

DORMITORY OF NORMAL COLLEGE

Ready For Occupancy The Building Will Accommodate 75 Additional Students

MOVES NEST IN REPUBLICAN JOURNALISM

Creditors Want Thompson Lumber Co. Adjudged Bankrupt. Newspaper Man Gives Up Journalism for Law. Marriage Announcement Of Two Popular Young Society People.

Special Correspondence.

Greensboro, Sept. 12.—Messrs. S. M. Gentry of Hillsboro and P. T. Gray of Raleigh, members of the executive committee of the board of directors of the State Normal and Industrial College were here yesterday afternoon and last night for the purpose of inspecting the new dormitory building, in company with President Foust, Architect-Cook, Contractors Hunt and McKenzie. They went over the students building and the new dormitory just completed for the purpose of passing upon the receiving the same. The college opens next week and students will be delighted to see others surprised to find these buildings completed on time and ready for occupancy. The addition to the dormitory building will accommodate 75 additional students, giving this building a dormitory capacity for 375 students exclusive of parlors dining room, offices, kitchen, etc. The addition greatly enhances the appearance facing south. This now has a frontage of 240 feet in the center being a magnificent portico 40 feet long, with six beautiful columns of the true Ionic style. The cost of this addition is $24,000 and it is a splendid piece of work. The completion of the auditorium of the students building makes it a beautiful and commodious hall with a seating capacity of nearly 1,000. If the splendid stage is enclosed.

When Thomas S. Rollins, president of the Industrial News and Spencer B. Adams, president of the Tar Heel, the weekly newspaper established by Black-burn, many years ago to fight the Butler Adams Rollins coalition which organized the Daily News, it looks like Chairman Adams has at last got the Republican organization in a sling, and the new semi-weekly will proceed to invade the realm of the old party weekly, the Union Republican of Salem. The issue was effected here tonight by the election of Judge Adams as first vice president, John L. C. Dorsett, second vice president, John B. Crouch, secretary and treasurer. The directors are Spencer B. Adams, L. H. Wagner, J. D. Dorsett, J. A. Hoskins, J. B. Crouch.

Mr. Crouch has been editor of the paper from the beginning, was Blackburn's private secretary while he was a congressman and this swallowing up of the late congressman's newspaper confers and strong political backing means the practical passing of any opposition to the regime of that Editor Crouch used to term the Butler-Adams federal office holding third tier negro republican organization.

Involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed before Judge Boyd today by the Huntley-Stockton Hill Co., Hardwood Mfg. Co. and O. C. Benbow creditors against the Thompson Lumber Company of Greensboro. The company is cited to appear before Judge Boyd next Saturday and show cause why it should not be adjudged bankrupt. The company has been doing a general lumber business in the factory on Guilford avenue formerly used as the Spoke and Handle factory. Mr. J. T. Swann being manager.

Mr. Charles A. Hines, an excellent newspaper man, and late city editor of the Industrial News, left this morning for the university to take the law course.

Another popular gentleman leaving for the same purpose was Mr. F. B. McNary, who has been chief of office deputy to United States Marshal J. M. Milliken for a number of years. Mr. McNary during the years that he spent in the marshal's office was a uniformly courteous and capable official.

Invitations reading as follows have been issued: Mr. and Mrs. George Sparks Bergant request the pleasure of your company at their wedding reception of their daughter, Elizabeth and Mr. William J. Sherrod, Wednesday evening, September twenty-fifth, fifteen hundred and seven, from nine thirty to eleven o'clock, four hundred, Arlington street, Greensboro, North Carolina.

Recent to an accomplished actress, young lady and her mother, who will be the attraction of the show at the State Normal and Industrial College, will be the presentation of a considerable amount of money from that institution.

DEFAULTING COLLECTOR ARRESTED SOON

Letton Who was Short $100,000 in Captured in the City.

Special to Journal.
New Orleans, La., Sept. 12.—Charles Letton, the chief tax collector of the city who on yesterday was found to be short in his accounts to the extent of $100,000 was arrested in this city today. No arrangement has yet been made for his hearing yet as important witnesses have not been located.

Letton's thieving dates back four years and the man has been bold in his pilfering, yet shrewd. He has been in this office for 19 years and there is no record that he ever gave bond. He was a man well known to all citizens and held in high esteem.

