

SHORT PASSING EVENTS

FRIDAY.

Mr. J. S. Miller was awarded the first prize last night for the best exhibit in the exhibit hall. The Fuller Music Company were awarded the second prize.

The handsome toll-d set off on the person holding the lucky number at the exhibit hall by J. S. Miller, the furniture dealer, was won by Miss Emily Ferebee. Seven hundred and seven y seven was the number of the ticket held by Mrs Ferebee.

Despite the fact that the police yesterday made every possible effort to capture the pickpocket who on the previous day relieved a number of visitors of their cash, they failed to land him. There is not the least doubt but that the man is a professional at the business and the police regret that he escaped them.

SATURDAY.

Hundreds of turkeys were brought to this city yesterday and disposed of to local dealers and consumers. The price of the fowls still remains around the 20 cents per pound mark.

Mayor McCarthy had one offender before him yesterday afternoon charged with being disorderly within the city limits. A small fine and the cost was placed upon the lone law breaker.

Mayor C. J. McCarthy, Mr. J. Leon Williams and Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, of this city, have been appointed as delegates to the Eighth Convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress which will be held at Washington, D. C. December 6-8.

Yesterday the majority of the exhibits were removed from the exhibition hall on George street. This display was one of the finest ever seen in this section of the State, and it is regretted that it could not be kept intact until the Ohio farmers visit New Bern during December.

In the drawing held for the ton of fertilizer offered by the Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer Company to the holder of the lucky number during the Agricultural and Stock Exhibit, Mr. J. B. Lynch, of Beaufort was the fortunate winner of the prize. His ticket was number 498.

The Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company was awarded the first prize for the best exhibit of fertilizer at the Agricultural and Stock Exhibit and the E. H. and J. A. Meadows Fertilizer Co. was awarded the second prize. Both of these exhibits were exceptionally good and attracted much attention.

Every Sunday School teacher in the county is extended a cordial invitation to attend the Craven County Sunday School Convention, which will be held in Centenary Methodist Church in this city next Tuesday and Wednesday November 28th, and 29th. A number of men who are prominent in Sunday School work in this State will be present.

At Southport Thursday a number of people who were attending the big celebration at that place were relieved of their money by a slick pickpocket. Evidently the same scoundrel who cleaned up several hundred dollars in this city on last Wednesday is the same man who stole the money at Southport. The police here came near nabbing the fellow that afternoon, and it is regretted that they were not able to land him.

Manager Taylor of the local office of the Southern Express Company, asks us to state that those who are intending sending Christmas gifts to friends will avoid much delay by sending them within the next week or two. A special tag furnished by the company warns the recipient against opening until Christmas day. There is always a rush during the holiday season and many packages which contain gifts are delayed until long after the holiday season.

SUNDAY.

Superior court convened yesterday morning, a few minor cases were disposed of, after which a recess was taken until Monday morning.

The quality of the oysters being brought to this city just at this time is far above that of the bivalves on sale here a few weeks ago. The supply too, is adequate to supply all demands.

Mayor McCarthy had only two cases in his court yesterday afternoon and but a short while was consumed in the session. The offenders were dismissed upon the payment of the cost of the cases.

If you are intending to attend the Thanksgiving Day football game at Norfolk, you should lose no time in securing reservations on the Norfolk-Southern special train, which will leave here on the night before. Tickets can be secured from the local office of the railway company.

After a preliminary hearing before the United States Commissioner at this place, he was bound over to the next term of Federal court under a bond of $200 which he failed to give and was committed to jail.

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardul.

Meets, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

AMERICAN BANKERS ASSOCIATION

Joins Wall Street in Accepting Aldrich Currency Plan Says A. O. Crozier.

Cincinnati, Nov. 27.—"In accepting the Aldrich so-called central reserve fund plan the American Bankers' Association has solemnly joined with Wall street in the most daring and most dangerous conspiracy against the general welfare of the people of this country that has ever been cooked in the greed and avarice of high finance."

