

Stubborn Case

"I was under the treatment of two doctors," writes Mrs. R. L. Phillips, of Indian Valley, Va., "and they pronounced my case a very stubborn one, of womanly weakness. I was not able to sit up, when I commenced to take Cardui.

I used it about one week, before I saw much change. Now, the severe pain, that had been in my side for years, has gone, and I don't suffer at all. I am feeling better than in a long time, and cannot speak too highly of Cardui."

Judge H. W. Whedbee, who is presiding over Craven county superior court now in session here for the disposal of criminal cases, is letting no grass grow under his feet in clearing the docket. If all the judges were of this calibre there would be no need of special terms of court.

THURSDAY.

Leon Williams, secretary of the New Bern Merchants Association. Mr. Williams will speak on the subject of "What are the Results Obtained by Local Association?"

The political pot is unusually active this week owing to the fact that Superior Court is in session in this city and the candidates for the various county offices have an excellent opportunity to see many of their friends at one time. Just at present no one can tell just what the outcome will be but it can easily be seen that the race for two of the offices will be a tight one.

Why Women Are Not RICH.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Women are not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal man has five million—the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimeter of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale"—in fact, in essence, the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

Dr. E. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food," and when the nerves are fed on rich red color, the nervous system loses those irritable feelings, sleep well at night and is refreshed in the morning.

GERMAN SAILORS VISIT NEW YORK

Official Calls Intersperse Program for Entertainment of Sailors and Officers.

New York, June 11.—Figuratively jingling the keys of the city in their pockets, the sailors from the visiting German cruisers Moltke, Stettin and Bremen, now anchored in the Hudson, swarmed ashore here yesterday for their second round of festivity in New York.

They had free transportation on all the city's transit lines, and they were quick to take advantage of the opportunity for seeing the points of interest. Last night 750 of the sailors were entertained by the Deutscher Kriegerbund at Sulzer's Harlem River Park.

The more formal part of the program began with a visit of Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss, U. S. A., commanding the Department of the East, to Rear Admiral Von Reubeur Paschvitz, on board the Moltke. The brigadier general was accompanied by the commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

This call over, the admiral and his staff prepared to call on Mayor Gaynor at the city hall, Governor's Island and the Navy Yard were next in the line of visits; and the remainder of the day up to 2:30 o'clock was taken up with an automobile sightseeing tour for the German officers.

At 3 o'clock the mayor returned the call to the German flagship. This practically concluded the day's ceremonies. The German officers will be guests at a dinner at the Waldorf. The mayor will preside, and addresses will be delivered by him, by the German ambassador, Rear Admiral Von Reubeur Paschvitz, Rear Admiral Winslow and others.

The day was an ideal one for both the visitors and the sightseers who viewed the ships along Riverside drive. Launches carrying visitors to the ships did a brisk business.

Wanted It, and Got It.
Here is a story that will be as pleasing to a true American as it will be obnoxious to a European. Arthur Gleason tells it of Joseph Feis in the World's Work. It is about Mr. Feis' invasion of London.

He looked around the streets at night, and found the office he wished, the right situation and right size. "I'll take it," he said to the owner. "But that is not customary. To whom will you refer me? To your secretary?"

"I haven't any."
"But friends of yours in London?"
"I came here yesterday, haven't got acquainted with anybody yet. Here's the rental money for the first six months. Take it or leave it."

"But won't tomorrow be more satisfactory for coming to a settlement?"
"That's one day too late. I want the office today, now."
He got his office.

Mr. Simmons and the State.
(Charlotte Observer, June 8.)

North Carolina seems to be well represented in the United States Senate. Her representatives stand well with their associates. Senator Simmons has become the ranking Democrat at the head of a committee which corresponds in importance to the one which Mr. Underwood leads in the House. It is something to have achieved a position commanding such respect, together with great influence both in the Senate and in the House. All know that no member of Congress rises thus above his fellows without talents and arduous labor. To elect a new man in Senator Simmons' place now would be to sacrifice this hard-won advancement, with the eminent opportunity afforded for serving the country and the State.

It is charged that Mr. Simmons made a mistake in voting for Lorimer. Admitting this, what then? Calhoun, Cay, Webster and others made mistakes in plenty of them, but their states supported them for their constructive work in the Senate. Was there ever any senator who did so much or half so much that escaped making a mistake at some time in his senatorial career? No one can say that the Senator's capacity for usefulness has suffered because of the Lorimer vote. In the matter of his vote for retaining a small duty on lumber, Mr. Simmons needs no defense. However strenuously a man may advocate tariff for revenue only, he should demand a fair proportion of the revenue tariff, in order to place his state upon a basis of equality with the rest. In other words, if we are compelled to have tariff for revenue—as we are—why should not North Carolina receive her pro rata benefits? His vote on lumber was all right, and everybody should know it was.

