

WHEN IT'S NINETY IN THE SHADE

"I want to go and fish for fish Where pleasant waters swirl and swirl; I want to sit out on a log And hark the croaking of the frog; I want to go and get away From routine things of every day. And where the pleasant meadows roll Just hug all Nature to my soul!"

Ninety degrees of heat in the shade work the physical man into profuse perspiration, and change almost entirely his mental calibre. The mental change is more surprising in its character, for there will be a demand for an entire removal from anything like work, though the change may be a warm location and more heated surroundings, than the work bench or the office.

It is not merely the feeling of "I want to go" developed in its highest sense when the thermometer shows 90 in the shade, but there is also developed a temperamental condition that is unnatural, in that instead of seeking an environment that will soothe the physical to a possible coolness and calmness, there is sought an excess of motion, an exposure to heat, or a rush to over satisfy the stomach with food and drink.

"O, I want to go where the chickens grow With legs like a big bass horn! And I want to fly where the goose hangs high And where pumpkin pie was born; And I gladly wish with the gravy dish I could dance in a dream wait sweet While the Cook called out: "Serve the dear-kraut!"

It is the irrational man that ninety degrees in the shade creates. Good natured! Perhaps, but he must be so placed as to think he is enjoying himself, and this situation must be far removed from his ordinary surroundings. It is large if temperamental to be sure, but take a man away from his every day location, give him the base ball game, the seat in a boat fishing, a mountain climb, no matter if all be in the sun, and ninety in the shade will be for gotten.

BALTIMORE FOR NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. The contention of Baltimore as being the right city in which the national democratic party shall hold its convention in 1912, is receiving an ever widening attention from the outside, and the presentation of Baltimore's ability to handle such a great gathering is recognized and favorably received.

With the democratic party outlook today, the place of the next convention is all important. Location because of political effect, either in the nomination of candidates and the policies to be given out for campaign help, or a city selected for possible political effect upon the party's opponents, these in the past have worked democratic harm. Party "expediency" has too often proven a ruinous one.

The national democracy should be assured of sufficient backing and individuality to feel free in accepting doubtful "expediency" on one of these being a nomination city in order to please the majority of the party, or for the purpose of alluring possible doubtful voters from among the opposition.

There is no city well equipped for a national convention. No city has the political atmosphere that is strongly democratic. No city has the political atmosphere that is strongly democratic.

WHISTLER THE FIGHTER.

The Artist Always Took His Revenge in a Refined Way. In "Whistler as I-Knew Him" Meekness Menace, the author, has a good deal to say about Whistler the fighter and his quickness in recouping an affront. He is careful to add that Whistler was always refined in his methods.

While he was severe he was not actually brutal. He never treated his enemies in a coarse way. Any man who had offended him Whistler would rap sharply over the shoulders with his cane, and then by the time the offender had recovered the master would be in the next room explaining to every one how he had just felled his enemy.

Once he caught a man with whom he was for the moment enraged washing his face. Without a moment's hesitation Whistler dashed the unfortunate head straight into the basin of water, and while the foe was endeavoring to clear the soap from his eyes to see the cause of this sudden immersion Whistler was in the smoking room setting the man there in a roar with the account of his adventures.

When I first met Whistler he was in the act of searching for a man who had dared to criticize his Venetian etching. "If you want to see some fun, Menpes," he said, "come with me." Fortunately the man had been warned and was nowhere to be found.

First Flying Ambulance. A valued servant and friend of the great Napoleon, Dominique Larrey, first established that system of "flying ambulances," which carried the wounded to the rear almost as soon as disabled. The staff numbered about 340 men with four heavy and twelve light two and four wheeled ambulances to each division.

For the Egyptian campaign Larrey secured the services of 800 qualified surgeons in addition to the regular forces. At Alexandria General Fignieres was severely wounded, and on his recovery wished to present Napoleon with a splendid Damascus saber. "Yes," said the emperor, "I accept in order to give it the surgeon in chief, by whose exertions your life has been spared."

This saber, engraved with the words "Abookir" and "Larrey," was taken from the great surgeon by the Prussians at Waterloo. Charles Winslow Hall in National Magazine.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S EXPERIENCE. How you may profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Mrs. E. G. Whiting, 380 Willow St., Akron, O., says: "For some time I had a very serious case of kidney trouble and I suffered with backache and dizzy headaches. I had specks floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and results showed almost at once. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eye-sight became clear and today I can say I am a well woman thanks to Foley Kidney Pills."—F. S. Duffy.

A Growing River. Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia says he is now in a position to appreciate the gift of the negro race for picturesque exaggeration. He was driving along a country road near Alexandria, says the Washington Star, when he met an old negro whose venerable appearance attracted his attention.

Secretary of 14 lumber dealers, associations were indicted in Chicago charged with violating the Sherman act.

F. S. Rexford, 615 New York Life Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., says: "I had a severe attack of a cold which settled in my back and kidneys and I was in great pain from my trouble. A friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills and I used two bottles of them and they have done me a world of good."—F. S. Duffy.

Early Roman Laws. The very earliest Roman laws were those contained in the so called "Papirian code," but of these but little is known. The next in order are those of the twelve tablets, compiled by the Decemvirs at the beginning of the fourth century of the city's history, about B. C. 450.

