TO CORRESPONDENTS.

The Journal earnestly requests its correspondents to send in the news of their respective communities. When the present owners of the Journal took charge of it, they were conducting the Industrial Weekly. That paper had a large corps of correspondents, country news being one of its strong features.

We are writing this to get our friends interested again. Send us the news of your community. It will take but a little of your time and it will be a benefit to your community to read it as every person there will be interested in knowing what you have to say.

With a clash of authority between the Secretary of the Treasury and United States District Judge Boyd the "Old Nick" whiskey case is getting more and more interesting.

War between Turkey and the Allies is slated to begin again this week. As both sides are pretty well at the end of their tether, it is likely that the war will die a natural death very soon any way.

With high pressure over the Middle Atlantic and low pressure in Alaska and the Northwest, such as has been general for the last two months, we can have nothing but warm weather, says Dr. Harry C. Frankenhoff, chief weather forecaster of the United States.

The indications are that before the thing is over with there will be a good deal of feeling stirred up over the matter of who shall be New Bern's postmaster under the Wilson administration.

A MAN FOR EVERY JOB.

There's a man for every want. One of the latest wants to be filled is that of renewing interest in more or less cold and ineffective commercial organizations. For a long time it was the practice to let such a body die the death and later be resurrected again, or rally the local forces and resuscitate it before life was finally extinct.

"NERVES." Ex-King Manuel is said to be seeking a cure for "nerves". One way would be to forget that he was ever a king.

And it would be help to get a hard job and fill it. We also recommend to his ex-majesty that he get lot of fresh air and eat wholesome food.

PRINCIPLES NOT MEN. The personal relations of William Jennings Bryan and Champ Clark have been the occasion of some anxiety on the part of Democrats who fear a break in the ranks of the party on account of the animosity supposed to exist between the two men.

There is constant tendency to overestimate the personal element and underestimate the importance of the principles and policies involved.

SHOCKINGLY UNCONVENTIONAL. The conventional politician, the conventional business man, the conventional representative of fashion and society can't understand the New Jersey Governor.

And the probabilities are that he will continue shocking conventional sensibilities after he gets into the White House. But the country at large seems to like it, and even the conventionalists will enjoy and profit by it when they are fully waked up.

GOVERNOR CRAIG ON HEALTH

Recommends a Vital Statistics Law and Efficient, Well-paid Health Officers.

North Carolina is proud of her new governor. One of his strongest recommendations in his inaugural address was for better health work.

"The State has been blessed with all the natural conditions conducive to health and strength. Sufferers from far countries come here to recover from disease and renew the vigor of youth in our salubrious air.

"We must provide for the accurate record of births and deaths and the causes of disease in every community. We can thus ascertain with accuracy the sanitary conditions in each community and intelligently work for the prevention of disease and for the promotion of health.

IDEAL AGE TO WED IS 25. Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of the department of English at Boston University inclines to 25 years as the ideal age at which men should marry.

"There is nothing particularly God-fearing or discreet or reverent about 30," says Dr. Sharp. "Thirty is the timid age. Forty is the dangerous age. Twenty is the ageless age, the silly, milky, tasseled age, when a boy is still liable to be croupy and to need castor oil and his mother."

"When a man reaches 30, however, he knows that he is not a poet and a captain of industry and that the moon is not made of cheese and that love is not the same thing at all as love in the suburbs or in a city flat."

WEATHER PLEASED FARMERS

During Warm Spell They "Made Hay While Sun Shone."

Olympia, Jan. 21.—The weather in this section during the past few days has been all that could be desired and our farmers have been "making hay while the sun shines."

There has recently been quite a lot of sickness in this section but the majority of those who have been afflicted are recovering.

Our public school is progressing finely under the efficient supervision and management of Mrs. A. H. Alphin of New Bern.

G. R. Daugh is quite ill with an attack of pneumonia. The attending physician states that he is slightly improved today.

Rev. F. S. Beeton will fill his regular appointment at this place next Sunday.

Miss Nina Hall who has been visiting her sister Mrs. L. P. Holton returned home yesterday.

Mrs. Emmett Stapleford and children Ruth and Zeb, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Hubert Thomas.

Mrs. Jessie and Miss Emma Jones, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary L. Rice.

W. J. Lathinhouse was the guest of Miss Beulah M. Rice Sunday afternoon.

Graham Stevenson spent Sunday afternoon as a guest of Miss Sina Speight.

SEES PROGRESS HERE.

John Bambalis, owner of the Busy Bee cafe in this city and the Bambalis Hotel at Norfolk, Va., arrived in the city yesterday from that place.

Mr. Bambalis has been away from the city for several months, and was agreeably surprised at the many changes which have been made during that time.

"New Bern," he said "greatly resembles Norfolk in many ways and the citizens here are equally as progressive as the people of that city. In my belief it will be only a matter of a few years before this city will rank with Norfolk."

Mr. Bambalis will remain in the city for several days.

GOV. BLEASE IS ON THE WARPATH

Gives New Reasons For Refusing to Let Militia Attend the Inauguration.

NO FORMAL INVITATION TO HIM

Feared S. C. Troops In Parade Would Have to March Behind Negroes.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 21.—It appears that the action of Governor Blease in refusing to allow the South Carolina militia to attend the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson as President is not due solely to his dislike of William E. Gonzalez, editor of the Columbia State, who would have charge of the Palmetto State features of the event.

This statement is only in tune with his recent series of four messages to the General Assembly, in which he has lashed invective on the press and on others whom he calls his enemies.

The Governor's last message to the General Assembly contained a bitter attack upon Senator B. R. Tillman. In this letter the Governor charged that there was a conspiracy between the editor of the Columbia State and Tillman to defeat him for re-election.

In this message the Governor alluded to the killing of N. G. Gonzales, late editor of the State, by James H. Tillman, nephew of the Senator, saying that "the crack of the magazine pistol had been forgotten in the opposition to Blease."

The Governor has also brought his pardon record for his term well past the 500 mark, having issued almost 510 pardons and paroles during the two years of his administration.

Fayetteville baseball enthusiasts are taking a great deal of interest in the proposed resurrection of the Eastern Carolina Baseball Association and will doubtless be on hand at the meeting to be held at Goldsboro on January 31, to make application for admission.

The committee was instructed to thoroughly canvass the situation as to professional baseball and to recommend a business manager for a proposed organization. The result of its work will be reported to a meeting to be held Friday.

ARRESTED FOR NOT PAYING DOG TAX.

City Tax Collector J. J. Tolson has made out a list of the names of the owners of dogs in this city who have not paid the tax on them and placed it in the hands of the Chief of Police so that warrants may be served on them.

WEST ORIENTAL NOTES. West Oriental, Jan. 21.—The weather in this section during the past few days has been ideal and has been greatly enjoyed by our people.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore of Oriental spent Sunday at the home of J. R. Hodges.

Miss Bettie Williams of Winthrop Mills spent last week with Miss Lizzie Hodges.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Booth of Winthrop Mills spent Sunday and Saturday with Mrs. Booth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hodges.
