The Best Always Pays in The Long Run.

The average man when it comes to selecting a life insurance contract will take any old thing that comes along. It's a case of "marry in haste and repent at leisure." Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been wasted and many families left destitute right here in this very town by such a foolish course. The UNION CENTRAL LIFE is the best company in America if the reports of various State Departments and unbiased statisticians count for anything, for excellent insurance at the lowest possible cost to policy holders. DEEP SEA FISH.

If They Come Too Near the Surface They Will Explode.

Ordinarily one would think that a fish in the sea could go where it wished in the water—that is, that it could go as far down or come as close to the surface as it desired. As there are definite natural laws that prohibit this, of course it is not possible.

Take a deep sea fish. It is under enormous pressure at its proper depth. Let it stray too high, however, and on the pressure lessening the fish gets larger and consequently lighter per unit volume and in consequence is propelled upward at an enormously increasing rate by the buoyancy of the water until at last it has to be expelled from the surface of the sea with great force. In the meantime the fish has suffered an internal explosion, as it were, and its eyes have popped out of its head, and its insides have expanded and made holes in the body. This is why there are no perfect specimens of deep sea fish in any museum. The difficulty could be partly overcome by hauling the fish up gradually, but a heavy weight would have to be attached to the line to overcome the buoyancy of the fish.

On the other hand, take a shallow water fish. It dares not stray too far down, for the increasing pressure would tend to make it heavier if it was at all compressible, but as it is not much so it would remain practically the same volume and would find no difficulty in propelling itself to almost any depth. The increasing pressure, however, would make it harder for the fish to move its organs, and its eyes would be pressed into its head.

For all these reasons there are well defined strata of water in which certain fish are found and no others. This is one method of determining the depth of a former sea where fossils of fish are found on the land. The depth of the sea at that place can be told within certain limits by the fossils.—New York Tribune.

Practice With Wooden Legs.

Of the five cases in the accident ward that were pronounced cured at the same time three remained in the hospital more than a week after the other two had gone home.

"They had to stay," said an interne. "to get used to their wooden legs. It takes some time to learn to manage wooden legs, and most men who will have to use along with them for the rest of their natural lives stay in the hospital several days after they get well to practice stumping around on their new legs. Of course they can learn outside, but the man who has just acquired a wooden leg feels so awkward and is so likely to fall down and break the other leg or an arm or maybe his neck that we prefer to keep him here so he can take his first lessons under our supervision."—New York Times.

The Norfolk-Southern's "Thanksgiving Special."

The football game between the team of the North Carolina A. & M. College and the Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Norfolk on Thanksgiving Day has excited so much general interest that the Norfolk-Southern is arranging to increase its passenger train service on the night of the 23rd to take the crowd to Norfolk. A special fast train to be known as "Special Cadet" will leave Raleigh at midnight carrying the student body from the college. The football squad of about 25, which will leave Raleigh a day ahead of the students, will join the special train enroute and arrive in Norfolk early on the morning of Thanksgiving. The battalion band will greet the team on arrival at the Norfolk-Southern station, and the grand march to the hotel will begin. In addition to the special train from Raleigh and the regular trains from other points arrangements have been made to provide special Pullman sleepers and coaches to care for the crowds who wish to see the A. & M. make Virginia "bite the dust." Last year at Lafayette Park, when Carolina captured all the honors pandemonium reigned and the scene was indescribable because of the great enthusiasm of the Carolina rooters. The "Farmer" team from Raleigh this year is said to be the best that has ever been gotten together, and now the bet is on Carolina two to one. Great preparations are being made to handle an immense crowd, and the field is being gotten in first class shape.

The Retort Genial.

A southern woman who is now past her prime, but whose ready wit still makes her a welcome guest wherever she goes, tells the following story about an encounter with what she terms a "northern lecher." She was at a musical entertainment at a private house in New York, and at the end of a song which had been delightfully rendered she turned with an exclamation of pleasure to a lady who sat near and whom she knew by sight, but had never met. The woman addressed looked at her in surprise for a moment and then asked coldly, "Have I the pleasure of knowing you?"

"No," was the answer, "but I felt at liberty to speak to you on account of your being under such very great obligations to me."

"Will you have the goodness to explain what you mean?" said the New York woman haughtily.

"Merely that I refused your husband twenty-five years ago," replied the little southerner as she moved away to seek a more congenial atmosphere.