As a senator, Mr. Simmons has obtained excellent results all around. He has served the whole country well and North Carolina better. If he had done nothing beyond what he contributed to the eastern part of the State, he would deserve re-election. He has just attained the position in which he can render the State greatest service—a position which no new man could hope to gain in less than two terms or twelve years.

MUST PROTECT THE PEOPLE

Department of Agriculture Takes Steps to Expose Land Investment Frauds.

Washington, June 13th.—The department of agriculture has taken steps to expose land investment frauds and protect the people of the country against these swindling schemes.

Secretary Wilson has ordered the collection of data to place his department in position to aid such investors. Bulletins are to be issued warning against certain general propositions, and specific information will be given by correspondence upon request.

Thousands of city folks—and many others—Secretary Wilson declared today were being encouraged to put savings into land selling, orchard growing and crop producing schemes, many of which were swindles.

"Many people with little or no knowledge of agriculture are being led to invest money in projects which by no reasonable chance can ever be made to pay the profits claimed for them," said the secretary.

"One of these concerns recently wrote to Dr. Galloway, chief of the bureau of plant industry, not knowing who he was. It was like some stock swindler trying to sell worthless paper to J. P. Morgan. This concern promised big returns in a few years from a certain crop; and only one versed in the subject would realize that it was impossible."

"After they had written to Dr. Galloway three or four times they wanted to know what he was thinking of doing with their proposition." He replied that he was "thinking of reporting it to the post office department," whereupon their correspondence terminated abruptly.

Policeman's Blow Fatal.
Trenton, June 13.—Policeman Cornelius McDonough, was attacked by half dozen men when he attempted to drive them from an alley yesterday morning. He used his night stick to such effect that Michael Doolan, 32 years old, died of a fractured skull today before he could be sent a second time from the police station to McKinley hospital.

McDonough is held blameless by the authorities, but an inquest probably will be held. The policeman meanwhile is on duty.

Three Killed—Fifty Hurt.
Dalton, Ga., June 13.—Three persons were killed and more than fifty hurt when a Western and Atlantic excursion train running from Calhoun, Ga., to Chattanooga, Tenn., was wrecked near here yesterday morning. The dead are Fireman Holcomb and section employee and a negro porter. The injured are being brought here.

The wreck occurred in a cut and was caused by spreading rails. Four cars were overturned, which was responsible for the long list of injured.

This statement was made to day by Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader.

CUT OFF EARS OF PRISONERS

Residents of Interior Flee To Big Cities. Government Troops Rout Insurgents at El Cobre.

Santiago, Cuba, June 13.—A detachment of government troops under Major Rosendo Callazo fought a battle yesterday with the insurgents near El Cobre, ten miles to the west of this city.

The rebels were defeated, losing ten killed. The government troops made effective use of their artillery and are now pursuing the fleeing insurgents.

Santiago, June 13.—The Gome's troops repulsed the rebels in their attempt to burn Guantanamo Monday night, but the good showing made by them has been overshadowed by verified reports of barbarous practices of the volunteer guerrillas who represent the majority of the government forces in the field.

Captain Ramon Garriga, who left Santiago last Thursday with 160 guerrillas, returned yesterday his men bringing as trophies of their conflict with the rebels the right ears of eight black men and exhibited the gruesome prizes solemnly with as much pride as though they were well earned objects of war. Public opinion grew so intense that it forced General Montenegro, the government leader, to make a statement. His reply to the protests against the inhumanity of his men was simply this: "All the guilty will be punished."

Captain Garriga, who was asked for an explanation, said: "Only one soldier is guilty and he has been shot."

This is known to be untrue. The one man mentioned is now in jail in Santiago. The uncivilized warfare practiced by the few soldiers in the field leaves them few sympathizers among their own people.

The purpose to both the rebels and the government is causing a rapid depopulation of the interior. All the residents of those sections are flocking to the larger centers. The homes of many have already been burned. The train leaving Guantanamo was packed and before Santiago was reached women and children were fighting for a foothold on the steps of the cars. The majority of these people become public charges as soon as they reach their destinations.

Several hundred Porto Ricans who were imported to work on the sugar plantations here are without funds and are clamoring for return transportation. Consul Holaday has asked Washington for advice on the matter.
