Synopsis of the Little Tycoon.

The public will be interested to read the synopsis of the delightful opera to be given tomorrow night, the Journal will give a brief synopsis:

The first scene is on board of an ocean steamship, among the passengers are a crowd of jolly young women with Miss Hurrican (Mrs M L Hollowell) as chaperon. Gen. Knickerbocker (Joe Watson) of New York, a stern, sturdy dignified person is also a passenger with his daughter Violet, (Mrs Annie DeRossett Harriss of Wilmington) with her friend Dolly (Mrs. Herbert Tis-Gen. Knickerbocker is very desirous to have his daughter marry the eccentrie English Lord Dolphin, (Clarence Crapon) who with his valet Lord Teddy, Albert Willis,) is among the passeners on the boat. The old general's ill regarding Violet and the Lord are et and although she is in love with Alvin Barry (CT Pumphrey) a Wall treet broker, her wishes are not conidered in the matter. Dolly and her ther friends help her in her love afairs with Barry.

Barry resorts to a ruse to gain Vioets hand in marriage and assumes the title of the Grand Tycoon under the name of HR H Sham of Japan. He sends word to Gen. Knickerbocker that le with his retinue of followers will pay the general a visit. The latter is highly pleased that he should be the object of so much honor as to have a nember of the royal household of Japan as his guest and he makes elaborate reparations for his entertainment. The Grand Tyccon arrives and after the formal salaams and introductions the Tycoon falls in love with Violet and the general is delighted at the progress of the match. The Tycoon divests himself of his disguise and shows himself as Barry, whereupon the general acknowedges that he has used superior diplomacy and congratulates him on the success of his deception and bestows is daughter Violet on him as his

OVER HALF MILLION SHAD

From Government Fish Hatchery Planted in Neuse River.

Mr. G. N. Ives received from the government fish hatchery at Edenton, consignment of 704,000 young shad, for planting in the Neuse. It came on the steamer Albemarle and was received by Mr. Copeland the distinguished agent, who at once put them in Mr. Ive's care. They were transported on the naptha launch Lucia to the narrows several miles above New Bern and deposited in the river by Mr. Hellen

Owing to a delay in the Atlantic Coast Line train a few days ago a shipment of fish marked for New Bern were carried on to Wilmington and planted there. The fish received here vesterday were originally meant for the wilmington waters but the shipments were exchanged.

There has not been any shad planting for two years and it is believed that this consignment will stock the river with plenty of fine shad. It is hoped that a second planting may be secured before long. Mr. Ives is to be heartily commended for his energy in getting this large supply of fish.

Dedication of M. E. Church South, at Tuttle's Grove.

Wire Grass, May 7.

On the morning of the 29th of April, 1906, the talented consecrated Rev. D. H. Tuttle, of Fayetteville, N. C., preached at the M. E. Church, Tuttles Grove, for the first time since the foundation of the church. Long before the appointed hour the building was seated to the utmost capacity and many who could not obtain seats inside were seated upon buggies and carriages at the windows and doors. At eleven he preached a fine intellectual frame work ermon. It was filled with earnest spirituality, after which the small amount necessary to clear the church of its indebtedness, was quickly and easily raised. At 1:20 huncheon was served on the grounds, after which friends and ac quaintance exchanged greetings with one another until 2:30 when the peals of music rendered by Miss Edyth Kennedy of Newport, prought every one in the church that could obtain seats. Then followed the dedicational sermon and exercise. The church was dedicated to God in the name of M. E. Church Tuttles Grove. Rev. D. H. Tuttle with his enthusiastic voice again held the audience in perfect silence, his discourse was clear and forcible. Never was a larger gathering present at the dedication of a country church. The number estimated were between 1,000 and 1,200. May God's richest blessing rest upor the church and may it ever prove wor thy of the name it bears.

ate Dead at Gedar Grove Cemetery. The memorial services in honor of the memory of those who were the gray were appropriately observed at 'edar Grove cemetery yesterday. The program followed was essentially the sameras that published in the Journal yesterday. A very large assembly had gathered around monument place and it was notably increased by the great procession which formed at Academy Green and marched to the monument, The exercises were conducted by the marshal, Mr. S. R. Street and consisted of music by the choir, accompani d by the K. of P. band.

