F S Duffy's Faith In Hyomei is so Strong, he Sells it Under Guarantee

It is one thing to claim, another thing to back up the claim by a statement that if it is not proven true, there will be no charge for the service or the goods.

It is in this way that F. S. Duffy sells Hyomei, for he has so much faith in its powers to cure all forms of catarrh and bronchial troubles, that he gives an absolute, unqualified guarantee with every outfit that if the remedy does not cure, the money will be refunded

Hyomei is based on nature's way of curing catarrh. It contains the concentrated healing oils and gums of the pine woods, prepared in such form that they can be brought into your own home, It gives the health advantages of the Adirondacks in such form that you can be cured of catarrh and affections of the nose; throat and lungs while at home or at work.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, and extra bottles, if needed, may be obtained for 50c.

With Hyomei you can cure catarrh pleasantly and easily at small expense, with no risk of the treatment costing a penny unless it cures

After March 4 the only Democratic Senators, who do not represent Southern States, will be Newlands, of Nevads. and Tellar, of Colorado, and their terms will expire in 1909. Newlands is a native of Mississippi, and is a radical Democrat of the modern school. Teller has been a Republican most of his life.

Neglacted Colds Threaten Life,

(From the Cnicago Tribune.) "Don't trifle with a cold", is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are main tained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary ht. But the ord light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by Davis Pharmacy and F S Duffy.

An international motor boat exhibi tion will be held from June 15th to 30th next, in Kiel, under the patronage of Prince Henry, of Prussia, and supported by the imperial navy, the German Sea Fisheries Union and other bodies.

A private and confidential phone message received at this office yesterday afternoon, from Prophet George, VII, announces that by today, Sunday noon, the snow will have entirely disappeared from this section.

Arbor Day is the 20th of February and in view of the scarcity of shade trees and ornamented shrubbery, it is suggested that some concerted action be taken by the citizens to observe the day. Let every male citizen plant at least one tree on Arbor Day for a few years and New Bern will be beautifully shaded in the course of time, that is, if the trees are cared for.

At the Christian Endeavor meeting tonight the service will be in honor of the 26th 'anniversary of founding of the society. This was adjourned from last Sunday evening on account of the Union service. There will be special musical. All will be cordially welcomed. The meeting will be held this evening in the lecture room of the Presbyterian Church at 6:45.

AN UNUSUAL PLAY

Parsival the Mystical Drama of the Dark Ages Presented With Brilliant Effect.

Therap e plays and plays but athea frical production such as was seen in 'Parsifal' at the opera house Friday night marks an epoch in the dramatic events of the city.

It was an unusually beautifully presented play on a subject which has only recently been put into dramatic form and preceded but a few years by the saiginal opera by the German poet, Wagner The entire idea is somewhat new to the public and its penerous reception bespeaks the hearty welcome of plays that really uplift. We have long been victims of a mass of sensuous rot which is thrust upon the people berause of their morbid desire for sensationalism. The end of all plays is not to create laughter nor to arouse a sentimental sympathy and we have reach ed a stage of civilization when we can approximate better class of plays and petors are acknowledging this fact and more and more dramas and operas are being produced that create the thought and which after having seen the performance leave a sensation of having apent an evening of pleasure and also one of intellectual profit. Parsifal was such a play.

The story of which the play of Parsifal is descriptive is the beautiful legend of the search for the Holy Grail, and was intimately connected with the traditions of the life and death of our Lord Jesus Christ. These traditions have been well clucidated in poetry by Tennyson and Lowell and the opera of Parsifal still further illustrates the story adding to it the more attractive feature of music. So it may be called with all reverence a sacred drama, the romance being in thorough keeping with the dignity and solemnity of the subject matter. The passage which was frequently repeated during the performance "and now abides Faith, Hop . and Love, but the greatest of these is Love", was the motto which was the inspiration of the simple Knights of northern Spain wao had engaged their life work in the search for the Holy Grail and the sp- ir which pierced the Savior's side

The selection of the youthful but consecrated sheph at Parsiful to be their king was wise, "The Guileless Fool" though he was termen by his traduced witness he witnessed the destruction of those who attempted his downfall and won the true love of one over whom a spell of evil influence had been cast.

The character of Parsifal was perfeetly portrayed by Mr. Conner, his interpretation was splendid and in every phase of the play his guilelessness enhanced the various climaxes, even in. the rejection of all temptations his simplicity, piety and love were prominent and in all respects his acting was very greatly admired.

Next in importance was Miss Keatchantress, worked her wiles with ama sing ease and grace, making all her efforts to entrap the "guileless fool," but who, after shaking off the fetters of the evil one she professed her love for Parsifal in a nobler, truer sense. Her beauty was a striking feature on

The third character of importance was Klingschor which was taken by Mr Devorak. He was the evil genins who sought to destroy the cause of Christ by the substitution of the black art of necromancy. His power over Kundry was entire and his reign for a short time was supreme. The character was one of great power and Mr. Devorak played it admirably.

Space prevents further details as to the excellence of the other performers but their support was magnificent and in spite of circumstraces over which the company had no control the play was an event that will long be a pleasant memory. The scenery was the most elaborate and beautiful that has ever been brought to New Bern. The electric fire in the third scene was most gorgeous and was a speciacle that would be alone worth the price of ad-mission to see. Plays like Parsifal are hose which tend toward the elevating the theatrical profession. The opera-
