EARLY DAYS OF COACHES.

When Complaint Was Made That "The World Runs on Wheels."

John Taylor, an English poet, known as the "water poet," who died in 1634, had this to say about the use of coaches:

"The superfluous use of coaches hath been the occasion of many vile and odious crimes, as murder, theft, cheating, hangings, whippings, pillories, stocks and cages, for house-keeping never decayed till coaches came into England, till which time those were accounted the best men who had the most followers and retainers. Then land about or near London was thought dear enough at a noble acre yearly, and a ten pound house rent now was scarce 20 shillings then. But the witchcraft of the coach quickly mounted the price of all things except poor men's labor and withal transformed in some places 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60 or 100 proper serving men into two or three animals—vide licet, a butterfly page, a trotting footman, a stiff drinking coachman, a Cook, a Clerk, a Steward and a Butler, which hath enforced many a discarded tall fellow (through want of means to live and grace to guide him in his poverty) to fall into such mischievous actions before named, for which I think the gallowes in England have devoured as many lusty ruffians men within these thirty or forty years as would have been a sufficient army to beat the foes of Christ out of Christendom and, marching to Constantinople, have plucked the great Turk by the beard; but, as is afore-said, this is the age when wherein the "world runs on wheels."

Why She Couldn't.

The elder Booth, the tragedian, had a broken nose. A woman friend once remarked to him, "I like your acting very much, Mr. Booth, but to be perfectly frank with you I can't get over your nose!"

"No wonder, madam," replied Booth; "the bridge is gone."

Big Ben, which marks the hours for parliament at the top of the clock tower at Westminster, is bigger than it appears from below. Looking at the dial of Big Ben from the northern footway of Great George street or from the Thames embankment, it appears as if its diameter might be equal to the space that a man of medium size could cover with outstretched arms. As a matter of fact, however, the diameter of the dial is twenty-three feet. From the ground the minute marks on the dial look like ordinary minute marks and as if they were close together. Really they are a foot apart. The numerals are two feet long. The minute hand, with its counter balance—the heavy piece of metal that projects beyond the center of the dial—is fifteen feet in length. This hand is so massive that during a snowstorm the clock is sometimes retarded by the weight of the flakes that alight on it—London Mail.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Stedfast Johnston a certificate, officially signed and bearing the impress of the great seal of the state, dilly commissioning him as "Mister," which he said was a distinctive and honorable title that no Kentuckian had ever previously borne.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Such a Thoughtful Woman. When the man and woman started down the subway stairs the man felt in his pockets for tickets.

"By George!" he said. "Isn't that a shame? I've got to stop in all this mob and buy tickets."

"Oh, no, you haven't," said the woman. "I have them. When I came downtown I remembered what you said about those people who buy only one ticket at a time making such a nuisance of themselves, so, as I had 15 cents to spare, I bought three tickets. I have two left. We can go right on through."

So the man and the woman drifted along with the pushing crowd to the point where the ticket collector held them up and demanded tribute. Then the woman looked in her purse for the tickets. Suddenly her face assumed a painful blankness.

"I-I haven't got them," she faltered. "I was in such a hurry when I came through that I must have dropped all three tickets into the uptown box."—New York Herald.

SEEMED TO GIVE HIM A NEW STOMACH.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Young, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second dose seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all Dealers.

Jefferson as an Inventor. Not many people know that Thomas Jefferson was a great inventor. His inventions were all of articles of everyday use. He devised a three legged folding camp stool that is the basis of all camp stools of that kind today. The stool he had made for his own use was his constant companion on occasions of outings. The revolving chair was his invention. He designed a light wagon. A copying press was devised by him and came into general use. He also invented an instrument for measuring the distance he walked. A plow and a hemp cultivator showed that his thoughts were often on agricultural matters. His plow received a gold medal in France in 1790. Jefferson never benefited financially by his inventions, but believed they should be for the use of everyone without cost.

William Allen who killed his baby and then shot himself, was taken from the Parkersburg (W. Va.) hospital to jail to await trial on a murder charge.

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.
