SOME ATTEMPTS AT MUNICIPAL CLEANLINESS.

The delayed season has caused less attention to be paid to local uncleanliness, than is the case when a hot rainy spring promotes decay, and fills the air with offensive odors and with disease breeding germs. It is not that New Bern is more unkempt or unclean than usual. There is a continual superficial alley and street cleaning process going on, and it may be because of this regularity, that householders and the citizens, generally, are care less or indifferent, and throw refuse from their own premises outside, no matter where it may fail. House cleaning and lot cleaning otten finds its limit, when rubbish is swept out doors, or is thorwn over the fence, to be subject to the wind or passeraby that may scatter it along the alley and stre c.

In the already by ins the improve acut department of the Woman's Cirib, to keen pieces of maper off the spectr. a few can receptacies were placed or certain prominent corners, so that those who were in the habit of throwing papers on the street, could instead drop them into these receptacles, and so keep the streets free from such rubbish. These Friday morning proves this, further receptacles seem to have disappeared, that is, so far as their use is concerned. They were not stolen, just re moved to side passage-ways, or sccluded places, and became in som ways a dumping place for private property rubbish. That such receptacles are very much needed, for con stant use, can be seen by any one who passes the postoffice, along Pollock to Middle street, and a glance in the Episcopal church yard, in spite of the efforts of the yard cleaner for that church, shows how many persons carelessly throw letters, paper wrappers and mail of every description on the sidewalk, into the street, or over a fence. It costs just the thought and no effort, to hold these pieces of mail, while the scattering of them means the cost of gathering them up, by the city and the church people, a the same time presenting a most untidy city, until they can be taken away. No city can be kept clean and pre sentable in looks unless every citizen from the householder to the person walking the street, gives assistance Rubbish from yards, and papers from mail and packages must be held and placed in such receptacles, that they become no further nuisance. This would mean a systematic clean up, therefore a thorough one, and the present paper and rubbish filled streets, alleys and yards would be free, and the city have an orderly and well kept look, and there would be

What is behind the railroad contest engaging attention in many states. which seeks to overthrow the two cent passenger rate, that has recently passed and become a law in these states?

It hardly seems possible that the general retunal on the part of the raliroads, to accept the legislation making the two cant passenger rate la psicoly antagonistic.
