SHORT PASSING EVENTS

SATURDAY.

At an election Thursday of the voters of the school district embracing Clarks, a special tax for the school at that place was carried without a dissenting ballot being cast.

One of the assessors was somewhat surprised yesterday when he was listing a beardless youth in overalls, and incidentally asked him if his income was over a thousand dollars, to be met with the hearty response of "yesir."

The first carload of watermelons to be shipped North this season passed through Wilson Thursday enroute from Florida to New York. The dealer who purchased the shipment paid four hundred dollars for the lot. The melons were planted in January and protected during the winter.

Two barges loaded with lumber from the local mills have left this port this week enroute to northern markets. Local manufacturers have gained a reputation all over the U. S. for having the best quality of North Carolina pine and product of their mills is sought for by a large number of dealers.

The people living in the middle and western parts of the State and in the districts through which the great Central Highway is proposed to be run are greatly enthused over the project. Gifted speakers are making eloquent pleas to the people to give their aid to this great project and in fact nothing that could help the movement is being left undone. In this county too there is much enthusiasm on this subject.

A Well Known Man's Opinion.

The Savodine Co., New Bern, N. C. We have derived so much benefit from the use of SAVODINE, that we wish to add our testimony to the list of those already acquainted with its merits.

My wife has been using SAVODINE for quite a while for cold in the head, also has found it a ready relief for CATARRH but above all that, is the fact of its having proved itself invaluable to us for our baby. A short time ago he was taken very sick, and as he would clasp his little hands to his ear. We decided he must be suffering with earache, and realizing that something must be done at once, we put a tiny bit of SAVODINE in his ear covered it with warm cotton and in a few minutes he was sleeping as sweetly as though he had never had a pain. We cheerfully recommend Savodine as we will always feel grateful for what it has done for us.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Again we are called upon to bow in humble submission over the untimely death of a member of our fraternal family. It is said that death loves a shining mark and so it seems when the grim angel entered our ranks and took from us brother Clyde Mattocks, Past Grand and Sect'y. of Brotherhood Lodge No. 284 I. O. O. F., Maysville, N. C., and member of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina. Unassuming and quiet in disposition, he was faithful to every trust, being always in the advance guard when duty called.

Resolved 1. That in his death this lodge has lost one of its closest and beloved members; one who was worthy of the high work which he attained toward mankind and the fraternity. Always working and standing for the best. In his death we tender our sympathy to the bereaved wife, aged mother and brothers and sisters, and commend them to the unflinching goodness of God, the giver of all comfort and consolation.

Resolved 2. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, a copy sent to the bereaved wife, and a copy be sent to the "North Carolina Odd Fellow" and New Bern Journal for publication.

Fraternally submitted,

AFTER LAND OF SKIBO

Congressional Probers Desire To Ask Steel King a Few Questions.

Washington, May 22.—The trust problems of the Democratic House are anxious to ask Andrew Carnegie some questions and have him tell them what he knows about the steel trust. The House committee having in charge the investigation of the United States Steel Corporation has taken steps to insure his presence in Washington before he leaves for Scotland on his annual Summer visit to Skibo Castle. The committee has issued a subpoena which he served upon Mr. Carnegie in New York, a deputy sergeant-at-arms of the House, it is said, already has gone there for that purpose.

Other men high in the industrial and financial world will be summoned before the committee. This will include J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles M. Schwab and Henry C. Frick and their testimony it is considered, will be of much value to the investigators.

The resolutions of Representative Stanley for the investigation resulted in the appointment of a committee of nine members of the House, who were instructed to make a sweeping probe of the steel trust, its relations or affiliations with independent steel companies and its relations with the Pennsylvania Railroad, with any other railroad or coal company or any financial institution.

TALE OF A NAIL

The Queer Way In Which a Crime Was Brought to Light.

Dr. John Donne, the famous English divine and poet, who lived in the reign of James I., was a veritable Sherlock Holmes. One of his famous exploits was as follows: He was walking in the churchyard while a grave was being dug, when the sexton cast up a moldering skull. The doctor took it up and, in handling it found a headless nail driven into it.

