FAISON VISITOR HERE YESTERDAY

Congressman Calls on His Friends and Constituents.

LEAVES FOR CARTERET.

Interested in Headway of Moose in Destroying The G. O. P.

Congressman John M. Faison was a visitor in the city Tuesday. He called on a number of his constituents and acquainted himself with local political conditions generally. He said he would hardly open his campaign before Oct. 1.

He said the matter that was concerning him most just at present was the procuring of faster schedules for truck and fish shipments. He is securing data on which to get the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate the slowness of the refrigerator car service as given to Eastern Carolina shippers of fruit, truck and fish. He says the average speed of the so-called fast freight trains loaded with strawberries last spring was eight miles an hour. Such schedules, he says, are ruinous to the growers.

The berry crop the last season Dr. Faison said, brought only about half what it brought last year and the decrease in receipts was due in large measure to the delay in getting the fruit to market. The train schedules, he explained, were no better last year, but last year the berries ripened in a very dry season and kept better in transit than they did this year when the crop was gathered in a wet season.

Dr. Faison inquired of friends as to the headway that the new Progressive party was making in Craven. He added that he thought it hardly necessary for the Democrats to turn their usual fire in this campaign on the Republicans for said he. "The Bull Moose seems to be according them the same sort of treatment that we used to hand them. To my mind the activity of the Bull Moose in this connection is entirely agreeable. Owing to his previous connection with the party he is better qualified than any one else to give it the sort of blows that will tell."

Dr. Faison was elected by a majority of about three thousand and he estimates that his majority will be more than that this time owing to the disensions in the Republican party.

He left that night for Beaufort and from there will continue his trip to Atlantic. After two or three days in Carteret he will go back to his home in Faison.

Summer is lingering in the lap of the oyster tonging season. Some girls must dread the idea of becoming old maids. Otherwise they would not marry the kind of men they do.

5 or 6 doses 666 will break any case of Chills and Fever; and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return.

SAN FRANCISCO CALL FOR WILSON

It and Other Republican Papers Tired of Party Dissension.

THE MOTIVE PATRIOTIC

These Newspapers Believe It Best That Wilson Be Elected.

New York, Sept. 17.—The Buffalo Evening Times says: "The San Francisco Call, one of the leading Republican newspapers of the Pacific Coast, as well as one of the most influential papers in the country, is weary of the dissension, bickering and open rupture within the Republican party, and editorially is urging its readers to vote for Woodrow Wilson."

"The Call has not been the only paper to switch since the nomination of the Democratic candidate, but it is probably the most significant change of policy of any of them."

"More and more to the best-thinking people in the country is the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson assuming the ideal. Each day it becomes more evident that in the New Jersey executive Democracy made no mistake. From every side come reports of the espousal of the Democratic cause on the part of those hitherto antagonistic of the aspect. His achievements in public office, his personality, his policies and his plans are compelling admiration and attracting allegiance. Election day will find a strong percentage of the Republican vote ranged on the Democratic side. The Call is one of many great newspapers that are patriotically giving their support to the man who they know will conduct the affairs of the nation along lines that will tend to the greater happiness and comfort of the people and the honor and glory of the country."

WOODMEN WILL ROLL LOGS AGAIN.

The axes of the Woodmen of the World are being wielded with strong arms and courageous hearts and as a result quite a number of logs will be rolled in their forest, corner of Broad and Hancock streets tonight. The camp will be assembled at 8 o'clock and continue the work until every log has been rolled.

The Woodmen are working some fine timber, too, and the order will thereby be very much strengthened at this point which will enable it to extend its charitable work, besides embracing quite a large addition of families in its strong arm of protection.

PUSHING THE WORK ON NEW FERTILIZER FACTORY.

A large force of workmen are now engaged in laying the foundations for the Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer Company's new plant at James City. Practically all the debris of the building which was destroyed by fire several months ago has been removed and the work on the new structure will be rapidly pushed toward completion. The contractors hope to have it in readiness for the Spring trade

SIDNEY ALLEN IS TAKEN IN IOWA

Love Affair Leads to His Arrest and That of Wesley Edwards.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 14.—Sidney Allen, leader of the Allen clan, which shot up Carroll county Court House at Hillsville, Va., March 14th, killing Judge Massey and others, and his nephew, Wesley Edwards, tonight are manacled in cells at the city jail as a result of love affairs which led detectives to them. Both men are en route to Virginia in custody of detectives.

Edwards for the love of whom Miss Maude Iroler, of Mount Airy, N. C., had innocently led detectives to Des Moines, was captured as he was returning to his boarding house, after having worked all day with a paving gang. Just as he boarded a street car detectives and officers surrounded it. Edwards was trying to escape by crawling through the front end of the car when officers caught him. The arrest of Sidney Allen was effected earlier in the day.

