COTTON WORTHY OF CAREFUL ATTENTION

The American cotton grower is a great believer in his product, and can carry it for years, in order to secure the price which he deems it worth, and yet in the very first instance, no matter how good a friend cotton may be, the cotton farmer is neglectful in his attentions to this most valuable staple.

Every season can be noted in the local cotton market in this city, and this will also be seen elsewhere, cotton bales with poor and insufficient covering, and other bales which have had to be torn to pieces to get out the stained cotton, to make the cotton marketable.

Too many southern farmers forget that today cotton is eleven cents and is worthy of double the care it received a few years ago, when it was selling at five cents, although the price should not be an excuse for negligent farming and preparing for market of any crop.

If the cotton farmer, will take note of his fellows, the grain farmer, the truck farmer and the fruit farmer, he will observe that these agriculturists give most careful heed to the manner of the handling of their products, and these fellow farmers are richly rewarded for this attention by the better prices they receive for their farm products.

More care in packing, more attention in housing, are demanded of the southern cotton grower, in order to secure better results for his time and labor. The cotton growers in other countries, with fields far less abundant, give care to every handful of cotton picked, and wraps it with care, and protects it from the weather until it is prepared and ready for market.

The southern cotton farmer may show wisdom in waiting for a market price, to make his labors remunerative, but a more thorough and careful preparation to begin with, well packed bales and well protected from the elements, will yield returns that will handsomely reward this extra attention and trouble for so doing.

LOCAL LIGHT AND LOCOMOTION.

Several local incidents in the way of possible changes in the supply and character of lights for private consumption in this city, also possibilities in the way of rapid transit, in electric car line system to suburban properties, have appeared in the local columns of the Journal during the past few weeks.

To recount these incidents and forecast possible future changes, is of interest at this time.

A possible purchase of the gas works of this city, the putting in of new illuminating power in several of the business houses, in some ways can lead, if carried out, to a considerable decrease in the consumption of the electric light, as now sold to consumers by the city.

is going to the party who will give the best and cheapest.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS!

In years past, visitors in the parks of the large northern cities, were greeted on every side by signs bearing the warning, "Keep off the grass," so that the real enjoyment of the tired and dusty visitor, seeking a haven of quietness and coolness on a hot summer's day, found instead of the soft green sward to lie upon, only the hard and dusty paths.

Every community, every municipality, can if it so orders, make barriers, in the way of ordinances and local laws, which like the "keep off the grass" signs, operate against local comfort in the way of hindrances to material and industrial development and growth.

It is this sentiment which makes it a matter of force, if any industry seeking entrance, shall succeed in locating here, instead of a liberal spirit, with liberal offers to secure such industries.

It is this very sentiment and spirit demanding that all who come must conform exactly to certain prescribed rules, which for an outsider just coming in are sure to be harsh, if not proscriptionary, and which has kept towns only towns, instead of attaining their natural growth as cities.

New Bern is naturally splendidly located. It should be a large city, instead of a small one. It should have many manufactures, instead of a few. It should have twice the population, as compared to the colored, rather than less whites than colored. It should prove liberal, instead of narrow. It should gain by hundreds in population, and hundreds of thousands in industries and capital, rather than slowly creep along.

There should be the taking away of all the signs "Keep off the grass" of this city "unless you want to get in trouble," and instead the glad welcome be extended to all who come with the disposition to be of us, and for us, and all be together for each other, with no restrictive measures of "please don't crowd, because we have lived here before you came."

No true and permanent or prosperous municipal development and growth is to be expected without a liberal and patriotic local spirit, and outsiders will not come, will not invest a dollar where "Keep off the grass" is the prevailing local sentiment.

CASTORIA

The old Yancey Hotel, located in the Yellowstone National Park, was destroyed by fire. The fire originated from a defective chimney. The hotel was founded more than familiarly known as "Uncle John," and who made it a popular resort for tourists.

A happy home is the most valuable position that is within the reach of mankind; but you cannot enjoy its comforts if you are suffering from rheumatism. You throw aside business cares when you enter your home and you can be relieved from these rheumatic pains also by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

The nationalization of Tammany is commended by a committee of members to stem socialism in this country and bring the Democrats closer together.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, so it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease.

ELECTION WAS FRAUDULENT

More Votes Cast Than There Were Legal Voters in the Graded School Tax Election in Beaufort.

The Journal is informed that the report in Friday's issue concerning the election on the school tax question in Beaufort was incorrect. We went to considerable pains to get the report and believed that it was authoritative. Instead of the vote being 75 against the tax proposition it was 40 in favor of it; the vote being 159 for and 119 against.

Developments show, however, that the election was fraudulent as there were more votes cast than there are legal voters in Beaufort. This being the case the winners not wishing to accept the victory on which the stigma of fraud rested instructed the Board of Registrars and judges to adjourn until Monday to declare the election null and void and to make arrangements for another election.

The election was one of the most exciting times ever seen in Beaufort on an occasion of this kind and the excitement still continues.

Getting Reputation as Pitcher

John Patterson has done some very good work in the U. of N. C. base ball team this week. Monday he pitched a game in Winston against the St. Johns college club of Annapolis and the game was one by the Varsity by a score of 7 to 6.