This he managed to take out and conceal in his handkerchief. It was evident to him that murder had been done. He questioned the sexton and learned that the skull was probably that of a certain man who was the proprietor of a brandy shop and was a drunkard, being found dead in bed one morning after a night in which he had drunk two quarts of brandy.

"Had he a wife?" asked the doctor. "Yes." "What character does she bear?" "She bore a very good character, only the neighbors gossiped because she married the day after her husband's funeral. She still lives here." The doctor soon called on the woman.

He asked for and received the particulars of the death of her husband. Suddenly opening his handkerchief, he showed her the telltale nail, asking in a loud voice, "Madame, do you know this nail?" The woman was so surprised that she confessed, was tried and executed.—London Tit-Bits.

ART OF JUGGLING.

A Means of Recreation For the Sedentary or Bedridden.

Speaking of conjuring, the allied art of juggling is one of the most amusing and valuable of diversions, especially to the sedentary. Many physicians become expert in juggling, but it is to their patients that it is most useful.

The bedridden, if they retain the use of their hands, may beguile many a weary hour in learning to keep three or four tennis balls in the air at once and in balancing sticks and other simple objects on the forefinger or on the chin.

For the brain worker who does not care for walking there is no better recreation. It has often occurred to us that in cases where there is any reason to fear some form of paralysis the educating of disused cerebral, cerebellar and spinal centers by the rapid and complex movements required in juggling might serve to act as an efficient preventive.

We do not wish to claim too much for manual education of this kind, but we may point out that it tends to perfect nervous poise and that no juggling trick can be properly done if the performer indulges in dissipation even so mild as beer and cigarettes.—American Medicine.

Talking to the Doctor.

While making some professional calls in a sparsely settled district I came upon a little plump, rosy cheeked girl trudging toward home with her slate and dinner pail in her hand. I asked her to ride with me. I could see that she was a very timid child, and efforts to engage her in conversation were unavailing. She would meekly answer "Yes" or "No," but not another word would she speak.

A few weeks later I was called to the little girl's home to attend another member of the family for a slight ailment. When about to leave the mother spoke up smilingly and said: "Do you remember my little girl riding with you a few weeks ago? Well, when she got home she said, 'Mamma, I rode from school with the doctor, and he kept talking with me and talking with me, and I just didn't know what to do, for you know doctors charge you when you talk with them, and I didn't have any money.'—National Monthly.

FARMER'S WIFE HAD HEAP TO DO

Mrs. Shepherd Was In Bad Shape When She Could Not Stand on Her Feet.

Durham, N. C.—"I am a farmer's wife," writes Mrs. J. M. Shepherd, of this city, "and have a heap to do."

"Four months ago I could not stand on my feet, to do anything much, but at this time I do the most of my work. I took Cardui and it did me more good than all the doctors."

"You don't know how I thank you for the Cardui Home Treatment. I wish that all women who suffer from womanly trouble would treat themselves as I have. Ladies can easily treat themselves at home, with Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is easy to take, and so gentle in its action, that it cannot do anything but good."

Being composed exclusively of vegetable ingredients, Cardui cannot lay up trouble in your system, as mineral drugs often do. Its ingredients having no harsh, medicinal effects, and being non-poisonous and perfectly harmless, Cardui is absolutely safe for young and old.

Ask your druggist. He will tell you to try Cardui.

Ex-Governor Aycock Enters Race For United States Senate.

Raleigh, N. C. May 22.—Making the four entry in the race for the senior Senatorship for North Carolina, Ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock has announced his candidacy to succeed Senator Simmons. The ex-Governor's announcement is made in a letter to Col. Nathan Whitfield, of Kinston, this State. The other avowed candidates for the Senatorial nomination which will probably be made in Statewide primaries, are Senator Simmons, Governor Kitchin and Chief Justice Clark.

Engagement Announced.

The announcement is made in the Macon, Telegraph of the engagement of Mr. Ernest M. Green of this city and Miss Grace Judd of Macon, Ga. The date of the wedding is set for June 20, at Macon, and it will be quite celebrated on account of recent bereavement in the family. After an extended stay in the mountains of western North Carolina, and a wedding tour, they will reside in this city.

