

BLIND TIGERS TO THE ROADS

Fines Will Not be Imposed a That is Regarded as no Punishment at all

ROOSEVELT TO VISIT NEW BERN?

Governor Glenn Has Invited The President to Tackle the Wild Hour in Eastern Carolina—More Negroes in School Than Whites—Old Veteran Interested in State Museum—Kitchen Confident of Nomination—Seeking Location of Epileptic Colony.

Special Correspondence. Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 3.—Congressman William Kitchen, of the Fifth District, spent some hours here today. He declares he is quite sure of nomination for Governor by the Democratic Convention next summer, on the first ballot. He says that is the view of his friends in the State. There are intimations that in the spring there are going to be some more candidates for this nomination in the field. From what can be gathered in conversation with persons from many counties, there is no walk over for anybody in this matter.

A party of ladies from New England came down from Pinehurst today particularly to see the colonial relics here, the special attraction to them being the picture of the Edenton Tea Party and other pictures illustrating that feature of colonial life in this State.

Members of the Bickett Commission which has charge of all matters concerning the insane of the State, expressed their desire to bring all the hospitals up to the top notch in point of equipment. Dr. McNeill, of the commission, says that an idea has been to have the colony of epileptics at some point far from any of the hospitals for the insane, but no point has been agreed upon and it is not at all improbable that the location will be near Raleigh as originally agreed upon. The attorney general has been asked to look into the advisability of the location near here on lands bought from the Grimes family last year, the point of inquiry being whether the laws protecting the water shed of the stream which supplies this city with drinking water would permit occupancy. The attorney general has not yet reported on this matter, and is to confer about it with the city officers. The Bickett Commission approves the contracts for the male ward at the Central hospital here and it makes provision for a group of cottages for about 100 of the insane, whose trouble is of mild form, this group of buildings to be of some little distance from the present buildings. The colony plan of handling the insane is in use in several States and has been found very satisfactory.

The prohibitionists here, are very much gratified at the steps the authorities are taking to enforce the law. Bob Riley, the white man who came here from Durham and who sold three half pints of whiskey on election day, is in jail, pending an appeal, as he could not give bond. Fines are not going to be imposed on blind tiger operators, but they are to be sent to the roads in every case. Riley got a six months sentence. This is the plan agreed on. It is the one which is found to be effective.

Yesterday evening a woman in the tenderloin district was arrested on the charge of selling liquor. She said that she had a Federal license, but that it was not displayed. The record No. 10, showing such licenses is to be very closely studied by the authorities here. Those at other points in the State would do well also to keep up with this register.

Governor Glenn has invited President Roosevelt to make a hunting trip with him to the eastern part of the State, to a large game preserve, near New Bern. As yet the President has not replied, but he has informed the governor he is very glad the latter is to be present at the conference to be held by the President at Washington in May with all the governors, to consider preservation of forests, development of waterways and many other vitally important matters. It is supposed that the governor of every State will attend this very notable conference, the first of its kind ever held.

The December report on the city's public schools show in attendance 1,785 whites, 1,085 negroes, exceeding 90 per cent of the enrollment. It is now certain that the High School will not be ready until next autumn.

The National Guard Association of the State, which is to meet in the House of Representatives next Monday will be very largely attended. There are 200 officers, and it is expected that three-fourths of these will be present.

Among the visitors to the city today was a veteran from Davis county, 77 years of age, with hair as black as a crow's feathers. He was in the State Museum, and expressed great interest in the relics of general Bryan Grimes and the old Fourth Regiment, of which he was at first the commander. It was his first visit here since May, 1861. Not long after his regiment was formed it went to Virginia. He said his father was in the legislature of 1844. He was delighted to see the flag of his regiment.

A FIRE RECORD UNSURPASSED

Report of the Chief of Fire Department of Washington Best Made in Years

A GENEROUS BEQUEST MADE

Peculiar Situation of an Insane Man—A Bigamist With Two Living Wives—Dispensary Stock Valued at $1,800—Mineral Department of State Museum Very Attractive—Bandmaster Sousa at Pinehurst

Special Correspondence. Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 4.—Insurance Commissioner Young has a report from Chief J. M. Gallager, of the Washington, N. C., fire department, which makes a remarkably fine showing for last year. The fire department attended 27 fires. The loss was only $400, half of this being a gasoline boat in the harbor. Commissioner Young says perhaps no other place the size of Washington in the State can make so good a report as this. At any rate he would like to hear from the chiefs of the various departments the showing they can make. He finds a decided improvement throughout the State in the way of improved conditions and increased efficiency of fire departments. Under the laws now in force, properly enforced, there are bound to be good results.

Mrs. L. C. Capehart, a daughter of the late Hon. B. F. Moore, of this city, who died this week, gives to the Rex Hospital here $1,500 as a memorial of her mother, who was Lucy Williams Boddie. She bequeaths to St. Luke's Home for Aged Women at Raleigh $1,000. Her estate is valued at $75,000 and is mainly divided among five brothers and sisters.

