VOTE AND SENTIMENT MUST BOTH BE FOR PROHIBITION

The large audience which listened on last Sunday, to the most excellent address on Temperance, delivered by Governor Glenn, was not in doubt, that in the minds of those who heard the Governor, appeared to be in full accord with the sentiments he expressed.

The liquor habit, like every other evil, is really an individual one, and as is every evil trait, its influence for harm is not altogether upon the individual afflicted with the habit. If liquor drinking, in its consequent destruction upon the man and woman, who drink, was only visited upon the individual; if the misery and crime engendered by drink was confined solely to the person who drank, then perhaps but a fraction of the evil of liquor drinking would be known to the world.

But the drinker is always to be a curse, to himself or herself, and to every one about, be it family or neighbors or strangers, and to secure a prohibition that means the absence of all liquor drinking, means the education of the child to the evil and disastrous effects of alcoholism upon the human system, for it is very doubtful if mature persons, certainly not more than one-half, who are partial or free drinkers of beverages that contain alcohol, are likely to become sincere abstainers.

Governor Glenn's severe denunciation of sheriffs, mayors and aldermen, for failure to stop and break up blind tigers, and every kind of liquor selling, was an effective forensic part of his address. But behind this failure, if it may be so called on the part of these public officers to stop all liquor selling, there must be an active and aroused public sentiment which calls for, and demands that when prohibition laws exist, that such laws shall be made effective and in force, with punishment for every offender. It is not that a town, city or State votes for prohibition, there must be more than the ballot which calls for the enactment of the law, there must be a united public sentiment as well, which declares that the vote for prohibition was meant for prohibition, and there shall be no offenses without the full punishment for every offense, the same as for the violation of any other law on the statutes, and where such a public sentiment prevails, it needs no Governor's denunciation of sheriff, mayor or alderman, to break up local liquor selling, under whatever guise it may be done, for public sentiment will see that offenses are not committed, which shall be able to evade the officer, the jury and judge, and escape with the payment of a fine and costs.

MORE SCHOOL FACILITIES DEMANDED.

A visit to the white graded school, specially on an occasion like Arbor Day, this week, will satisfy any intelligent person of the imperative need, and at once, of increased school facilities. It is not that this increase is for any extraordinary purpose, but the increase is demanded to meet the school requirements which the children of New Bern should receive to prepare them to meet higher schools or college requirements, when they shall have passed the several grades in the school in this city.

What is specially demanded in connection with the school is a large auditorium, in which such exercises may be held as those of Arbor Day, and on days of national significance, such as Washington's Birthday, for patriotism is as much a matter of educational requirement as anything to be learned from books, and with an auditorium, suitable exercises could be held, and these important days of the year, could be well celebrated, particularly, and necessarily, as well as in an educational manner that would result in a opportunity for such exercises, and while the weather may favor a day, as Arbor Day was observed on the school grounds, it is not the place to hold such exercises; an auditorium is demanded. In addition to the demands for a building with an auditorium, there is already need for more school room facilities with additional teachers, and departments which shall teach manual training for boys, with cooking and domestic teaching for girls. These various departments could be contained in the same building with the auditorium, and so be under one roof with one expense for all.

The growth of the city with new pupils constantly coming to school, calls for preparations for their reception, and these should be made as soon as possible, for already the school facilities are over taxed, and each month makes it more difficult for those who are in charge to handle the new comers. It is for the Trustees to meet these conditions as they have in the past, and erect a building which shall have auditorium and the other rooms which present educational wants demand.

WATER ROUTES TO PROMOTE COMMERCE

Commercial growth, as well as growth in population in towns and cities, is largely assisted where the place can have both rail and water communications with the outside world. These double connections mean competition, and competition means both lower rates, and a greater endeavor upon the part of the carriers, railroad and boat, to give prompt shipment of merchandise.

In addition to its already established boat lines, Wilmington, N. C., has now secured through the efforts of its merchants a regular boat service between its city and Baltimore, which means much for the commercial trade of that city.

Kinston, with praiseworthy efforts on the part of its business people, is trying to secure a river service on the Neuse, which shall give its trade a water route, therefore a competing route for trade, and through it, better commercial conditions for its merchants.

Occasionally in these columns there is given notice that a sailing vessel is at Baltimore, whose captain is prepared to accept consignments, for merchants at New Bern. This sailing vessel transportation is important to the amount of its tonnage, but this is small and the sailings of such a vessel cannot be on any regular schedule, as would a steam boat.

That there is a good deal of trade done at Baltimore by the merchants of this city is well known, and with a regular steamboat line it would be much larger. A regular boat service between New Bern and Baltimore would benefit the trade of both cities, and likely be profitable to the transportation company. Every once in a while there is agitation among the merchants of this city on this water route. There is a cry against railroad charges, but there is nothing more than a short lived protest, and everything is quiet again. What is wanted is a movement for a boat service which shall be kept up until the object is attained. No one will deny that such a boat service is desirable, and no one will deny that such a water route boat service can be obtained, if the right effort is made, and that there will be no such service until the effort is made, is also quite positive.