In these scathing terms Alfred O. Crozier, financial authority and economist, denounces the action of the bankers' convention at New Orleans, and called upon Congress to save the people from the effect of "this evil compact." "Shall the control of the public currency be public or private? That is the issue. The Aldrich plan offers banks for their support the most colossal bribe of all history. With less than a billion and a half of clear cash assets the combined banking institutions loan and collect interests on fourteen billions of bank credit. It is a dangerously big business on a shoestring. It takes a pretty smart business man to run in debt 10 times what he is worth and not go broke. And now the Aldrich plan would take away from the Government and give to the syndicate of banks as a Christmas present $1,000,000,000 of public currency to put in their reserves so that with relatively no extra investment the banks can collect interest on the loan back to the people at profit $10,000,000,000 more business credit—mere financial wind. I have too much faith in the intelligence of the American people to believe that they will permit this outrage. Aldrich has had his inning and the people will have theirs now. Watch the opposition grow."

"They say the Aldrich plan will stop panics. What it will do is stop depositors, by being frightened by panics, into withdrawing deposits and thus forcing banks to reduce profitable loans aggregating 10 times such withdrawals. The money combine wants panics if the high financiers can fix it so that panics will not have their banks, because their money will yield higher interest rates and buy twice as many securities and more property and labor during a panic. The people are the losers from price-depressing panics, and they will lose doubly under the new scheme. We need legislation not only to make banks secure during panic, but prevent Wall street from starting panic for profit. In private hands the Aldrich central bank can be used to cause squeezes and panics by making money suddenly scarce. The plan is for the banks and by the banks. It will be defeated."

WRIGHTS TO BUY AT KITTY HAWK

Noted Aviators Will Build Permanent Station For Experiments Where Biplane Had Its Birth.

Manteo, N. C., Nov. 27.—The Wright company has practically closed a deal whereby it will acquire 1000 acres of land at Kitty Hawk, on which a permanent testing ground for aeroplanes will be established next spring. The stretch composed of plant sand dunes and woodland, runs east and west across the "banks" from the Atlantic ocean to Cratan Bay and includes three dunes, the highest of which is known as Hill Thirteen and rises to 100 feet. Killdevil Hills on which the Wrights have made experiments since 1900 and on which it may be said "the first aeroplane was born," is not on the property, but undoubtedly arrangements will be made with Robert Meisett, the life saver who owns the land, whereby it may be used.

When Orville and Lorin Wright left Kitty Hawk, following the recent experiments with the new soaring glider, the former said he was not sure whether he would return, but before departing he obtained from John J. Mann an option on the tract upon which, through an arrangement with Mr. Mann, he built last summer a rough wooden hangar and laboratory. A few days ago Mr. Mann received notice from the Wrights at Dayton, O. that they would exercise their option and establish a permanent experiment station at Kitty Hawk. Shortly after this Adam Etheridge, the Wright's Kitty Hawk representative and the member of the Killdevil Hills Life Saving Corps, was presented with the hangar and told to make such use of the lumber as he saw fit.

During the winter or early next spring the Wrights will erect at the foot of Hill Thirteen 100 rods from Killdevil Hills, a combination hangar and laboratory of concrete and, quite possibly, a bungalow for living purposes. This will be the only structure of its kind in Dare county. While camping at Kitty Hawk in October the Wrights lived, cooked and worked in a single building and found their quarters exceedingly cramped.

The concrete laboratory and hangar will be much larger than the old building and will be thoroughly equipped for aeroplane building. It will be wide enough to hold two machines and in all probability a set forge will be installed in one end. One end will be devoted to a carpenter shop. The loft will be used for storage.

The station will be ten miles from Manteo north, the nearest telegraph office; forty miles east of Elizabeth City, the nearest railroad point, and six miles south of Kitty Hawk post office, where the Wrights will post and receive their mail.

A telephone line at the life saving station, one mile away, makes it possible to send and receive emergency messages without going to Manteo. A daily packet runs from this village of 400 inhabitants to Elizabeth City, and three times a week a boat plies between the latter place and Kitty Hawk.
