Modern Greek Fire.

"Marine torches" are the direct descendants of the Greek fire of the ancients, though the modern torch is used for defense rather than offense and prevents the surprise of a fleet through the silent approach of an enemy. It consists of an aluminum cylinder used as a projectile. On being fired from a gun it produces no result until it falls into the sea. In its interior it contains stores of calcium phosphide and calcium carbide. The former produces phosphuretted hydrogen on contact with water, which ignites spontaneously and also ignites the acetylene gas liberated from the carbide through the action of the water. Enough of the chemicals is contained to last for ten hours, and a few of these torches thrown to the points of the compass from which attack might be expected would leave the defenders in obscurity, while not permitting the enemy to approach.

The Great Amazon River.

In South as in North America nature does her work on the grand scale, and one of her noblest achievements is the Amazon river. Rising in the Andes, it flows across the continent and discharges into the Atlantic ocean at the equator. The vastness of the area which it drains, amounting to 2,368,000 square miles, will be evident when it is borne in mind that this is more than the area of Russia in Europe and Austria-Hungary. It has a length of nearly 4,000 miles, is navigable for 2,200 miles from the sea and is fed by numerous streams, which in any other country would be ranked as great rivers. In the wet season, which lasts for about eight months, its width varies from five miles to 400. No wonder the Amazon has been called a gigantic reservoir rather than a river.

Strange Taste in Eating.

Many strange dishes were eaten by Dean Buckland, the English clergyman and geologist. At his dinner parties, which were attended by leaders of science and literature, the menus were often of a most eccentric character. On one occasion pickled horse tongue was greatly relished by the guests until they were told what they had eaten. Alligator was served up as a rare delicacy and puppies occasionally and mice frequently. At other times hedgehogs, tortoises, potted ostrich and sometimes rats, frogs and snails were prepared for the delectation of favored guests. Henry Labouchere said that the deers swallowed the nummified remains of the heart of Louis XIV. of France.

The First Lesson of an Arab Boy.

The very first lesson which an Arab boy learns when he begins to talk is to keep facts to himself. It does not sound very friendly put in that way, but it saves a deal of trouble. Foreigners do not understand Arabs. They ask them pointed questions and receive peculiar answers. They construe the answers to please themselves and come away to tell the world that the Arabs are a nation of liars. They are not a nation of liars. Perhaps if they should tell the foreigners to mind their own affairs and let them and theirs alone the foreigners would understand them better.—Exchange.

PERMANENT MEADOWS should have an annual dressing of 500 pounds per acre of a fertilizer containing eleven per cent. POTASH and ten per cent. available phosphoric acid.

This will gradually force out sour grasses and mosses from the meadows, and bring good grasses and clovers; thus increasing the quality as well as the quantity of the hay.

Our practical book, "Farmer's Guide," gives valuable facts for every sort of crop-raising. It is one of a number of books on successful fertilization which we send on request, free of any cost or obligation, to any farmer who will write us for them.

MR. NEXT ON FOOT BALL

(By Billy Burgundy.)

(Copyright 1906 by the Cosmopolitan Association, New York.)

"I see," said Mrs. Next, "that there is a popular demand that football be stopped at all our colleges."

"I rise to second that demand," replied Mr. Next, "for when a college game reaches the stage where it produces, in one season, more rigor mortis, spinal meningitis, fractured skulls, concussion of the brain, broken ribs, internal injuries and unclassified dislocations than all the battleships of Great Britain and America, it is up to us to take the hint and administer the anesthetic with becoming extravagance."

"I'm giving it to you straight, that game has done more than enough to entitle it to the death warrant. Take it from me, it is ripe for the extreme. A railroad disaster is not in it with a game of football when it comes to creating a demand for surgical dressings and embalming fluid."

"It has been said that a student can't keep up with his class unless he is given a lot of vigorous exercise. I'll stand for that assertion—it's as true as an affidavit. But he doesn't need the

BLOOD POISON CURED.

A Desperate Struggle and How it Ended

Just 27 miles from the classic city of Athens, Ga., is located the thriving little town of Maxey's, the residence of Mr. Robert Ward, who has just been released from the most perilous predicament, the particulars of which he has consented to give to the public. He writes as follows:

MAXEY'S, GEORGIA, July 1.

