

PEACE INSTITUTE HAS 180 STUDENTS

No Formal Opening Exercises on Account of Sickness of D. Moment

MANY HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS NEEDED

Faithful Sunday School Scholar. Electric Railway Company Resume Work. Big Tile Plant Started. Medical School U. of N. C. Starts With Good Prospects.

Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, Sept. 12.—Peace Institute opened today with 180 students, half of them boarders present. There was no formal opening, owing to the illness of Rev. Dr. Alfred N. Moment, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and the absence of Governor Glenn from the city. Mr. James R. Young, chairman of the board of trustees who is such an earnest worker for the school was present, as were several other well known members of the Presbyterian denomination.

The news as to the condition of Rev. Dr. Moment gives his friends, and there are thousands of them, the deepest concern. He has a very severe attack of typhoid fever and is in a dangerous condition. He is a native of Canada and his brother and his daughter, Miss Jella Moment, have been telegraphed for.

Deep regret here is expressed at the death of Dr. P. L. Murphy, who for 25 years has been the head of the great hospital for the insane at Morganton and who has been justly regarded as one of the most accomplished alienists in the United States.

A special worker is engaged in the office of the secretary of state copying records regarding Oaslow county, to replace those destroyed by fire.

When Chairman McNeill of the Corporation Commission was asked where the next hearing in the Southern rate case would be held, he replied that he did not know anything beyond what had been in the newspapers. The Southern has had its hearings and now the side of the state will be heard and is to be very fully presented. It is conjectured that there will be a good deal of spice in this side of the case. In fact there has been no small amount in the hearings so far at New York and at Washington.

State Superintendent Joyner says that the last examination for high school teachers will be held in every county in the state, October 11th and 12th at the respective court houses. He says that a great many are needed, and that in fact not over half these schools have as yet secured principals. The pay for teachers is not less than $40 per month and in some cases exceeds $100. Some of the principals get $1,000 for the 8 months school term. Those who pass examinations can serve in any public schools. At the first examination, which was held in July there were a good many applicants but not so many as were expected and some failed to meet the requirements. The demand for teachers of all kinds was never so marked in the state as at present and the better salaries which are paid are proving a very decided attraction in some sections.

The most faithful Sunday school scholar in North Carolina is the son of Magdalen Robert H. Bradley of the North Carolina supreme court. He has not missed in his attendance in over 15 years and in 20 years has never been sick until this week.

The street railway company today resumed grading on New Bern avenue in order to connect with the new loop line which passes by the Confederate cemetery and extends to the old home.

It is learned that the Street Railway Company in addition to the big work it is now doing in the way of extension within the new city limits which is to be completed by the end of January will extend its line to Crabtree creek on the north of the city and there a park is to be located. Property owners along the line, especially within the city, are liberally willing to contribute to the plan to utilize about six miles of the creek, there being three dams in that section and this will give very fine boating and an opportunity for water sports, etc. Some water power will be available for lighting and other purposes.

Early next year Raleigh will be in the way of getting a great amount of electric power from Rockingham Falls. (Continued on Page Two)

RALEIGH AND PAMLICO SOUND CONSTRUCTIONS

Bridges and a Freight Warehouse Well Under Way. County Superintendent Wray Resigns. Raleigh Will Have a Chapter in the Railway Book—let Settling Forth Her Claim as a Resort.

Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., September 13.—The State Agricultural Department today issued its August bulletin which is devoted to dewberries, this being the running vine blackberry. The matter is prepared by F. C. Reimer, and the bulletin is beautifully illustrated. There is a great deal of money in these berries, as smart people in several sections of the State have discovered. Each year the department bulletins increase in value and become handsomer in appearance and it is no wonder they are in such request and have so much reputation here and in other States.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction announces that County Superintendent J. M. Wray, of Randolph has resigned, that Mr. E. J. Coltrane has been elected his successor. Mr. Wray was an extremely efficient officer and his county has made much progress under his direction. His successor is a scholar and a very able young man.

