THE THIRTIETH MILE POST.
 As a matter of personal note, the Journal points to the fact that with this issue it begins the thirtieth year of its Daily publication, and the thirty-fourth year of its Weekly publication. In this connection, the writer has been the proprietor and editor of the Daily publication for just one half of this time, fifteen years, of course the longest time of both publications than any previous proprietor has enjoyed.

During these years, the Journal has received a generous local patronage, that has always been appreciated and in return there has been the careful attention given to the wants of advertiser and subscriber, a just equivalent, while as an advocate for the betterment and advancement of the best interests of the community, the Journal has ever been conspicuous.
 With this turning into a new year the Journal needs to make no promises. Its previous course has received the endorsement of its patrons, and this being true, the pursuance of this same course means a continuation of the same liberal support, and the Journal proposes to warrant by its course, the public approval of its present patrons and all new ones.

FASCINATION FOR THE JUST BEYOND.
 The chase of will-o'-wisp is not an exclusive childhood game, nor has the quest of the Golden Fleece been left to the dark ages. It may be man's speculative nature to see in something some distance away just what he wants when a better article lies at home, within reach.

In nothing is this seeking after what is at a distance better illustrated, than those instances constantly presenting themselves in this city, where the outsider can come here and sell almost any thing, when the same article may be purchased or through local dealers. Going beyond the merchandise, how much New Bern money has gone into outside industries and outside land investments, not a dollar of which could have been secured for local enterprises or investments?

Last week two sellers of lots, on Long Island and at Norfolk, were in this city, offering most attractive inducements to purchasers here. It is not that possibilities in these may not actually exist, in the way of being good investments, in buying these lots. Admitting this to be true, yet this money sent from here means so much less local circulation, and that much loss to the financial strength of this community. It is hard in some places to force people to a just appreciation of the sporting phrase to "bet your money at home." Where this is done, putting money made right back into the community where it came from, there is going to be an increased community development and growth that will be surprising. Making money and sending it abroad for investment often brings big results, but probably it is often proves a loss, for once away it is subject to another's handling, and so beyond the investor's control. Take the great cities, they become so because, first, of the local confidence, that brought and sold, invested and re-invested at home, and at the same time sent money to bring it home.

THE SOUND SLEEP OF GOOD HEALTH.
 Cannot be overestimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southern, Eau Claire, Wis. says: "I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me."—F. S. Duffy.

Thought It Was Serious.
 The burning of the famous Greyfriars church in Edinburgh occurred one Sunday morning, and the young people of a house which backed upon the churchyard were among the first, as they were preparing to start for church, to observe the flames. It was the housemaid's Sunday out, and old Kitty, the cook, was that day responsible for her duties. Hearing unwonted commotion and excited outcries upstairs, she came panting and hobbling up from her basement kitchen, crying anxiously at each stair: "Oh, what is it? What is it?" "Oh, Kitty, look here!" cried one of the girls from a window. "Greyfriars church is burning up!" Kitty dropped flump on a settee. "Is that a' miss?" she grumbled between gasps. "What a fright ye gude me! I thought ye said the parlor fire was out."—Youth's Companion.

NEWS FROM MESIC,

Pamlico County, March 31st.—Will send you a few words to be published, as I have not seen any thing from Mesic lately.

We are having fine weather, every body at work. Our farmers are getting ready to make more money. Farming is the sweetest life yet, and more money in it than anything else. Boys go to farming.

We have a fine school at Mesic Academy, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Caraway are the teachers, they are fine and are liked by all the people.

We have a fine debate at the Academy every Saturday night. Mesic will send out a lot of preachers and lawyers after a while.

We have been having preaching for a week by Bro. R. V. Caraway, from Hyde county. Every body enjoyed his work.

Prof. Tom Lindsey recited at Mesic Academy. The house was full and a few on the outside. The two hours and over were enjoyed by all those who heard him.

Get right boys for your base ball team, Mesic is carrying her end of it, we won the pennant last summer and are expecting it this summer.

We have a C. B. H. Lodge at Mesic, it is growing fast, new members nearly every meeting. Wish it much success.

Mr. W. H. Wheelington, has gone to the Kinston hospital to be operated upon for appendicitis. He has been ill for several weeks. Hope he will get along well.

Much success to the Journal.

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMPS?

No, never. It is foolishness to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and low lands. These are the malarial germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malarial from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Locama, N. C., "and I've had this health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy on ly, 50c at all druggists.

Flowers and Scents.

Some flowers appear to change their scents at different times. The common jasmine flowers when first opened have a delicate, fresh perfume which, after a time, becomes grosser and attracts bluebottle flies. Flowers of the orchid Odontoglossum heteranum have a cinnamon fragrance and a lavender scent at different periods of their bloom.

FOR CONSTIPATION.

Mr. L. H. Franham, a prominent druggist of Spirit Lake, Iowa, says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me of constipation." Dr. Franham writes: "I have used it for years and it is the best medicine I have ever used for constipation." The undersigned is the proprietor of the
