Judge Bynum made a motion in arrest of judgment, claiming that defendant certainly was not an officer or an agent, and was inproperly convicted, and that the verdict of the jury as rendered was not regular. Judge Boyd asked him if it would be agreeable to him to have the prayer for judgement suspended, and elaborate his argument when the case was finally called for sentence. Judge Bynum said this would be perfectly satisfactory. Judge Boyd explained upon a single one of defendants who might be convicted or who might plead guilty until all the cases were tried or concluded. Mr. Holton ecompanied him to Washington. It is supposed that the District Attorney goes to make his answer in person as well as by affidavit and letters from alover the State to the charges brought by Congressman Blackburn. Holton seemed very much gratified by the numberless offers of assistance he has been receiving from good people regardless of party from all over the State and the country. He said he had received offers from attorneys who had been bitterly arrayed on the other side of some of these revenue cases in the past three years to even take the trip to Washington to give him endorsement as a fearless and faithful officer. In his mail yesterday he said were twenty-five letters from lawyers alone tendering their recommendations if needed. He has to go to Asheville to appear in the Federal court there next week, but he seems to be made of wrought iron for he never tires or seems to realize that he makes others tired when he has business in sight.

ADMIRAL'S WORDS CARRY WEIGHT.

REAR-ADMIRAL HICHBORN is one of the best known admirals of our navy. His statement concerning Peruna will have much weight as it goes out into the world.

What he says is echoed by many other naval officers of high standing. WHAT THE ADMIRAL SAYS.

Philip Hichborn, Rear-Admiral United States Navy, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows: "After the use of Peruna for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic."-Philip Hichborn.

AN EVERPRESENT FOE.

The soldier and the sailor are especially subject to catarrh in some form or phase.

Exposed as they are to constant changes, subject as they are to various vicissitudes, and all kinds of climate, wet and dry, night and day, they find catarrh to be their most insidious and everpresent foe.

In the barracks and on the field, Peruna is equally Taken at once after exposure, it should prevent catching

"I was troubled with catarrh of the throat particularly, and suffered considerably as a result thereof for a period of about five years, and my general health was affected.

SOUGHT CHANGE OF CLIMATE.

"Three years ago I was forced to give up business, and took up my residence in the Western country, looking for relief in change of climate as well as a change in the method of treatment for my allment.

RELIEF IN PE-RU-NA. "After much expense, both here and in the West, I was induced by a friend to try Peruna. I continued the use of it for about five weeks, at the end of which time I returned to New York, both well and happy."-Wm. H. Switzer, 225 E.
