Speakers For State Museum. Governor Visits Raleigh Again. Auto Company Business Charter. Rural Delivery Routes. Muck-Lenting Leads in Macadam Roads.

(Special Correspondence.)

Raleigh, May 19.—Curator Brimley of the State Museum returned today from a special trip to Lake Ellis, near New Bern. He was after alligators and secured the heads and skins of eight, the largest 8 feet in length. The skins are to be shown and the heads mounted. The water in the lake is only 2 feet deep at most. The alligators were mainly speared, but some were shot, the 25 calibre expanding bullets literally smashing their skulls. Many photographs were taken and a number of reptiles and birds were secured.

Gov. Glenn returned from Asheville, greatly pleased at the convention of 600 of the most important cotton manufacturers in the country.

A charter is granted the Asheville Automobile Transit Co., to operate the public roads of Buncombe county and elsewhere, handling passengers and freight. D. G. Noland and others being among the stockholders.

There are now in this State 1185 rural free delivery mail carriers. There are in the United States 35,365.

It is learned that there are now 820 miles of macadamized road in this State. Greenburg leads, with 14 miles. These roads are in need of repair in many cases.

The beautiful collection of the woods of North Carolina in the lower floor of the State Museum, is now rearranged and is open to the public. It is one of the finest features of the great museum.

E Latham & Company's Weekly Cotton Letter

Special to Journal.

Greensboro, N. C., May 19.—Fluctuations in cotton during the week have been very narrow and the closing today is practically the same as a week ago. Trade continues good and spinners are well employed the world over. The spot sales in Liverpool this week have been very large and shows a disposition of foreign spinners to fortify themselves against any contingency that may arise. The new crop is doing well, but it is useful to note that influential firms such as W. P. Brown and Co., Theodore H. Price, S. M. Weed and Company, Latham, Alexander and Co., and Messrs. Giles are giving out acreage figures showing very small increases. If the government on June 3rd should also show a very small increase, say not over 20,000,000 acres, it is likely the trade would become alarmed and bring about a higher range of prices.

BLACKBURN AT DOVER.

The Republican Congressman from the 8th District Delights a Large Audience in that City.

The address delivered by Hon. E. Spencer Blackburn to the graduating class at Dover Friday night was very largely attended and the audience highly appreciative. The advent of the brilliant young statesman to this section was not known very widely or there would have been a very much larger attendance. His visit was regarded by some as being not wholly of an educational nature, but there was so little time to give to political matters that all he could do was to note which way the political wind was blowing. He expressed himself as very confident of his success in the coming convention. He said it would be a fight to the finish; it was back or be dead. His address was one of good advice and suggestions to the young graduates. A thorough education is becoming a necessity. If a man has no other ambition than to merely be able to read and write or hold an ordinary position in life he must have an education and the more eager he is to amount to something the more learning he needs to have. The progress of the times, the intensity of competition demand that education of our youth be thorough and practical. There has been a revolution of educational ideas and we have all been caught in the great sweeping wave of this demand. While only a few years ago the educated men were in the minority now they are in the great majority and by information gained from statistics the majority is growing larger. He complimented the students for their industry and encouraged them to pursue their studies with vigor.

His personal address to the class was a very practical one. He pointed out the practical nature of his talk kept the audience spellbound with his words. His address continued for nearly an hour and was frequently interrupted by approving applause.

He was introduced by Professor Sloan, superintendent of the Dover school and was preceded by Mr. S. M. Brinson, county superintendent of education.

Trade Report

Richmond, May 19.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity:

The market for agricultural implements and vehicles is active and shows largely increased sales over previous years; the same is true with the harness and leather market. In this line some dealers have more orders than they can fill, owing to the scarcity and high prices of leather. The tobacco market continues strong with high prices and good demands for all grades. Produce is scarce and high; this is due partially to the recent cool weather which has retarded the ripening of vegetables and in some sections the crop is considerably injured. Collections are not good. Retail trade continues somewhat depressed.

DOUBLE TRACK LAYING

Southern Railway Company Pushing Forward the Work.

Street Improvements in Gate City. Fine Auto. Return of Girl Who Disappeared a Few Days Ago. Position in Survey Service. Personals.

(Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro, May 18.—In its double track work between Greensboro and High Point, the Southern railway straightened several curves, making two new road-beds and tracks in the process. Several grades were also cut down. The last re-grading is now being done between Hill Top and Bull Run Creek, about five miles from here. At the point, the track is raised ten feet from its former position and at this point the county macadam road between Greensboro and High Point, will cross the railroad under instead of over track as is now done. The finishing touches will have been put on the entire fifteen miles of new double tracking between Greensboro and High Point when this piece is completed.

