A HANDSOME LITTLE AUTO-CAR

A New Horseless Carriage the Product of G. S. Waters' Skill and Handicraft.

Mr. G. S. Waters, who has been quite successful at automobile building has nearly completed a vehicle which will rank among the leaders for appearance, for it is a little beauty. The carriage is small and will accommodate only two persons. It is natural wood color, highly polished and trimmed in corresponding style. The tire is solid, not pneumatic rubber. The vehicle looks at first sight like a toy, but it will be a very serviceable and handy mode of conveyance, and equal to any in the city for the legitimate purposes of an automobile. It is to be propelled by a five horse power Holly engine, and the speed will be 10 to 15 miles an hour, but we are informed, it can be made to go 20 miles per hour. Mr. Waters put the carriage together himself, having nothing but the engine that he did not rely upon his own skill for. The automobile that will operate successfully at the first start out of the box has yet to be made, and Mr. Waters, with his limited experience may be said to be as successful as any one who attempts singlehanded to make one of these carriages. He has profited by his experience in making the former machine, will help him in making this autocrat. It can but win admiration from all who see it.

Believe Simmons Will Stay.

Special Correspondence.
Raleigh, July 6.—There is certainly remarkably little talk about the meeting of the Democratic State Committee here Monday night. It is called for the main purpose of electing a chairman to succeed Senator Simmons, who declared that he would positively retire at that time. Many persons have expressed the wish that he should hold on until the next state convention, next year. Some of the committee have been heard to express themselves. Only one or two persons have been found who think it well for the committee to elect any one Monday night, but the general opinion is that if Chairman Simmons insists on retiring then, there ought to be delay in choosing his successor; possibly until the next state convention.

Talk or Go to Jail.

Special to Journal.
Chicago, July 5.—John D. Rockefeller the Standard Oil magnate, was on the stand today in the case to the State vs. the Standard Oil Co., for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. Judge Landis will hold the witness strictly to contempt rules.

KILLED BY THE TRAIN

Body of High Point Young Man Horribly Mutilated. Unidentified For Several Hours.

Special Correspondence.
Greensboro, July 6.—About midnight last night, the trackwalker for the Southern railway heard the groans of some one near the track at the coal chute, and investigation showed that a young white man was there with his head terribly crushed. The brains being spattered on the rail. The man died in a few minutes. It was impossible last night or early this morning to identify him. On his hat was the name of a High Point mercantile firm and in his pocket was the photograph of two young ladies. This morning several parties from High Point came here and went to the under taking establishment of Mr. Poolie, where the body was, but failed to identify it. This afternoon it was identified as Sam Smith, son of George Smith, of High Point. The young man was a funder in the Columbia Furniture factory of High Point, and was twenty years of age. He was in Salisbury yesterday, and is supposed to have fallen off the train when approaching Greensboro last night on the eleven o'clock train. He was horribly crushed on the head, one whole side being torn off.

The Work of a Seaman's Patient.

The writer was shown a beautiful piece of workmanship, a picture frame tediously constructed of minute bits of wood the assembling and joining together of which must have required a wonderful reserve of patience. It was the handwork of Quartermaster Melard of the Revenue Cutter Bontwick, whose spare moments across a period of two months were devoted to its creation. The frame was about thirty inches wide, would accommodate five pictures 8 by 10, three below, two above, the angles were tastefully finished and an ornament surmounted over all. The whole was made of little bits of wood, several thousand pieces being used. Uniformly cut, cunningly jointed and neatly put together. It was offered for sale at five dollars.

Refused to Obey Conductor.

Special Correspondence.
Greensboro, July 6.—At noon today was at the station here going to High Point to play a match game. The boys were badly excited, relating the following cause. One of their team Louis Seales, was approached by the conductor about two miles from Greensboro and was to stop smoking his cigarette in the coach where there were women. Seales persisted in smoking, when the conductor approached him and told him when he went to the platform and jumped off. As the train sped on the negro is said to have been seen to turn several somersaults down an embankment, but whether he was killed or not, the balance of the team was unable to say, only they were naturally very much concerned over the crack players fate.