Don't expect to derive health and strength by rushing straight from business or a sedentary life in town to a holiday cycle tour, mountaineering or hard training at any form of athletics.

Teddy to Hunt Bears in Louisiana

Special to Journal.
Washington, Sept. 12.—President Roosevelt may make a short hunting trip to Louisiana before settling down to his winter work. Gov. Blanchard is one of several residents of the state who have sent an urgent invitation to the President holding forth the advantage of the great quantity of game.

What Will Panama Canal Cost When Finished.

Special to Journal.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The report of expenses for the construction of the Panama canal to Dec. 1, 1906 has been made public. In round numbers the cost was $84,000,000.

Love.

Now that "love" is being dissected by psychologists, editors and rumormongers in general it is of passing interest to read and analyze some of the great romances that Dan Cupid is staging before our very eyes—actual experiences of notable sweethearts and lovers that go to fill our daily newspapers with leading articles. The present section of next Sunday's World will be brimmed over with such love stories as "Where's My Silver Slipper?" "I'll Never Give Her Up," "When I am Lady Elliot," &c., &c.—a collection of present-day romances that run the gamut of love in all its varied phases. For a whole week's reading get next Sunday's World.

Dutch Strikers Gone Back to Work.

Special to Journal.
Antwerp, Sept. 12.—The striking longshoremen have quit their strike and applied for work at their old jobs. Some have been reinstated.

Still Have It In For Earle.

Special to Journal.
Monroe, N. Y., Sept. 12.—F. P. Marie, the artist who deserted his wife for his so-called "soul's affinity" was again taken to task by neighbors and citizens and was given a bad beating.

Chinese Rebels Slaughtered.

Special to Journal.
Peking, China, Sept. 12.—In a battle between the regular Chinese army and a detachment of rebels in the Huron province the latter were terribly defeated, only a few living out of the 200 who fought the soldiers.

ber of the law firm of Bradshaw and Sherrod, is a "university boy" and since coming to this city a couple of years ago from Hamilton, Martin county, has made many friends and built up a large law practice.

Friends and acquaintances of Mr. Sample S. Brown and Mrs. Helen C. Brown were much interested in the rumor yesterday that the well known couple had been re-married. It was impossible to gain definite information from members of the family here. In the absence of the parties involved. A search at the office of the register license had been issued for the marriage of the couple. This made it plain that the marriage must have taken place in Virginia if at all. Danville was the logical point for this event and sure enough the Danville Bee of yesterday afternoon contained a full account of it. The following facts are taken from the Bee: "The marriage took place at 9 a. m. yesterday at the Hotel Burton, Rev. Dr. W. R. Laird, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Danville performing the ceremony, immediately after which James Brown and Helen C. Brown were thought all along that the couple would be reunited and the news that would be the fact will be gladly heard in many quarters."

Help Out Strikers.

Special to Journal.
New York, Sept. 12.—President Taft of the American Telegraphic Union has been assured of the financial sympathy of Federation of Labor by the promise of a considerable amount of money from that organization.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BOX PARTY

Pleasant Social Affair Given by Greensboro's Awake Business Organization

APPROPRIATIONS BY BOARD OF ELECTION

Five Perambulating Blind Tigers Captured. Jail Overcrowded. Precautions Taken Against Escapes. Police Chief Returns With Lee, Kirk Murderer. Symptomatic Expression.

Special Correspondence.

Greensboro, N. C., September 10.—The distressing news yesterday of the burning of the splendid Cleveland Springs hotel at Shelby, and of the Observer office at Charlotte, with loss of life in both cases created much interest as well as sympathy here. Mrs. Cora Smith, the guest of the hotel who was burned was well known and highly regarded here, being related to several living here. The two colored servants who were also burned are known by several. It is understood that the 75 room hotel was struck by lightning early this morning, the loss being $30,000. Many telegrams offering assistance to the Observer, if needed were sent from newspaper men and publishing houses here, upon hearing of the calamity.

The Greensboro Retail Merchants Association, have employed Mr. Chas. R. Brockman to give his whole time to the work as secretary of the Association. Mr. Brockman has recently completed a course at Poughkeepsie Business College, and is admirably equipped for the duties. He leaves tomorrow for Richmond to make a special study of the rating system in force there with a view of establishing a similar one here. The Merchants Association here is moving along with system and organization, and is doing much towards helping to get relief from freight rate discrimination against North Carolina towns.

