JUDGE AGAINST THE PEOPLE!

The report of the Raleigh News-Observer's correspondent in the trial of the alleged Anson county lynchers, has caused more than usual comment and rightly so, for it is a startling situation, if correctly gauged. The report says:

"The situation as developed at the morning session may be said to have been a moral and spiritual contest between Judge Shaw on the one hand and the people of Union and Anson counties on the other. The statement is not made sensationally, but with a careful regard for the facts. It is the broad definition of the existing feelings, leaving out of account the small minority who desire the conviction of the defendants. That feeling may be best expressed in a single phrase—judge against people."

Carefully noting the correspondent's language, it reveals a situation at the trial which must have been intense in its dramatic force, a situation which must have been produced by the contrary forces at the trial being brought into antagonism, not merely due to the serious nature of the case at trial, but increased by some action attendant upon the case.

A few weeks ago, while holding court in this city, Judge Shaw in his address to the grand jury, gave utterance to the expressiva in substance, that in this court no innocent man need fear, while any guilty man need have no hope. Now if Judge Shaw gave expression to such a sentiment at Monroe, upon the arraignment of the alleged lynchers, it is not hard to imagine that a situation already intense in its fearfulness, should be further intensified, for to most any person the thought would come, is the burden to be entirely upon the accused?

The situation, itself, in every case of high crime is bad enough, without arousing friction of any kind, and to present a scene with the judge being apparently against the people, is a frightful one. Judge Shaw while held as most exemplary, has been criticised for going beyond the line, and being unduly severe. That he has a tender heart under his severity, there is no question and yet if there was the less severity of language, there might be the less antagonism aroused in advance of a trial, therefore the better chance that justice would be more evenly served.

NEW DEPARTURE IN RAILROAD PROCEDURE.

The news comes from England of the remarkable departure taken by the London and Southwestern railroad company, in the matter of the wreck which occurred on that road near Salisbury, several weeks ago, the counsel of the road now coming forward, and in behalf of the railroad people assuring all responsibility for the accident, and all legal consequences which might grow out of it, and adding that this liability was assumed so that the coroner's inquest might be hastened and completed.

The desire that the inquest might be speedily settled, and the wreck cleared away, and all signs obliterated, is a most natural desire on the part of the railroad company, for in this country, wherever railroad accidents occur, it will be noticed that all wreckage is quickly cleared away, and every mention of the accident kept from the newspapers, as much as possible.

But frankly taken upon itself all responsibility, here is something of a new record, for it is the usual procedure for railroads as quickly as possible to settle all claims where a delay meant cases at court, and if the cases get to court to force continuances, until those who sought damages are tired out and without prosecution. The action of accepting responsibility by the English railroad company, is no special concession, for the liability of the railroad is as great, from a point of view of prosecution by those injured, but the entire acceptance of responsibility must cause everyone to expect something which is unusual, for what railroad is ever guilty of any kind of negligence, which would cause a wreck, with loss of life and damage to personal property?

NEW BERN A PLEASURE RESORT CITY.

The arrival here last week, of some five hundred excursionists from Durham, to spend a day sight-seeing and pleasure seeking in this city, was an event which caused almost general surprise here, for the question was, what is there in New Bern to see or do?

The very fact that there should be a question raised here, why should any outsider seek this city in the summer months on recreation, received a perfect answer by the coming Durhamites, for there are attractions, only they are not fully utilized, promoted and advanced by people here, both for their own pleasure and profit, as well as for the business reason of making it worth the while for outsiders to visit this city. As for the Durham excursionists, the papers of that city spoke in high praise of the enjoyable time the visitors to New Bern had while in our city.

But to return to the proposition, of New Bern being a summer resort city for outsiders, it is not an absurd one. The fact that many New Bernians go elsewhere during July, August, and September, is no reason why visitors may not come here for a visit for one or more days, and find a change and recreation by so doing. The Neuse and Trent rivers offer most attractive features, and boats can easily be rented at moderate rates. There are pleasant walks and drives in the city and nearby country, and the great truck farms at nearly every season have some features to make them of interest. But beyond these, there are possible attractions which need developing, not merely for the visitors who may come for a day or two, but for the home people who cannot leave on account of the expense or for business reasons.

An important development is the securing of an electric car line system which shall go out into the country and make possible the opening up of parks, where thousands of people may go and be given pleasure in games and various diversions. With an electric car line to a park out in the country, west, and another line running to a park down the Neuse river, which could be reached by car or boat, there would be plenty of people to patronize the car lines and take in all entertainments that would be offered, no matter if it was July or August.

Give the people the chance to ride and visit the parks, and there will be no danger of the promotion and establishment of electric cars and parks and summer entertainments, proving a profitable investment for those who will build them.

