FOR RECORDERS COURT

HON. WHITEHEAD KLUTZ FAVORS IT.

Hon. Whitehead Klutz has the following to say in reference to what Rowan county Recorder's Court has done:

"I take pleasure in saying that the Rowan county Court has worked well and has given general satisfaction. Before the court was established our civil docket was one of the most congested in the State, and it took two years after issuing summons to reach a case for trial (Craven county is in the same fix today). We have two weeks of superior court, the first week being for civil and criminal and the second week for criminal cases, and the criminal cases frequently took practically the entire two weeks and court would adjourn at times without reaching the civil cases at all. Now we get through with the criminal docket always the first week and frequently in three days or even less. The civil action can be tried in a year at most, and we are shortening the time constantly. I will add that figures cannot adequately express the economy affected by the success of this court. They cannot tell the story of the saving in jail fees where a defendant gets an immediate trial instead of staying in jail 3 months, for instance, nor can they express the convenience to witnesses of getting a case off in a day instead of waiting around a week, as was often the case before. The fines collected by this court have been on the whole larger than those collected by the Superior Court in like cases. It has always seemed to me these courts with their large jurisdiction, should be county courts, with records kept in the court house, and likewise that they should be uniform throughout the State."

CLEMENT MANLY'S ENDORSEMENT.

Mr. Clement Manly, of Winston-Salem, who for many years a resident of New Bern, writes as follows in regard to what the Recorder's Court has done for Forsyth county:

"I presume it is unnecessary to say anything in regard to its establishment as a great help in the administration of justice. Formerly such courts were likely unnecessary, but now with an increased population in towns, it is absolutely essential that men have a speedy hearing of their cases, and not be made to suffer for the charge for any length of time without trial. As a great saving in a financial way, it is proved quite remarkable. The court is the creature of the city, and therefore it takes from the county the expense of trying a large preponderance of cases, by the employment of a solicitor, to whom we pay $50 or $75 per month, and the charging of a $2 solicitor fee in each case, the receipts have paid the entire expenses of the court and police force, and its results also show that the fines going to the school fund under the constitutional provisions have not been decreased. So in every respect, it has proved quite a good thing. The Judge and Solicitor of the Court are good lawyers and are clean, upright fellows, and have the confidence of the community, and the Court has the confidence of the community."

WHO IS PROMOTER OF RECORDER'S COURT?

For some reason the "editorial columns" of the afternoon paper has for some time made an attack upon the lawyers of New Bern in reference to the establishment of the Recorder's Court, especially the young lawyers. They have stated from time to time that the movement to establish a Recorder's Court originated with the lawyers and was simply gotten up to give one of them a job.

The last Board of County Commissioners, in its report to the board of magistrates, recommended the establishment of a Recorder's Court. Does he mean to charge that these honorable men made this recommendation for the purpose only to give "somebody" a job?

The last grand jury, of which Mr. William B. Blades was foreman, recommended the establishment of a Recorder's Court, stating that they believed it would save the tax payers money. Does he mean to charge that these honorable gentlemen made this recommendation for the purpose only of giving "somebody" a job? The October grand jury, of which Mr. O. H. Perry was foreman, made the recommendation that a Recorder's Court be established, believing that it would save money to the tax payers. Does he mean to charge that these gentlemen had any other purpose in mind in making this recommendation than the welfare of the tax payers of Craven county? Does he or any moment mean to imply that these men made this recommendation to give "somebody" a job?

The above is exactly how the movement for the establishment of a Recorder's Court started in the city of New Bern. After these three honorable bodies made the above recommendations, Mr. R. A. Nunn, the Representative from Craven county, suggested that a petition be circulated in New Bern simply to find out what the majority of the tax payers felt about the establishment of this court. Two hundred and nineteen of the largest tax payers in New Bern gladly signed the petition, requesting the last legislature to pass the act to be submitted by Mr. Nunn. On the strength of these four suggestions, the board of county commissioners, the last two grand juries and the petition, Mr. Rom Nunn passed the bill with the proviso that the voters of the county should have an opportunity of ratifying the same.

And yet the Editor of the afternoon paper claims that the whole thing is

OLD NEWSPAPERS.

Their Usefulness is Not Gone Just Because You Have Read Them.

The mere fact that moths cannot read is no reason why they should be destroyed. It isn't exactly the newspaper or its editorial policy that moths dislike. It's the ink used in printing the type that makes the moths stay away. That is why, in the absence of mothproof bags and cedar chests, some housewives pack their furs and woollens away wrapped in newspapers at the end of the winter season and find that in a satisfactory way of preserving them against the ravages of moths. There is nothing better than old newspapers for use under the carpets for the same reason.