The Chamber of Commerce gave a box party last night, at the Al G. Fields Minstrel Show to the following representatives of the Interstate Chemical Company who are locating their branch manufacturing and distribution house at Greensboro for North Carolina, East and South Carolina and Southern Virginia. Messrs. P. D. Christian, President, Baltimore, G. J. Bedger, General manager, Baltimore, J. A. Whetley, Sales Manager, Northern States, Baltimore, E. C. Caldwell, General Sales Manager, Southern States, Atlanta, Ga., E. D. Heudon, Baltimore, F. Purnell, Grover, N. C. M. M. Jack, Division Manager, J. E. Johnson, Hampton, Va., J. R. Richardson, Durham, J. R. Carson, Greensboro, R. W. Rhodes, South Carolina.

At its regular session this morning besides transacting routine business, the Guilford County Board of Education appropriated $300 towards the erection of a $4,000 school building at Springfield, High Point township, $600 for additional room at Hilltop school in Jamestown township, and $400 for an additional room for Piney Grove school house. Other appropriations were made for the improvement of several other buildings. On September 25th, there will be a big educational rally at Glenwood, one of Greensboro's latest beautiful suburban towns to celebrate the completion of a handsome school building and the opening of school there.

The police this morning captured five negroes and locked them up, awaiting trial before the mayor on a charge of running perambulating blind tigers.

The jail has so many prisoners awaiting trial at next week's term of criminal court, a guard was last night placed around the prison to prevent possible escapes. There are sixty prisoners, some of them charged with murder.

Chief of police Neatley returned yesterday from Columbus, Ohio, bringing with him Lee Kirk, who is wanted here for the murder of "Black Joe" Morehead, and who was arrested some time ago at Columbus by the chief of police at that place. Kirk will be tried at the Guilford term of criminal court to commence here next Monday. Kirk says that he submitted to the office at Columbus because of the fact that he was a murderer troubled him so much that he could rest neither day nor night.

Mr. Joshua Deans of Fenton, moved through the city going to States and other points in New England to visit relatives.

MORE DIVORCE SUITS THAN FORMERLY

New Law Appears to be Favorable to People Suffering Matrimonial Misfits

BLIND TIGER CASES IN SUPREME COURT

Craven County's Affidavit of Them Seems to be Full. Inspection of Food Staff Completed. Promotion of Seaboard Air Line Official. Desire for Police Census. Guaranty Co. Escape Taxation.

Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—The statement was made by a court officer here today that there were more divorce suits in this county under the new law than formerly. He remarked that the lawyers made the evidence to fit the case. The United States government has had a man at work here some days, looking over the list of marriages and divorces in this county. A number of marriages, average about 600 a year and the average number of divorces about 35. The man who wants a divorce is posted, that is, told exactly what to do and divorces are granted in fully three fourths of the cases tried. Such is the statement made by the official in question.

Practically all yesterday's session of the supreme court was devoted to argument to the case in Craven county in which three men were convicted in the lower court of selling intoxicants in violation of the law, that being a dry town, in name at all events. Before it was dry there were 13 saloons and of course each of these had a United States license. Now there are no saloons and yet last year 18 United States licenses were issued and every one of these was renewed this year. The question is being asked whether at New Bern prohibition prohibits. This sort of thing is what the state is trying to break up. Possession of a United States whiskey license is prima facie evidence that the holder is a seller.

It was to be noted that these people are always very careful to put up the $25 for the United States license. In the case of the New Bern men referred to, it is said by officials here that they have gone right on selling intoxicants since their conviction, they having given bond for their appearance. They were convicted in the superior court and were given two year's sentences. On their part they contended that the trial was not fair and that public sentiment was worked up against them, but the state says that this is a bluff.

In the superior court today 3rd district appeals were argued and among the attorneys was Dr. Hughes of Norfolk, who appeared in the case of Branch vs. the Old Dominion Steamship Company.

The inspection of food stuffs by the experts of the State Agricultural Department has been finished. The law requires that after October 1st there is to be a heavy penalty for having in possession any adulterated goods of this kind, for man or beast. There is some adulterated stuff on hand by dealers, but it will all be gotten off by the date named. It is said that none is being shipped in now, the inspections being very sharp indeed.

The rumor was current here today that Mr. Shea of the Seaboard Air Line with his offices in Hamlet, as division superintendent, is to be promoted and made general superintendent of the entire system and that Mr. Nix will go to the Tidewater Railway.