WAR CLOUDS ARE GATHERING

Relations of United States and Japan Growing too Tense To be Pleasant.

RECENT ACTIONS BETRAY FEARS

Consensus of Opinion is That There May be Little Brush Between the Nations. Arbitration May be Successful at the Last Moment.

Washington, July 8.—The probability of war with Japan grows more apparent as the days go by. The movements in army and navy circles although carefully guarded and all negotiations are made in secret and the messages are sent in a cipher code. The greatest tact that shows that preparations for war are really going on is the transfer of the North Atlantic fleet to the western coast ostensibly to "maintain our supremacy" on the sea.

New York, July 8.—Admiral Dewey urges that the battleship fleet be immediately concentrated on the Pacific coast. He insists that it is imperatively necessary to dominate that ocean to maintain peace. He says the fleet's mission is of peace. The army can protect the Atlantic coast. The governor of the several states give their views in approval of sending the fleet to the Pacific coast. Congressman Hobson says Japan only awaits a pretext to declare war against the United States.

Berlin, July 8.—The prevailing opinion in government circles here is that there will be war between the United States and Japan.

Paris, July 8.—Leaders of thought here hold that there will be an amicable adjustment of matters between the two countries. The delegates to the Hague Peace Conference fear that the negotiations will end in war. Russia believes that there will be war. Great Britain thinks that Japan will back down.

Moreover, his heart is in his work and he is thoroughly identified and in close touch with the best educational thought and purpose of the state.

Standard Oil Bluff Called.

Special to Journal.
Chicago, July 8.—This has been a day of victory for the people and two big corporations have been treated as common violators of laws by application of the penalty. United States Judge Landis presiding over the court which has been trying the Standard Oil Co., the defendant is required to pay a fine of $50,000. The Chicago & Alton road was fined $10,000 for accepting rebates from the Standard Oil. The Standard Oil attorneys attempted to put up a bluff on the government by offering a proposition containing a compromise, but the United States would not accept any offer that the Standard Oil could make.

Melons Are Three Weeks Late.

Special Correspondence.
Raleigh, July 6.—In the south east part of this county the watermelon crop has for some years been important and considerable shipments are made. This year the crop is three weeks late and growers said today no melons would be ready before the first of August. We added that not only was the crop later than ever known before, but also in bad fix.

How the Privilege Tax Works.

The new license tax law is working a great hardship on the small shopkeepers. Many of them have been driven out of business by it. A separate tax must be paid for the privilege of selling different articles. Say soft drinks, cakes, vegetables, and other goods in light lines. Such are usually sold in the poorer shops. These shops may look very insignificant to those of fortunate circumstances but to their keepers they mean food and shelter. Driven, perhaps by poverty and misfortune to eke out a subsistence on the profits of a penny trade, these people deserve protection, not oppression. A case in mind is a white woman in this town, who since the death of her husband a few years ago has supported herself and her aged mother with the profits from a little shop and the help of her sewing machine. This woman is now forced to abandon her shop on account of an oppressive tax and seek her living elsewhere or starve.

The Kinston Passenger Station.

The Kinston Free Press makes the following kick about the new passenger station, there:
The Norfolk & Southern should erect a shed over the entire platform of the passenger station. It is a shame that Kinston must submit to the miserable little playhouses of a station anyway. We have the best town on the line and furnish heavy traffic. But they take our money and leave us no choice. We are ashamed of the depot. We have to apologize every time we point it out to a stranger. If we must submit to the doll house, give us a shed over the platform. It will be more comfortable for passengers who leave to stand and give the place a better appearance.

The first game with Wilson brought discouragement to the hearts of the local fans. The men from the tobacco town seem to have found an easy mark in Bauers. The first inning was fatal to them, it being when their opponents made three runs, and they made three errors. They played well until the seventh when the Wilsons crossed the rubber five times. Bauers support in the seventh was very good, the hits were clean, six hits netting five runs was the result. Stevenson made a fine stop in the second inning.

