There was a boat of watermelons of entangled cases in Tuesday from William's Arlington farm.

The steamer Howard took a party of about 410 people, residents of Pollockville and the country surrounding Quaker Bridge on an excursion a short distance down the Neuse. On the return trip the excursionists stopped in New Bern for a while before going home.
The sail under the charge of Mr. J. C. Johnson will afford a good opportunity for spending a cool and refreshing evening under the cheering influence of the moon, while at the same time they are helping a worthy cause and a worthy man. Tickets are on sale at the drug stores and at Barrington's.
There were some white men in the police court yesterday on the charge of disorderly conduct. The charges were preferred by a woman up town who said they came to her house and made a disturbance and made some damage. The mayor put the costs on the young men and required them to repair the damage they had done.
Superintendent of Instruction Brinson will hold examinations for candidates for High School teachers certificates. The examination of white applicants will be held tomorrow and for colored persons on Friday. The questions are prepared by the Board of Education and are corrected by them. Mr. Brinson will merely oversee the work here.
Mr. J. W. Watson, spends his spare moments from the post-office in cultivating a garden that would make a vegetarian's eyes stick out with wonder of admiration. His attention has been given to raising big tomatoes and his efforts have succeeded certainly to the limit of his expectations if not beyond. As evidence of his skill he has placed in Mr. E. H. Hackburn's window twelve "Ponderosa" tomatoes, weighing twelve pounds. The largest will weigh 13.4 pounds; there are none of them but what could be served to two or three persons. They are beautiful.

About fifteen members of Eureka Lodge No. 7, of Odd Fellows will go to Trenton this morning to establish a lodge in that city. There will be 35 charter members of the new lodge. The degree team will administer the initiatory and exemplify the work of the three degrees.
The type made the Journal say that there were 410 passengers on the steamer Howard Tuesday, a statement that was greatly exaggerated. The number should have been 140 as the number reported to the Journal by one who was on the boat. The correct number was 130 passengers.
The State press yesterday had special reports relating the great age of Mrs. L. Klerase, of Statesville, who was born June 10, 1776, which makes her 131 years of age. She is said to be in good health for one of such great age. This woman is probably the oldest woman in the country, if not in the world.
A boat load of watermelons and melons came in last night after dark, from Adams Creek. These melons have quite a reputation. They are planted at the same time as those for shipment, but are not so highly matured. Hence, slow growth, which it is said will be the feature of the season and a greater return.

Special to Journal.
Tokyo, Japan, July 23.—The Japanese cabinet are now in session and are considering the plans of taking Korea into its custody. There is no idea of possession or purpose to occupy by the Japanese, but the latter are simply to establish a protectorate over her. Japanese cruisers have sailed for the port of Seoul to protect their interests.

Oriental Not So Worse.
An excursion came up from Oriental yesterday and in the number were nine young men who called themselves amateur baseball players. We think that was a bluff in order to get a game of ball with whoever would play here. They went on the field with a feeling that perhaps they might be beaten; they were in ignorance of the fact that their opponents many of them had just come to town and consequently were not playing together.
With chronicle the score of 13 to 1 in favor of Oriental, let us draw the curtain of charity and refrain as much as we can from harsh thoughts.

Good Verse.
The Metropolitan Magazine, which has acquired a deserved reputation for the quality of its verse has in the August number an unusually pleasing selection, including "Possession," by Beth Slater Whitson; "Fluette," by Charlotte Becker; "The Storm of the Night," by Jessie Gertrude Schindler; "Compensation," by John V. A. McMurray; "Down in Maldonado Town," by Helen Hay Whitney; and "The Question—The Answer," by Harriet Monroe.

Monument to Pope Leo XIII Unveiled
Rome, July 22.—The monument to Pope Leo XIII was unveiled this morning in the presence of the members of the Sacred College, and the Lateran Chapter. The sculptor, Tadollini, sat in the semi-circle opposite the monument during the unveiling. He subsequently explained the conception of the work, which he declared, had been a labor of love. He formally consecrated the monument to a commission of cardinals. Cardinal Vannutelli thanked him and praised his work, which he said, was worthy of the great pope. The cardinal, in turn, consigned the monument to the Lateran Chapter.

Cardinal Satolli, archpriest of the Lateran Arch-Basilica, accepted the monument in a lofty, extemporaneous speech. He said that Pope Leo's real monument was constituted by his pontificate, his encyclicals and his work, which were known and appreciated by the whole world.
After the ceremony the cardinals were photographed in a group in the courtyard. Several cardinals told the correspondent that the removal of the body of Pope Leo is not imminent. Cardinal Satolli added that the Vatican had discovered that the anti-clericals had organized a hostile demonstration, and with this object they were already keeping a watch nightly on St. Peter's Square with the view of carrying out as soon as the body is buried from the Vatican, consequently Pope Pius has postponed the removal indefinitely.