There is some demand for a police census of this city. All sorts of guesses are made as to the population of Greater Raleigh but nobody knows. An investigation is being made of the methods of some of the guaranty companies, which it is claimed escaped taxation. A stockholder, subscribing say $10,000 stock, does not put up the money but takes stock in some other company and puts that up. This stock being taxed, it is claimed only for the company in whose name it stands. It was remarked that this sort of thing might be considered indefinitely and half dozen enterprises use the same stock. If one could not then the whole outfit, except the original one escape taxation.

Chester Runyan Gets 1 Year in Pen.

Special to Journal.
New York, Sept. 11.—Chester Runyan, the defaulting bank teller, who stole over $100,000 and gave a part of the money to Mrs. Carter, who was state's evidence in his trial and was the means of his conviction, has been sentenced to serve years in the penitentiary. The new arrival the warden says is a man of great brain power.

PAINT TAKES THE PLACE OF WHISKEY

Dr. A H Moment Pastor of Presbyterian Church III With Typhoid Fever

A TAX CASE OF SPECIAL INTEREST

Superintendent Harper Busy Making Arrangements for Opening School Rural High School at Cary Has 250 Students. Annual Meeting of Chamber of Commerce.

Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., September 10.—Governor Glenn expresses unbounded pleasure at his visit to Northampton county, from which he returned last evening. Speaking about it he said: "It was one of the biggest trips I have ever had. A royal one in fact. I found the people there prosperous and happy, and not a drop of whiskey is legally sold in the county. The people have turned their whiskey into paint, and bright new houses are seen everywhere. Insurance Commissioner Young today turned into the treasury his August collection, $41,301.73. Rev. Dr. A. H. Moment, the pastor of the First Presbyterian church, here, is sick, his disease being typhoid fever. His many friends here, and he has them among all denominations are much concerned about him. He is one of the ablest preachers in the state, and is a most accomplished scholar, who has travelled a great deal over the world.

To the surprise of the other commissioners, Chairman McNeill, of the Corporation Commission and Secretary Brown came in this morning from Washington, bringing news that the Southern Railway rate hearing there before special Justice Montgomery, would end today. He said that announcement would be made of the next place where the hearing would be held.

Next week in the Supreme court there will be argument in the case from Franklin county which involves the right of a county under the constitution to levy a special tax in order to bring the terms of the public schools up to four months in each year. Just twenty years ago, in the Barksdale case the State Supreme court decided that taxes could not be levied in excess of 66 2-3 cents on the $100 and $2 on the polls. That decision gave a black eye to taxes for school purposes. But things have broadened since that time and now it is contended that such a tax is not only necessary but must be levied to keep pace with public improvements in an educational, as well as in a material way. The State is therefore confident that it will win in this new endeavor. The State itself has tried to aid in every way in keeping the schools open to the four months duty, but as a matter of fact that duty properly devolves upon the counties. The constitution is remandatory. Nothing can be clearer.

The new city superintendent of schools, Francis M. Harper, is very hard at work making all the arrangements for the opening of the eight white schools and five colored public schools, on the twenty-third instant. There are in the white schools 38 teachers and 2,300 pupils and in the colored schools 27 teachers and 1,340 pupils. One new school will open on the date named for the first time and until January the High School Department will be conducted in central public school. When January comes the $25,000 High School building will be opened.

State Superintendent Joyner says that he is notified that the Wake county High School at Cary, has opened, this being the first one established in the State under the new law. It has 250 students. It is equipped with dormitories, school rooms, has ample grounds, there are libraries and two literary societies, the enthusiasm in regard to this school in all that section of the county is notable and encouraging.

This evening the annual meeting of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce and Industry was held for the election of officers. The year's work was reviewed and the excellent results shown along a number of lines; such as the winning of greater Raleigh; the extension of the Street Railway to nearly double the old mileage; the formation of a half million dollar life insurance company; a 25 per cent. increase in the sales of leaf tobacco; and a general awakening of life in many ways. The reports show that nearly 200 private dwellings have been constructed this year in the city and that the city is now a much more attractive place than it was a few years ago.

RALEIGH POLICE MAKES WHOLESALE ARRESTS

Of Keepers Disorderly Houses at State Capital. Must Prove Good Character.

