

MRS. EDDY'S CHAIR AWAITS

Return of Christian Science Leader. Manifestation Watched For by Students.

New York, Jan. 5.—Students of Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, the excommunicated Christian Scientist, who has announced her belief that Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy will soon return from the grave and give a "manifestation" that will startle the world, are daily expecting Mrs. Stetson to announce that she has seen and talked with Mrs. Eddy.

At the Stetson home, on West Ninety-sixth street next door to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, which Mrs. Stetson built seven years ago, is a vacant chair, reserved for the appearance of Mrs. Eddy. In this chair, students of Mrs. Stetson say, Eddy's spiritual body has already rested on several occasions, though that was several months before her death and while the Mother of Christian Science was in retirement at her home in Brookline.

According to the testimony of several of Mrs. Stetson's students in Boston last year, while she was on trial for heresy, meetings presided over by Mrs. Stetson were held in an upper room of West Ninety-sixth Street, at which all present fixed their thoughts on the empty chair and exerted a thought force which was supposed to compel Mrs. Eddy to project her spiritual being through space to the empty chair. These students also told "of mental" visits of Mrs. Eddy to the Stetson home.

Mrs. Eddy's last visit to the Stetson home was many months ago, but the same chair is still ready, and those who believe as Mrs. Stetson does say that within a week they expect either to see Mrs. Eddy themselves or learn from Mrs. Stetson that the latter has seen and conversed with the late high priestess of Christian Science.

For the last few days many of Mrs. Stetson's students out of town have been coming here, firm in the belief that they too, will be able to witness the "manifestation" or "resurrection" of Mrs. Eddy.

NOW FACES TREASON CHARGE

Filipino Official May be Tried For Pro Japanese Speech. Doubt Expressed.

Washington, Jan. 6.—War Department officials yesterday discussed the practicability of punishing Felipe Buencamino, the Filipino Assemblyman, who declared before the Philippine Legislature yesterday that the Japanese would possess the Philippines by April next, on the ground that his speech constituted treason. Doubt was expressed, however, as to whether it could be done under United States laws.

Felipe Buencamino, whose name, when anglicized, is "Philip Good Roads" is well known to every army officer who has served in the Philippines. He bears the reputation of being an orator of ability. He came to the United States and "stamped" the country in behalf of the Filipino insurgents against American rule.

The jury was out forty minutes and the trial lasted but a portion of one day. In addition to the 12 years he will have to stay in prison until the cost of his prosecution has been paid by prison service. He showed no emotion when the verdict was read or when the sentence was pronounced.

Hitchcock Gets Reports on Postal Savings Banks.

Washington, Jan. 6.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the postal savings banks, held at the office of Postmaster General Hitchcock yesterday, somewhat fragmentary reports of the first day's operation of the postal savings banks throughout the country were received. The reports, although incomplete, were sufficient to convince the members of the board that the plan worked out successfully and with practically no difficulty.

Mr. Hitchcock wired the postmasters in each state in charge of a postal bank to telegraph a detailed statement of the first day's business, and it is expected that a summary of these telegraphic reports will demonstrate that the new governmental banking institution is an unqualified success.

HOUSE AFFAIRS TAKEN TO TAFT

Reapportionment Discussed by Crumpacker and Campbell States Separate Duties.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Reapportionment of the next house of representatives under the new census was the subject of conference at the white house Wednesday when representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, chairman of the house committee on the census, talked the matter over with the President.

At the same time representative Campbell, of Kansas, came to the white house with an entirely new idea. He wanted the membership of the house arbitrarily fixed at 225, the number not to vary under any circumstances, even though the population of the country doubles.

Mr. Campbell said he was waiting to see a draft of the Crumpacker bill before deciding whether he would introduce a bill putting an absolute limit upon the representatives which the State shall forever have.

The Kansas would take all the business with the co-ordinate branches of the government out of the hands of the congress and place the duty of looking after such matters in the hands of state agents, one for each state.

"This would make statesmen out of our congressmen, instead of politicians," said Mr. Campbell. "It would leave them free to study statecraft; it would make them what the constitution intended they should be."

When told about the plan of his colleague, Judge Crumpacker was not favorably impressed. He said it would not work. He said that the house of representatives must be a big body else it would not perform its function as provided for in the constitution—that of reflecting the sentiment of the people.

MORGAN AS HONDURAS' BOSS

Report That He Will Lend That Country $10,000,000.

New Orleans, Jan. 7.—That Gen. Manuel Bonilla, Honduran rebel leader, today holds the key to the key to the Central American republic as the result of his capture of Ruanan Island is confirmed in dispatches from Puerto Cortez. The prospect of immediate intervention of the reported deal by which J. P. Morgan & Co. assumes the indebtedness of the Honduran Government is apparently the most vital question being discussed in Central America and the foreign colony here. President Davila has commissioned government agents to negotiate finally with the Morgan syndicate the proposed bonding of the national debt.

It is stated in authoritative quarters in Wall Street today that the proposed loan to Honduras, to be floated by J. Pierpont Morgan, will be only $10,000,000, instead of $40,000,000 as first reported. The negotiations for the loan have not been closed.

They came and saw and everybody says the 'Piercing Arrow' Sale at J. J. Baxter's is the greatest ever. Come with the crowd and get the pickings.

Farmers Buy Too Much.

