An Institution That Gains. Showing For 1906 and 1907.

The Stewart Sanatorium has proven most needed institution to this section since its establishment. That such an institution was wanted, had been nded for by the Journal for years nd Mr. J. W. Stewart in building and atting up this sanatorium has helped many an unfortunate. The increase in cases treated, shows the continued occupy the Episcopal rectory and the need of this well equipped institution. During 1906, there were treated a total of 152 cases. From January 1, 1907, to July 1st, there have been treated 113 medical 'cases, and 47 surgical cases. Mrs. Mabel Covington, is superintendent in charge.

A Veteran's Pleasant Visit.

Mr. Basil Riggs, a leading farmer of the Trants creek section of Onslow county is in the city, returning from a few days visit to friends in Pamlico nty. The Riggs' constitute a large, well known old country family of Onslow and there is also a prominent family of the same name in Pamilco. A few years ago a Mr. Riggs of Pamlico was traveling for the first time in Onslow and accidently called at the home of Mr. Badil Riggs, whom he had never heard of before. Reminiscences were exchanged and it was discovered that both families descended from an early settler of Onslow. Acquaintance has led to a warm friendship and as before stated Mr. Basil Riggs has just made a pleasant visit, his first to Pamlico county. Mr. Riggs was pleased with the trip and charmed with the country, and delighted at the hearty. reception and welcome given him by bistriends and relatives. Mr. Riggs. is a veteran of the Confederate army and will participate in the exercises and entertainment of the veterans in this city today and will return to his home Thursday.

Adjutant Garwood, Guard Kennedy and several others are suffering from slight wounds. Earlier in the night the soldiers, who were drinking, showed signs of being disorderly and were repeatedly cautioned by the guards. Later, when their number had increased to about three hundred, they threw aside all constraint and proceeded to do the Warpath, paying no attention to doorkeepers, refusing to pay admission fees refusing to leave the buildings when ordered out and acting disorderly. The Temple of Mirth, Beauty Show and Streets of Cairo were the principal ufferers.

At the latter place about 15 Powhatan Guarda attempted to restore order and then trouble followed. The Guards were forced to use their sabres to beat the men back. Captain Carpenter and Adjutant Garwood were soon on the cene, and succeeded in ejecting the men from the Streets of Cairo

Ugh! Heap Big Chief Indian show pale face how to do the Fourth of July. Him no Charlie horse, Indian chief show him how. Wa hoo! ugh! It is no exaggeration nor figure of speech to say that the Improved Order of Red Men painted the town red yesterday. It was not the lurid scarlet use of that phrase but a quieter, more use of that phrase but a quiter, more subdued shade of carmine and it was used entirely on their own persons in short it was the Red Man's Day.

We wish here to make a digression in order to speak of the proceedings by the Daughters of the Confederacy. They have a kind of a lien on the day by their annual entertainment of the veterans at Fourth of July dinner. They prepared the repast with the same care and elegance that they have always exercised and the veterans partook of the feast with the same heartiness that they have in years gone by. Prior to the dinner the veterans held a brief business meeting at which there was full attendance. Quickly following that the Daughters of the Con-Their number had been increased to federacy marched into the hall and take Judge Onion presented to them with a short apeoch, a fine oil portrait of Commander John J. Wolfenden which was unveiled as Judge Guion finished his address. As the curtain fell from the picture the veterans and daughters were delighted to see the features - of their beloved commander and benefactor in the enduring element of oil. The portrait is taken in the uniform of the Confederate army and it is very natural as to appearance. The Daughters This they succeded in doing, keeping are very proud that they have been enabled to procure so striking a resemb lance of their benefactor. To Miss Mary Oliver is largely due the credit of this enterprise both in the conception and in the execution of the plan The soldiers began to hurl rocks into whereby they are in possession of this fine picture.

THE PARADE.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon strange forms and faces were seen on the street. Men attired in odd cou-tumes, with faces colored as Indiana might be supposed to look when going to some great pow wow and then it was brought to mind that the Improved Order of Red Men were to be the prime movers in the celebration. They looked formidable in their togs and war paint and when mounted it took but little to imagine them going on a scalping expedition. Their chargers were prancing up and down the street and whether in squads or riding singly they made an imposing sight. The procession started at 4 o'clock, forming at the corner of Pollock and Crav en streets, headed by the chief of police and city officials in carriages band, hook and ladder, Atlantic engine, Atlantic hose cart, Button entinues to grow in importance, and ingine, Button hose cart, Chief D. E. Henderson, wagon with wigwam and noveral pappoones float, carriages with speaker, visitors and ladies in carriages, then followed braves on foot foragera, scouts and the rear guard. The line of march was followed as was indicated in yesterday morning's ournal, ending at the court house where the speaking took place, Dur ng the progress of the march the band

At the court house Mr. D. E. Henderson presided. Mayor Bryan wel omed the visitors and guests in hi arm and open hearted hospitality to which Mr. D. L. James, of Greenville, responded. He made many bappy al-usions to New Bern and her hospitable people and he expressed the ho that these meetings would be more frquent in the future.