The report of Greensboro's City Engineer just made of the street improvement here for the past year, makes a good showing for progress in that line of improvement. It shows that four miles of street grading has been done at a total cost of $9,000. Curbing on six miles of streets has been set and is now going on at the rate of 300 feet per day. No macadam work has been done during the last year, but Elm street has been paved with brick from Lee to Church street, the area paved amounting to between 18,000 and 19,000 square yards. Coincident with this, granolithic sidewalks and pavements have been laid by the citizens to the extent of about 12 miles during the past year, and walks are now being laid by six different contractors, some of whom run two or more squads. The city itself has laid 800 square yards of walk and the city and county are both at this work now. 7,000 sanitary sewers have been built on ten streets, aggregating 700 in. ft. private parties under supervision and grades of the city engineer.

One of the finest automobiles yet seen here has just been purchased by Mr. Julius Cone. The car is understood to have been $3,500. The machine is between forty and fifty horse power. It differs from other machines in use here as it has a "limousine" body. The machine is a "Thomas." The vehicle will seat six people, and is on the order of the old fashioned stage coach, except its panels are glass, and the flat roof top will scarcely permit the seating of overflow passengers, though it will accommodate luggage.

Yesterday Mr. John E. Ferguson, a considerable property owner here, returned from Graham, where he had been in search of his daughter, Lillian, 18 years old, who mysteriously disappeared from her home here Monday. Mr. Ferguson found his daughter in a boarding house in Graham, where board had been engaged for her by Wm. Greel, a barber here, who disappeared from his place of business, his wife and three children the same day of Miss Ferguson's disappearance. On Monday, as was her custom, Miss Ferguson went out to collect the weekly rents due her father on dwellings owned by him in the city. Among these tenants was Greel, and the girl had been known to be acquainted, but nothing was thought of it. Monday night as she had not returned home, and enquiries revealed the fact that Greel had also disappeared from his home, a search was begun, resulting in the two being located in Graham. Mr. Ferguson failed to find Greel in Graham, but officers are on the look out for him, on a charge of abandonment and non-support of his family. Hearing of the destitute condition of his deserted family, the local barbers union sent several representatives to meet yesterday. A plentiful supply of provisions and other necessities were furnished to them by the union. Mrs. Greel is said to have some well-to-do relatives in Raleigh.

Mr. Tom Dalton, son of Mr. R. F. Dalton, has accepted a position with U. S. Geological Survey. He will be stationed at some point in Colorado and will leave this week.

Capt. R. P. Gray returned from Richmond last night. He has been there for several months under the care of his brother-in-law, Dr. J. Allison Rodges. He is greatly improved in health.

Mr. H. B. Harward, who has been night clerk at the Guilford for some time, has gone to Apex to spend two weeks before assuming duties with the Hotel Tarrymore at Wrightsville Beach.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Proposed to Fight Prohibition. Two Cent Railroad Rates and Roosevelt's Policies.

(Special Correspondence.)

Raleigh, May 19.—It is stated by Republicans here that a strong effort will be made by a number of men of their party to buy the State Convention and adopt resolutions in favor of State prohibition, also in favor of two cent fares upon the railway and that there will also be an effort made to have President Roosevelt's views on the rate question endorsed. It is said that such zealous Republicans as Harry Skinner, H. L. Grant, and J. H. Hester favor these steps. One of the men said that there was an understanding in progress now with Congressman Blackburn with a view to getting him in line and to capture the State Convention on these questions. It was said that his district would be made the base of the Republican campaign in the State, and votes would be obtained by based upon the views of the party.

It was reported that 100 per cent would give support to the State Convention and that the difference between that figure and 100 per cent is not much less than 100.

Clarks

May 19.

Farmers are some what discouraged around here on account of the dry weather. Cotton is very slow coming up and even when advanced by the cool weather last week.

Our people had the pleasure of another performance by Rev. Garner Sunday afternoon. The house was full and several came who could not get room in the house.

Rev. W. H. White will preach here Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. E. H. Stallings of New Bern was in Clarksville.

Mr. J. H. Pugh is recovering from an attack of malarial fever.

About Belliar

May 21.

Dust clouds and farmers are looking toward a leading cloud or listening to an occasional moaning of distant thunder with considerable anxiety.

Cotton not up can't get up and that which is up looks dusty but then we are not as badly off of it as some of our more southern farmers whose crops of cotton were killed by the frost. We had frost last week but it did not kill things.

It seems that a kind Providence is again ruling and ruling out some of the discrepancies of man's judgment in increasing his cotton crop. There is probably ten per cent increase of the cotton crop of our county. So if a kind Ruler wisely destroys about one-tenth of the crop it will even up things, and we will get more for what is left, than we would for the whole.

Corn is growing finely but some of us had to hang a few crows in our fields to stop the others from pulling up corn.

