Industrial, Commercial, Social, Religious, Criminal and Political Happenings Condensed in Few Lines.

London, Eng., Oct. 23.—There was great excitement at the opening of Parliament. Over one hundred leaders and supporters of the Woman's Suffrage movement were present and made a wild fight with the police at the doors of the Parliament hall. They were all taken out of the building and eight instigators were locked up. The leaders were defiant and left the place shouting their demands for equal suffrage and calling the members and police cowards.

Raleigh, Oct. 23rd.—The Supreme Court has decided that the Union passenger station at Goldboro must be built as ordered by the Corporation Commission, at the head of Walnut St. The majority of aldermen protest against this order of the Commission, but die not appeal. Charles Dewey and some other citizens appealed. The court says the Corporation Commission has the right to require Union depots and locate them, and the law gives the railways power to condemn lands, and also the right to make changes in routes.

In other cases court holds it is no longer lawful to give exemptions from jury duty to any firemen except those in active service.

Raleigh, Oct. 23d.—Nathan Powell, who lives about eight miles from here, came in town today and says that he and others saw a man last Thursday whom they are sure was the missing actor, Francis Starr, of the "It happened Nordan Co" who left here so mysteriously Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Powell says the man's description corresponded exactly with the description and he thought at once he was the same man, having read the newspaper story. Mr. Powell's son sold the man a ticket to Wilson Friday. From that point he could take the Atlantic Coast Line North. The man said he had served in the English army. He had plenty of money. He wanted whiskey and said he had been on a little spree and left Raleigh. He gave his name to no one.

Chicago, Oct. 23rd.—Mrs. Caroline Corbin, president of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs, stated today that she was strongly opposed to woman suffrage.

Washington, Oct. 22.—President Roosevelt has made the annual Thanksgiving proclamation designating Thursday, November 29, as Thanksgiving day.

Denver Col. Oct. 23.—The snow storm which commenced last Friday continues and is the hardest October snow storm that ever occurred. The snow is two feet deep and has caused great damage to the cattle industry, thousands of cattle perished on the plains.

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—The Superintendent of the ten northwest counties of the State have sent a written protest against the resignation of Superintendent of Instruction Joyner.

Washington, Oct. 24th.—All reports say that Santa Domingo revolution has been successfully put down. The report seems well confirmed that the President will appoint Attorney General William H. Moody, of Massachusetts, to a seat on the Supreme Court bench, to succeed Justice Brown.

New York, Oct. 24th.—The British schooner Sirrocco, with six men on board is reported trying to reach Cuba in a waterlogged condition. The men declined all offers of assistance.

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—Deputy Marshal Joseph Jordan was shot in the face and neck, last night, near Youngville, by a moonshiner who is known.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 24.—Ten passenger trains are stalled in the deep snow. The storm still prevails.

Norfolk, Oct. 24.—The Southern Produce Exchange, composed of truckers, disapproves of the opening of the produce dock in New York City at 7 a. m. instead of at 5 a. m.

The truckers will seek to have enforced the Virginia statute, to secure the jailing of all loafers, when there is work offered.

Washington Oct. 25.—The Japanese Minister has asked of the United States that it will see to it that the Japanese in California are accorded their full rights under the treaty between the two countries, including the right of children to attend the public schools. The Japanese bitterly resent the exclusion of their children from public schools.

Kansas City, Oct. 25.—More than 25 persons are believed to be buried in the ruins of the old Chamber of Commerce building which was destroyed by fire early this morning. Firemen and police also estimate fifty others are injured and it is said that the hospital death list will be considerably swelled, as many are mortally hurt, either from burns or injuries received in jumping.

Two hundred were sleeping in the building when the fire broke out, and in the mad rush men, women, and children fled to the roof. When the firemen arrived the building was a mass of flames. Fire ladders were stretched, but did not reach the frantic, panic-stricken people on the roof. Many jumped and were caught by firemen, while others were found nearly unconscious in smoke, which filled the halls.