MAD DOG LOOSE.

Brute Develops the Rabies and Gives Lot of Pursuers a Hot Chase.

A mongrel dog belonging to Ben Simmons living on George street went mad yesterday morning and when his condition was seen a crowd of men chased after it with guns and clubs. The rabid animal was fleet of foot and although it was hit by several bullets it did not give up the ghost until it had run down Broad to the river front and back to George street where it took refuge under a colored man's house. It was shot and killed by Policeman A. L. Bryan.

It is said the dog bit a young negro girl. It snapped at one of its pursuers but merely caught at his clothing. There were no other dogs bitten and it was an exceedingly fortunate thing that the animal was not given a chance to do any damage.

Bachelor's Conscience Money

Raphael Weill is a San Francisco "millionaire"—a good profession, a little crowded at present, but there is always room at the top. Mr. Weill is unmarried. Perhaps that's why he is a millionaire. He has never had to pay any bills for hats, frocks, gowns, and feminine adornment. As he puts it pleasantly, so as to diminish the credit of a good deed, his "conscience troubled him somewhat." Proportionate to his means, what share of female fixings ought he to have bought or to buy? He decided that 5,000 complete "outfits" would be his due contribution. He appointed a committee of fifty charitable women. Five thousand needy San Francisco women have been clothed from head to heel by this repentant "old bach." Young or old bachelors, go and do likewise, according to the dimensions of your heart and pocket. Or, marry a wife, so as not to have so much to give away.—"With the Progression."—Everybody's Magazine for August.

Lauches Must Carry Lights.

Owners of all kinds of motor boats on the rivers in this vicinity will do well to take into account the fact that the law requires them to carry lights after sun set.

Last night C. C. Clark, Jr., acting as U. S. Deputy went over to Brighton and acting under the law, tied up six launches whose owners had not complied with the law. The first offenders will probably be dealt with leniently, but it is well for those who would be out after sun down, to carry lights.

Do Not Neglect Your Bowels.

Many serious diseases arise from neglect of the bowels. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are a pleasant and agreeable laxative. They invigorate the liver and regulate the bowels. For sale by Davis' Pharmacy and F. S. Duffy.

Senator John F. Dryden told the Jersey legislative committee that he truly thought his $65,000 salary was not a cent more than he was worth to the President.

Saved His Comrade's Life

"While returning from the Grand Army encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. I have been engaged for ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." Sold by Davis' Pharmacy and F. S. Duffy.

I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50-cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease." Sold by Davis' Pharmacy.

Mrs. Louis Lacombe, Hayward, Wis., writes:

We then decided to write you as to my condition, as I had been suffering nearly a year with severe pains and headaches at times so that I could scarcely stand up. Now I feel so well after a short treatment with your remedy, and am so grateful that I do not know how to express my thanks."

"I thank you many times for the kind advice I have had from you." Write to Dr. R. E. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, for free medical advice.

Trade Report.

New York, July 20—Bradstreets tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Manufacturers of paper bags are working at full capacity. Other branches of paper trade are in excellent condition. Loose sales of tobacco are small but prices continue good. Corn and tobacco crops are in good condition and with favorable season these crops will show an increase over last year. The produce market is well supplied but prices are good. Collectors are not good due partly to the season of the year; same conditions are true with the local retail trade.

The A. & N. C. Co. moved into their handsome new depot at Morehead City yesterday and henceforward the trains will stop at that place which is midway between the uptown depot and the Atlantic hotel stop. The building is stuccoed, low but its extent of room consists of its length, and its picturesque appearance. The style of architecture somewhat after the style in common use in California (and New Mexico, known as mission architecture. It is different from most railroad stations in that it is constructed with some consideration of the aesthetic. It is convenient and when the surroundings are made more attractive it will present a handsome appearance.

Elks Pelted With Real Snow.

Denver, July 19th.—The Elks' annual parade today was the finest pageant Denver has ever witnessed. The weather was perfect.

Along Sixteenth street the marchers were showered with flowers and snowballs, several carloads of snow having been brought from the Continental Divide to show the diversity of Colorado's climate. The temperature on the street while the snowballing was in progress was 85 degrees.

There were in line 12,400 Elks, representing 248 lodges. Floats illustrative of the cities whose lodges provided them were in the parade. Interspersed in the procession were 28 bands, the Royal Hawaiian Concert band dividing the place of honor at the head of the line with the Midland band of Colorado Springs.

Ladies and children accompanying the Elks rode in carriages and automobiles, constituting the last division of the parade.

New York lodge, No. 1, held the place of honor, with other herds from the Empire State trailing, according to the seniority. Philadelphia lodge, No. 2, with other Pennsylvania herds, came next, followed by San Francisco, No. 3, and California lodges.