Mr. Green is widely known in this State as a lawyer and politician, Miss Judd has visited here in years past and has many friends who will gladly welcome her here.

GRIMES PROPERTY CHOSEN

State Buys Site For New Administration Building Fronting Capital.

Raleigh, N. C., May 20.—The State Building Commission has purchased the Grimes property fronting 210 feet on Capital Square and 67 feet each on Fayetteville and Salisbury streets, as a site for the $50,000 State Administration building, paying $45,000 for it to the Grimes estate corporation.

An old building on the corner of this lot is now occupied by the State Department of Insurance. It is three stories and was first the old bank of New Bern building and was in 1834 sold to Dr. J. F. Hayward, the elder, for a residence and passed into the hands of Grimes in 1833. It has been the Y. M. C. A. and home for the Capital Club within the past few decades, and has been leased by the State for six or eight years for the Department of Insurance.

The plans for the new building are for the State Library on the first floor, hall of history and State Historical Commission on the second, probably the State Department of Insurance on the third, and the Supreme Court and Supreme Court Library on the fifth. It is to be a five story structure, equipped amply with elevators.

Jones County For Great Central Highway.

Trenton, N. C., May 18.—An enthusiastic good roads convention was held here today for the purpose of organizing for good roads, and especially to secure and provide for the building of the great Central Highway through Jones county. County Commissioner B. L. May, was elected chairman, and J. R. Barker Secretary, of the Jones County Good Roads Organization.

Many stirring speeches were made favoring good roads and the Central Highway. The whole convention which was a large and representative gathering, were enthusiastic for the Central Highway.

Committees were appointed to promote the undertaking, and a resolution was adopted asking the Central Highway Commission, that the route of the highway be via Trenton, the county seat, and pledging to build the road from the Craven to the Lenoir county line, and to aid and support the Central Highway Commission in every way possible.

BIG HILL
The Shingle Man.

MAN AND THE WORLD.

A Very Small Graveyard Would Hold the Whole Human Family.

How little mankind signifies in the scheme of nature is shown by a rather morose calculation of the Italian Professor Zuccarini, who has estimated, among other things, that estimating the world's population as 1,500,000,000 the whole human race at present living could stand comfortably shoulder to shoulder in an area of 500 square miles.

Taking the number of generations in the past 6,000 years as 200, the room taken up by them, all on the above plan would only be half the size of Germany, or for the sake of comparison less than the area of the state of Colorado. To bury all the people on earth would need a graveyard little larger than that area.

If the dust left by each body be estimated at one-tenth cubic yard, which is a liberal estimate, it would cover only forty square miles to a depth of about three feet. This certainly seems insignificant compared with the great coral reefs and other immense deposits built up by the shells of tiny infusoria.—New York Sun.

His Security.

When Eben Foster asked Squire Lane to lend him $200 to invest in the dry goods business the squire dryly inquired what Mr. Foster had to offer him in the way of security.

"Security?" said Eben, with an air of injured dignity. "Well, squire, I'll tell you what I have to offer—three solid silver teaspoons, a handsome brass warming pan, a pair of decolouring vases, large size, and the material for as much as three feather beds, if not four, right on the backs of my sock of goss, an' my Plymouth Rock hair."

"You can call 'em all yours till I pay the money back, an' I'll take care of 'em for you free of charge. I don't know what anybody could want more'n that for security."—Youth's Companion.

Unexpected Guests

The farmer and his wife were about to sit down to a cold supper when they saw some old friends driving towards the house.

The good wife was equal to the occasion—thanks to her New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

She had it lit in a moment, and her guests hardly were seated on the porch before a hearty hot meal was ready for the table—sausages and eggs and long rashers of streaky bacon, and rolls just crisped in the oven and fresh coffee—and the hostess herself as cool and neat as if she had not been near the kitchen.

She never could have managed it with an old-fashioned range. The New Perfection is the quickest, most convenient and best cooker on the market.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, narrow fire extended chimneys. Removably latched oven door. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fixed with three shelves, towel rack, etc.