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—The Cadet commandant at the Agricultural & Mechanical College will take the band, and the prize winning company to Wilmington, Charlotte, New Bern and other points in the State if the railways will give low rates.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Joyner, who as treasurer, is receiving contributions for the Charles D. McIver status, is now receiving many gifts. All class-mates of McIver at the State University will make special contributions. Joyner urges on the 7,000 public school teachers in the State to contribute. He issues a special appeal to them.

New York Oct. 25.—On the government's report today, cotton broke 41 points. The number of bales ginned was 4,910,290 or 80,000 less than at same date last year.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 25.—In the foot ball game here today between the A. and M. College team of Raleigh, N. C. and the Clemson College team, neither side scored.

NEGRO WOMAN JAIL BREAKER.

Guilford County Represented in Supreme Court by Many Lawyers.

TWO MURDER CASES TO BE ARGUED.

Someone Will Have a New Hat After Election. Hunting Season Commenced, Game Said to be Plentiful. Auction Sale of Lots.

(Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Oct. 23. Fanny Tatum, a negro woman, seems to be a specialist of her kind, in stead of a novice, and is as good breaking out. Sometime ago she and another woman committed a bold burglary here, by breaking into a store at night and stealing a quantity of goods, a lot of the them being found in her house. She broke out of jail before her case was tried, was caught and convicted and got a long term in the county work-house. About a month ago she broke out of the work house, was caught and carried back again. Friday she again escaped and nothing could be heard of her until Saturday afternoon, when a "weaver woman" told a policeman that the "nigger boy" walking on the opposite side of the street from where he was standing, was the record breaking house and prison breaker. The officer crossed over, took the dude boy to the station house, had his clothes removed by another woman, and there stood Fannie in blushing guilt. She was taken back to the work-house and had not broke out up to this.

This being Guilford week in the Supreme court, requiring the presence of many of Greensboro's lawyers there, the calendar of cases in the Superior court was arranged for the first week, to suit the situation, giving lawyers who could remain here a chance to try their cases. No jury cases were tried yesterday. The following Greensboro attorneys are in Raleigh: Messrs. Chas. M. Stedman, G. S. Furguson, Jr., G. S. Bradshaw, J. T. Morehead, E. J. Justice, Z. V. Taylor, W. P. Bynum, J. A. Barringer, A. B. Kimball, R. R. King and A. M. Seales.

Among other important appeals to be argued are the two cases for murder against Dr. J. B. Matthews, convicted of murder in the second degree for the alleged poisoning of his wife, and Frank Bohannon convicted of murder of railroad foreman Beachman, and sentenced to be hanged October 25th. He is represented by Mr. G. S. Bradshaw.

Dr. Matthews case will be taken up the first thing Tuesday morning. The argument will consume two hours, one hour on each side. The defendant is represented by the law firm of Stedman & Cooke, of this city and Guthrie & Guthrie of Durham.

Dr. Matthews is now in a private sanitarium in Maryland where he has been since a few weeks after his trial and conviction. He is out under a $5,000 bond.

Either Post master Douglas or Democratic Chairman Brown will be the richer for a $5.00 hat after election day. Mr. Douglas gives Mr. Brown the hat if the democrats in the county maintain in the election of the majority of two years ago, which was 1199. Should they not do that, Mr. Brown gives Mr. Douglas the hat. The democratic county chairman is sure his hat bill for the season will be five dollars less than usual for he is figuring on a majority of 2500 for the democrats.

Several hunters went to Manchester this afternoon on a fox hunt, when they hunt, they always catch them. Some of those in the party were Messrs J. E. Jordan, Neill Ellington, J. E. McKnight, Will Parker and J. Elwood Cox, the last two from High Point. Manchester is near Fayetteville and Sheriff Jordan is part owner of an extensive hunting preserve near there.

Under the term of the bird law as applicable to this county, it becomes lawful to shoot birds on and after Nov. 1. It is said that the mild winter last year did no damage whatever and the supply this year is abundant.

There was another big auction sale of city lots here yesterday afternoon, about two miles from the Court House on the Battle Ground road. Every lot was sold, in an hour and fifty minutes, the net sales amounting to $10,000 and the lots averaging about $100 each.

NEW BERN CITIZEN HAS AN EXPERIENCE.