Talk of dull trade is never heard when merchants are occupied going after business, and with more boat lines leading to northern ports, or even such a port as Norfolk, where other connections could be made, there will be a much larger business here, and thereby a greatly increased trade activity among local merchants.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tea spoonful. It sets directly on the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, they offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address:

QUESTION OF RESIDENCE

Seems to be important for Blackburn's Politics.

Greensboro Fight Over Postmastership
More indictments rumored. Elks Give Banquet. Questionable Liquor Seizure. A Horse of Record.

(Special Correspondence.)
Greensboro, N. C. Feb. 20.—Every one of about ten thousand boys who have attended Oak Ridge Institute within the past 25 years, will regret to learn Dr. Cook's old gray horse is dead. Dr. Cook, who is 88 years old, now has to ride on that high dromedary looking mule, "Old Jack", exclusively. Jack is going in his 27th year.

State Chairman Thomas S. Rollins and ex-Senator Marion Butler were here yesterday and last night. They are presumably looking into matters connected with the Industrial News of which corporation Mr. Rollins is President and Mr. Butler is a director and a large stockholder if not the controlling spirit. Mr. R. D. Douglas, editor in chief of the paper, it is predicted will yet be postmaster here. The friends of Mr. Frazier, whose name was sent to the Senate several weeks ago by the President, to the dismay of the "organization" and despair of other aspirants are somewhat downcast at the failure of any action in the matter at Washington yesterday. It is now reported that Butler came here to be able to satisfy the President that Greensboro is now Blackburn's home town, and that he was not entitled to Frazier's appointment. However that may be, there is no question but that Frazier had the endorsement of three fourths of the members of the County Executive Committee, of which editor Douglas is chairman, and of nine-tenths of the bankers, manufacturers and business organizations of the city regardless of politics.

Little birds all about are whispering that a bill of indictment will be found at this weeks term of the Grand Jury in Asheville against the Honorable Congressman from the Eighth District, E. Spence Blackburn. This may amount to more this time than at the session of the Grand Jury here last September, when everybody predicted the Congressman would be indicted. It is said that Holt has been instructed to draw a bill by the Attorney General.

Greensboro Lodge of Elks had a notable banquet last night at Clegg's hotel covers being laid for 150 and there was not a vacant place. The lodge has added over 100 to its membership since January, and has become so popular, the initiation fee has been raised from $15 to $25.

It is reported here that revenue officers had seized eleven barrels of liquor found in the Sheets distillery at Walnut Grove. The liquor was stamped, but the cancellation, it is alleged was not deep enough.

Superior court clerk, John J. Nelson, Saturday afternoon granted the petition of W. B. Streeter, Superintendent of the North Carolina Childrens Home Society for the custody of the little baby so mysteriously left here with Nancy Halt, a negro two months ago. The petition was not resisted, except that Nancy was present, putting in claim for payment for taking care of the baby. The child was formally apprenticed to Mr. Streeter. Mr. Streeter within a few days will place the child with Christian people, who having no children wish to adopt it.

PRESIDENT MOORE HERE.

Arrived Last Night and Gave Talk and Told of Organizing.

President C. C. Moore, President of State Cotton Growers Association, who was unable to reach here yesterday morning, due to a wreck on the Southern Railway, arrived last night at 6 p. m., and was met at the court house by President J. M. Spencer of the town ship organization and about fifteen cotton growers, and Mr. Moore held an interesting informal meeting at which he went over the way to organize in each township and thus form a co-operative union of growers who would always be in complete touch with every local condition of interest to growers. Mr. Moore spoke strongly in the matter of every farmer subscribing for the local daily newspaper, so as to keep informed on the markets; as well as what the association was doing everywhere. At the meeting Mr. John McGowan was elected county organizer, and he will visit the different townships of Craven county and assist in their organization.

Mr. Moore is a gentleman of pleasing address, and is a simply and easily planned for cotton growers to follow, if they are to secure success, and the main plan is perfect co-operation.

Today President Moore goes to Bayboro.

This Journal will have the work of the townships published, as these organizations, also other matters which are of interest to cotton growers.

Dragging to Death.

A miserable invalid suffering from disordered female functions, monthly pains, nervousness, fainting, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, etc., will find relief in wine of Cordia and Theiford's Black-Drainage, two of the most valuable, reliable, scientific, curative medicines known for the treatment of sick women. They are sold at all drug stores, and should be in every home. Try them.

AS IN DAYS OF YORE

The Deestrick Skule Had Full Attendance. Gave Satisfaction to Its Visitors.

Gay, giggling girls and busy, boisterous boys were much in evidence at the opera house Monday night in attendance at the last day of the "Deestrick Skule" at Pumpkin Centre. The children were all arrayed in their best bib and tucker and they were all feeling in the best of spirits. The school house was filled at an earlier hour than usual with expectant boys and girls and they seemed to have agreed to a friendly rivalry as to who should have the best lesson and speak the best piece.

At the sound of the bell, sounded by Miss Judy, Mrs. S. R. Street, the children came chattering down the theatre aisle from the rear, and up to the stage, the audience being at once put into good humor by the effect of their entrance. The opening act was the class work, A B C, spelling, grammar and geography. During the recitations there were a number of comical features introduced which caused applause and laughter among the audience.