Thursday the team played the Yanigans, an all professional club from Baltimore at Chapel Hill. Cunningham pitched five innings and Patterson four. The opponents got only two hits on him but he was not given proper support. The score was 9 to 5 in favor of the visitors.

Caught Cold While Hunting a Burglar.

Mr. Wm. Thos. Lawson, provincial Constable at Chippewa, Ontario, says: "I caught a severe cold while hunting a burglar in the forest swamp last fall. Hearing of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I tried it, and after using two small bottles, I was completely cured." This remedy is intended especially for colds and coughs. It will loosen and relieve a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and is a favorite wherever it is properly tried. Sold by all Druggists. Drown's Pharmacy and F. D. Bell.

Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil should always be used for the first or priming coat. No other paint has the same affinity for the surface—marrying and becoming a part of the wood.

Yellow ochre, barytes, zinc or any other substance than Pure White Lead fails to unite with the wood and serves only to form a cushion, which will prevent even Pure White Lead from attaching itself when finally applied.

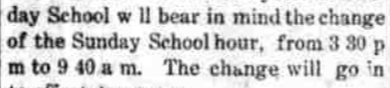

Satisfactory results can never be obtained so long as a surface is coated with a spongering (for that is all it is) of yellow ochre, barytes, zinc, etc. Such a coating is bound to crumble, crack and peel, and must be scraped or scraped off, done so the wood itself, before a good job can be done—an expensive process, and not without danger of fire.

A house owner can scarcely make a more costly mistake than to use a substitute for Pure White Lead in the priming coat. Avoid all risk by using

CHARLES RANDOLPH THOMAS.

Our Congressman's Record: One Million Dollars in Appropriations. His Able Speeches on Many Subjects of National Importance.

Among the appropriations secured by Mr. Thomas in the past six years in Congress have been the following: aggregating about a million dollars. Public building, Goldsboro, N. C., fifty thousand dollars; steam revenue cutter for Neuse river, Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds, one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. This ship is to be electric lighted and one of the finest constructed.

Marine biological laboratory at Beaufort, N. C., with improvements and additions, thirty-five thousand dollars. Life Saving Stations at Beaufort, Inlet and Bogue inlet, with equipment, about twenty-five thousand dollars each, carrying annual pay roll for captain and crew of from six to seven thousand dollars, repairs of roadway to National Cemetery, New Bern, six thousand dollars, the war claim of St. John's Masonic Lodge, New Bern, five thousand dollars. This was a direct appropriation, the only one made in recent years, made after a hard fight and over the opposition of the leader of the majority, Mr. Payne.

River and harbor appropriations, under the acts of 1902 and 1905, for Neuse and Trent Rivers, Northeast and Black rivers, inland waterway between Beaufort harbor and New river, New river, Onslow county, and Beaufort harbor, taking care of all the rivers and harbors of the Third District, an aggregate amount of about two hundred thousand dollars, including in this forty five thousand dollars secured for deepening Beaufort bar. Many surveys have also been authorized as a basis for river and harbor work and appropriations.

For light vessel at Cape Lookout shoals ninety thousand dollars. He was instrumental with others in having the appropriation for topographic surveys increased fifty thousand dollars, securing county map for Sampson county. Soil survey maps have been made for Craven, Duplin and other counties. One hundred rural free delivery routes are in operation in the district which an annual pay roll of seventy-two thousand dollars.

He has secured in the pending public buildings bill recognition for every section of the State, and is the third ranking Democratic member of the Committee. He is also on the Committee on Library, having charge of the battle grounds and monuments and has secured a favorable report for Moores Creek battle-field monument, and expects to pass it.

The above list does not include many minor bills passed, such as pension bills, a bill for the establishment of circuit court at New Bern, and to restore North Carolina archives; not the bill to increase the pay of men in the Life Saving Service.

In the case of North Carolina archiver this bill was reported to the House in one day and passed by Mr. Thomas on the following day, securing recognition of the Speaker.

The speeches made by Representative Thomas, beginning with the first session of the 56th Congress, have been many. He speaks with effect whenever it is a subject in which his party or district is interested. The speeches include one on expansion, "the Philippine policy" of the administration; upon the Life Saving Service; upon the relations between the north and south in discussing the "Masonic Lodge claim" upon the river and harbor bill; upon the adjudication of war claims; against the Trusts, upon the subject of reciprocity with Cuba; upon Diamond Shoals Lighthouse; upon Moores Creek battlefield; upon rural free delivery and its benefits to the farmers; upon reciprocity with France; against the consolidation of customs districts, and many other incidental remarks upon various questions arising in Congress.

The Congressional Campaign Committee used his speech upon rural free delivery in the last campaign to show that the Democratic party was the author of the service.

Upon two occasions he has won out in the House against the majority leader, Mr. Payne, the passage of the bill for St. John's Masonic Lodge, and the bill to abolish customs houses at New Bern and Beaufort. His popularity in the caucus and influence have grown wonderfully and he has met with very great success in all matters of legislation. His influence has extended beyond his district and has secured valuable recognition for the State as well.
