persons. Veterans of the Mexican war were greeted specially by the President and given special seats near him. Eight companies of the National Guard, six companies of cadets of the Agricultural and Mechanical College and ten companies of the Boy's Brigade of Goldsboro were reviewed.

Then the great event of the day began, the speech of the President, which it was known was to be of National importance. He caught the crowd from the start by his thoroughly democratic manner. His plea for Appalachian Park was appreciated, and the power of his argument for the need of a strong national commission to regulate the now unchained giants of transportation of the railways, was shown by applause which punctuated it. His plea for honesty in home life, political life and business life, was strong. Bursts of applause rattled like volleys as he paid tributes to Confederate soldiers. He quoted the remark of Major Henry A. London at the railway station, and said this was not the exception but the rule, showing what southern patriotism is, all striving how best to serve our common country. His remarks as to Mecklenburg Declaration, saying North Carolina led the country, won great favor and applause. Lunch was served to the President and party, and at 1 o'clock he left, delighted with his reception.

Letter to G. H. Waters & Son, New Bern, N. C.

Dear Sir: Mr. Frank Robinson, Titusville, Pa., bought Devos with a good deal of feeling against the whole tribe of mixed paints. Our agent there, Messrs. Kernochan & Co., got him to do it. He says:

I am more than pleased with the job. I had one third of the paint left-over. I know of several other jobs, a year old or more, painted with Devos, that are wearing well.

What a pity we have to all go through the same school, to find out what paint to put on a house! Experience teaches. Isn't there any easier way to learn?

Yours truly
F. W. Devos & Co.
