

HAD NOT WALKED FOR 11 MONTHS

Terrible Sore on Ankle Caused Awful Suffering—Could Not Sleep nor Rest—Physician Said Leg Would Have to Be Amputated.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN SIX WEEKS

"I had a terrible sore on my ankle and had not walked any for eleven months. I tried nearly everything without any benefit and had a doctor, but he didn't seem to do any good. He said I would have to have my leg taken off, and that I would never walk again. I suffered awful, and at night I could not sleep at all. I thought there was no rest for me, but as soon as I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment it commenced healing nicely. I bathed the ankle with warm water and Cuticura Soap and then applied Cuticura Ointment to the affected part, and laid a cloth over the sore to hold it in place. After two weeks I could walk around in my room real good, and in six weeks' time my ankle was entirely cured and I was walking around out of doors. I was enjoying perfect health and have gone to work and feel as well as I ever did in my life, so I know that the Cuticura Remedies are the best in the world.

"Cuticura was recommended to me by a lady who had used it when her baby's head was so full of sores he could not lie down. She had to set him up in her arms to sleep. (Signed) Mrs. Mary Dickerson, Louisa, C.H. Va., April 22, 1905."

BLACKBURN'S MOVEMENTS.

He Will Probably Have Headquarters at Greensboro. Fate of Tar Heel.

FLAGRANT CASE OF ABUSE OF EXECUTIVE POWER.

Action Described as Outrage on Personal Rights. Justice Wolfe Delivers Himself in No Uncertain Terms on the Affair. Officer Took Appeal to Higher Court. (Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro, July 17.—Congressman Blackburn's political headquarters at the Benbow hotel were closed last night and the rooms given up. He and family left for Blowing Rock, which will be Mrs. Blackburn's summer home. The residence here about which so much fuss has been made, is now occupied by Mr. Meyer, of the Department Stores of Meyers Co., who has a lease on it for two years. Blackburn will return here Thursday, but whether he will conduct his campaign for Congress in the eighth district from Greensboro or not is not known. Greensboro is really the most accessible point of any other to all the counties of the eighth district. Besides this, it has been reported that despite the fair promises made by the organization of doing all it can to elect him to Congress.

Blackburn has a notion that his being as near the Chairman of the State Committee as possible, will not only cheapen his campaign but insure the looking after his district better. He has even offered, it is said, to let his private secretary, Crouch, to do campaign work. This offer has been declined, rumor has it. Blackburn's return next Thursday, is said to be to attend a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Tar Heel newspaper, which has been his organ during his own campaign for the chairmanship. Editor Bradshaw will retire from that position. Maj. H. L. Grant and Governor C. J. Harris own the plant practically alone the outfit and will dictate its disposition and future policy.

There are various rumors concerning this disposition. One is that the property will be merged in that of the Industrial News, and be issued by it as a weekly adjunct to its daily edition. Asked about this report this morning, a prominent member of the industrial News, and there was not a word of truth in this report, for the Industrial News, would not need to buy a new equipment and outfit of machinery to print a weekly edition. Another report is that Major Grant, the president of the corporation, is in favor of moving the plant and publishing the paper from Raleigh. The Congressman will not need the paper in his campaign, it is said, for the reason that he already has several papers established in the district which reach every part of it locally, and are practically no expense to him. In keeping with his record in political as well as business matters. The general impression here is, that the politicians on both sides of the political family quarrel, have been monkeying with amiable and likable Governor Harris, and have for the past three years played him and his money to a finish. That he has been liberal in general campaign contributions is well known, and that his support of Blackburn's campaign from Greensboro and Asheville by newspaper loans and by endorsement of personal paper for money borrowed, is generally credited. The mix up was not made plain by any means at the State convention.

United States Commissioner J. M. Wolfe, who is also a Justice of the Peace, had a case before him this morning that aroused his indignation to an extent, he delivered a notable judgment and series of comments after he had heard the facts. Since his judgment is the briefest way of stating the case, it is re-produced from notes taken which its deliverance was in progress. Any one reading this case will be more than ever convinced that the legislature, or the people, need to pass some law to protect the flagrant abuse of power by some Justices of the Peace special officers and others:

Said Judge Wolf, after hearing witnesses: "Gentlemen, I have been a Justice of the Peace for thirty years, and have had all kinds of cases brought me, murder down to stealing one ear of corn, but this case beats any I ever heard."