In the seventh Dekin hit safe went to third on Crutchley's error and scored. In the eighth Thompson hit safe went to second on Crutchley's error and scored on Celey's safe hit. Dekin and Guerrant, the great base stealers did some good work in the second.

The First Cotton Blossom.

The first blossom received at the Journal office this season came by mail Monday night, and was sent by M. D. Lane of Fort Darwell.

Mr. Lane enjoys the distinction of being the largest cotton planter in Craven county. He owns a fine farm, runs 22 plows, cultivating two hundred acres in cotton, 30 acres in tobacco besides grain crops and potatoes.

Besides his farm, Mr. Lane owns and conducts a large supply store handling everything needed for the home or farm, an up-to-date ginning system, in fact a model up-to-date farm.

Mr. Lane says, considering the lateness of the season, he thinks it is early for the cotton bloom. He says that there has been a wonderful improvement in the cotton crop since the warm weather set in.

TERRIBLY MANGLED BY CARS

John Gaskins, Brakeman on P. O. & W. Ground to Death Beneath Cars.

Mr. John Gaskins died at the Stewart Sanatorium at 1 o'clock yesterday. He was a brakeman on the Pamlico, Oriental & Western railroad, having only recently taken the job. The train was in the Pine Lumber Company's yard and was moving slowly switching cars from one track to another. The exact cause of the accident was not ascertained but it is reported that not being used to getting on and off the cars easily he made a misstep and fell beneath the cars in such a manner that three cars passed over his body which was lying lengthwise of the track crushing the right side to a pulp. He retained consciousness to the last. In conversation with Mr. Henry Gray, the fireman, he said that if it wasn't for the injuries to his back and hip that he might get well. He was however, so badly crushed elsewhere that under the most favorable circumstances he could not have lived. The accident occurred between 9 and 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Gaskins home was in Granstboro and he was married. The remains were taken home last evening.

Beaman-Ferry.

Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church South, was solemnized the wedding of Miss Naomi Dockery Perry and Rev. R. C. Beaman. The church was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns and cut flowers, which formed a lovely background. At the appointed hour the wedding party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march skillfully rendered by Mrs. J. A. Meadows. The ushers were Mr. A. E. Hibbard, Mr. T. J. W. Crowder, Dr. J. E. Patrick and Mr. S. M. Brinson, who passed down the aisle, standing on either side of the chancel. Each of these gentlemen wore Prince Albert coats, gray trousers with gloves and tie to match. Following these came the maid of honor, Miss Carita Wallace and the bride leaning on the arm of her cousin, Mr. J. M. Howard. They were met at the altar by the groom accompanied by his best man, Mr. G. N. Ennett. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mike Bradshaw, presiding elder of the New Bern district. The solemn words being said, the wedding party retired from the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride was handsomely attired in a becoming gown of silk, with a silk hat and gloves to match and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. She wore the gift of the groom, which was a brooch of diamonds and pearls. The maid of honor wore a gown of blue silk mulle, with blue picture hat, and carried white carnations.

The bride is a very beautiful and attractive young woman. The groom is the pastor in charge of the Centenary Methodist church, is one of the most distinguished divines in the North Carolina Methodist conference and indeed one of the most scholarly men of the state. They received a number of very pretty and useful wedding gifts. Dr. and Mrs. Beaman left on the steamer Neuse at 3 o'clock for Washington City and the Jamestown Exposition. They expect to be absent from the city about two weeks.

White Man Displayed Roll of Bills and the Alleged Robbers Took Advantage of His Condition. Arrest Made Saturday.

Officer A. E. Tinsley of Wintrop Mills brought Henry Rhodes, colored, to New Bern Sunday morning to be confined in the county jail on the charge of highway robbery. The other men have not been found yet. The amount taken was $115. The arrest was made late last week and in a preliminary before Justice Charles Pledgers, Rhodes was bound over to superior court for trial under $100 bond in default of which he was brought to the New Bern jail.
