HUMAN CONFIDENCE MORE THAN GOLD CONFIDENCE.

An interesting news item appearing in all the daily papers, is that telling of the gold arrivals from foreign ports at the port of New York. This is a sign of relief in that it gives more money to the banks, but if the New York banks refuse depositors all their money, what value in the way of restoring confidence, does any amount of gold shipped to this country afford?

Every intelligent person in this country understands that the basic conditions are sound. That while the currency is not wholly sufficient to meet every trade exigency when business is on such an expansive scale as it has been yet it was enough to give a tremendous impetus to trade of all kinds. But a shaken confidence leads to money withdrawn from circulation and a restricted force forward in every kind of business.

It is this human confidence that is most needed just now. It is not gold unless the gold be put to use in trade circles, and so best shown that there is a confidence among men.

READJUSTMENT BASIS MEANS RESTORED CONFIDENCE.

The natural result of the Wall street depression, with losses in railroad and bank securities, could not help causing uneasiness in finances at home and abroad. The time was when such a condition might have resulted in pronounced financial distress and business failures throughout this country.

What is to come in all lines of trade, is a readjustment of values. The shock is severe to trade conditions, that has followed the excited money market at New York. It has made people withdraw millions of dollars from circulation, and the effect of this has been seen in the stopping of construction work of railroads and industrial companies.

of this is easily apparent to every thoughtful person. It is because mankind refuses to consider seriously, the thought of today being its last that the world is not better. It is not needed, to so live with the fear of death before one. But in those finer instincts, the truer and nobler purposes, with these in mind, then there can be the incentive to make today one of right living, not in fear, but with the ennobling thought, that it is today that is ours, and to make of it one that shall be a source of heart gratification of the better kind, free from regrets that there has been failure, that at least one good action has been done. It is this making real today, that marks real living. The Divine Being has given man freedom. Death is not revealed, as to its coming. There is so much in the healthy life, that life seems almost endless. What is age? Who is the old person? Does fifty or sixty years, mark the period of middle life? Shall man cease to note current events at four score years? Naturally, the man of fifty must find his limitations, as he has lived his previous life. It is this early learning the right course of living, both in the physical and moral, that is all important. Here is where the parent and teacher are all important, and to impress upon youth this right daily living, marks the wisdom of today.

With the courage of well doing, comes the course, leading to success. The right living of today gives purpose and strength for tomorrow, and so on until the final end, which need have no pressing regrets and wishes for still one more day to clear away mistakes. It is not that mistakes may not occur, but there can be no serious ones committed when the right daily living purpose is before one. 'Live this day as if your last,' and tomorrow comes with the impulse to be true, to be unselfish, to work out some accomplishment, to have no actual regret, for the life has been given to best purposes so far as was possible.

A RAPAHOE.

November 7. Unfavorable weather and poor crops have retarded the progress of this town, but notwithstanding that, our people have borne their misfortunes with great fortitude. It will take the farmers two good seasons to recover what they have lost.

Our three merchants are doing good business. Trade is fair. Mr. J. W. Rawls has greatly improved his place by the erection of a large barn.

Interest in educational matters still keeps up and the schools are having increased attendance. The school is ably conducted by Prof. Miles. Mr. Ira Brinson, of this place, and Miss Saffie Broughton, of Johnson's Creek, were united in marriage last Sunday. Rev. J. W. Tyndal officiating.

Tarif Bounties.

To hear a Republican candidate for office speak of 'a bounty in the shape of a customs duty,' is altogether refreshing. But it has come to this at last. Customs duties are odious bounties. Some of them are 'needless.' Others are 'destructive.' In his recent speech at Waltham, Mass., Governor Guild said: 'A good example of a needless duty is the duty on hides, which affords no protection to any industry whatever, and is not needed for any purpose of revenue. A good example of a destructive duty is the duty on wood pulp. We are paying State foresters to restore our forests. We are begging Congress to protect our forest reserves, the head-waters of our rivers alike, as a preventive of drought and a preservative of the water power of our mills. We celebrate Arbor Day annually to encourage tree planting. With absolute inconsistency we put a bounty in the shape of customs duty on the felling of trees, and we are actually threatening the crippling of great industries in the not far distant future by the wanton destruction of the forests on which they directly or indirectly depend.'

