The Element of Strength

In a bank means more than many men realize. A bank to give the best service must have capital and resources enough, particularly capital, to enable it to take care of its customers not only during prosperity when money is plentiful but also during those other times when money is "tight".

This Bank invites your consideration along these lines, with its capital now $200,000.00 since its acquisition of the Citizens Bank.

Rowland Case May be Heard Soon.

Special Correspondence.
Raleigh, June 26.—While it is said some days ago that the case of Dr. Rowland and wife, charged with poisoning Engineer Strange, might not be tried at the July term of court here, it seems to now be the opinion that it will then be heard. There has been intimation of postponement, but Solicitor Jones said today he thought the case would be heard in July. The term of court begins the 8th. The solicitor has been notified by the defense that if desired to take deposition in Indiana, Norfolk, Va., and Memphis, Tenn., the name of one witness at each place being given, it being stated that there are others. At the hearing before the coroner about 30 witnesses were put on and it is said there will probably be as many as 40 for the state at the trial. The state will be ready, the solicitor said and he sees no reason why the other side could not be ready for the trial. Witnesses on both sides are being subpoenaed in considerable number. The sheriff says he rather thinks the case will come on the second week of court and that many papers have been put in his hand to be served, these being for witnesses in this state and three others. The trial of this case is going to prove the sensation of the year in North Carolina, no doubt.

Armstrong-Midyette.

The home of Capt. Joseph Gaskill on Hancock street was the scene of a pretty wedding in which Dr. Ernest C. Armstrong was united in marriage to Miss Robena Midyette, sister of Mrs. Gaskill yesterday afternoon at half past two. The appointments were tasteful and beautiful in every respect. The couple were attended only by the groom's best man, Mr. J. P. Bradley, Rev. R. Q. Beaman performed the ceremony.

Roads Liable to Heavy Penalty.

Special Correspondence.
Raleigh, June 26.—A local paper says that July 1st, no matter what happens, that citizen who is charged over two and a quarter cents fare per mile, on any of the big railroads can sue for penalty of $5,000. This is a very interesting statement.

Many Are Ambidextrous.

Raleigh, June 26.—At the postoffice today Jamestown Commissioner Pogue was observed to be writing with his left hand. He said he had done so since an attack of the grippe. This led one of the clerks in the office to say that many people write with their left hand and that Senator Simmons writes with either. Some other persons were named who have this art of being ambidextrous. A Syrian here who was robbed of $425 in gold may never get a penny of the money. Some of it was recovered in English sovereigns, but he cannot assay to this. It was found hidden in a street pump. The man who the police believes to be the thief has been given liberty. Something may develop at the trial however. The negro woman the paragon of the man, is in jail for perjury. She told the police one story and then swore to another.

FINE REPAIRS ON A. & M. COLLEGE

Practical and Substantial Equipment Supplied for the Farmers College. Special Correspondence.
Raleigh, June 26.—All the buildings at the Agricultural and Mechanical college are being renovated and various improvements and repairs made by direction of the new trustees. It is the purpose of the latter to have the college farm made one of the show places of the state and they were very earnest in their desire to secure a capable man to devote his entire time to the college experiment station and of the college farm. There are four softest farms in the state, but these have nothing to do with the college but are under the direction of the board of agriculture which is absolutely divorced by the new law from any and all connection with the college.

To Whom Does the Road Belong.

Special to Journal.
New York, June 26.—The Central railway of Georgia has been sold but who the purchasers are remains a mystery. Other than the fact that another system has bought it none outside of the buyer and seller know who is the actual owner of the road which at one time was the property of the state.