She leaves her cousin Mary Dickson, of Baltimore, during her lifetime a thousand dollars, but at her death, half of this goes to the Ladies Aid Society of St. James Church at Kittrell, and the other half to the Thompson Orphanage of Charlotte. She leaves to her faithful maid servant Rose Kittrell, $100; to her cook, Charlie Bell, faithful for ten years $300; and to her man servant $100. These three being colored.

There is a very curious case in the insane hospital here, that of a patient who has two wives. He married in the eastern part of the State during the Civil War, deserted and joined the Federal Army and married in Philadelphia. Both wives are now living and his pension is divided equally between them. Of course he cannot be tried for bigamy as he has no mind at all. Perhaps it is the only case of the kind in the country. One quarter the pension bureau sends a warrant for $36 to the North Carolina wife and the next quarter the money goes to the Pennsylvania wife.

Upon making an inventory of its stock, the Raleigh dispensary finds it to be worth $4,800. There are as yet no arrangements for the sale. The mineral and building stone department of the State Museum, is to be made extremely attractive, and the installation is being made permanent. With derricks the heavy stones are now being hoisted in place, some of them weighing at least 200 pounds and being beautifully polished columns, 8 feet high.

Bucket-Shop Upheld. Little Rock, Jan. 4.—Judge Trieber in the federal court today upheld the constitutionality of the anti-futures law passed by the late legislature at the request of the Farmers' Union.

The decision established a precedent for the southern States.

A firm of Chicago brokers began the test suit, declaring the law to be in violation of interstate commerce. The court declares that the State did not exceed its power in enacting the statute as a police regulation to protect the morals of the public.

DEWEY MUST SERVE HIS TIME

Gov. Glenn Has Good Reasons for Declining to Pardon the Embroiling Cashier

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 3.—Governor Glenn refuses to pardon ex-cashier Thomas W. Dewey, convicted of embezzling $130,000 of funds of the Farmers and Merchants Bank at New Bern. The Governor says Dewey was convicted of embezzlement two and a half years ago, and sentenced to six years in State prison. On account of certain conditions surrounding this case, I do not desire publicly to give any reasons for my action, further than to say that after a careful examination, I cannot see my way clear to grant the application for pardon and therefore am compelled to decline.

Wards Mill News

Special Correspondence. Wards Mill, N. C., Jan. 6.—Mr. Geo. Lovick's wife and his sister, with their several small children, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury a few days ago. They were intending to make a journey in a farm cart. It seems that in shifting the cart, Mr. Lovick got his wheels turned around the hind part, before, and never discovered the mistake. The women and children got in and started, but about a half mile on the road, a wheel ran off. This frightened the horse and he began to run and kick. All the women and children were thrown out, except one little girl, who clung on. In a few hundred yards the other wheel came off. Still the child held on for half a mile or more further, when she was flung out but escaped unhurt, which was remarkable. The horse ran on for a couple of miles, when he became tangled up in the harness and shafts and had to stop. When released he had nearly choked to death.

Special to Journal. New York, Jan. 6.—The second trial of Harry Kendall Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, began in the court of criminal sessions today. A venire of 100 men was called but were dismissed with but one man, having been taken. It is alleged that these men had been approached by parties interested in the defendant's cause and an offer of money was made. This claim however, could not be substantiated. The personnel of the lawyers is changed considerably from the former trial. In the place of Delmas, Thaw's leading attorney in the first trial, is Martin Littleton. Daniel O'Reilly, Thaw's personal friend and adviser is also one of the counsel. The case is being heard by Judge Dowling. The principal witness sat in the court room apparently absorbed in their one great cause. Both are looking well and are cheerful.

Weekly Trade Report. Richmond, Va., Jan. 3.—Bradtreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Trade this week is moderate in practically all lines, the attention of dealers being principally confined to taking inventories and preparing samples for travellers. For the last two months of 1907, trading was curtailed to practically all lines, but to offset this during the first three quarters of the year the volume of trade was large, making the total for the year measure well up to the average. Buying recently has been conservative and stocks have been much reduced, for this reason prospects are bright for a satisfactory spring trade. Holiday trade, while not equal to the unprecedented record of 1906, was equal to an average of other recent years.

Lumber continued in small demand but contractors expect a resumption of building in the near future, factories in this and other lines, have or are preparing to re-open, produce is in good demand considering the season and prices are satisfactory. Loose tobacco sales have been closed for the past week, but prices received this season have been satisfactory and dealers expect higher prices for the remainder of the crop as factories have used up. Little change is reported in the condition of the cotton market. Money is more readily obtained in many localities, but collections continue backward.

Glenn Thanks Hughes. Special to Journal. Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 4.—Governor Glenn wrote to Governor Hughes of New York, thanking him warmly in the name of North Carolina for refusing to accept bonds repudiated by this State in order to bring suit for them.
