Raleigh, July 29.-Governor Glenn issued the following letters to the pub lic. in with his statement mode last Saturday afternoon and the agreement between himself and the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line railways.

"The General Assembly at its last session passed a law regulating passenger rates, the same to go into effect July 1, 1907. Before that date the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line railways through the circuit court of the United States enjoined the corporation commission and the attorney general from publishing and putting the fixed rates into effect. Not believing that the circuit judge in an equity suit by enjoining the corporation and attorney general could prevent a self-acting law from going into effect, I commenced to prepare a letter to the Judges and an address to the people, when on the 8th of July 1907, the Hon. B. F. Long, one these for the purpose of corroborating ten a letter on July 23rd to the variof the ablest and most conscientous other evidence. There will be some our railways. At once I assured So absurd was the rumor which and in favor of other States, with the years rector Judge Long of my hearty approval of some foolish person started here addrection to use this amount, and church here. his righteous stand and of my inten- bout a proposed lynching of Rowland more if necessary, in gathering data tion to assist him in upholding th law. My letter was forwarded to the by writ of habeas corpus to the Federal court. Believing this was not warranted by the constitution and laws I resisted in every legal way; directed the State's attorneys to appeal from such action, and requested the State Court to continue to enforce the law. This brought about a direct conflict between the State and Federal courts, a matter that I regretted, but other judges and indictments were made in Wake and other counties Many penalty suits were also com-

The raliroads then applied to the Circuit court to enjin all private persns from bringing penalty suits, and to take the persons arrested and convicted in the State court from the officers of that court, could not under my oath avoid. At this crisis, assistant attorney general Sanford, representing the department of justice at Washington, came to see me, to try to adjust all differences. I told him that under the constitution I could not and would not attempt to annul the State law, but if the railroad would obey the law and let it immediately go into effect all minor details could be adjusted. At his requset I put my ultimatum in writing and published it. Nothing was to be done unless the rairoads

"After some debate and arrangement of minor details the railroads accepted the State's proposition, the rate law to become effective August 8th (a few days being given to change tickets, etc.) certain cases to be carried to the Supreme court for final determination, and in the meantime the railroads to request the circuit judge to commence no contempt proceedings, and I to ask the judges and solicitors to commence no more indictments and not pros those on their docket, except the two from which the appeals were taken, and to request the people not to commence any penalty sults. In connection with my agreement, the law now being fully recognized and obeyed by the ratiroad, I do most earnestly request all judges to stop all new indict ents and to nol pros those on the docket, and also the people to bring no more penalty suits to the end that peace and harmony shall again prevail between the railroads and the people. You cannot injure the railreads without injuring the State. When they obey the law they ar entitled to protection. The law is now in full force and no one should herefore desire to violate the agreement made between the State and railroad, and I confidently ask and

There was no desire any litigation against the railroad in regard to State discrimination I hope and trust that the railroads are honest and desire to treat our state fairly and will correct any error that may have existed in rates. The contention of our shippers, jobbers, and retail merchants was thoroughly set forth in complaint number five before our corporation commission in which individual instances were cited, show ing that this discrimination existed. All our shippers and merchants desire is that they shall be treated in the same way that Virginia shippers are treated and should have one or more distributing points in North Carolina to which and through which we can get the same rates now given Lynchburg, Richmond, Norfolk, etc.To do that puts us at a great disadvantage in competing with the merchants of other places, and is to say the least of it unjust to our people. Goods are shipped at Lynchburg through Winston, Greensboro and Durham for less than they can be shipped to these points, in fact our shippers can have their goods shipped to Lynchburg and Prominent Financier Dies While then pay the low rate back to their places cheaper than they can have them shipped direct. Greensboro, July 30 .- At a meeting here last night of the board of directors of the North Carolina Travelers Protective Association, it was decided to have published an illustrated volume to be known as the Commercial History of North Carolina. 'The book will be handsomely bound and finely illustrated, and will contain a full and accurate write up of all the important towns of the state together with nveful data and historical matter connected with the state's growth, especial's its commercial importance and co::stantly increasing development. The book will be ready for distribution by May 1908 and will, it is hoped have an important bearing on securing the national convention for some North Carolina city for 1908. Mr. T. B. Harvey of New York, who has had much experience in this line of work, was made editor of the proposed publication, and was elected as chairman of the history committee of the North Carolina division of the T. The county board of tax assessor are in session yesterday hearing complaints of property holders in this township and city who think they have been rated too high. It is understood that when the city of High Point is reached the boot will be on the other foot, and complaints will be lodged of a wholesale low rating by the assessor for that city. Greensboro citizens are universally complaining that the tremendous increase in valuation of property here, while there has been an uniform low rating in High Point and some other parts of the county, means not equalization and uniformity of taxation, but simply an increase of taxes at this point, without corresponding benefit to the state and county. In two townshim of the county outside of High Point, it is declared that the assessment this of them and the amount of an year is lower than it was four years ago, In High Point one gentleman said that property there which was openly known to be worth from two hundred to three hundred dollars a front foot, was assessed all the way to $60 and tmat-he knew of one-lot worth $20,000 any minute, which was returned as being valued at $3,500

They say that with equalitzation, it would be all right, as the rate of taxation could bedecreased, but with one section doing all the high assessing, it simply puts a burden of more taxes on one part of the county for the enefit of those escaping fair valua-

Special Correspondence. Ráleigh, July 31.-Today it was found out in the office of the searetary of state that chapter 1003 of the acts of 1907 contained the following important section, limiting the powers of notaries public: "That no Notary Public shall have power or authority to take the proof and acknowledgement of deeds or other papers required by law to be registered in the office of the register of deeds in the county or to take the private examination of a feme covert to any such paper in which he is interested as attorney, counsel or otherwise, nor to administer an oath to any person to any affidavit or other paper in matters in which he is interested as attorney, counsel, or otherwise."