Rev. Mr. Garth sang with much effeet the sweet and sad song entitled. Tenting tonight on the Old Camp Ground," and sheriff J. W. Biddle made a few reminiscent remarks appropriate to the occasion.

The monument presented a most beautiful appearance, being profusely decorated with rose wreaths and loose flowers. After the exercises the graves of soldiers were strewn with flowers and the memories of those who fought so bravely and well were honored by the rising generation.

A Fine Amusement Venture.

Something new to NewBern will trans pire next week when summer stock is inaugurated at the New Masonic Theatre. It is true that the company will not play night in and night out at this theatre until the warm months cease but it will make several visits to the city during the summer if interest enough is taken in the enterprise, and another stock company, which Mr. S A Schloss and Messrs. Cowan Brothers intend to purchase for their summer season will also visit New Bern. Each company will be looked after by personal representatives of these managers and will be strengthened by new vaudeville acts from time to time. The company to start in here next Monday night will be Slater's comedians, an organization that has a fine reputation throughout the north and middle west and a company that is in its eighty third consecutive week. The last is guarantee sufficient of the company's worth. Last summer and for all sun;mer the company played stock in Cincinnati and will come direct from Ohio to New Bern, leaving Greenwich, Ohio Saturday morning for this city. The opening play Monday night will be "Under the Stars and Stripes." It is a strong piece dramatically, and one full of live and clever comedy. It is something new to this part of the country, as well as new to New Bern, and between acts will be presented splendid up-to-date specialties. The com pany will change its bill and specialties nightly and will only produce new plays during the engagement here, unless a big revival of the "Two Orphans" is given and there has been many requests for this production. Only a Saturday matinee will be given. Popular prices will reign during the entire engage-

First Parliament Opened

Special to Journal. St. Petersburg, May 10 .- This day has marked an epoch in the history of Russia. The first parliament, a body representing the people, was formally opened by Czar Nicholas himself. To rush now, it is not unusual sight to see avoid any unpleasant demonstration the arrival at the winter palace of the czar was not announced and the usual salute of 301 guns was not given. 'A great number of troops were in front of the palace and the ceremonies were conduct ed with great pomp. There was no occurrence to mar the solemnity of the occasion. A Thrilling Play

"Under the Stars and Stripes." With that play of somewhat stirring title, but one of intensity rather than excitement and one of good wholesome comedy the Slater's Comedians, Measrs Schlos -- Cowan Brothers' summer stock company, will inaugurate the summer season at the New Musonic Theatre Monday night. The company will play at popular prices and will, it is claimed, present only the best of modern plays, each new to this section of the country. The vaudeville, features will be especially pleasing and will be found bright. snappy and up-to-date. Great stress is taid upon the specialties carried with the company and which will add much to each performance Slater's Comedians will be in the South this season for the very first ime and will, no doubt, prove as popfor the last four or five years in the North. Death of Mrs E H Goodwin A gloom of sadness prevailed over our entire community yesterday when it was learned that the death angel had called Elizabeth H. Goodwin away to rest beyond the river.

Mrs. Goodwin, wife of J. L. Goodwin was born November 5th, 1838 and died May 1st, 1906, being 72 years five months, and twenty-six days old. She was the mother of eight children three of whom are living and she is also the grand-mother of four children. Mrs. Goodwin was an affectionate wife, a kind and loving mother and a good neighbor. She connected herself with the Primitive Baptist church twenty six years ago and was a consistent and highly respected member to the time of her death. The funeral services was conducted by Elder J. E. Adams, at the residence of the deceased and she was buried in the old family grave-yard on the west end of Cedar Island.
