

SEE HIM FIRST!

Before the fertilizer salesman arrives, go to your dealer and explain to him that you will not buy 2 per cent. goods that contain only 40 pounds of Potash per ton. Show him that modern, profitable fertilizers contain from 5 to 10 per cent. Potash, and that the composition of crops and the effect of crops on soils require that the per cent. of Potash should be increased until it is as great as, or greater than, the per cent. of Phosphoric Acid in the fertilizer. It is this grade of goods that pays you and your dealer best. The quantity and quality of the crops are better and the actual plant food costs less per pound.

SHOWS UNUSUAL SORT OF CURIO

Mr. Davenport Displays To Friends A Bone Ring That Has A History.

HE PRIZES IT VERY HIGHLY

Given To Him By Heathen Queen. Made From Bones Of Savage Chief.

B. E. Davenport has on display at his store on lower Middle street a very interesting curio in the shape of a ring made from a piece of bone. The ring is a very large one, weighing about two ounces and being so fashioned that it will cover two fingers of an average man's hand. It was sent to Mr. Davenport by Queen Lil, a former ruler of one of the Sandwich Islands and is highly prized by its owner.

There is a very interesting bit of history connected with the ring and it is said that this is true in every detail. About fifteen years ago, so the story goes, a small schooner laden with merchandise was wrecked off one of the Sandwich Islands. A fierce storm was raging at the time and only one member of the crew managed to reach the shore alive. The inhabitants of this island were very savage and had an undying hatred against the white race and consequently the sailor was at once captured by the natives and after being securely bound was placed in a hut and told that he was to be executed on the following day. A short time later his jailors carried him before their queen to be sentenced. This woman was strangely moved by the man's appearance and on her command he was released. So grateful was the sailor that he asked to be allowed to make her some offering of his appreciation. Being cast ashore with naught but the clothing he wore the poor man was at a loss as to what he could present to the queen.

Having learned to carve articles out of wood and stone he asked that he be given a piece of hard wood or bone. A bone which was said to be from the body of a chief of a neighboring island was given the sailor and from this he fashioned the ring now in Mr. Davenport's possession.

Some time later a merchant vessel bound to this country dropped anchor near the island and the sailor was rescued. The queen had become infatuated with the man and she in some way secured herself on the vessel and was carried to New York. It was in that city that Mr. Davenport saw the erstwhile queen.

Some time later the queen returned to her native home and a few weeks after this Mr. Davenport received the strange souvenir. The ring is so designed that there is room on the front for an engraving of an eagle, the stars and stripes and a large star. It has been seen by hundreds of persons and the owner has had many flattering offers made by collectors of curios and relics who were desirous of adding it to their collection.