For twelve or fourteen years I have been a great sufferer with a terrible form of Blood Poison (Syphilis), which ran into the secondary, and finally it was pronounced a tertiary form. My head, face and shoulders became almost a solid mass of corruption, and finally the disease commenced eating away my skull bones. I became so horribly repulsive that for three years I absolutely refused to let people see me. I used large quantities of the most noted blood remedies, and applied to nearly all physicians near me, but my condition continued to grow worse, and all said I must surely die. My bones became the seat of excruciating aches and pains; my nights were passed in misery; I was reduced in flesh and strength; my kidneys were terribly deranged, and life became a burden to me.

I chanced to see an advertisement of B. B. B., and I sent one dollar to W. C. Birchmore and Co., merchants of our place, and they procured one bottle for me. It was used with decided benefit. I continued its use and when eight or ten bottles had been used was pronounced sound and well.

Hundreds of scars can now be seen on me, looking like a man who had been burned and then restored. My case is well known in this county, and for the benefit of others who may be similarly affected, I think it my duty to give facts to the public, and to extend my heartfelt thanks for so valuable a remedy. I have been well over twelve months, and no return of the disease has occurred.

ROBERT WARD.

MAXEY'S, GA., July 1

We, the undersigned, know Mr. Robert Ward, and take pleasure in stating that the facts as above stated by him are true, and that he was one of the worst cases of Blood Poison we ever knew in our county, and that he has been cured by the use of B. B. B.—Botanic Blood Balm.

The Age of Political Enlightenment.

By A. Maurice Low, in the January-March Forum.

Since the beginning of the twentieth century empire building has continued to spread; but, in recent years, the strength of democracy and of the new play of world forces has been spreading in proportion. The student of international affairs must preface follow not only effects, but causes. A revolution means much, but the causes that produce it mean more. We close the year with the glare of revolution over Western Europe, and the light of progress burning steadily and brightly in the East. There were mutterings and rumblings in Central Europe. In what witches' cauldron, the Balkans, by the light of the moon, men in peasant's dress, but with weapons in their hands passionately talk of liberty and independence. In the North of Europe there has been a bloodless revolution and a dual kingdom has been cleaved in twain. There is a spirit of unrest. Blind obedience to the divine rights of kings no longer exists.

Doctors as Empire Builders.

The East India company in their attempts to make headway in India were signally indebted to various stages of their progress to humble practitioners in medicine. It was in consequence of a cure effected on the favorite daughter of one of the Mogul emperors that they had first been allowed a footing in Bengal.

Later still, in the year 1715, a medical man named Hamilton, as a reward for curing the reigning emperor of an illness, obtained for the company a grant of three villages near Madras, a permission to purchase thirty-seven townships in Bengal and the privilege of introducing and conveying their merchandise from Calcutta through Bengal without duty or search.

The footing thus gained and the accompanying patronage and encouragement enabled the East India company to make such progress as to cut out all foreign rivals. So England, through the company, gradually obtained full sway over India.—London Mail.

On Bones.

Ox bones have a considerable value. The four feet of an ordinary ox will make a pint of neat's foot oil. The thigh bone is the most valuable, being useful for cutting into toothbrush handles. The fore leg bones are made into collar buttons and parasol handles. The water in which the bones are boiled is reduced to glue, while the dust which comes from sawing the bones is turned into food for cattle and poultry.

Qualified.

"What! you marry my daughter," thundered old Roxley—"you, a mere clerk!"

"No, sir," replied young Hunter, "not a clerk, but a gentleman now. I resigned my job the moment your daughter accepted me."—Philadelphia Press.

Hardly.

Hicks—I understand somebody has discovered that there's alcohol in root beer. Wicks—Yes, but there's no fear of any old whiskey drinker adopting it for a substitute.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Modern Miracle.

"Truly miraculous seemed the recovery of Mrs. Mollie Holt of this place," writes J. O. R. Hooper, Woodford, Tenn., "she was so wasted by coughing up pus from her lungs. Doctors declared her end so near that her family had watched by her bed side forty-eight hours; when, at my urgent request, Dr. King's New Discovery was given her, with the astonishing result that improvement began, and continued until finally completely recovered, and is a healthy woman today." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 at All Druggists. Trial bottle free.

