A peculiar structure was brought in the Journal office which was dug up in the excavation for the new coun ty jail. It is quite almost too large in circumference for the bone of a human being, yet it has the appearance of a bone or some kind of light calcareous substance of the nature of animal or human bone. But if its human, how came it there?

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Simpkins have been in Norfolk this week in attendance at the Bible House Convention. This was the first general convention that this comparatively new creed has had, but there were many present, manifesting great interest in the proceedings. Since the appearance of the Au tumnal coolness in the weather some people have commenced to speculate on the date of the arrival of Jack Frost. In this connection Dr. R. H. Lewis, informs the Free Press that the first frost last year, was on October 12th, and the first "killing" frost about two days later.-Kinston Free Fress 4th. (Ed.) The first frost at New Bern was about October 15th. M. Spencer. One anything else but for himself, meant anything else but Mr. Southey Waters, of near Maysville, was a caller at the Journal office Friday. Mr. Waters says that the hog cholera is raging in his neighborhood. He has lost about forty head of hogs and that several of the neighbors have lost theirs. Mr. Waters says that the corn crop is fairly good, but that cotton will be short. The hay crop, he says, is abundant, and the good weather has been very favorable for saving it. He thinks that $23 a ton will be a dream next season. Mr. John DePorte of Havelock, was in the city, having just returned from a visit to relatives at Holland, Mich. Mr. DePorte came here twenty-five years ago with a colony of Dutchmen, being of that nation himself, and settled at Havelock. The colony didn't thrive for some reason and the colonists either returned to Holland, Mich, from whence they came or becam scattered elsewhere. Mr. De Porte was married at Havelock settled down and has become prosperous He is the only one of the colonists to remain.
