WEAKNESS OF NORTH CAROLINA REPUBLICANISM.

It is with no thought of part'sanism that the Journal makes the statement of its belief that at no time within the past ton years has the Republican party of North Carolina been as weak before the masses of the people of this State as it is today, in this the beginning of a State campaign.

In making this statement the Journal does not lay claim to any special wisdom. The reason for the statement is patent to every one famaliar with State politics. It will be found in every county, almost without exception, in which there is supposed to be republican organization. The boast of a few years ago that the State Republican party was the hope of the young men who wished to rise in political favor and be honored with office as a reward for services rendered, has proven false. Those who partially accepted Republican overtures as being sincere have found the deception, and the expected exodus from the Democratic ranks in North Carolina, because of the better political chances in the Republican party, has failed most dismally.

The fact that the Republican party in this State has had the opportunity to secure recruits during the past six years, must be admitted. There was dissatisfaction among democrats over local affairs. There seemed a dictatorial policy among the Democratic leadership which has not been received kindly by those who believed that demo cracy stood for equality and indepennce of thought.

But to those who looked to State Republican promises, what has been gainst /scal public welfare, this telling of bad local management, but how is there to be correction, unless the ublic is shown that local abuses do ext, and call for redress? The Journal does not of itself advoate any method to be pursoed in order to get relief, except that the volu teen fire service, which is obsolete, be abolhed, and instead, the city be given a paid fire department, with authority sted in some one, and the one in authority be made as far as possible, resible for the fire service rendered. That the water pressure was a failure last Monday night, at the beginning of the fire, when it was all important, is not a matter of argument. That it was an abuse and a costly one, also admits of no argument. That the electric light service has proven a failure for nearly a year, also is self-evident local interests of trade and business, and their failure means not merely that loss of sustaining these properties at the expense of tax payers, but a continued decrease in their revenue earning capacity is easily understood. It is a combination which means ruin to a municipality, as it would to an individual who conducted his business in the same way. The point the Journal makes is, that Piles. Druggists are suthorized to reno tax payer should be indifferent to fund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails the management of his municipal af- to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

fairs. It is not good business to be so. It is not common sense. If the abolishment of the water and light commission is the solution, it is for the tax payers to not merely say so but act on the matter. If there is wisdom in selling the electric light service to a corporation or firm that can give a service that is demanded in this city and further develop an electric car line system, then it is for the tax payers to act, not talk about it. But to quietly accept abuses, to be indifferent to whether electric lights burn or not, but which must be paid for: to calmly attend fire after fire and see property saved only by the steam fire engine, when an expensive water works system is supposed to be the real fire protection, this is not good citizenship to ignore such things and just let things go along. The Journal simply wishes to call attention to these local matters. It is for the tax payer and citizen to act.

THE ABUSIVE POWER EXERCISED BY TRUSTEESHIPS.

The people in this county are again having presented to their view, the abuse of trusteeships, as witnessed the recent Wall Street stock jobbing of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroad stocks. It would seem as if those

That there have been only three derailment poor water and poor lights are vital to in the past twelve months, only one of these being due in any way to the condition of the track. They are working 55 men, cleaning ditches and draining the road. The Commission is assured that next year heavy rails will be laid and the road put in thoroughly good

The dam-

Tolson who in giving the alarm aroused Mr. Fred Richardson and her brother Jamie, Almost simultaneous there were a number of men on the street and both fire wagons were on the scene a soon as the alarm sounded. But in spite of the rapidity with which this was done the flames seemed to be doing their deadly work showing conclusively the deed of the fire bug. The blaze was located in the room over McSorleys ice cream parlor and had apparently been egnited but a short time for not a great deal had been burned.

The southerly wind gave the flames : ackward motion and they appeared ike great waves curling and twisting in fantastic manner and licking up the property in each forward bound. A strange feature in connection with this was that though the fire was first seen on the place mentioned; it was the last to fall.

The flames made such rapid progress nd the heat was so intense that it was with difficulty that any of the property was saved and worse even than that, the sacrifice of human lives. The call for recruits by the State Republicans is one for the rank and file. Voters are wanted to assist a possible weak candidate, but the voter is requested to consider himself important so far as the ballot goes, and to eliminate himself afterwards. The re-instatement of Marion Butler in the Republican leadership in this State leads nothing to Republican strength, so far an securing Democratic recruits, for the relapse of years has not been sufficient to store this gentleman to a position which will give him a power to win a following. This does not mean that Mr. Butler has lost his political cunning. He has not, but he has lost his political character in this State, and that means very