Mr. C. D. Bradham in Wreck on The Seaboard Air Line in Georgia.

Whatever faith Mr. C. D. Bradham may have in the new method of physical treatment by means of vibratory motions, his experience last Sunday while passenger on a fast Seaboard Air Line train will suffice him for quite a little time in the line of vibrations. The only wonder is that he did not get "vibrated" to death and he regards himself exceedingly fortunate that he is here to tell the tale of his narrow escape from death.

Mr. Bradham with Mr. J. L. Quinn, who is interested in business with him; were traveling toward home and were 2 miles south of Cedar town Ga., and about 60 miles south of Atlanta, coming from Birmingham, Ala. The train was going at a high rate of speed and there was a sudden jolt and a sensation similar to riding over very rocky roads. The change was so sudden from smooth to rough riding that both gentlemen who occupied seats in the sleeper were jerked out of position and were thrown around in the rude manner that trains have some times. It became apparent that they were in a wreck or would be soon and they braced themselves in the seat to avoid being thrown if possible and meeting with such casualties as might be expected. The train had jumped the track and was going at a frightful rate of speed on the ties. The train went along in this way it is estimated half a mile and when Mr. Bradham had become used to the motion and the train had slackened its speed he left the car and looking in the direction of the train saw the engine several rods ahead of the first car with the mere trucks and platform of the tender. He felt that he had been hurt and sat down for a few minutes and after being sure that he had no injuries to seriously cripple him he went along the train to see where he could be of assistance. He said that the cars, although they were vestibuled and least apt of any cars to be telescoped, each one except the last coach were jammed into each other. Some cars were there without trucks and other trucks were without cars. The mail car was such a wreck that it never was found. The clerk was happily in the second-class car, and thereby escaped serious death. He was badly injured. It was observed that the nuts and bolts securing the track were cut off as smoothly as if done by an electric saw. The track was torn up for rods and resembled an exaggerated S.

No cause could be assigned for the derailment as the track was perfectly smooth and only a slight curve in the rails. It is thought that there may have been some flaw in the rails or ties but there was no visible obstruction. There was no news of the accident in the Monday or Tuesday papers. The train was occupied by very few passengers.

Changes in The Cabinet.

The Associated Press dispatches from Washington in yesterday's papers say:

"The following statement regarding prospective changes in President Roosevelt's cabinet was made public tonight: 'On the retirement of Secretary Shaw and Attorney-General Moody from the cabinet the following changes will be made:

"Secretary of the Treasury—Hon. George B. Cortelyou.
"Postmaster-General—Hon. George Von L. Meyer.
"Attorney-General—Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte.
"Secretary of the Navy—Hon. Victor H. Metcalf.
"Secretary of Commerce and Labor.—Hon. Oscar S. Straus."

The general understanding for some time has been that Attorney-General Moody will retire on the first of the coming January, and that Secretary Shaw will follow him on the fourth of March. On the first of the year, therefore, Mr. Bonaparte, who is now secretary of the navy, will succeed Mr. Moody, as attorney-general, and he will be in turn succeeded by Mr. Metcalf, the secretary of commerce and labor, the latter's place being filled by Mr. Straus.

Mr. Cortelyou, postmaster-general will take Secretary Shaw's place on the fourth of March, at which time Mr. Meyer is to become postmaster-general. Mr. Meyer, who will become postmaster-general, is ambassador to Russia, to which place he was appointed on March 6, 1905, having been promoted to that office following his service of ambassador to Italy from 1900 to 1905.

The appointment of Mr. Straus caused considerable surprise, as it will be the first case where a citizen of the Hebrew faith has been made a member of the president's cabinet. He was born December 3, 1860, and is well known as a merchant, diplomat and author. He represented the United States as minister to Turkey on two different occasions, and was appointed by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy caused by the death of ex-President Harrison as a member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague.

JUSTIFIABLE CAUSE FOR LITIGATION

Preacher Seems to Think He Can Kill His Wife Released on Peace Bond.

CUBAN STUDENTS LIKE WHITSETT INSTITUTE.

Voice Sentiment of Their Home People in the American Governments Intervention. Republican Congressional Candidates Silly. Datribe. Handsome New Building Being Erected.