A visit by Edwards to Miss Iroler in her North Carolina home about a month ago, and the accidental loss of a letter put the detectives on the trail. The fugitives had been in Des Moines since April 28th. Allen, under the name of Tom Sayre, worked as a carpenter and Edwards, under the name of J. Jackson, was employed with a city paving gang.

Allen was arrested at the home of John Cameron at 11th and Locust streets, where he and his nephew had been rooming, by Detectives Baldwin, Lucas and Mundy, of Roanoke, Va.

The arrest occurred a few minutes after Miss Iroler stepped into the Cameron home to meet Edwards, whom she was to wed tonight, according to an arrangement made when he visited her in North Carolina. Detective Lucas was at her heels. Allen was in an upper room. When informed that visitors wanted to see him, he came downstairs. As he did so, Detective Lucas covered him with a revolver and asked him to surrender. Allen hesitated and threw up his hands, remarking as he did so:

"I guess I'm your man." Allen was handcuffed and placed under a guard of city detectives, while Col. Baldwin and Chief Jenny, of the local department, went in search of Edwards, who was said to be at work in the western part of the city. Apparently Edwards heard that his uncle had been captured because he was not to be found until tonight.

Miss Iroler arrived in Des Moines this morning unaware that on the same train were detectives who wanted her sweetheart. She went straight to the Cameron home, having previously been provided with the address and these officers followed.

Although surprised, she took the arrest of Allen and Edwards with little show of concern.

"Wesley was down home a month ago," she said. "We were to be married. He gave me the money to come to this city and this address. I had no idea that anyone was following me."

Sidney Allen in his cell tonight talked freely of events of the last few months but declined to say much concerning his movements immediately after the Court House tragedy. He and Edwards remained in the mountain country of Virginia and North Carolina for about a month and then got over into Kentucky, going to Louisville where they spent several days. Their next stop was in St. Louis, where they remained a week. They had sufficient money for their needs and traveled as first-class passengers.

"I don't know why we came to Des Moines," said Allen, "unless it was that I thought we would be safer here. Several years ago I was in the Klondike and I figured that the officers would think I had gone back there. So we came to Des Moines and I got work as a carpenter and expected to remain here until it was safe to go back home."

"I would have given myself up long ago if I had thought we could get a square deal. Look what they have done to Floyd, my brother and Claude."

Allen declared the Court House tragedy was the fault of the officers who, he said, began the shooting.

"We heard a few days before Floyd's trial began that Sheriff Webb had bought a hundred rounds of cartridges and had made the remark that he was going to show that Allen gang 'real court,' but we did not expect trouble that day, and there would not have been any if the officers had not begun it."

There were 108 persons in the party. They traveled in a train of four Pullmans, two sleepers and a baggage car. Reaching here so much belated their schedule the visitors had to cut short their stay. The stop at the Elks club was omitted and the partyers marched back to their train without stops.

BOOSTER TRAIN COMES, DEPARTS

Richmond Was a Much Discussed City in New-Bern Yesterday.

BOOSTERS WELCOMED

Mayor and Other Prominent Citizens Meet Visitors.

The Richmond Boosters' train arrived Monday at three o'clock, an hour and forty minutes late. Assistant Chief Booster Horace F. Smith said that not a minute was lost until the Norfolk Southern was reached at Wilson. The trouble on the Norfolk Southern was that the engine broke down. General Passenger Agent W. W. Croxton and Traveling Passenger Agent C. D. Le-Grande were both along, but as neither knew what to do when a locomotive refuses to do its duty there was nothing for them to do but take the "dragging" which Chief Booster W. T. Dabney and his assistant, Mr. Smith, freely bestowed and that was what is sometimes known as "a. p."

A considerable number of New Bern business men, including the Mayor, President Cutler of the Chamber of Commerce, Postmaster Basnight and others prominent in the business and civic life of the city were at the train to make the visitors from Richmond welcome.

The Boosters' procession as they marched up the principal streets made a brave sight and marked Richmond down as a town that is on to its job as a self-advertiser. Richmond was talked here yesterday as no other town has been talked here and that the way was paved for Richmond to get more trade than ever before from New Bern goods without saying.

At the head of the procession was Chief Lupton and a phalanx of other policemen. Then came the band (Kessnich's) playing the Booster song the words of which run like this:

"We're boosting Richmond all the time, The hustling, bustling town, The finest place in Dixie Land, Just come and look around; We're making goods of every kind, And make them mighty well, You'll come to Richmond bye and bye And buy the things we sell."

Conspicuous at the head of the procession was a drum major attired in light blue uniform and got his full share of the attention of the throngs of spectators with which the doorways and sidewalks were lined. He was a parade in himself, some one observed.