State Superintendent Joyner, was speaking today about the High School at Cary, this county, which is very proud of the distinction of being the first in the State of what are known as Rural High Schools, it having been formed in May after a speech by Mr. Joyner, there.

The office of the Superintendent is a busy place these days, and he has a hard working force. Today funds were sent out for rural public school libraries as follows: Henderson county 4; Halifax; Clay, Buncombe, Chatham, and Transylvania, 1 each.

A letter to the Superintendent from Pleasant Garden, Guilford county High School, of which O. V. Woosley is the principal, says that on the opening day there were 94 students, of whom 24 were boarders.

C. H. Mebane, of the Educational Department left today for Craven and Pamlico counties to make two speeches on local taxation for public schools.

The news today regarding Rev. Dr. Alfred H. Moment, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who has typhoid fever, was more reassuring.

The freight warehouse on the Raleigh and Pamlico Sound Railway here, now under construction is 30x220 feet. The trestle work leading to this, which is nearly a third of a mile long, was finished today and trains are running across.

Work began today on shops for the Raleigh and Southport Railway in the southern part of the city, on the property where the wagon factory formerly stood; this plant having been burned two years ago. Part of one of the buildings has been used as a veneer and box plant, but the latter is now in new and larger quarters.

Another new veneer plant here, the Raleigh Veneer Company, which makes plain oak and popular veneers shipping all these to New York furniture makers. This plant employs 15 men and turns out 15,000 veneers daily.

The Raleigh and Pamlico Sound Railway is putting in a new steel and cement bridge across Crabtree Creek, two and a half miles north of the city, taking the place of the steel bridge built two years ago. Work is shovel is moving great quantities of earth.

Cotton presents a very peculiar appearance in many of the fields. There are patches where all the leaves have disappeared, leaving the naked plants heavy with bolls, this work having been done by the drought last month and not by insects.

Last night invitations were sent by the Chamber of Commerce to the post master-general, and to the first assistant post-master general to attend the convention of presidential and fourth class postmasters, which is to be held here during Fair week, next month. It is expected that both will be present together with a number of other officials of the department.

Arrangements were made today for a winter resort and the place will

KLONDIKE HAS A NEW ATTRACTION

Lode Located Forty-Five Miles from Sitka. The Find Has Caused the Greatest Excitement Among Settlers. $15,000 Cleared in One Shipment of the Precious Metal.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, September 13.—The gold fever of the Klondike has broken out anew at Sitka, Alaska according to Brig. Gen. George Elliott, commandant of the United States Marine Corps who has just returned from a trip of inspection which took him into the Northwest as far as that point.

General Elliott says a rich vein of quartz has recently been uncovered on an island about 45 miles from Sitka, which yields a heavy percentage of lead gold, and active preparations are being made for its development. As a result of this discovery of gold the force of 45 marines which General Elliott had intended to order to some other point will remain to preserve order in what is rapidly becoming one of the boom towns of Alaska.

The story of the discovery of the gold, as told to General Elliott, is that two Indians, brothers-in-law, were fishing and landed on the island where they noticed some particles of the yellow mineral. These Indians told the news of their find to a Presbyterian clergyman, at Sitka, who represented them in the matter of claims, and the three interested Sitka merchants with them. The company thus created opened the vein of quartz and succeeded in mining and transporting to Sitka in canoes about 90 tons of the ore. This was placed on board the steamer and taken to Seattle, and there reshipped to Tacoma. This one shipment of ore yielded, after the payment of the excessive freight rates prevailing in the locality, over $15,000. With this money the company purchased a stamp mill which will be placed on the treasure which it is taken out.

The knowledge of the find at the island soon became known in Sitka, and the island is now practically all staked out by gold seekers. The size of a claim in this region is 1,500 feet in length and 500 feet in width.

Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., September 14.—The next event here, calculated to arouse public attention will be the trial of the Rowlands for poisoning. But little has been heard of them lately. They have been very quiet in jail and it is said are apparently very anxious for the trial to come off. The State has prepared its case and has quite a lot of evidence which has not before been brought out, either at the coroner's hearing or when the grand jury took up the matter. So far everything has gone against the Rowlands, but their attorneys, who are five in number claim that everything is circumstantial and that the defense will be a strong one. Public opinion has been high as a general thing in this matter though recently it has been a little talked about. The Rowlands have all the time occupied separate cells. The office of Dr. Rowland has been closed since his arrest on the 20th of last May. Mrs. Rowland's sister has been here ever since a few days after the arrest, and one of Dr. Rowland's uncles, Mr. Gill of Vance county, comes to see him every week. The attorneys for the prisoners have not allowed any visiting for a long time, except by visitors. At one time there was a good deal of it.

The number of Freshmen at the Agricultural and Mechanical College is 127 against 75 at this date last year. Lieutenant Young, U. S. A. the cadet instructor, says the Freshmen are a very solid looking lot of fellows and that they do not appear to be any frivolous ones, but they look as if they meant business and will apply themselves to their studies and not throw away their time and money. It is his hope that some time during the term to take the cadet corps on a trip to some point in the State. Last year he wanted to go to Wilmington but the rate named for the trip was so high as to be prohibitory on a great many of the cadets. Of course some of them have money, but many work their way through college and have to make every cent count. Strange to say, the corps has never been seen outside of Raleigh and this respect being quite different from that of other schools of this class.

Among today's visitors were Col. F. A. Jones of Wayneville who came to see the about obtaining convicts for the new Trans-Continental Railway. He says ten millions of dollars has been put in back of this scheme. The law enacted by the legislature gives the road convicts provided certain financial arrangements are made and he wants as many as he can get. Convicts are very scarce these days, and the penitentiary people are put to it to find any. 100 have recently been taken, 50 going to Hyde county and a like number to Elkin, both gangs to do railway construction work.

The Southern Railway authority today finished briefs in the $37,000 fine case and it will be in type for the Supreme court Tuesday, as that entire day will be devoted to this case, which has been advanced and given the right of way on that occasion.

The same counsel appears for the State who appeared in the Superior court at the time Judge Long imposed the big fine which attracted so much attention all over the United States.

Nothing has been heard for some time of the plan of the Seaboard Air Line to build from a point, a few miles west of this city, to one a few miles west of it so as to allow its freight trains to avoid the tangle of yards here and also to save distance.

As yet arrangements have not been made for Raleigh day at the Jamestown Exposition. It was stated two weeks ago that a day would be set apart for this city, probably during the first week in October, but nothing more has been done. It is stated that a day is to be fixed by Commissioner General Fugate of this State. Many hundreds of Raleigh people have been to the Exposition; in fact a guess was made today that $300

FEDERAL COURT FOR WESTERN DISTRICT

To Begin at Wilkesboro Sixty Cases of Blockaders Not All Will be Tried

MANY CRIMINAL CASES TO BE TRIED

In the Guilford Superior Court. Miss Melver to Take Post Graduate Course. Water and Light Commission to Build Fine House For Their Engineer. Against Unightly Bill Boards.

Special Correspondence.

Greensboro, N. C., September 14.—Miss Annie Melver left this morning to spend a week with her mother Mrs. Charles D. Melver, who has charge of the North Carolina Historical exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition. From Jamestown Miss Melver will go to Vassar College to take a post graduate course there. Since her graduation at the State Normal and Industrial College, Miss Melver has most acceptably served as a member of the College faculty.

The regular September term of Federal court convenes in Wilkesboro next Tuesday. There is a big docket there being about 60 cases for blockading to try. Judge Boyd and the court officers are in a quandary as to their accommodations there next week. They have always had comfortable quarters at a private home in Wilkesboro, but Marshal Millikan upon writing to engage these quarters received answer that the home was quarantined on account of scarlet fever. The court officials will probably have to get accommodations in North Wilkesboro, a mile from the court house.

Guilford Superior Court opens next Monday with a big criminal docket to try. There are sixty criminals in jail alone, for a legal crime ranging from retailing liquor to larceny, burglary, and from assault with intent to kill up to murder. There are about 250 cases on it.