Old newspapers have many other uses as well. Wet in water they serve to clean out the stove splendidly. Crushed newspapers are excellent to clean lamp chimneys. They can even be used for an iron holder for an emergency.

Newspapers dipped in lamp oil are useful for cleaning windows. Irons not much soiled can be rubbed on old newspapers and thus made fit for use. Dipped in lamp oil they are splendid to rub the outside of the dishpan. They keep it bright and shining. Torn in shreds, slightly dampened and scattered over the carpet, they keep down dust when sweeping. They clean the sink of its grease and sediment. Nothing is better for the greasy paper can be at once burned after use.

Many times folded newspapers will serve as a mat to stand hot and blackened pots or kettles on and save soiling the kitchen table. The kitchen stove is kept bright after the cooking of each meal with old papers, and this saves many polishings.

framed up to give "somebody" a job. Should this bill be ratified by the voters, the officers of the court would be elected by a joint meeting of the County Commissioners and the Board of Aldermen. At the next general election the same officers would be elected by the vote of the people in the same manner that the sheriff, clerk and register of deeds are now elected.

And yet he says it is framed up to give "somebody" a job. The people who are in touch with the real situation have long since come to the conclusion that, to use the vernacular of one of our distinguished editors in the State, somebody has been "hit with a pone."

Wonderful Animalcules.
Of all the minute creatures that inhabit this globe unseen by the naked eye there is none so astonishing, according to the Scientific American, as the little living things that live in stagnant water. They are called slipper animalcules, or, as the scientist has it, the paramoecium. These tiny, invisible things develop so rapidly that if they were able to live through 350 generations they would crowd every other living thing off the face of the earth and form a mass larger than the planet itself. Should they go on reproducing until the nine hundredth generation these little creatures would form a mass large enough to crowd the moon and stars and even the sun entirely out of space. Luckily for us this is not possible, according to nature's decree. The paramoecium dies after it has attained the one hundred and seventieth generation, and so the awful possibilities are checked off its multiplying to fill the universe.

PUZZLED THE LINGUIST.

A Hindu Dialect Story That Appeared in the London Times.

John Walter of the London Times once found a unique way out of a difficulty brought about by a strike of compositors and pressmen. At the critical moment, it appears, the "copy" fell short by half a column. There was none at hand ready to utilize, and time pressed. It was really an inspiration that came to Walter. He had the idea of a column of "p" (spelled type that has been reset in a jumbled mass to facilitate distribution back into the type cases) and prepared it in the most expeditious way, so that it might pass muster for an article in a foreign tongue. He ran it off with a few lines of introduction, stating that this incomprehensible mass was a paper in some Hindustanee dialect, translation of which would follow in due course. No translation, it is superfluous to say, ever appeared.

Many years later, long after Walter had forgotten this incident, he was visiting in Cheshire, where he was introduced to a most learned pundit and oriental scholar. "Ah," said this gentleman, "I have long and ardently wished to solve a problem that has puzzled me for years." And he drew from his pocket a tattered clipping of Walter's "p." Indicating to the embarrassed proprietor of the Times that the alleged Hindustanee article had baffled his most strenuous and assiduous efforts to decipher, although he had tried every known dialect of the language. There was nothing for Walter to do but flee, which he did with out ceremony.

MY DAUGHTER WAS CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—I send you here with the picture of my fifteen year old daughter Alice, who was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was pale, with dark circles under her eyes, weak and irritable. Two different doctors treated her and called it Green Sickness, but she grew worse all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking three bottles she has regained her health, thanks to your medicine. I can recommend it for all female troubles.—Mrs. L. A. GORHAM, 1008 Rutland Street, Baltimore, Md.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Style in Speech.
"Do you believe in using words of one syllable?" asked the student of politics.
"Certainly not," replied Senator Sorghum. "Every real gentleman says 'perquisites' instead of 'graft'."—Washington Star.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by all dealers.

Eyes of the Giraffe.
The giraffe, which is a very timid animal, is approached with the utmost difficulty on account of its eyes being so placed that it can see as well behind as in front. When approached this same faculty enables it to direct with great precision the rapid storm of kicks with which it defends itself.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR RHEUMATISM, KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Lots in a Name.
"Don't tackle the magazines till you have made your reputation." David Graham Phillips once said to a journalist at the Authors' club in New York.
"I once tackled a magazine editor in this room," he went on. "I told him of my high aims. I submitted three stories to him, saying: 'I am convinced I have talent. I know I have a future, sir.'"
"Well," said the editor, yawning, "have it made into a past, and then you'll be able to drive a better bargain with me."

Foley's Kidney Pills contain in concentrated form ingredients of established reputation for the relief and cure of all kidney and bladder ailments. Foley's Kidney Pills are an invigorant, tonic and restorative. Refuse substitutes.—F. S. Duffy.
