BELT LINE BY WATER

Novel Plan for Getting to Jamestown Exposition and Seeing the Sights Around Hampton Roads at the Same Time.

Norfolk, Va., April 24.—Something new under the sun is the Water Belt Line that has just been projected as a means of transportation between the Jamestown exposition grounds and the several cities and points of interest around Hampton Roads and Tidewater Virginia. The "Belt Line" on land, by steam or trolley cars, is a familiar institution in many cities, but here for the first time has been organized a water belt line, boats instead of cars being used.

Splendid observation steamers will be run on this novel route. Each steamer will carry about 1,500 passengers without crowding. A regular schedule of trips will be made, the boats starting from Campbell's wharf in Norfolk, touching at Portsmouth, the Norfolk navy yard, Newport News, Old Point Comfort, Fortress Monroe and other historic points en route, and completing the one-way trip at a fine pier to be built out into the waters of Hampton Roads directly in front of the exposition site. Boats will run every 15 minutes. A unique and valuable feature of the plan is to issue coupon tickets on these trips, giving the passenger the privilege of disembarking at any or all of the stopping places mentioned and taking the next boat or any boat later in the day. This will give opportunity for seeing all the sights. The round trip to the exposition in this manner will be full of incidents. These water belt line trips are to be in no sense on the order of the average "cheap excursion" where the riff-raff and bob-tail of humanity usually take possession of the boat, on the contrary, they will appeal to the best class of people, no flippers being sold aboard and no rowdyism being permitted.

Besides the regular trips, the company is planning to have numerous excursions to such places as Jamestown Island, Yorktown and other points of historic interest in and around Tidewater, Virginia.

At Yorktown, where Lord Cornwallis surrendered to George Washington, is a beautiful monument erected by the government to commemorate the great victory. There stands the first custom house ever opened in the United States. The ruins of the old church built in 1660 are still to be seen.

Of equal interest is the trip up the James river, on the way to Richmond to Jamestown Island, where the first permanent English settlement was made. Here can be seen the ruined church tower and the old graveyard with its historic tombs and inscriptions. The peninsula between the James and the York rivers has been the scene of more bloody conflicts than have occurred on any territory of similar size in the new world.

Three hundred years of American progress is typified by the Jamestown exposition now on at Norfolk, Va. Hampton Roads is historic ground. The exposition is a splendid creation of architectural design and natural beauty. The New York Sunday World has had a series of exposition paintings made and will give a plate paper reproduction of one painting each week. These pictures are fine art supplements, 10x15 inches, and suitable for framing or otherwise preserving.

Cotton Crop 1907 Too Small.

Special to Journal.

Washington, April 24.—It is estimated that if the cotton crop of 1907 is no larger than last year's, there will be a deficit of $25,000 bales.

The Origin of a Great Invention.

Writing of the career of George Westinghouse in the May Everybody's, Paul Latzke says that the idea of the air-brake was suggested to the inventor, when little more than a boy, in the following fashion:

"On one of the daily trips of young Westinghouse from Schenectady to the foundry at Troy, his train was held up by a bad wreck. Two freights had come together in a head-on collision on a piece of straight track. The engineers had seen the danger plainly, but by the time the handbrakes were brought into play it was too late. The young man allowed these facts to sink into his mind. Then he said to one of the train hands:

"If the engineers had been able to control their trains from the cab, the wreck could have been prevented, couldn't it?"

"Control 'em how?"

"Break 'em."

"Yes. They'd had lots of time."

"That was enough. The air-brake was conceived. Amid the piled-up wreckage, the thing that was to make the name of Westinghouse familiar to every schoolboy the world over was called into being. It did not come in its perfected form. But the idea itself had germinated."

THE KNIGHTS HAVE A NIGHT

They Came to Town 150 Strong and Are Entertained Royally by Athena Lodge.

The district meeting of the Knights of Pythias was held here last night and it was one of the largest and most successful affairs of the kind that has been held. There were representatives from Kinston, Beaufort, Greenville, Oriental and other cities. The delegation from Kinston was the largest numbering 42. They were met at the station by the band and returned after the banquet by special train.

The look was held in the court house in order to accommodate the visitors and enable the candidate for initiation to "chase himself." Mr. J. B. Dawson was chancellor commander and presided with his usual ease and dignity. There was only one initiation which was in the rank of Esquire. There were about 150 visitors.

THE BANQUET.

Stanley hall was a scene of beauty when the throng numbering fully 250 seated themselves at the tables artistically arranged by Mrs. Irene Hammond and her capable assistants, Mesdames John Cook, E. F. Matthews and Miss Laura Willis. The committee in charge was composed of Messrs. L. L. Land, Joe Nelson, A. T. Willis, Clarence Capron, F. A. Gaskill and G. Y. Harrington, and how well they acquitted themselves of their arduous task was shown by the high words of praise from the visitors. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers and a profusion of flags of all nations adorned the walls and ceiling but predominant over all was "old glory." Ladies graced the occasion with their presence and added beauty and brilliancy of the affair. The band furnished the music and too much cannot be said in praise of their ability. Their music was appreciated was shown by the hearty applause.