There is every prospect of a bill board war here. Spurred by the Civic League, the city aldermen are considering an ordinance declaring bill boards, etc., at certain points a nuisance. James H. West, who has the monopoly of such advertising here has employed attorneys to fight the constitutionality of the ordinance, and there will be a lot of litigation over the matter.

The Water and Light Commission are having built, a commodious residence for the engineer of the water works at Reedy Fork reservoir, nine miles from the city. The house is being built only a few yards from the reservoir, so the family can keep a constant watch over the place and prevent parties from throwing any trash or refuse matter therein.

A meeting last night of the Civic League committee having in charge the plans for the League Carnival was held at the Carnegie library. The generous offer of the Greensboro Electric Company to give the league the free use of the grounds, lights and buildings at Lindsey Park, was accepted and the Kermis will be held there instead of at Fisher Park as was first proposed. The date decided upon for the holding of the affair is Thursday and Friday afternoons and nights of the 19th and 20th of this month. Thursday afternoon there will be theatrical attractions in the casino given entirely by local talent. The occasion will end Friday night with an old-fashioned break-down and other dances in the pavilion at the park. During this time there will be booths scattered all over the grounds with things in the way of edibles for sale. These booths will be in charge of the women and young ladies of the city.

had gone from here to the big show. Some have gone several times. The new rector of St. Mary's Female School here, Rev. George W. Lay is making a fine impression. He is a very active man. He finds the school much improved in every way, for there is more dormitory room and the new auditorium is a very valuable addition.

The news from Rev. Dr. Moment to day was again of a more reassuring character, and there is a marked increase in the hopefulness of his friends that he will recover from this very severe attack of fever, which it is thought was contracted during a visit to a neighboring town, where he drank well water.

After an unsuccessful attempt William Wellman has given up trying to reach the North Pole by balloon this year.

INVESTIGATES IMMIGRATION

Secretary Bruner Goes Abroad In Order to More Fully Understand The Matter

MATERIALLY ASSISTED BY REV. W. S. KEY

Visited England, Scotland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Germany. About Twenty Immigrants Will Arrive in This State About November 1st. Rowland Case Set For November 20.

Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., September 16.—Secretary Thomas K. Bruner of the State Agricultural Department, who is the acting immigration commissioner for North Carolina, returned yesterday from Europe, having been absent exactly two months. It was his second trip abroad. He went first to France and made a three days study of the market gardens around Paris with a view as to getting prices as regards high-class trucking. He says that this market gardening there is a fine art. He talked with the American consul at France as to the advisability of trying to bring any French farmers to North Carolina but was discouraged, the consul saying that Frenchmen are not needed in this country for two reasons; first because the government makes it very hard to get away, and secondly they are doing well there because they are shipping their truck etc. to England and to the North of Europe, growing early vegetables and getting very hard some prices.

Mr. Bruner went next to London, and spent two days there with the agent who looks after immigration matters for the Southern Railway and there made a study of conditions as to English laborers. He went to Lincolnshire and also paid a special visit to Rev. W. S. Key, who is in an adjoining county and who not long ago, went from this State, he being the joint agent in England of this State and of the Carolina Development Company, the headquarters of which are at Wilmington. Mr. Bruner found that there was a good field for work among the English and that they are coming over in numbers. It is expected that the first party will be here in October and another in November, the latter being under the escort of Mr. Key. The latter delivers lectures and makes a very fine impression and Mr. Bruner says he is doing a very good work.

Leaving that part of England, Mr. Bruner went to Scotland and made Edinburgh his headquarters for 18 days, and talked with his representative at that place. He perfected arrangements for the agency system all over Scotland and England as well. He met the fathers and mothers of all the Scotch lads who came here last year and in the hall of St. Matthews Church at Edinburgh gave a lecture and showed 120 stereoscopic views of North Carolina which he had specially made. He said it is the first time he ever knew such views to be applauded, but the people went wild over them. The beauty of the scenery in the State, its variety, the sizes of the fruits and vegetables, etc., struck their fancy. Mr. Bruner says he has arranged for obtaining a number of Scotch lads from the farms and that he will confine the work of immigration to persons from the farms, there and elsewhere. About twenty will be here in eight weeks.