Have not heard of but one man about here that had good prime potatoes in his patch, we have some in the same row that are blossoming and others just coming up.

To Entertain a Distinguished Guest

The one hundredth anniversary of the opening of the first brick school building in New Bern June 23 will be one of intense interest. The Journal announced Sunday that the centennial was in honor of the first public school building which was an error, it was the first brick building used for school purposes.

The Board of Trustees are extremely fortunate in securing Hon. Hannis Taylor to make the address for this occasion. This distinguished man is a native of New Bern. He lived here several years and was a student at our schools. His career in public life has been brilliant and he has been honored by two presidents, by President Cleveland in assigning him U. S. Ambassador to Spain and by President Roosevelt as counsel for the United States in the Alaskan Fisheries treaties. Other honors have been given him and in all he has won the high respect and esteem of all his associates.

The citizens should unite and make this anniversary an affair that will reflect credit on us.

UNUSUAL CASE.

Chinaman Commits Suicide By Hanging.

Crowds View the Dead Body. Political Candidates Visit Schools to Promote Their Interests. Kinstonians in Gate City. J. E. Lathan Leases Warehouse.

(Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro N. C. May 21.—Nobody here has ever heard of a Chinaman committing suicide before, but at least five thousand citizens, men and women viewed the dead and hanging body of Sim Lee, proprietor of the principal chin se laundry here, yesterday afternoon. About six o'clock yesterday afternoon two boys came running out of the alley at King & Kimballs law office in front of the court house, white as sheets, declaring there was a dead man hanging in the wareroom in the rear. Investigation proved that it was the chinaman, whose laundry establishment was in front of warehouse, facing the Federal court building and on East Market St. The body was stiff and stark, every particle of clothing being just from a store, even to his shoes being new. He had taken a piece of iron piping tied a silk scarf around it, poked through a crack in the planks of the loft, turned the piping, stood on a cracker box, and with the noose around his neck stepped off, the step being not over twelve inches, his feet nearly touching the floor and resting against the side of the box. He must have choked to death without a struggle or effort. His brother who is a partner in the laundry was soon found, and his excited astonishment and grief was touching. He said that "Sim had been sick with consumption for some time and a few weeks ago his physician told him he could not live long and this prayed on his mind. He had been arranging to go to Washington for several days and from there to New York to be nearer home when he died, and Saturday said he believed he would go to Washington on the midnight train last night. That he left the laundry about midnight, after all the work was over; but did not say goodby. Thinking that he had gone to Washington on a sudden notion on the one o'clock train Saturday night or Sunday morning, he had not felt troubled about his absence. Coroner Turner pronounced death from suicide, after examination from the condition of the body, death having occurred between midnight and day Sunday morning. The chinaman in the city soon gathered and had undertaker Poolo place the body in a casket. Examination satisfied them they said Sim had done his own shrouding and would not like to have anything done further than this. Every stitch of clothing on the body was brand new, even to the silken scarf which made his hangman's rope. The remains were on a fast North bound train within two hours time from the time the body was cut down. The body will be taken to New York, there embalmed and returned via San Francisco to his native land in China for its final rest. Sim Lee was 35 years of age, was well thought of and had made a comfortable fortune. The body being found right in the heart of the city, within fifty feet of the street car junction at Market and Elm street crossings and on Sunday afternoon, made it natural for crowds to view the gruesome sight. It was an hour before the coroner came, and the body while hanging was viewed by quantities of curious people, many women and even children taking a look.

A gentleman who is nothing if not practical, in enumerating the advantages of schools to a community and a county, says that their value to candidates for political office on election dates, have never been appreciated by educational apostles in their enumeration of benefits. He says that a candidate in Guilford county can get to the people easier, cheaper, and pleasanter, than in any other county in the State. In every section of the county outside of the closings of the public schools in every district, including High Point, Revolution, Proximity and Gibsonville the candidates by spending one day at the big commencements at Guilford College, Oak Ridge, Whitsett and McLeansville, can get a fine free dinner, and meet in a social way almost every voter in the county. Besides this he has an opportunity to meet the wives, mothers, daughters and babies in pleasant, elevating and harmless acquaintanceship. That candidates appreciate these advantages is evidenced by the fact that they literally swarm around on such occasions and furnish much pleasure to their friends.

The Oettingers of Kinston, who are to begin a buggy and carriage factory here, have leased the Wright four story brick building, on Greene street and will begin work at once under the name of the Oettinger Buggy Co. They have purchased a lot in East Greensboro and will occupy their present quarters until the proposed new building can be erected.

J. E. Latham and Co. cotton brokers here, have leased from the Southern railway, the large brick building on Main street, formerly used for a freight depot. The building will be used as a cotton storage warehouse.