Mr. Carlisle Bell and Master Small of Newport came one night last week to call Dr. Sanders to visit some sick persons in their town. Special Correspondence.
Raleigh, June 26.—The change in the weather, from cool to warm, is simply a delight to the farmer. Crops are picking up. Your correspondent met a score of farmers today and one of them expressed the views of the entire lot when he said "Cotton has come out a lot." The weather report issued today for the week ended last night says that as a whole the seven days was more favorable than any of the preceding weeks of the present season. The temperature average very nearly normal, there being a small deficiency in the eastern part of the state. The temperature rose over 80 degrees in all sections in the east except on Tuesday, and many stations reported temperature of 90 degrees or more last Friday and Saturday. Tuesday was cool, the temperature being as low as 50 degrees at points in the mountains and the Piedmont region. The rain fall was below normal everywhere except in the extreme east. In a few counties there a very heavy rain fell; nearly at Hatteras. There was some hail but it did no damage. There was plenty of sunshine all over the state and this has a very favorable effect.

Police Court Transactions.

The attention of Mayor Bryan was absorbed yesterday in the police court in the tale of woe recited by Cora Carroll, a colored woman. The woman's husband, Albert Carroll, was the defendant in the case and the technical charge was disorderly conduct but the thing the woman wanted to develop was the man's general cussedness. Evidently the cup of conjugal happiness had all been spilled out, leaving nothing but the drags.

In giving her testimony the woman stood at the table before the mayor and told a long tale of the woes she had suffered at the hands of her husband. She said that her life had been threatened and that she hated to have night come for fear that he taking advantage of the quiet hour might assault her and do her great bodily harm. Her troubles seemed to multiply as she went on and it became clear that Carroll was a bad man. He sat and listened to the arraignment of his character with stolid indifference. He admitted the woman's statement that he shot a man in Kinston—the woman's brother and that he had never been arrested for the crime. The woman was very serious. Various other things were charged against him.

Carroll's statement showed that love for his wife was not any noticeable element in his thoughts. He thought it strange why she should make objections when he paid attention to other women and said she was jealous. Both of them seemed to be pretty much "not against the other" but the preponderance of the evidence was against the man. The mayor reserved his opinion and in the meantime communicated by phone with the chief of police of Kinston desiring to know if he wanted Carroll for trial.

New Bernain Receives Fine Appointment.

The last Raleigh Christian Advocate contained the following item: "Dr. L. H. Hendren, of the Department of Applied Mathematics, has been engaged by Columbia University of New York city, to conduct a class in practical surveying during the summer. This practical work will be done in Massachusetts. Doctor Hendren has already begun his work."

Dr. Hendren is well known here, visiting his mother and sisters several times during the year. He was a post graduate student of Columbia University and got his degree of Ph. D. there. It is a fine compliment to give him this position which is but an acknowledgment of his ability in this line of work.

Miss Loving May Have to Face Perjury Charges.

Special to Journal.
Houston, Va., June 27.—Rapid progress is being made on the Loving trial and the case continues in interest and sensational denouements. It is the general belief that Judge Loving will be acquitted but that the young woman will be tried for perjury. The state is trying to prove that Miss Loving was never assaulted and place much importance on the testimony of Miss Kidd who was Miss Loving's host at the time of the alleged assault. It is conceded that the judge believed her story whether true or false.

CORNELL'S VICTORIOUS.

Wins Varsity Eight-Oared Race at Poughkeepsie, Columbia Second, Then Navy. Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 26.—Cornell won the varsity eight-oared race at the intercollegiate regatta for the eighth time late this evening in the most exciting contest ever rowed over the four-mile Poughkeepsie course. Cornell's time over the course was 20:02 2-5 seconds, Columbia was second, United States Naval Academy third, Pennsylvania fourth, Wisconsin fifth, Georgetown sixth and Syracuse did not finish, her shell being swamped half a mile from the finish line. The Ithacans won by the narrowest margin from Columbia, and until the finish line was crossed and the judges announced that Cornell had won, the thousands of spectators, both afloat and on shore were in doubt as to which crew won the victory.