THE TOURNAMENT FOR NEW BERN

Interest New Bern Always Takes in Tournaments Entitles Her To It.
Why wouldn't it be a good plan to instruct the official representatives to the tournament at Wilmington next month to make a bid to hold the tournament in New Bern in 1908? There is no doubt that we can land it if we go after it. The cities that have entered the tournaments have found them to be a profitable investment. New Bern can take care of the crowds, she can furnish the money necessary for the prizes, she can show as interesting and as promising a city as there is in the State. There is no valid reason why we cannot have this event next year. Moreover the interest New Bern people have always taken in the tournament entitles her to some recognition. She has given time, men and money to the success of the tournament in other cities and now turn about is fair play.

Lets agitate this matter, talk it over and get busy. We believe that with the use of the proper methods New Bern can get it. Raleigh, Charlotte, Goldsboro, Washington, and numerous other cities will put in their claims, but none will be more feasible than New Bern's.
Lets talk it over!

LIFE SAVERS AT EXPOSITION

Important Branch of Government Service to Give Exhibitions of Their Work.
Special Correspondence.
Jamestown Exposition, Va., July 24.—The daily drills and exhibitions which are being given by the United States life saving station at the Jamestown Exposition, are attracting much attention. Every day the grandstand overlooking Bough Creek, an arm of the Hampton Roads, where the exhibitions are given are thronged with interested spectators watching the surfmen run their life boats into the sea, hasten out to a wrecked schooner lying on a bar, and by means of life-boats rescue the sailors from the rigging.
In these exhibitions the various styles of buoys, life canons, life boats and rocket projectiles are shown. The first part of the drill consists of a life boat practice, in which self-righting boats and those with double bottoms and air compartments are used by the men.
Under the direction of Captain H. J. Cleary—one of the most skilled men in the service—the boats are run out of their house on carriages, launched and put through various maneuvers. Of course all the surfmen are expert swimmers. A number of instructors could not be more at home in the water, and their diving, water-ferriessness and strength in swimming have attracted widespread admiration.
Even to those wholly ignorant of the ways of the sea, a visit to the station is of the greatest interest. The one will see the different kinds of cannon used in shooting life lines over storm tossed vessels; one will see the appliances now in use in this country and in the principal European countries; there are cases filled with projectiles which have been shot out to stricken ships, each shot bearing the date of its use, the locality of the wreck and the number of the people brought ashore on the line which followed it; and then one will see the men themselves, brown with the tan of the sun and wind and the salt spray, jolly with many a yarn to spin, but men who are prepared to brave the heaviest sea, many having done so on numerous occasions, to carry aid to storm beaten and sinking ships.

Swaviter in Mad.
The New York Evening Post is always very respectful to the President. It is somewhat English, you know. Ordinarily, it thinks the king can do no wrong. But it hints that the President is playing double in the Japanese matter for campaign purposes. It says:
"One of the most unpleasant features of the whole affair is the strange course of the Administration. If our President were on his own confession, anything but the sincerest and most earnest of men, we should be troubled by the apparent duplicity of the statements made in his name. On Tuesday last his private secretary gave an official statement to the rumors that a squadron of battleships was to be sent to the Pacific. You may say that the President has not even considered the advisability of sending any ships to the Pacific. Two days later this becomes a 'possible' cruise to the Pacific, but not at once. After that came Secretary McMillan's announcement in California that the battleships were to go directly to the Pacific, and that the plans for the movement had been made long before in Washington. All this may be firm and wise and consistent state-shipment, but any one can see how deplorably it lends itself to the swavitering of the sensational newspapers. Considering the 1907 big impression made both at home and abroad, we think that the Commander-in-Chief of the navy ought to revise his message. If necessary, give out a new version of what he had already intimated to be."

THE MOVING PICTURES.

The Summer Theatre Amusing and Entertaining Many.
The Cowan Brothers summer theatre commenced at the opera house Wednesday night with their moving picture show. It was a splendid entertainment and one can enjoy himself immensely. The pictures of the opening performance and last night were extremely interesting. The humorous films were some of the funniest that have been seen here while the descriptive pictures kept the interest keyed up to the highest pitch. The illustrated songs are fine and the most popular songs of the day are sung in a very pleasing manner as the different stages of the song are thrown upon the canvas.
Go tonight and see this show. The admission is only 10 cents and you will get more than your money's worth. An entire new set of films will be shown tonight.
The London police force guards property valued at over $250,000,000.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of medicine recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowels, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of muscular debility, and their results, as bronchitis, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not a root for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry Root, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly prized as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hays of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finkler of the Univ. of Mich.; Prof. Post Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D. of Cincinnati; Prof. John N. Scudder, M. D. of Cincinnati; Prof. M. J. Dale, M. D. of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; and scores of other equally eminent in their several schools of practice.
The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through the United States Dispensary, which has a long and honorable record—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merit. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach, as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. It is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native medicinal roots and is safe and reliable. Medical authorities endorsing its merits are placed here on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