"This defendant Albert McIver, a colored man from the country, was found in the negro department of the Southern passenger station Friday night 'snooping.' Without a warrant, this officer Jones, who says he is a railroad policeman, went and arrested him, got another man, put nippers on him, carried him to the county jail, and without any mittens from anybody delivered him to the jailer the jailer took him, locked him up, and as he was told to stay there until a certain Justice of the Peace, who was absent in the employ of the road company should return Tuesday or Wednesday to set on the case, the charge being for trespass. The man as has been testified was perfectly sober. On Saturday he got the jailer to phone to a prominent white man in town who had employed him and knew him well, that he was in jail. This officer who arrested him, should swear out a warrant returnable before me today for a hearing and this was done.

After hearing the evidence this morning I declare that the defendant was not violating the state law by noting in the passenger station that test was itself a trespass on the rights of a citizen, and without cause, that his imprisonment was false imprisonment and an outrage. The judgment of the court is that defendant go without day, and the special railroad officer, Jones, who swore out the warrant before me as the prosecutor, and is taxed with the costs, $2.35 and I want to be present when the county of Guilford is called upon to pay the costs of boarding this nigger for three days and nights. If his being there was not false imprisonment, I do not know what it is."

The officer charged with the costs for forth sought the attorneys of the Southern Railway, and they gave notice of appeal from the judgment taxing the officer with the costs and there the matter rests.

It would seem to be one of those cases where the least said about it the better for all parties, except the man so illegally imprisoned and the facts only coming out by accident.

JUDGE ADAMS AT RALEIGH

The Republican Chairman an Attractive Figure. Postmastership in Question. Southern Railway's Great Travel. (Special Correspondence.)

Raleigh, July 18.—Seemingly one of the most attractive spots in all Raleigh is Room No. 30 at the Yarrowburgh House which was last night made temporary headquarters for Judge Spencer B. Adams who is here to consider the post office situation. The main hall outside of Judge Adams room was converted into an ante-room with many chairs and many occupants of those chairs. While the Judge entertained his callers, candidates, their supporters and a small sized army of political seekers the next in line perpired in the hall and out on the curb under the window of No 30, others sat in just as great eagerness even after they had been admitted to conference. This morning the same condition prevailed and the hotel presents a scene of unusual condition. The state chairman expresses great satisfaction over the recent unifying of the Republican party in North Carolina and is emphatically expectant. In speaking of the candidate for the Raleigh postmastership Judge Adams said he had never known so high a type of rivalry since no contestant has had aught to say of his fellows other than commendation. The full list of possibilities to date stands John Nichols, U. S. Commissioner, J. W. Harden, a banker, W. M. Brown, secretary to the postmaster, C. H. B. Leonard, assistant postmaster at present, Lester Butler in the United States internal revenue department and Wilkes G. Briggs, one of the State's ablest young newspaper men. In canvassing the situation here Judge Adams assures all of his callers regardless of their specific purpose that he will, in the matter of endorsing a Raleigh postmaster employ his best judgment and most painstaking investigation, following after the presentation of such applicants by such fine endorsements. While Judge Adams came to Raleigh to see Gov. Glenn the post office candidates went to room 30 to see Judge Adams. Even those in authority and close to their political head do not undertake to forecast the announcement of a winner.

As an indication of the travel towards the sea the Southern Railway Co. operating an excursion train today from Raleigh and this section of the State to Morehead City carried five coaches from here. GREENSBORO, July 18.—Aaron Blount, a negro who cut another Sunday with a butcher knife, knocked a woman in the head with a spade, threw a little girl down stairs and burst out all the window lights before giving policemen a mile chase to catch him, when before the mayor for trial, was recognized by a negro present as one of two men, who at the point of a pistol one night about a week ago, robbed him of all his money. Blount was sent to the roads for fifteen days, and will be taken in charge for highway robbery when he serves his term.

Mayor Murphy yesterday fined the W. U. Telegraph Co. $25 for failure to remove their poles and wires on South Elm street. The company claimed it had been doing all it could to get the nuisances out of the way, and the Mayor gave them until August first to complete the job, promising to remit the fine if it was done by that time.