In the supplementary bulletin just issued from the State department of agriculture and gotten up by State agronomist J. L. Burgess, very valuable and significant estimates are made of food products shipped into North Carolina that ought to be grown by the farmers of the State. It shows that not less than 80,500 tons of mill feed values at $1,368.00 came into the State, $4,227,886 worth of wheat and flour; $6,877,148 worth of cured meat; $1,123,166 worth of corn and oats; $221,875 worth of hay; $49,655 worth of butter. The conclusion reached in this special investigation, as expressed by Agronomist Burgess is that every farmer should make it a point to at least raise his own home supplies, no matter to what special crop his lands and section may be especially adapted.

TO EXTEND THE WATERWAY

Party Returning Through Norfolk Tell of Trip. Party Much Impressed.

Norfolk, Jan. 9.—Norfolkians who attended the celebration of the opening of the first link of the inland waterway near Morehead City Friday returned Saturday.

They spoke very highly of the celebration and were enthusiastic over the possibility of extending the canal to Norfolk thereby providing a free inland route from the Chesapeake Bay to Beaufort Inlet.

Mr. Wolcott said the next step ought to be the completion of the canal to Norfolk and that waterway advocates here should do their best to so impress Congress that it is the most important link that could be constructed. He said it would open up a free protected route southward for vessels from Norfolk, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Annapolis and other cities and towns on the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries.

The party is making the entire return trip from Morehead City to Washington by water, this now being possible since the opening of the new canal. There are two canals between Norfolk and the Albemarle Sound but they are not free waterways, both being owned by private corporations.

Congressman F. C. Stevens, who is a member of the Washington party, is the representative from Minnneapolis district and a member of the commission of Congress appointed to investigate inland water routes in America and Europe for a comparison of the developments of the two continents.

Mr. Wolcott said members of the Congressional party were very much impressed with the topography of the Eastern Carolina section. The wildness of the swamps and woodlands attracted their attention and a four-hundred-pound bear killed on the banks of the canal aroused their curiosity. The brute was taken aboard one of the vessels.

WATERWAY OFFICIALLY OPENED

Towns of Eastern North Carolina Hold A Great Celebration. Distinguished Guests Present.

The blue sky of North Carolina, the cool winds and hospitality of three towns, Beaufort, Morehead City and Oriental, welcomed three thousand people to the banks of the new canal of the Inland Waterway connecting Beaufort harbor and Neuse river.

These people were carried to the place by fifty six steamers and motor boats; many coming also from the neighborhood. The celebration site was midway in the canal and on the high ground and on the spot still occupied by the primeval forests. From New Bern went the Naval Reserves' boat, the "Elfrida" with the Naval division and invited guests. The houseboat of Mr. W. B. Blades, Esq., carried a party of business men and the "Spartan" also carried its quota. A number of other boats left this port for the scene. The torpedo boat "DuPont" carried the Naval Brigade from Oriental any many guests.

At Morehead City the revenue cutter "Pamlico" met the congressional delegation which arrived by rail, and welcomed them by a congressional salute from its guns. A big flotilla carried a crowd from this end to the scene of the celebration and the nine miles at this end of the course was presented an animated marine scene. The canal has already been fully described in these columns but it remains to be said that the beautiful steel swinging bridge on the Beaufort highway was greatly admired by all. The two fleets met upon the scene about noon and the celebration of an oyster roast and much speaking lasted for four hours. It was a great and impressive sight and beyond the expectations of all. The list of speakers was national in its breadth, including Congressman Ransom, of Louisiana, Congressman Sparkman, of Florida, Congressman Small, of North Carolina; Congressman Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania; and Congressman Stevens, of Minnesota. New England was represented by Joe Mitchell Chappell, of the National Magazine published at Boston, Mass. and Baltimore was represented by Joseph E. Besty, of the Baltimore American. The city of Norfolk was represented in the absence of Mayor Reddick by Harry K. Wolcott.

The State press had for its spokesman Edward Brittan, of the Raleigh News and Observer. Chas. L. Abernathy spoke for the Reception Committee and H. L. Gibbs for the town of Oriental. The city of New Bern was ably and elegantly spoken for by Sam L. Brinson who, in his concluding words eulogized the authors of this great work. Capt. Earl I. Brown told of the difficulties of the undertaking and declared the canal officially opened. Congressman elect John M. Faison spoke for his district. All the speakers were happily introduced by Senator F. M. Simmons, who gave due credit where credit was due, and no one seemed more full of joy at this great enterprise which is sure to be of untold benefit to his State and he also predicted a wonderful future for his ancient city of New Bern.

Perhaps the most important speeches made were by Congressman Sparkman, the future chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee and the three other members of the committee who were present. They all promised continued support to the Inland Waterway and Moore, of Pennsylvania, advocated 18 feet depth from Boston to Beaufort at an estimated cost of $75,000,000. Congressman Ransom also advocated $50,000,000 annually with a minimum depth of 12 feet. The absence of Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, caused by illness, was much felt but he was given full credit for his labors in this work by Senator Simmons and others.

At 4 o'clock the two fleets were speeding north and south carrying the great assemblage to its near and distant homes. The cutter "Pamlico" continued its course north and will arrive in Elizabeth City today, where the citizens of that place will welcome the distinguished guests of the State. The day was a memorable one in our history and in the beginning of new developments and prosperity in all the vast territory of Eastern North Carolina.