GOVERNOR GLENN OFFERS PLANS

To Circumvent the Present Critical Situation Between State and Federal Courts.
Special to Journal.
Raleigh, July 25.—After conference between Assistant Attorney General Sanford, Governor Glenn, and council of State about railroad litigation, Governor Glenn announced he has submitted ultimatum for railroads agree the gist of which was as follows:
First, let railroads put two and quarter cent rate into immediate effect pending final determination of legal questions involved.
Second, State to appeal from order of Judge Pritchard, discharging parties in Asheville on writ of habeas corpus.
Third, Southern Railway appeal to Supreme Court of North Carolina in Wake county case and if case then decided against it, take case by writ of error to Supreme Court of United States.
Fourth, Both sides co-operate to have both said cases advanced, argued together speedily determined.
Fifth, State at its opening to indict Atlantic Coast Line in one case.
Sixth, all other indictments to be stopped pending final determination of case.
Seventh, Governor to advise all people against bringing any penalty suit pending final determination of question involved, and ask people acquiesce in this arrangement.
Eighth, suit pending before Judge Pritchard to be diligently prosecuted without State however waiving any question of jurisdiction.
Upon being asked as to his interview with Mr. Sanford, of the Department of Justice, Governor Glenn stated that the substance of it was contained in the telegram of Mr. Brown, and his reply to it; that having to leave before the reply could be reduced to writing, Mr. Sanford requested the answer be wired him at Asheville through Mr. Brown. That Mr. Sanford said while he did not represent railroads he knew officials of the railroads would be glad to see the Governor if he desired it. Governor Glenn replied that if railroad authorities desired to see him he would be glad to meet them at any time and enter into any arrangement consistent with terms of his telegram but it would be useless to confer unless they were willing for rate to go into effect pending litigation, to amend bill of the legislature. Asked what he would do if railroads refused terms offered and still insisted on controlling State courts through Federal courts, Governor Glenn replied that he would continue as best he could to enforce the State law, doing nothing revolutionary himself, or out of the legal course, and advising no officer to do so, but simply in legal dignified way, involving constitution and laws of both State and the Nation. He says he wants no conflict and it now looks to him inevitable that an extra session General Assembly will have to be called and all matters as issue placed before that body to rid that it take such steps to control and regulate railroads in the State as in light of present developments seem just and proper.
Governor Glenn says he does not wish this, but that he gets his authority and power through legislature, and it alone by way of eminent domain etc. and it can compel and regulate railroads acting in defiance of both law and proceedings of legally constituted State courts. He says he regrets the interview with Mr. Sanford amounted to nothing but he made no proposition that State could not require without any agreement. Date proposition be withheld until pending litigation is only one he could have made that could unite governor's hands, so some terms could have been agreed upon. He says council of State approves all being done.

SAD EVENING OF FAMILY PLEASURE PARTY

Little Bessie Rhodes Attempts to Wade in the Neuse, Gets in Deep Water and is Drowned.
Yesterday Capt. James Rhodes took his family to Wilkinson's Point, to have a day of pleasure and enjoy the cooling breezes which make that place delightful. The little family starting out with all the glad anticipations of a day of joy and freedom from care little dreamed that they would return with heavy hearts, to mourn the loss of one of their number by a sudden stroke of fate. The captain and his family, and one or two invited friends had spent several hours at the place and having partaken of their picnic dinner and exhausted the means of fun, some one suggested to the children of the party to go wading in the river as there are some parts of the beach that are nice and sandy but others that are treacherous. Bessie, the nine year old daughter of Captain Rhodes was among those who went into the water but a few minutes before she stepped from the ledge of sand into deep water and immediately sank from sight. The place where this accident occurred is where the channel used by the steamers and boats cuts in close to shore and consequently the water is very deep, a strong under current is there too and it is supposed that a current or possibly an eddy drew her beneath the surface preventing her from rising or struggling.

The work of rescue was begun at once but efforts to locate the body were unavailing and the father sent some men to a store where telephone connection with New Bern could be obtained and when word was received here Mr. Warren Ellis went down there on his launch Dorothy, accompanied by Messrs. W. P. M. Bryan, and Ed Meadows, to assist in the body. They arrived there to find that the body had been recovered a short time before having been in the water about one hour and a half. The little body was placed on the boat attended by the grief stricken family and friends who returned to the desolate home in New Bern. The funeral services will be held at six o'clock this evening at the parents home, No. 28 Eden street.