The office force, furniture and paraphernalia of the assistant general superintendents and maintenance of way of the Southern Railway were moved from here yesterday to Danville, in pursuance of orders recently issued making Danville the headquarters of a new division of the railway company. Greensboro regrets to lose the many valuable citizens connected with the office, among them being Chief E. H. Copman, Assistant General Superintendent, his chief clerk J. R. Buddin and others of that office. Of the Maintenance of Way office, of which Mr. Thomas Barnard was superintendent, T. H. Johnson, chief clerk, and several assistant engineers and stenographers were included in the transfer. It took two sixty feet baggage cars to carry the records, furniture etc., of the office.

A Remarkable Discovery

New York, July 11, 1906.—An eminent food specialist recently made the remarkable discovery that all the ingredients entering into the composition of ice cream could be reduced to powder form, kept indefinitely, and when ice cream was wanted it could be quickly made by adding a small quantity of the Powder to a quart of milk and freezing, without heating or cooking, thus doing away with all labor in making ice cream; and the proportions of each ingredient being absolutely correct, the ice cream made from the Powder would always be the same high quality, absolutely pure and free from disease germs of danger of ptomaine poisoning. No eggs, sugar, flavoring or anything except milk is required to make the finest ice cream from the Powder. After having been carefully analyzed by the Pure Food Commissioners, it has been placed on the market under the name of JELL-O ICE CREAM POWDER. Scientists pronounce it the greatest step-forward in pure food production in recent years.

NAVAL RESERVES SUMMER CRUISE.

A Practice Trip on the Ocean to Give Naval Militia a Taste of Warship Life.

THREE DIVISIONS OF FORTY MEN EACH THE EQUIPMENT.

The Steamer Compton Leased For a Ten Days Sail During Which Time the Men Will be Under Same Restrictions as Soldiers in Camp. July 27 The Date.

Yesterday a short local was published in the Journal relative to the proposed cruise of Naval Reserves. The boat leased for the purpose is the Compton, a staunch, strong, seagoing vessel built entirely of steel for the use of the Wilmington, Southport and Little River Steam Navigation Co. It is 150 feet long and has accommodations for 500 people. It draws but eight feet of water consequently it is enabled to go into quite shallow water.

The plan is that the Wilmington Division will leave Wilmington on board the Compton on the night of July 24 reaching Morehead on the morning of July 25 where they will be joined by the New Bern and Windsor divisions, each one having 43 men including officers and they will make daily trips to sea. The Compton will furnish the captain, engineer and have a government pilot and other necessary officers so there need be no fear that the boat will not be supplied with competent men to manage her.

There was a proposition received made by the Secretary of the Navy to Gen. Robertson of the Stateguard that a boat could be supplied for the use of naval cadets by the government, it would be of the cruiser or battleship order and could not enter the harbor at Morehead, Beaufort or Southport as they draw about 18 feet of water. Embarkation would probably have to be made at Cape Lookout.

Commander Bradham is holding this offer in abeyance for the present. He thinks it impracticable to accept it as provisions have already been made and moreover a cruise on a government boat is something requiring an enormous amount of work and even the short period which it would last would mean tremendous exertion—something which few know about who have not become acquainted with the work. There are other considerations which make it difficult to take the boat, still it is possible that the battleship or cruiser will be sent down here for this purpose and the Reserves or part of them be placed on board of the boat.

The appropriation for this cruise is $1,500 and seventy-five per cent of the brigade is required to report for duty. It is in no sense a lark or pleasure trip but it is for them to become acquainted with army and naval tactics, in short in times of peace it is fitting to prepare for war.

THE NORRIS CASE

Attracts Wide Attention. Respected Citizen Dead. Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, July 19.—The trial of M. T. Norris, in Wake county Superior court was resumed again this morning by the examination of witnesses for the State. The conduct of the procedure is slow, every step being closely contested and at times much active sparring between counsel, States witness and attorneys for defendant. Judge Webb was called on many times to rule in matters of evidence and at times anger was shown in the crowded court room. The supposition is that the remainder of the week will be consumed in finishing up this case, which is of such wide interest because of the standing of the parties concerned and the added fact that a suit will be brought by the defendant against the North Carolina Home Insurance Company of Raleigh.

Mr. Len Stephens, a highly respected citizen of McCollers, died last night at Rex's Hospital here, a serious operation having been performed last Saturday. Mason, Ga., has been chosen and the subject as announced "Resolved, That we should enforce the Monroe doctrine in South America." Wake Forest has taken the affirmative.
