COLLUSION WITH DISTILLERS

Sammel's Case With Government at Greensboro.

Baptists to Raise Money to Rebuild Church. Lecture by Dr. Moore. New Weekly Newspaper. Returns to Greensboro. (Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Jan. 31.—The examination of Revenue Agent Chapman in behalf of George W. Sammel, the deputy collector, on trial in the Federal court here for alleged frauds against the government and collusion with distillers was concluded yesterday morning, and the defendant, Sammel, being sworn, denied each of the 24 charges in the bill of indictment. He said the signature of J. M. Combes on the back of the checks, which a handwriting expert said was in his handwriting, was in the handwriting of Combes' wife and he saw her sign one of them. He gave a detailed account of his duties as an officer, declaring that he had never received a penny from any one as a bribe and but one man had ever tried to bribe him. His diaries and reports, as an officer being read, he said they were in every respect correct and spoke the truth. Explaining his intimacy with Jim Combes, he said Combes was the most valuable informer he had, and he had no idea of his running a blockade still until being told of it one night, he followed directions of his informer, went out next day and destroyed or as nearly as possible the steam engine and boiler, but the still was gone. He said that all officers got their most reliable information of the existence of blockade stills from rival blockaders, and it was nothing unusual for an officer to be on good terms with men having the reputation of being blockaders, when there was no direct cause of suspicion that they were. The direct examination of Sammel had not concluded when court adjourned in the afternoon.

The members of the First Baptist church held a congregational meeting Sunday morning at the conclusion of the regular service. Their pastor, the Rev. Dr. Battle presented the matter of raising the additional amount necessary to make $15,000 in bona-fide subscriptions before starting the work of rebuilding their church. The congregation subscribed over $13,000 at a meeting held two weeks ago; and on Sunday they added $3,000 making in all $1,000 more than was asked for. The estimated cost of the improvements will be about $20,000. Plans and specifications will be submitted to the contractors as soon as possible. The church purposes to have the work of remodeling all finished by next December, when the Baptist State Convention will be held here.

Dr. W. W. Moore, president of the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, and one of North Carolina's most distinguished and estimable sons of those scattered abroad, will deliver a lecture in Smith Memorial Building, Greensboro, Monday evening February 5th. His subject will be "Rambles in the Nile Valley," and is said to be delightful throughout. Mr. Moore made a trip of about 1,000 miles up the Nile river, and had with him a professional photographer, who has taken a number of views with which Dr. Moore will illustrate his lecture by means of a stereopticon. The lecture deals not only with the notable monuments of Egypt, but especially with the picturesque features of the modern life of the common people of Egypt.

Mr. C. O. McMichael, a prominent lawyer and politician of Madison, Rockingham county, was here today. He will issue next Thursday the first number of a democratic paper to be called the Democratic Herald. It is a new paper with new material from the ground up.

Mr. T. L. Shelton, who gave up his position sometime ago as traveling auditor of the Southern Railway to go into the banking business in Cincinnati, has returned to Greensboro to take up his old position.

MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

Greensboro Gets Into Line.

Samuel Case May be Discontinued by Sick Juror. Verdict Against Southern Railway. High Point Injunction Suit. (Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Feb. 1.—The direct examination of G. W. Sammel in his own defense in the trial in the Federal court here, was concluded just before court adjourned this afternoon, and district attorney Holton began the cross examination that promises to be extended and vigorous. Sammel declared he had never knowingly made a false report, or in any way given permission to distillers for favor or reward to carry on illicit distilling. He swore that he, himself, cut to pieces the stills of Liljolph Parker and William Williams. It was those two stills the two girls and their fathers had testified were not destroyed, one of which William Williams brought to court and it is now in the lobby of the building. Today marked the beginning of the third week of the trial. It will last two weeks longer. Considerable uneasiness is felt on account of the possible discontinuance of the case on account of one of the jurors having fever.

In the Superior court here a verdict in favor of W. L. Young in a suit against the Southern Railway, was rendered this afternoon for seven hundred dollars, amount paid for a special train, and five hundred dollars, damages for mental anguish in being delayed in getting here when his wife and child were at the point of death. Young paid the money in Chattanooga, for a special train to Greensboro six hours ahead of schedule, reaching here twenty minutes behind the regular passenger train to find his child dead an hour before. The mental anguish recovery is new in this State.

Special Master James T. Morehead will resume the hearing in the injunction case of the Southern Railway against the city of High Point at High Point next week. Col. Morehead was appointed by Judge Boyd to act as special master in the taking of testimony and the hearing was in progress a few weeks ago when a postponement was taken on account of the need of some charts to be used by the city in establishing some streets and which would take several days to get in hand. It will most probably take several days more to finish the hearing. Lawyers E. J. Justice, of Greensboro, and W. P. Ragan of High Point, represent the city, and Wescott Roberson, Esq., of High Point, and others, the railroad.

Norman H. Johnson, attorney for the North Carolina Retail Merchants Association, made an impressive speech to the merchants and business men here last night, by invitation of secretary G. F. Newman of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Newman stated the objects of the meeting and the speaker was introduced by Hon. R. D. Douglas. The speaker, expressing regret that Greensboro, one of the largest cities in the State, was so slow to take advantage of the benefits of a merchants association, mentioned among other achievements what was done at the last legislature in the way of securing needed legislation, the repeal of the merchants tax being one very desirable and accomplished.