Special to Journal.
Raleigh, Sept. 12.—The police raided the tenderloin district here and made wholesale arrests of keepers of disorderly houses, under the new law which makes all such liable to arrest, puts upon them the whole burden of proving their places to be of good character. One woman was fined $100 paid it, and was immediately released. All are to be tried next Wednesday. This follows the driving out by a citizens' committee of all such women as are on the street.

Oriental Still Ugly.

Special to Journal.
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 11.—The Japanese and Chinese strikers of Vancouver, are making more trouble for their employers and their actions are closely watched for fear they will do great harm to the city.

Prescott Items.

Sept. 11.—We are having it dry now, the crops are suffering for rain. Elder Jesse Bennett filled his regular appointment at White Hill, Saturday and Sunday last.

Mr. M. C. Prescott left for Washington on business Sept. 11. Miss Cassie Aldridge of South Creek visited friends and relatives at Small Sunday last.

Elder St. Clair, the blind preacher is expected to preach at White Hill Wednesday next.

Mr. Thomas and A. F. Edwards visited Mr. Jesse Cayton Saturday night last.

Mr. W. B. Sawyer and son went to New Bern on business Monday last. Miss Lorena Rowe visited friends and relatives of Cove Point Sunday last.

The public school at Small closes Friday next. There is expected to be an address from Hon. John H. Small and a jolly good time.

Asking.

Sept. 12.—The weather continues unusually warm for the time of year. Fodder pulling is the main work going on now.

Miss Claudia Gaskins had a severe attack of diphtheria last week, but is better now.

Among the sick are Mr. Hardy Gaskins, who is having chills, Miss Violet Ipeck is also sick. Mr. Rufus Gaskins has fever.

Mr. Claude Anderson of New Bern is visiting his sister here.

The protracted meeting will begin at Kitt Swamp church next Saturday. Rev. Mr. Pipkin will conduct the meeting until Rev. Henry Jones' arrival Monday night. Every body cordially invited to attend.

The Sunday school at Antioch is preparing for a picnic some time soon. We have a good Sunday school at Kitt's Swamp. We want all that can to come out and help us with our school.

S. S. SCHOLAR.

Robbers Didn't Get Much.

Special to Journal.
Rexford, Mont., Sept. 12.—Two masked robbers held up passenger train on the Union Pacific road. They made only small haul.

and about a hundred under that figure; that more buildings for other purposes have been constructed than ever before in any one year; that the total amount in buildings of all kinds is almost half a million dollars; that all the industrial plants have increased their plants from $1,000 to nearly $30,000; that the amount of sales has increased remarkably; that in the way of new churches, schools, etc., the improvement has kept pace with that along other lines, and that Raleigh intends to maintain its already high reputation as a school center of North Carolina; architects report a notable year's work and so do building contractors. The remark has been made that during the past thirty days by a number of visitors here, that more building was in progress in Raleigh and in its suburbs than they had observed anywhere else. A man from Norfolk, who is in the building business said he was particularly impressed by the fact that a great deal more building was going on here than in his own city.

A great deal of sympathy was expressed here today for the Charlotte Observer because of the fire which damaged its plant to some extent. Governor Glenn wrote a letter to Billie Caldwell in which he expressed his regret at the fire.

Few people have an idea of the extent to which beverages are consumed in drug stores by the literary public. Only two drug stores are mentioned here with flourish, and that is the one at the corner of the city square. It is one of the most popular places in the city for the literary public to go to. It is a place where they can get a good deal of sympathy for the Charlotte Observer because of the fire which damaged its plant to some extent.

OPERA HOUSE SERVICE MISERABLE

Experience of the Opening Night Shows That Some Better Plan Must Be Adopted

SLACK METHODS IN SOUTHEASTERN RY OFFICE

Complaints Bitter and Constant. Report of Committee on Centennial Of $10,000 Told to Be Raised. Filled Tiger Cases Plentiful.

Special Correspondence.

Greensboro, Sept. 11.—Unlike many things here, the opera house management is simply bum. Whether this is due to lack of housing facilities, or is the result of a theatrical trust management or both is a question, but there can be no question of the outrageous of a packed mass of people, ladies, men and children being compelled to be in a crush for half hour at least as was the case last night to gain admittance to the opera house through one door, when there are two doors built for entrance.

Another instance of inadequate facilities can be seen any day or night at the Southern Railway ticket office. Owing to the ten cents penalty passengers have to pay for not having a ticket, those who have been bitten try to get a ticket. With the crowds who buy tickets at the station here now it is next to impossible for the lone ticket seller, try as hard as he can to get around.