Cornell and Columbia fought for the honors of the race over the whole four miles of the course, and at no time during the entire distance were the two shells more than 25 feet apart. Columbia led for more than three miles and then Cornell took the lead, only to lose it to Columbia again. In the last 100 feet of the race Cornell, by a tremendous spurt, shot the nose of her shell out into the lead and swept over the finish under the glare of a big searchlight on board the United States monitor Arkansas, five feet ahead of Columbia.

The Annapolis crew rowed a magnificent race and finished two lengths behind Columbia.

Two thousand tenants will be given new holdings at a cost estimated at $2,000,000.

A Handy Machine.

Raleigh, June 26.—The machine which the state auditor has installed and which address letters with great rapidity, has proved a bonanza. The clerk in charge said today that by reason of the fact that absolutely complete and perfect lists of all the corporations in the state had been prepared for the auditor, secretary of state and treasurer, he believed that 500 more had been brought in as revenue producers. Such a machine with 3,500 addresses costs $500 and thus it has paid for itself.

As late as May 2, the mail service to Davos, Switzerland, required sleighs.

Try to Break Down Miss Loving's Story.

Special to Journal.
Houston, Va., June 26.—After her sensational and pitiful testimony telling of her experience with young Estes and the story as she related to her father resulting later in the tragedy Elizabeth Loving was subjected to a most searching and bitter attack on cross-examination. The question was asked her whether she was not inventing the story of assault in order to shield her father and that no outrage was really committed. The question was indignantly denied.

BATTLE ROYAL OF RAILROADS AND PUBLIC INTERESTS

The Legal Fight at Asheville Drawing Many Noted Lawyers Thither.

Asheville, N. C., June 27.—The suits brought by the leading railroad companies of the south to enjoin the states of North Carolina and Virginia from enforcing the reduced passenger and freight rates fixed by the legislatures of those states came up for hearing before Judge Fritchard in the United States circuit court today. Counsel for both sides presented their views.

The states contend that the reduction of passenger rates would still leave the railway companies fair profit even though there should be a decrease in revenues.

The railroads contended that the North Carolina 2 1/4 cent rate per mile and the reduced freight rates are so low that they will either financially ruin the roads or prevent dividends, and thus failing to pay a reasonable compensation for money invested they will be deprived of their property without due process of law, in violation of the constitution.

Walker Hines a distinguished railway lawyer spoke today answering W. E. Daniels speech for the state yesterday.

Bradstreet's Weekly Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., June 27.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity, which includes New Bern: Manufacturers, Jobbers and wholesalers in hats, caps and kindred lines are active, ordering has been liberal and from present indications this season will be a profitable one.

Decision on the State Encampment.

Special to Journal.
Raleigh, June 27.—Gov. Glenn decides that the 2nd and 3rd regiments of the National Guard shall encamp at the Jamestown Exposition August 12 to 16. A Sensible Precaution.

Mr. F. S. Duffy had a fine dog killed because he had been bitten a few days ago by another dog supposed to have been rabid. Mr. Duffy's dog was of the Leverick Setter breed, a beautiful animal, highly prized, but it was thought best to allow him to be become affected and do injury. It was a very sensible precaution and other dogs known to have been bitten should be killed at once.

Child Caught Beneath Falling Lumber

Special Correspondence.
Greensboro, June 27.—While the little three year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bain was playing where Mr. Ed Albright's new residence is being erected, on North Edgeworth street, a pile of lumber fell upon her and painfully if not seriously injured her. It is not known what caused the lumber to fall, though it is supposed that while playing around the lumber a plank at the bottom was loosened, causing it to fall. The child was caught beneath several planks and was released by people, who hearing her cries, rushed to her assistance.

Increase the Racing Appropriation.

Special Correspondence.
Greensboro, June 27.—The authorities of the Central Carolina Fair have decided to spend $800 more on racing at the coming fair than they did last year. Three thousand dollars was the amount appropriated last year. A gate will be made on the south side of the grounds to accommodate those who will go to the grounds on the new car line. During the fair, the street car company expects to haul many people over the West Lee street line and thus lessen the work on the Ludley Park line.