THE HALL OF FAME.

The Marchioness of Ormonde possesses a gold plate service 390 years old, which is the most valuable of its kind in Great Britain.

When Dr. Nansen goes to London as Norwegian minister he will take with him the material for a new book he is to write on antarctic exploration.

E. Vickery of Sydney, N. S. W., has given a hotel and theater property in that city, valued at $270,000, to the Methodists for a central mission hall.

Mr. Allison, who is seventy years old and who graduated at Missouri university in 1852, has re-entered the university in order to take a special course in surveying.

Dr. John War Eagle, a half breed Chickasaw Indian, is one of the wealthiest members of his tribe. He was educated in Scotland, where his father, a Hudson bay trader, was born.

"Bud" Ledbetter of Muskogee has such infallible secret for "bootlegger" whiskey dealers that he is known as "the Carrie Nation of Indian Territory," the name having been conferred upon him by the redoubtable Carrie Jersoff.

Benjamin K. Thorn, a native of New York, nephew of United States Senator T. C. Platt, aged seventy-five, and classed as the most fearless sheriff in California, died recently. As sheriff of Calaveras county he was leader of the most famous man hunters in the state's history.

Killean Van Rensselaer and Miss Dorothy Munson were married in New York city recently. An interesting feature of the ceremony was the wedding ring used—the same used by an ancestor and ancestor of the groom when he married Anna Van Weyer in Amsterdam 278 years ago.

DAVID B. THOMPSON of Evanston, Ill., the newly elected president of the Chicago Methodist Social union, is the editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate and a well known religious writer, his "Abraham Lincoln, the First American," and "John Wesley as a Social Reformer," being his chief works.

The secretary of the navy and Mrs. Bonaparte will introduce a pleasing diversion in cabinet entertaining by giving dinners or luncheons in their own beautiful home in Baltimore to either in Washington, where the secretary will occupy a modest apartment for the season and be joined only occasionally by Mrs. Bonaparte.

Beats the Music Cues.

"To keep the body in tune," writes Mrs. Mary Brown, 29 Lafayette Place, Binghamton, N. Y., "I take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are the most reliable and pleasant laxative I have found." Best for the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Guaranteed by All Druggists. Price 35c.

HERE'S WHAT'S WANTED.

A Citizen of New Bern Supplies the Information.

Over half the complaints of mankind originate with the kidneys. A slight touch of backache at first. Twinges and shooting pains in the loins follow. They must be checked, they lead to graver complications. The sufferer seeks relief. Plasters are tried, and liniments for the back. So called kidney cures which do not cure. The long-looked-for result seems unattainable. If you suffer, do you want relief? Follow this plan adopted by this New Bern citizen.

C. Lupton, one of the best known policemen of New Bern, of 135 East Front street says: "We think Don's Kidney Pills are all right. I have tried them and can recommend them highly. My back and kidneys troubled me for quite awhile. The trouble was right across the small of my back, which seems to be the weakest part about me. I tried plasters and other remedies but none of them acted like Don's Kidney Pills which I obtained at the Bradham Pharmacy. They are a good pill and I will not hesitate to say so to anyone."

What he needs is to stimulate his appetite for knowledge is the old fashion hickory sapling under the direction of a muscular, headstrong professor of mathematics, rhetoric of physics. That's the form of exercise that puts the sprouting cerebellum on keen edge and shows tangible results on Examination Day. That's the form of calisthenics that kept our forefathers at the head of their class, and they had to take it without any shin-guards or other upholstery. I repeat, hickory sapling did it, and we can prove it.

"Time was when our young man went to Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Princeton, Columbia or some other fashionable informatory to connect with an education. The ambition of his life was to become the first honor man of his class. Not so now. At the present stage of the game he attends one of these seats of learning to grow a crop of long hair and to commit mayhem and murder in the presence of a howling mob of hysterical dunces and cigarette fends. His sole ambition is to become a right-tackle, left-tackle, half-back, quarter-back or some other part of the group of gore.

A Jamaican Lady Speaks Highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of Post Service at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home. Sold by Davis Pharmacy and F. S. Duffy.

How to Avoid Pneumonia.

We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in Pneumonia or other lung trouble when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough, but breaks and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J. King of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." For sale by Davis Pharmacy.