This morning one train had to wait for him to get tickets for the crowd going to Jamestown, and another train the one leaving for Raleigh at the same time, carried several passengers who were unable to get tickets. The railway company considering that this city is twice as big as it was when the station was built, and the travel three times as much, should try and have an emergency window and an extra ticket seller. The transient purchase of tickets, is so heavy, the upturn of the office affords but little relief, especially with the hours observed there.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the general committee having under consideration the celebration of the centennial of Greensboro's incorporation next year, the special committee on recommendations was read and adopted. These recommendations suggest that the celebration be had in May beginning Sunday, May 5th, continuing until Thursday night. That $10,000 be raised by subscription or otherwise to make the occasion a proper one. The further making of a plan was referred to the committee, who will make a subsequent report, as to the names of the board of managers, and upon action on this report the whole matter will be referred to a mass meeting of citizens to adopt or reject or amend the plan of celebration and the manner of the campaign necessary to the carrying out of the great undertaking. The celebration will embrace a grand barbecue, floral and other parades, a day at Guilford Battle Ground, the inauguration of the celebration to begin with special religious services in all the churches on Sunday.

Yesterday afternoon Officers Cassey, McCullison, Jefferys and Isely arrested Deaneur Whittle, James Hufkins, Mose Connelly, James Melles and Pearley Greene, all colored on the charge that they bought whiskey from the blind tigers here, and delivered it to any party wishing to make the purchase. These negroes had been suspected for some time, though until yesterday sufficient evidence could not be obtained to make the arrest.

A surprise wedding occurred yesterday at the home of Rev. C. R. McGinnis when Mr. L. B. Wall and Miss Wallace Waynick were quietly married. There was no objection to the marriage, the participants merely using secrecy to avoid the formalities of a home wedding.

The bride is an accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Waynick and has a host of friends while the groom is a valued member of L. A. Andrew and is very popular among the young set here.

The couple left for Jamestown last night, to be gone for several days.

This Week's Selling News.

Special to Journal.
New York, Sept. 11.—The highest price for cotton was 15 1/2 cents. The price for sugar was 11 1/2 cents. The price for wheat was 1 1/2 cents. The price for corn was 5 1/2 cents. The price for soybeans was 15 cents. The price for flaxseed was 18 cents. The price for linseed was 12 cents. The price for cottonseed was 10 cents. The price for rapeseed was 14 cents. The price for sunflower seed was 16 cents. The price for alfalfa was 12 cents. The price for clover was 10 cents. The price for timothy was 12 cents. The price for hay was 10 cents. The price for straw was 5 cents. The price for wood was 10 cents. The price for coal was 12 cents. The price for oil was 15 cents. The price for gas was 10 cents. The price for electricity was 12 cents. The price for water was 10 cents. The price for steam was 12 cents. The price for power was 10 cents. The price for labor was 12 cents. The price for capital was 10 cents. The price for land was 12 cents. The price for machinery was 10 cents. The price for tools was 12 cents. The price for raw materials was 10 cents. The price for finished goods was 12 cents. The price for services was 10 cents. The price for transportation was 12 cents. The price for communication was 10 cents. The price for entertainment was 12 cents. The price for education was 10 cents. The price for health was 12 cents. The price for religion was 10 cents. The price for art was 12 cents. The price for science was 10 cents. The price for literature was 12 cents. The price for music was 10 cents. The price for drama was 12 cents. The price for sport was 10 cents. The price for games was 12 cents. The price for hobbies was 10 cents. The price for pets was 12 cents. The price for children was 10 cents. The price for adults was 12 cents. The price for the elderly was 10 cents. The price for the infirm was 12 cents. The price for the disabled was 10 cents. The price for the poor was 12 cents. The price for the rich was 10 cents. The price for the middle class was 12 cents. The price for the working class was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was 10 cents. The price for the self-employed was 12 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the over-employed was 10 cents. The price for the under-employed was 12 cents. The price for the unemployed was 10 cents. The price for the employed was 12 cents. The price for the self-employed was 10 cents. The price for the part-time employed was 12 cents. The price for the full-time employed was 10 cents. The price for the over-employed was 12 cents. The price for the under-employed was 10 cents. The price for the unemployed was 12 cents. The price for the employed was