In order to get a better view of the business section than was possible with the line of march first agreed upon and printed in Sunday morning's Journal, the procession went down Pollock street instead of Broad. Otherwise the line of march was as published.

Souvenirs of all kinds were distributed to the Boosters tossing them into doorways and into the hands of the people on the sidewalks. No samples of whiskey were distributed as was done last year, but advertising novelties setting forth the merits of the liquid refreshments made in Richmond were numerous.

In fact, it seemed that the whiskey houses were the most assiduous users of advertising novelties of the entire band of Boosters.

Prominent Richmond men in the party were: George Ainslie, Mayor of Richmond, T. M. Carrington, President Chamber of Commerce,

W. T. Dabney, Business Manager Chamber of Commerce, C. P. Wallford, Jr., Secretary Business Men's Club,

W. A. Clarke, Jr., Secretary Retail Merchants' Association, H. L. Harwood, Secretary Travelers' Protective Association,

T. S. Gibbon, Secretary United Commercial Travelers Association, C. E. Ivey, Secretary Advertisers' Club, Civic Co-Operative Organization,

W. H. Owen, Richmond-Chesterfield Business Men's Association, Seaboard Air Line, R. Vaughan-Lloyd,

Southern Railway, S. E. Burgess. Representatives of the Richmond Times Dispatch with which the business organizations co-operated in getting up the boosters trip were with the party as follows:

J. S. George Bryan, Allen Potts, Richard Riley, S. J. Waggoner, Jr., J. T. W. Curtis, Horace F. Smith, William B. Smith,

AT HOME AFTER EUROPEAN TOUR.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Rhem, Mrs. K. E. Spencer and Miss Eula Cole arrived Monday morning on the four o'clock train returning from a European trip. They arrived in this country on the steamship Laconia Saturday, landing at Boston.

The trip over was made on the Saxonia early in June. While aboard the New Bern party visited places of historical and scenic interest in Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, England, Scotland and Ireland. During all the time that they were abroad they experienced only three warm days.

RICHMOND CLERGY DENOUNCES VICE

Calls Attention to Recent Crimes Against Girls of That City.

MINISTERS AROUSED.

A Dozen Congregations Listen to Terrific Arraignments.

Richmond, Sept. 16.—Aroused by recent disclosures of crimes against young girls in this city, ministers yesterday denounced from their pulpits in no uncertain terms the shortcomings of a civilization, and in particular the so-called weakness of a local police system, which permits itself to wallow in a mire of social decay and shuts its eyes to a reign of immorality which is striking at the life of the city and nation.

A dozen congregations listened with quickening conscience to the arraignment of the agencies in modern life which loosen morals, wreck homes, and spread contagion to be transmitted to unborn generations. The yellow press with its magnification of crime and its sordid news stories, the decadent stage with its portrayal of loose morals the suggestive modern novel with its sensuous depiction of glossed-over vice—all came in for a share of the pulpits' ire.

Rev. Frank L. Wells, pastor of the Broad Street Methodist Church, devoted his sermon last night to an inquiry into the immediate causes of the evil in Richmond, and to the suggestion of a course of action which might result in its mitigation.

In his analysis of the causes underlying the vice-wave which seems to be sweeping over the city as well as the country at large, Mr. Wells took up one after the other the chief sources of infection. Poverty and unequal surroundings, ignorance of the elementary laws and sexual hygiene, inherited animalism, and lack of parental discipline, he said, were the main contributing causes. Until these are removed or at least moderated, thought the minister, little hope can be held out.

To the more potent evils just named, Mr. Wells added the insidious influence of present day fashions in dress. A reform of feminine dress along sane lines, he said, is imperative to moral welfare. On this point the preacher said: "It is by no means a matter of small importance that there should be a reform in dress which will bring us to the modest fashions of former years. I believe no thoughtful person will gain say the fact that the response of our women to the dictates of fashion is playing a part, and no small part, in the spread of immorality."

Among other ministers who preached sermons on the same general topic yesterday were: Rev. David Francis, at the Third Christian; Rev. Walter G. Parker, at the Park Place Methodist; Rev. Henry C. Pfeiffer, at the Central Methodist, South Richmond; Rev. H. D. C. Mac-lachlan, at the Seventh Street Christian, and Frank L. Wells, at the Broad Street Methodist, and Rev. Dr. W. J. Young at Centenary Methodist.

FOREMAN RUMLEY IS PAINFULLY INJURED

Mr. James Rumley, foreman at the J. L. Roper Lumber Company's plant in this city, was painfully injured yesterday morning by being struck with a heavy slab which one of the operators of a sawing machine had thrown to one side. From what could be learned in regards to the accident it seems that Mr. Rumley was on his regular tour of inspection through the plant. Just as he was in the act of passing the saw carriage one of the men threw one of the slabs which had been sawed off a log then in the machine to one side. This struck Mr. Rumley. Although painful his injuries are not thought to be serious and he will doubtless be able to resume his duties within a day or two.