Mr. Dawson presided at the table and before the eating began announced the address of welcome by Mr. S. M. Brinson who gave the visitors the glad hand, figuratively speaking, and the response was made by Mr. Barry, of the Kinston lodge. Blessing was invoked by Mr. Y. T. Ormond of Kinston.

The bill of fare was most elaborate and appetizing and spoke volumes for culinary and managing ability of Mrs. Hammond. During the supper Mr. L. I. Moore responded to the toast "The Ladies." Mr. Abernathy of Beaufort was on the program for this toast but was detained elsewhere by professional duties.

The event was one which will linger long in the memories of all present as a grand and most enjoyable banquet.

People often ask what is a good brand of Salmon. "Argo Red Salmon" is the best possible answer.

PROSTRATED BY THE NEWS.

Sad Coming Bride-to-be Finding Lover Drowned and His Body Missing.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, April 25.—This afternoon Miss Selma Sundgren, arrived here, from St. Paul. She was to have been married here tomorrow, to Hans Thorsen, foreman of the Phoenix Construction Company, who with three other men was swept over the dam of its plant at Buckhorn Falls last Monday, and whose body has not since been seen. A telegram was sent her about the drowning, but she had already left home. She was met by Mr. McCullough, of the Phoenix Company, but this she expected. He first told her there was an accident, but had to tell the whole story. She is completely prostrated. A telegram came to the county coroner here at the very moment of her arrival, this being from Thorsen's brother, of Tacoma, asking if Hans was drowned.

Claim Innocence for Young Estes.

Special to Journal.

Richmond, April 25.—A statement has been made by J. H. Shipman, that Theodore Estes, the young man murdered by Judge Loving at Oak Bridge, was innocent of the crime of criminal assault charged to him and for which he was killed. The evidence so far goes to substantiate Shipman's statement.

UNITED STATES COURT.

Important Case on Blocking Navigable Waters. Sentences Passed on Prisoners.

The case of greatest importance yesterday, in the United States court, was that against the John L. Roper Lumber Co. for obstructing navigation. There were a number of witnesses for the Roper Company, who testified that the waters of the creek, over which the case involved, had never been considered navigable. The bridge built by the lumber company, was over a little creek known as Sandy Husk, a tributary to Adams Creek, in Carteret county. The bridge was used as a tramway for log hauling cars, and besides a small foot passage-way. After being out five hours the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The case of J. J. Rogers vs. Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, in the circuit court was ordered removed to the circuit court at Raleigh.

The other cases were: United States vs. Peter Korngay, for retelling without license, verdict of 30 days in jail, fine of $100, and costs.

United States vs. Chas. Winn, retelling without license, 30 days in jail, fine $100 and costs.

United States vs. George Passer, a jury trial, the sentence was 30 days, $100 fine and costs.

United States vs. Jonas Houston, of Jones county, for illicit distilling. Houpston pleaded guilty. An unusual circumstance in this case was a petition received from Jones county, signed by some 40 citizens, praying the court to give the prisoner the full limit of the law. The sentence was 2 years in Atlanta penitentiary, and $500 fine and costs. The court adjourned to 10 a. m. today.

A SMOULDERING FIRE.

Fortunately Discovered in Academy of Music Before Breaking Out, Party to Jamestown.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, April 25.—Gov. Glenn, Adjutant General Robertson, Private Secretary A. H. Arrington and Aldes Chas. E. Johnson and Fred Cox, left at noon for the Jamestown exposition. In the party being also, Col. Benehan Cameron, Chas. H. Belvin, F. H. Busbee and John A. Mills.

The chief of the fire department found this afternoon, fire had been smouldering at least a week in the furnace room of the Academy of Music, due to the placing of hot cinders upon lumber on the floor.

Peas at $7 Per Basket.

Nothing is so much in evidence, as high prices when any crop is short. Trucker see this, and often see the reverse, big crop and no price for it. The present season is late. Peas and beans ought to be moving, instead of being in the ground. People with little else but money are clamoring for "green stuff" that comes out of the ground. They do not want to so much, as to go into the fields and eat it, in its natural state, but put it in the market, and "greens" is money.

As an instance showing the value of peas at this time, a local shipper has a letter from New York city, from a merchant there, saying he had just received 27 baskets of peas, and had sold them for $7 per basket. Think of having a few hundred baskets to sell at that price! It is enough to give the average trucker nervous prostration.

Simon Murder Case Centre of Interest.

Special to Journal.

New York, April 25.—The trial of the titled woman Baroness Demassey, for the murder of Gustav Simon, the wealthy shirt waist manufacturer is commanding a good deal of interest now. The chief witness for the prosecution was Miss Fancher cashier in Simons shop. Her evidence was the most sensational that has yet been produced. It will be the aim of the defense to show that a concealed assassin, and not the baroness shot Simon.

CHILD STEALING PROFESSION

Italian Organization Said to Make Abduction a Regular Business for Sake of Ransom.