He said there were fifty-one active retail merchants' associations embracing perhaps two-thirds of the retail merchants in the State. Discussing the question of freight discriminations, Mr. Johnson mentioned a specific example of a concern which shipped goods from Pennsylvania to Morehead City and Asheville cheaper than Greensboro could ship to those points. A local organization was needed to compile the schedules and take them before the Corporation Commission. This body should secure these statistics but it doesn't and it never has. Discussing the matter further Mr. Johnson said that the Corporation Commission could obtain relief for North Carolina jobbers if it would say to the railroads. Relieve the discriminations on inter-state rates or we will lower your intra-state rates.

The speaker declared that the time had come when the railroads should no longer be allowed to name the political candidates. There were, he asserted, very few lawyers who had attained political eminence but had climbed the ladder through the aid of the railroads. Not that he believed in indiscriminate abuse of the railroads for there was too much of people cursing the railroads, and then voting for them.

At the conclusion of Mr. Johnson's address there was a general discussion looking to the forming of a retail merchants association. It was the sense of the meeting that an organization separate and distinct from the Chamber of Commerce should not be undertaken, but that a department of the Chamber of Commerce charged with the special work which the retail merchants' associations usually undertake would be desirable. Accordingly a committee to present this idea was appointed as follows: C. M. Vanstony, chairman; W. D. Meyer, H. C. Hanly, C. O. Dobson, and L. F. Posobia.

"DIDN'T LIKE QUAKERS."

But President's Remark Does Not Bear Out His Action.

State Republicans Still Quarrelling Over Office. Quakers and Pops on Top. Rollins, Blackburn, Duncan and Butler in the Mixup. (Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 1.—There is another political commotion here. The news that Mr. Don White, who was a Blackburn man and a candidate for postmaster, before the Blackburn settled on Frazier, has been rooted out of his little place as stamp clerk to make room for "Father Worth," has caused the erstwhile Blackburn rejoicers over Frazier's victory, to begin to feel that Duncan and Rollins are beginning to make reprisals on short order. There is Quaker blood in the air. President Roosevelt, some are saying, is reversing himself. He said in his book, "he didn't like Quakers, they would not fight for their country." Now some are saying he likes them so well he is giving them bomb proof positions. Perhaps the best way to indicate the feeling and the trepidation here is to let a prominent republican speak. Said the gentleman this morning in black and white:

"The Republicans who have fought the battles for the party here are somewhat chagrined. To get a job they say first you must be a Quaker, or kin to a Quaker; second you must be able to show some connection with the poplary and prove that you haven't voted the whole ticket all the time. "Butler and Duncan may not know how to work business in the east, but they are about to demonstrate that they do know how to build up the republican party in the central and western section and run an industrial paper for the benefit of all the people. "Evidently Duncan, Butler, and it seems Blackburn too have had some intimation that the President has changed his opinion as to the rights of the Quaker to participate in the offices of Government. "Thus for answering to the Roll Callare Snow, Postmaster, High Point, Frazier postmaster Greensboro and Father Worth in a feeble voice with a Five Hundred dollar stamp clerkship. All of these gentlemen are pious loyal republicans now, and promise to vote the whole ticket next time as Mr. Butler will O.K. the same before the meeting of May, next."

Mr. Duncan will do well to keep an eye on his Quaker allies, as there is in these parts one who boasts of being half a Quaker and the Quaker brethren say he will make an ideal Collector. What a strong, decent, and pious party Rollins, Butler and Duncan with Blackburn's assistance are about to build up in this State: The boys will be on hand at the convention, but what a powerful magnifying glass we will need on election day.

Another subject of gossip is the rumor that that the rumor here Sunday, that Hon. R. G. Douglas was to be made an assistant District Attorney was incorrect. The news this morning is that it got confounded with the rumor that Mr. Douglas's father, ex-Supreme Court Justice, R. M. Douglas is to be the compromise successor of Mr. Holton, and be the District Attorney. It is not known whether this suggestion was made in Washington by Chairman Rollins to heal the sore of loss of post-office here, or not. District Attorney Holton is still vigorously prosecuting the Revenue officers and notices of the early appointment of a successor seems to have no effect whatever on his rambunctiousness as a prosecutor.

E. A. Gammage of Chicago, spent the day in Raleigh, where in the office of the Secretary of State, he domesticated the Southern Engineering Company of Phoenix, Arizona, and Galeton Pa., a concern which is capitalized at $500,000. It will be of decided interest to North Carolinians to know that this company will open up and operate an extensive, mining, milling and refining plant at Newton in Catawba county, the seat of the magnificent finds of graphite. There is little doubt that this graphite is of a finer quality than any heretofore discovered and has every indication that the development will prove a record-breaking yield.

C. W. Hodges of Lagrange, a student at the Agricultural & Mechanical College here, and who has been ill with pneumonia, was removed to his home, being attended by his father, Dr. J. S. Hodges, who accompanied him.

Temperance Laws Must be Enforced

Special to Journal:
Raleigh, Feb. 1.—Governor Glenn issued a special letter to all sheriffs urging them to aid in enforcing law and order as embraced by Watts and Ward laws, which apply to liquor traffic within the State. He says there are complaints that officers are not enforcing these laws. He says the best way to suppress crime is to bring about quick detention and sure punishment. He calls attention to the special sections of new code setting forth duties of such officers as to swearing of warrants and their execution. He dwells on prosperity of the State and calls on all to aid in preserving order without shrinking from consequences attendant thereupon, and suggests offering rewards and soliciting requisitions from other States. He calls on all citizens and newspapers to appraise him of violations, stating that he does not desire the innocent to suffer for the guilty and that charges should be specific and not general.