STRANGE BLIGHT ATTACKS COTTON

Tiny Worms Eat Into The Boll and It Soon Begins To Rot.

WILL CUT OFF CROP

Samples Brought From a Farm in Jones Show Nature of Blight.

Mr. E. B. Elliott, cotton buyer for J. E. Latham, returned Monday from Pollockville and brought with him some specimen cotton bolls from the farm of Mr. Charles Harriett showing the results of a strange blight which has attacked the cotton on the farm of Mr. Harriett and other farmers in his community. The trouble begins with a small blister on the side of the boll. This spreads rapidly and in a short while the whole boll has turned black and begins to rot.

Inside the boll are found white worms almost too small to be seen by the naked eye. Mr. Elliott said that nobody had been found as yet who could classify the worm or the blight which it produces. He said that some of the diseased bolls had been sent to the State Experiment Station at Raleigh and that the experts there were baffled.

The trouble spreads rapidly. Mr. Elliott says, and unless some way of checking it is found it will undoubtedly cut off the cotton crop decidedly in the section where it is prevailing.

The same sort of worm as described by Mr. Elliott has attacked the crop in Craven also. Messrs. Hackburn and Willett looked over their field yesterday and found the same condition as that which Mr. Elliott told of as existing in Jones.

"Unless the ravages of this pest are checked," said Mr. Hackburn, "the crop will be cut off fully one-half."

Mr. Hackburn by last night's mail sent off a box of the bolls to the United States Agricultural Department at Washington to have the government experts pass on them. He does not expect that anything can be done to ward off the damage impending over this year's crop, but he thinks that probably by finding the nature of the trouble now next year's crop can be protected.

TOWNS TO GET FREE DELIVERY BY MAIL.

A large number of North Carolina towns including several in this section will get free delivery of mail for a time as a result of an experiment to be made by the Postoffice Department. This experimental service will be made at once, the last Congress having appropriated $100,000 to enable postmasters to employ necessary assistants for the work. Among the towns in this section which will get the service are Ayden, Beaufort, Belhaven, Edenton, Greenville, La Grange, Morehead City, Plymouth, Snow Hill.

The telegraph may annihilate distance, but it takes the messenger boy to kill time.

QUITS PULPIT TO WORK FOR WILSON

"It is my Christian Duty," Says Dr. Madison C. Peters, of New York.

WANTS TARIFF LOWER.

Will Be in the Campaign Until After Election.

New York, Sept. 18.—Rev. Madison C. Peters, who is a personal friend of both Taft and Roosevelt, has given up his church in Brooklyn until after election, that he may devote all his time to discussing the high cost of living.

Dr. Peters is scheduled to make Democratic arif speeches in the principal cities of the country. Dr. Peters gained nation-wide fame by carrying on a series of markets in Brooklyn whereby he endeavored to reduce the cost of food supplies.

"I am in this election because I believe it is my Christian duty," declared Dr. Peters.

"If Mr. Taft had refused to sign the Payne-Aldrich Bill and if he had signed one passed by the Democrats and some Republicans revising schedules downwards, he would be one of the most popular men in public life today, but unfortunately he got into bad company. No man can last in politics today who trains with the political gang that serves not the people, but the protected interests.

"There is nothing we eat or wear on which we do not pay tariff tribute to the trusts. From the time the baby first puts the bottle-nipple to his lips, until he is buried in advanced age, he pays a 50 per cent. tax on everything. The dead man's coffin is made by a protected trust, and on his tombstone he pays a 50 per cent. tariff exaction to the marble trust.

"The high tariff will enable the Beef Trust to sell meat here in New York 10 and 15 cents a pound higher than American beef sells for abroad. American bacon, for which we pay 25 cents a pound, sells for 11 cents in Ireland. We could buy our sugar nearly 2 cents a pound cheaper if it was not for the tariff of $1.90 a hundred-weight.

A Broadway jeweler imports American watches and sells them more cheaply, after importing them, than he can buy them from the manufacturer here. These are instances of tariff extortion."

FOOTBALL GAMES IN WEEK OF FAIR.

Visitors to New Bern and also local enthusiasts will have an opportunity of witnessing several good games of football during Fair week. The team composed of a number of local gridiron celebrities and captained by Mr. Lyle Smith, has arranged for several games with a team from the A. & M. College at Raleigh during that week. The local boys are now engaged in getting in trim for the event and from the progress made thus far they feel confident of winning the laurels. The games will be played at the Fair grounds. Arrangements are also being made for a game with Washington at some later date, probably Thanksgiving Day.