[Special Correspondence.]

Greensboro, Oct. 24.—There was a mad set of Winston-Salem patrons of the hotels here last night. They had come on the evening train from Wilkesboro and Winston-Salem, intending to take one of the evening south bound trains. On account of a delay of an hour on the yards in the city they missed the train and were forced to spend the night in the city. The train came in on what is known as the "Y", leaving the main line near Spring Street, backing down the old A. and Y. track and coming to the depot by the way of the lumber yard district. When the train reached the South Elm Street crossing the train was stopped until the main line was cleared, when it ran up to the depot. It was dark when the train stopped and no one knew where it was. No porter was sent through the train to notify the passengers and they remained in their seats. When they had sat for several minutes, until the south bound trains had gone, the conductor came through and told the passengers how near the depot they were, and offered apologies to those that had been left.

Squire J. M. Wolfe yesterday released A. F. Moore, a street preacher whom he caused to be incarcerated in the county jail last week, upon his signing a hundred dollar bond to keep the peace for six months and to stay off of the premises of his family. Moore was tried last week on the charge of attempting to take the life of his wife and was committed to jail in default of a $200 bond. Inquiry was made into the sanity of Moore, but the physicians who examined him could only give a certificate of emotional insanity, which was not sufficient cause for care of an asylum.

A gentleman who was at Colfax, in this county Saturday night, at one of Republican candidate for Congress Reynolds' secret appointments, says there was seventy-five people present. He says that among other matters, Reynolds discussed with seriousness as well as prolixity the relation of the women to the Democratic party. He acknowledged that the fair sex were for the most part were Democrats, but just as the dog loves his master, no matter how much his master beats him, so the woman the Democratic party treats the women the more they like it.

The Central Construction Company broke ground this morning for the erection of a handsome two-story, brick steel and stone building on north Elm street opposite the city hall. Mr. C. A. Bray, as trustee of the heirs of the late E. J. Fisher is having the building erected as an investment for them. A portion of the structure has already been leased by Mr. Pool, who will move his undertaking establishment to the new building as soon as it is completed.

There is quite a colony of Cubans, who are students at Whitsett Institute, near Greensboro. For the past month they have shown deep interest in the news relating to the revolution there, and the part the United States has taken in the governmental affairs. They almost to a man express the kindest interest in this government's taking a hand.

While eagerly seeking an English training at Whitsett, these Cubans keep thoroughly posted on affairs at home, and for the past week have been very much interested in reading reports of the terrible storms which have swept over their "Little Gem of the Sea," carrying death and property loss in their wake.

The One Woman.

After a tremendous success like the Clansman, many an author would have been content to sit with folded hands and enjoy life, but there is no desire for rest in the make up of Thomas Dixon, Jr. He is imbued with the beautiful discontent of progress. When the Clansman was well on toward success this brilliant Southern dramatist was preparing his new play, The One Woman, founded on his novel of the same name. This newest Dixon comedy drama will be presented at the New Masonic Opera House Friday evening, November 2nd.

FIRST QUARTERLY MEETING DIXIE CO.

Progress And Condition of New Company Better Than Promises Forecasted.

DOUBLE TRACKING SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Delegation to The Synod at Statesville A Preacherless Church. Fine Sport Fox Hunting.

(Special Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Oct. 25.—The first quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the new three quarter of a million dollar Dixie Fire Insurance Company here last night attracted quite a number of influential insurance men and capitalists. Besides prominent capitalists of Greensboro, who are on the Board, the following among out of town members were present at the session last night:—J. B. Blades, president, of New Bern. Ashley Horne of Clayton, R. M. Miller and J. H. Little of Charlotte, E. M. Armfield of High Point, William Calder, of Wilmington, L. S. Blades of Elizabeth City, John R. Bruton of Wilson, Henry Redmond and James P. Sawyer of Asheville. The work of this company was found to be in a fine condition, and although it has been in business but three months, it has established agencies already in 25 states with excellent patronage in all. The object in organizing this Southern Fire Company with large capital was for the purpose of doing a wider business than had been possible with a smaller capitalized company, and the results are more than meeting expectations.