Between the first and second parts Misses Mary Meadows Mitchell and Louise Pearce, gave a charming little specialty song, Alphonse and Gaston, which captivated the audience.

There was a pretty scene in pantomime of the school at recess, just before the second part, in which, the School Committee visited the school, and the children were called upon to do various stunts, which were warmly applauded. There were a number of amusing parts taken, and the choruses were good. The Pythian Band played an overture which was fine, also two other pieces. The net financial result was about $125, which goes to the fund for the Child's Study Department of the Woman's Club.

In connection with the entertainment special credit is due Mrs. M. M. Marks and Mrs. Loeb, for their untiring efforts, and to whom in addition to those who took part, the success of the affair is due.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by Davis Pharmacy and F. S. Duffy.

J. Milton Turner of St. Louis, Mo., formerly American minister to Liberia, is endeavoring to enlist the interest of lathman canal officials in the employment of negro labor from the United States in building the canal.

Lathripsis and Pneumonia.

Pneumonia often follows LaGrippe but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures lathripsis coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Mr. G. Vaeber, of 187 Osgood St., Chicago, writes: "My wife had a severe case of LaGrippe three years ago and it left her with a terrible cough. She tried a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and it gave immediate relief. She has not had a cough since." For sale by Davis Pharmacy.

IT IS BAILEY

Will Secure Secure Raleigh Postmastership.

Present Incumbent Appears Choice of People. Injunction Against Railroad by Judge Parnell.

(Special Correspondence.)

Raleigh, Feb. 20.—The settlement of the Raleigh post office question seems to be giving ground for such comment and speculation in view of a possible fact that the present incumbent C. T. Bailey, will not be reappointed. Your correspondent has already stated that two applicants with contingent ideas were on the lookout for the place, they being John W. Harden, a young banker, and Willis G. Briggs, an able young newspaper man of Raleigh, and now comes the statement that Marion Butler's younger brother also has a pole pointed towards the postoffice.

Conversation with those who know in departmental circles brings forth statements that are unquestionably and positively are concerning Mr. Bailey and your correspondent states without fear of contradiction that Mr. Bailey's reappointment is as sure as that of any other or probable office holder. This is not mere hearsay but is verified by those in a position to speak without qualifying and without fear of contradiction.

There was heard today before Judge Thomas R. Parnell the case of the Guaranty Trust Company and the Metropolitan Trust Company of New York vs The Suffolk & Carolina and Norfolk & Southern railroads. An injunction was granted restraining the first road from crossing the second road at Roper and counsel for Suffolk Carolina secured modification of this injunction which rendered it almost inoperative. The hearing today was to show cause why orders shall not be annulled. The Trust Companies are trustees in mortgages, on Norfolk & Southern property.

Wreck on Asheville Division

Asheville, Feb. 18.—Two persons were killed and half a dozen others injured in a head-on collision of passenger trains between Swannanoa and Black Mountain this afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock. The dead are:

BRAKEMAN SIMPSON,
CONDUCTOR HOUGH.

The injured: Engineer Peter Rouche, perhaps fatally; Engineer Dan Keever, hurt in back; Fireman John Smith, colored, bruised; Fireman Dan Graham, bruised; Postal Clerk, W. C. Moore, of Statesville, hurt in back; Baggage Agent Gardner, of Connelly Springs, bruised. Several passengers were slightly bruised and shaken up, but not badly hurt.

The accident on the Asheville division of the Southern Railway this afternoon is said to be due to the failure of the first section of No. 12, eastbound, to take the siding at Swannanoa; Train No. 11 from the east was operated in two sections this afternoon. The first section came in about 2 o'clock. The second section was reported running two hours and forty minutes late. Second section No. 11 had the right of way from Black Mountain to Asheville. The first section of No. 12, a light engine, bound for Salisbury and carrying a crew of Engineer Rouche, Conductor Hough, brakeman Simpson and Fireman John Smith, reached Swannanoa a few minutes after 4 o'clock. The engine should have gone into siding at this point.

The second section of No. 11 was at Black Mountain on time Engineer Dan Keever had the right of way and supposedly a clear track. He pulled out for Asheville. First number 12 pulled out for Swannanoa about the same time. Between Swannanoa and Black Mountain there are no stops. It is a distance of perhaps ten miles. Both engines were running at full speed and the trains were probably making 35 to 40 miles an hour. At a point nearly midway between the stations they collided.

The crash and the jar is described by the passengers as fearful. Both engines jumped. The fireman also jumped. Conductor Hough and brakeman Simpson remained on the engine. They were both scalded to death. Engineer Rouche is badly hurt. Both his legs are broken, the left below the knee, the right above. The bone of the right leg protruded and penetrated the groin. He is in Biltmore Hospital and little hope is entertained for his recovery. The light engine, running as first number 12, is almost a total wreck. The engine of the passenger carrying coaches, and the sleeper is also badly damaged. It was thrown cross-wise the track. Considerable track damage was done.