There is one medicine that every family should be provided with and especially during the summer months; viz Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. It costs but a quarter. Can you afford to be without it? For sale by all dealers.

TODAY. Build a little fence of trust Around today; Fill the space with loving work And these are they. Look not through the sheltering bars Upon tomorrow; God will help these best who come Of joy to-morrow.—Mary F. Bates.

Up to Henry. "You talked in your sleep last night, Henry." "Did I, my dear? Wh-what did I say?" "Henry, you are leading a double life!" "No, dear; don't say that. I think I must have been having a bad dream if I said anything that seemed to indicate."

Women of the highest type, women of superior education and refinement, whose discernment and judgment give weight and force to their opinions, highly prize the wonderful curative and restorative properties of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Throughout the many stages of woman's life, from childhood through the arduous of motherhood to the twilight years of old age, the Tablets are a constant source of relief and comfort.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA. Charles J. Bonaparte in a speech at Chicago took issue with Justice Harish on judicial legislation.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA. A Strange Species of Deer. Just above the buffet in the dining room of a Richmond house there hangs a huge, finely mounted antelope head. This trophy of the owner's hunting prowess is centered so firmly in the wall that the glancing deer seems to be coming right out through the picture. When a little boy from the city saw this decoration for the first time he eyed it with considerable curiosity and very evident amazement.

NORWAY'S INCOME TAX.

It Reaches All Income in Excess of $200 Per Year. How would you like to pay an income tax on next to nothing? If you were a Norwegian living in home and earning $100 a year you would be taxed an one-tenth of it if you were unmarried; on about one-twentieth of it if you were married and had no children. If you had children you still would be taxed on one-fiftieth of it.

Unmarried and having an income of $2,000 a year in Norway your income tax payment would be $421.22; married, with one child, $359.94; married, with six children, $251.17. All that you would get off your income tax (married for having six children would be $96; all that you would get off by having five more children would be $44 and six bits!

Married or unmarried in Norway you could escape paying an income tax only by having an income less than $83.08 a year. Think of paying an income tax out of earnings of $7 a month!—New York Press.

The Old Time Senators. A recent overhauling of a desk in the office of the District of Columbia health officer brought to light a small volume entitled "The Medical Register of the District," which contained a complete list of the senators of the thirty-ninth congress, giving their weight, height and head and chest measurements. The author of the book, Dr. J. M. Toner, says in explanation of the table:

"It shows that in all the points observed our senators exceed the average of mankind in all parts of the world as well as the average of our own country."

From the figures given it appears that the tallest senators at that time came from Kentucky, the shortest from New Hampshire and West Virginia. The average height was five feet, ten and a half inches, and the senatorial head, measured a little lower than the hat is generally more than an average circumference of twenty-two and a half inches. Fourteen of the forty senators were six feet tall.—Washington Star.

Globe Trotters Plus. A number of tourists were recently looking down the crater of Vesuvius. An American gentleman said to his companion: "That looks a good deal like the infernal regions."

An English lady, overhearing the remark, said to another: "Good gracious, how these Americans do travel!"—Lippincott's.

A LEADING CALIFORNIA DRUGGIST. Pasadena, Cal., March 9, 1911. Foley and Co., Gentlemen:—We have sold and recommended Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills for years. We believe it to be one of the most efficient expectorants on the market. Containing no opiates or narcotics it can be given freely to children. Enough of the remedy can be taken to relieve a cold, as it has no nauseating results, and does not interfere with digestion. Yours very truly, C. H. Ward Drug Co., C. L. Parsons, Secy and Treas. Get the original Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills in the yellow package.—F. S. Duffy.

An Odd Habit Among Reptiles. Among the odd habits of reptiles is the way that members of the same rookery have of intermarrying generation after generation. The males always choose their wives from among their near neighbors, and if one should be so bold as to bring home to his rookery a bride from a distance the other toads will invariably refuse to receive her and will force the pair to build some way off. In the neighborhood of big rookeries outlying nests of the kind may always be found.

A TERRIBLE BLUNDER. To neglect liver trouble. Never do it. Take Dr. King's New Life Pills on the first sign of constipation, biliousness or inactive bowels and prevent viralid in digestion, jaundice or gall stones. They regulate the liver, stomach and bowels and build up your health. Only 25c. at all druggists.

Hanna and Tom Johnson. "Let's shake hands and be friends," Mark Hanna suggested to Tom Johnson one day. "No, let's not," Johnson answered. "Why not?" Hanna demanded. "We'd make awfully poor friends. We're too good enemies."—Buckham's.

A FEEK IN HIS POCKET. Would you show the box of Buckham's Artisan Balm that E. B. Lopez, a carpenter of Manila, N. Y., always carries. "I have never had a cut, wound, burn, or sore it would not seem bad," he writes. Greatest healer of burns, scalds, chapped hands and feet, fever, sore, skin eruptions, eczema, corns and piles. Use at all dealers.

"Magie" Chish. Many housewives gladly pay 25 cents for so called "magie" pills as they are very useful for liver and stomach trouble. Being dry, they are not at all the same as the "magie" pills that they work until the clock has struck midnight and the patient is still in bed.

"I wanted to see," explained the child absently, "if that woman's legs were really as long as that or if she was something or something in the way of a woman."