After leaving Scotland he went to Norway and Bergen, met Edward Nelson, who was here some time ago and who is arranging to secure immigrants from Norway, Sweden and Denmark. The movement from that part of the country depends on the attitude of the Hamburg American Steamship line, and if this matter is arranged then these northern countries will be in as thorough touch with this State as are England and Scotland. Mr. Bruner at Hamburg had a conference with officials of this line and also saw them at Berlin, Germany. It is more difficult to get immigrants from Germany than from anywhere else, so strict are the laws. An agent has to be licensed, and the government watches him constantly and if he recommends to any person to go to any particular place and the person so going does not find conditions precisely as represented by the agent all he has to do is to report to any police officer and straightway the agent is arrested to stand, very severely, his license revoked, he goes to prison for two years. Germany, like France, does not want her land to be moved, though her population is in

GREAT PROSPECT FOR THE FAIR

WAREHOUSEMEN U. S. AUTOMOBILISTS

They Claim that Farmers Carry Tobacco to Reidsville Because The Horses are Scared by The Devil Wagons and Chafours Do Not Heed Distress Signals. Political Talk.

Special Correspondence.

Greensboro, N. C., September 16.—The authorities of the Central Carolina Fair, are making great preparations for a record breaker, not only in point of exhibits, amusements, and racing, but in attendance during Fair week, October 15-19th. While the presence of W. J. Bryan on Wednesday will attract an immense crowd, Secretary Garland Daniel declares it will be the means of bringing a bigger crowd on Thursday because he thinks that other features of the fair will be so far beyond what visitors expected all who return home that night will send twice as many more the next day to see the sights. There is not a better learned man on earth at the prospects than Chief Marshal C. O. McMichael, mayor of Madison, editor of the Herald, leading lawyer and politician of Rockingham. Mac is one of the original and never tiring advocates and admirers of William Jennings Bryan, and will take delight in giving him a fine parade. Chief McMichael has just announced the committee to arrange the annual marshals ball. This committee is as follows:

Thomas S. Beall, chairman and chief manager.
H. L. Hubbard, Reidsville.
P. M. Richardson, Reidsville.
M. D. Bailey, Jr., Winston-Salem.
Dr. J. A. Roach, Madison.
Paul Schenck, Greensboro.
Glenn Brown, Greensboro.
Lawrence McRae, Gray.
Gaston Galloway, Mount Airy.

Rev. Dr. Henry Battle, former pastor of the First Baptist Church in Greensboro, has been a welcome visitor the past few days. He has just finished freighting his household goods to his new home at Kinston, where he has accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church.

The tobacco warehousemen here are fighting against the automobile owners. Claim is made that the great number of autos touring on the fine macadam roads leading into the city, is having the effect of causing farmers who usually bring tobacco for sale here to go to Reidsville, and other markets where the scaring things are not troublesome. Complaint is made by these farmers that the automobilists do not heed the signs for them to hold up and give the excited teams a chance to get acquainted, but speed by apparently enjoying the predicament of the driver and the torture of the crazy "criters." Prosecutions against these automobilists for violating the State law, are being seriously considered by the warehousemen.

A bit of political gossip relating to the gubernatorial, brought from Raleigh last night, was that it was being persistently rumored in Raleigh, and at other places in the State, that his friends would induce Major Charles M. Stedman, who made such a close race for the governorship two years ago, to get in the race for governor against Craig, Horne, and Kitchin. When asked about this rumor this morning, the gallant old soldier of democracy and the Confederacy acknowledged that many friends had written and spoken to him on the subject, but that he had most positively assured every one and declared it to be publicly stated, so that none could misunderstand, that he would not under any circumstances be a candidate, but that in order all circumstances he was strong for Mitchel for governor and should aid in helping him get it, with such influence he possessed.

Creating while that of France is particularly at a standstill.

At the next term of Superior court here at which the Rowlands are to be tried, Judge Long will preside. The Rowland case is not his business.

The news today from Rev. Dr. Alfred H. Moment, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who has typhoid fever, was more reassuring.