There is no more inconsistency in the instances cited by Governor Guild than there was in any other duty on imports, except such as may be properly levied as a tax in order to bring revenue only. The duties on iron and steel and their products; the duties on carpets, on woolen and cotton goods, and other necessary articles, so far as they amount to 'protection' or bounties, to manufacturers, are far worse than those which the Governor of Massachusetts mentions. All protectionism is a system of bounties, and it breeds trusts, demoralization, poverty, and crime. It is infamous. Why not tell the whole truth about it?

Don't be discouraged if other remedies done you no good. Try Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, the greatest helping to suffering humanity. The greatest protective against disease.

ROUND VIEW NOTES.

November 4.

We are glad to note that we are having pleasant weather now since the November winds blew off. Our public school opened today with about 24 pupils under the skillful management of our esteemed teacher, Miss Maggie Emmett.

Mr. McJone, of Newport, was a welcome visitor at Mr. A. T. Garner's Sunday.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Bettie Sharp, who has been quite ill for some time, is convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lewis visited their sister, Miss Mollie Garner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Bible, of this place, have gone on an extensive trip to visit relatives at Raleigh and their Northern home.

Miss Lila Garner, of Newport, was a welcome visitor at Miss Mollie Garner's Saturday and Sunday. Come again, Lila.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mann, of Newport, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Garner Sunday.

Mr. W. R. Taylor and wife were welcome visitors at Mr. D. L. Sharpe's Sunday.

Messrs. Adrian Taylor and Mitt McCabe, of Wildwood, passed through here Sunday.

Mr. Philomena Gible, of Newport, was visited at Mr. D. J. Hall's Sunday. A large number of our people attended the burial of Mrs. Nancy Guthrie at Gale's Creek cemetery Sunday, whose death took place at Morehead City Saturday.

THIRD TERM. The Bangor, (Maine) News, a Republican Journal, gives its fellow Republicans, who advocate a third-term for Roosevelt, the following nut to crack: 'No matter how one may attempt to disguise or sugar-coat the situation, if Roosevelt is nominated and elected next year, the result will be a third term for this particular individual. The serving out of the unexpired term caused by the death of McKinley, counts as one term in law and in logic, and no hair-splitting or chip logic can get around the fact. The term which the President is serving is his second. Should he receive another election, it will be for a third term.'

BINGHAM SCHOOL.

Distinguished Students—Y. M. C. A. Candy Pulling—Restrictions on Football.

Delegates—Old Fashioned Bingham School, Mebane, N. C., Nov. 7.—The monthly report for Bingham School shows a high average in scholarship and deportment. The military system, under the efficient direction of Col. E. A. Roads is meeting with universal approbation. The handsome new uniforms for the cadets are about ready for delivery. The students distinguished on studies and conduct in the order of their standing are as follows: I. Gray, B. Gray and Morrow; C. Craig and A. Crawford; Messrs. Bell, Andrews, Glenn, Merrill, A. Reid, Godfrey, McNeil, Parker, L. Ray, C. Taylor, Phares, Young, H. Craig, Caldwell, H. Jones, F. Lynch, E. Martin, W. Moody, H. Marshall and N. Street.

Bingham sent a strong delegation to the Y. M. C. A. Bible Conference recently held at Raleigh. The delegates were Messrs. A. C. Jackson, F. Oates, W. Smith, D. MacRae, R. Caldwell and L. Ray. They returned highly pleased with the conference and with their hospitable entertainment.

Last night, an old-fashioned candy pulling was given to the boys by President Gray. The entertainment was held in the school dining hall and was immensely enjoyed, about one hundred and thirty people being present. Every one was sorry when "tattoo" sounded, and each went home voting that he had had a fine time.

About a dozen students are prevented from playing on the school football team, otherwise eligible, on account of having received under 85 on an average of all their studies. Right restrictions have been thrown around athletics. The games are limited in number and must be held as far as possible on the school holiday.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, 'The Sacred Herb.' Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other, F. S. Duffy.