Special to Journal.

New York, April 25.—What is believed to be a regular organization for the purpose of stealing the children of rich Italians for the sake of ransom has been discovered in the arrest of Ignazio Leonardo, who is the head of the concern. The children of several wealthy Italian citizens have been traced directly to his custody.

Argo Red Salmon is rapidly becoming a household word in this locality. At all grocers.

Mark Time.

Yesterday, while Messrs. Wm. Morning and Bud Knight were chatting on Middle street, they were joined by Bill Noonan of Wilmington who was greeted heartily.

While the trio were engaged in reminiscence chat, the irrepressible Tom Day, approached and after the glad hand had been extended all around, Tom remarked "while I am not very big, and each of you are of very good size, yet I am greater than all three of you." Upon being pressed for an explanation of this enigmast statement he said: "You are Morning, Noonan Knight but I am all Day." See! They shook.

There is nothing nicer packed than Argo Red Salmon and yet the price is within the reach of all.

City Charter Amendments.

The city is sending out to taxpayers and voters, a published statement of the proposed amendments to the city charter, together with the addition of sections, as passed by the last legislature. This statement should be carefully read and studied by every citizen, so that every one may have a knowledge of what is proposed, and the necessity of amending the charter. If there is to be any public improvement, of streets, walks, etc. Copies can be had by calling at city hall or the Journal office, by any one who does not receive a copy by mail or wants an extra copy.

Feel tired, no appetite, cannot sleep, work or eat? That's spring tiredness and will disappear at once if you take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea this month. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. For sale by F. S. Duffy.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION OPENING.

Its Formal Opening Today. Day Full of Events. President Roosevelt and Other Dignitaries, Great Crowds Expected.

Norfolk Landmark, April 25.

At sunrise tomorrow morning the Jamestown exposition opening ceremonies will begin, and until midnight the countless thousands will witness the wonders which the genius of Virginia has created.

Every minute of that period is filled with something new, and the pageant on sea and the ceremonies on shore will be witnessed by probably one hundred thousand people.

There is no longer any doubt that the transportation facilities will be able to take care of this vast movement of people. With ten steamer lines in operation to assist the steam and electric lines, the indications are that by 11:30 in the morning, when the president lands, will find practically all the visitors to the show on the grounds.

From 5000 to 6000 people an hour may be carried by the several steamer lines. As many more can be carried an hour by the electric lines, and about 2000 an hour can be carried by the steam lines. This is the movement which will go from Norfolk alone, and does not include the ferries from Newport News, Hampton, and the passengers which the railway companies will deliver direct to the grounds from the cities.

When the salute of three hundred guns by the Blues booms forth at sunrise tomorrow morning the opening day will be heralded, and from that moment until the electrical display, event will follow event in quick succession, making April 26th the greatest day in Tidewater Virginia history.

Upon the arrival of the Mayflower, bearing the president and his party, in Hampton Roads, salute after salute will be fired by the American and foreign warships lying in a double column from Old Point almost to Newport News.

After he has reviewed the fleet, he will disembark promptly at 11:30 at Discovery landing on the government piers, and will be escorted to the reviewing stand on Lee's Parade ground in the rear of the Auditorium, where the ceremonies incident to the opening will take place.

After an overture by the band, the Right Rev. A. M. Randolph, Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, will offer a prayer, to be followed by the official opening hymn, sung by the Jamestown Chorus and the Washington Choral Society.

President Harry St. George Tucker, of the Jamestown exposition, will deliver an address of less than an hour, and will then introduce President Roosevelt, who will deliver the principal address of the occasion.

At the conclusion of his address, President Roosevelt will press the golden button starting the machinery of the exposition and formally inaugurating the greatest international celebration in history.

Simultaneously with the pressing of the button, a signal will be given for the unfurling of thousands of flags on the various buildings.

When the ceremonies are over at the reviewing stand, the president and the distinguished guests of the occasion will retire to the History building where luncheon will be served.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the president will again enter the reviewing stand, and will witness the parade of the troops of which Major General Frederick D. Grant, of the United States army, will be the grand marshal. This parade will be participated in by the regulars, the marine corps and the national guard.

Immediately after the parade, a reception will be tendered the president in the rotunda of the Auditorium by the officers and directors of the Jamestown exposition.

At this reception the president will receive the diplomatic corps and the governors of the various states, with their staffs.

A ball will be held at the Inside Inn, beginning at 9 o'clock at night, and at the same time a hop will be given in the History building, to the military and naval representatives, who will be present to witness the ceremonies.

The electrical display, continuing until midnight, will close the official program during which the Warpath will be formally opened to the thousands who will remain until the last events are concluded.

Train Robbers Murder Town Marshal.

Special to Journal.

English, Ind., April 25.—Four robbers held up a train on the Indiana Southern road a few miles from here last night. They set fire to a bridge so that the train could not pass. The town officials were notified and the marshal led a posse which soon found the robbers. A fierce fight ensued in which the marshal was fatally wounded.