The officers and Directors of the North State Fire Insurance Company of which Ashley Horne of Clayton is president held their quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon. This company has been in successful operation for two years, and is doing all the business it cares to.

That Greensboro is the insurance center of the South is attested by the fact that it is now the headquarters and home office of Four Life, and six Fire Insurance Companies.

The Southern Railway has given a contract to Stewart Brothers of Greensboro to construct a section of its double tracking work between here and Danville. The work of double track south of here towards High Point and on to Salisbury has been vigorously pushed for two years and is nearly completed. A part of the double track between Greensboro and High Point is already in and will be in by Spring. Beginning at Greensboro again the work by Stewart Brothers will be pushed north, towards Danville.

Among those who have gone from here to attend the Presbyterian Synod at Statesville are W. S. Moore, of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. C. E. Hodgkin from Westminster Presbyterian church, Rev. J. W. Goodman from Bessemer Avenue and Buffalo churches. Dr. Charles Gilmer, Mr. E. J. Davis, and Mrs. W. A. Sharpe. A special train will be run from Statesville to Davidson College today to give the delegates to the Synod the opportunity of visiting that college which is conducted under the auspices of the Presbyterian denomination.

The first Presbyterian Church here is yet without a pastor. It seems impossible for this large and wealthy congregation to get the minister of their choice, and each Sunday for nearly a year, the pulpit has been filled by learned and able preachers from this and other States, not all of course, being what are popularly called "trial preachers."

On next Sunday, there is not a doubt about everybody connected with the First Presbyterian Church, or kin to anybody connected with it, going to the services morning and night, being not only edified but delighted with the services. Rev. Dr. Egbert W. Smith for all his ministerial life, its able, consecrated and beloved pastor, until he left a year ago to accept the pastorate of a large church in Louisville, Ky., will be the preacher at the First Presbyterian will pay a visit the latter part of the week to his old friends, parishioners and kindred here, and on Sunday morning and night will preach in the church which almost seems a part of him and his noble father, a predecessor pastor of the same church for over fifty years.

A letter received here from one of the party of fox hunters who went to Sheriff Jordans preserves near Manchester on a hunt Monday, indicates they are having fine sport. The lodge is but a quarter of mile from the railroad station. On alighting from the train Monday afternoon, and on the way to camp, the dogs struck the trail of a fox before they had gone three hundred yards. The chase was pursued for the three hours and beyond was caught, Col. Elwood Cox of High Point having the honor of taking the brush.

SKIN ERUPTIONS FOR 35 YEARS

Suffered Severely With Eczema All Over Body—Examined 15 Times by Government Board Who Said There Was No Cure—An Old Soldier Completely Cured.

A THOUSAND THANKS TO CUTICURA REMEDIES

"For over thirty-five years I was a severe sufferer from eczema. The eruption was not confined to any one place. It was all over my body, limbs, and even on my head. I am sixty years old and an old soldier, and have been examined by the Government Board over fifteen times, and they said there was no cure for me. I have taken all kinds of medicine and have spent large sums of money for doctors, without avail. A short time ago I decided to try the Cuticura Remedies, and after using two boxes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, two treatments in all, I am now well and completely cured. A thousand thanks to Cuticura. I cannot speak too highly of the Cuticura Remedies. John T. Roach, Richmond, Ross Co., Ohio, July 17, 1905."

100,000 MOTHERS Daily Tell Other Mothers

That Cuticura Soap is the best baby soap in the world for cleaning and purifying the skin, and that Cuticura Ointment is of priceless value for soothing and healing itching, torturing, and disfiguring eruptions. A single application of Cuticura Ointment, preceded by a warm bath with Cuticura Soap, gives instant relief, and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired mothers. Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; dry without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching and inflammation, and soothe and heal.

State Colored Fair

[Special Correspondence]
Raleigh, Oct. 25.—The State colored fair is soon to be held here and its officers say the exhibits will be above the average. As a general thing it is very dry during the week of the white State fair, and it came about a year or so ago that an old darkey here on being asked by some white friend what was the date of the colored fair, replied: "De fua' rainy week after de white fair."
