PAY THE PRICE AND GET THE GOODS.

Democrats are not wealthy folks. President Wilson is about not to find a sufficient number to fill the diplomatic posts, those positions requiring the outlay of a good deal more money than they pay. What's the matter with raising the salaries? This government is able to pay for what it needs and it surely needs men of democratic tastes and tendencies in all foreign courts. Men in this country who have piled up huge fortunes unfortunately have as a general thing lost the simple tastes and sympathies which are especially needed to qualify them to present a republic at the seat of government of a foreign country.

THE FRIEDMANN TREATMENT.

The proof of the pudding is the chewing of the bag. Nine out of ten patients who received the Friedmann treatment for tuberculosis on Monday of last week reported on Saturday that they were feeling better and stronger in every way, also they had gained from three-quarters of a pound to four and one half pounds. If Dr. Friedmann has not found the cure for consumption some other doctor or scientist will find it. Of course it is possible that the improvement in the condition of the patients who took the treatment is only temporary and it is too early, all the experts say, to pass an intelligent opinion on the efficacy of the treatment.

NOT WITHOUT PRECEDENT.

When Secretary of State Bryan on St. Patrick's Day predicted the early coming of Home Rule for Ireland, some of the Tory papers in London pounced on him viciously as having twisted the tail of the British Lion inordinately and unnecessarily. Such a breach of diplomatic amenities had never been heard of before according to those newspapers.

Friends of Mr. Bryan are now recalling what Lord Salisbury said in 1896 when Bryan was defeated for the Presidency by McKinley and when the then English premier designated the defeat of Bryan as a triumph for the principles "which lie at the base of all human society."

With Mr. Bryan at the head of the Department of State, diplomatic activities promise to be divested of some of the sharp practice which has heretofore seemed to be their distinguished characteristic.

INVESTIGATION SURE TO DO SOME GOOD.

Minimum wage or no minimum wage, the power of public opinion brought to bear on those millionaire merchants of Chicago is bound to work great good for the shopgirls of the Windy City.—Greensboro News.

Publicity always helps when it's a matter of getting reform. The investigation made by the Illinois Vice Commission has revealed for one thing the vast profits that the Chicago department stores have been making off a business as important and indispensable factor in which is the labor of girls. Public opinion, which will rapidly crystallize along lines of justice when it has the facts on which to base conclusions, is now going to demand that the girls in the great stores be given a larger share of the profits of those stores.

President Wilson and all of his household are to be vaccinated as a precaution against smallpox. The doctrine that vaccination is unnecessary and inexcusable, as held by a few people in this country, has plainly not appealed to the first citizen of the land.

The Chicago Association of Collegiate Alumnae is protesting against discrimination against married women as teachers. The protest is thoroughly justifiable. Married women should be given every reasonable advantage in life. It often happens that in their choice of a life companion they terribly handicap themselves. If there is any way around it, no additional handicap should be imposed upon them.

Another Turkish army has surrendered. There can't be many more left. As a fighting machine Turkey makes a strictly sorry exhibition.

North Carolinians are said to be less rancorous for Federal office than the folks from other States. North Carolina will, somehow or other, always contrive to excel.

Democrats several years ago had much to say about the fondness of the Republicans for "pie." There's no denying that the Democrats also have an appetite for the same delicacy.

However, it will have to be admitted that those men who are seeking the offices stand a better chance to get one than those who are sitting down and waiting for the office to seek them.

Harvard professor seeing the times more or less out of joint, ventures a remedy. "Pass a law," he says, "for bidding a man to marry until he is earning a wage of five dollars a day." This way out of the difficulty would not have been so surprising had it emanated from a professor of the Chicago University. But it is well enough to remember the Harvard man's advice any way—if you think of anything you want, just pass a law and get it.

Professor Fine of Princeton declines the position of ambassador to Germany. The professor hasn't twenty or thirty thousand dollars a year above the salary to turn loose in Berlin. Nobody can blame him. The President had just as well look outside of a college to find men for the big diplomatic posts. College professors simply haven't got the wherewith.

The Journal acknowledges with thanks the receipt of an invitation to attend the formal opening of the new building of the Richmond Times-Dispatch on Friday of this week. The Times-Dispatch is one of the greatest papers in the country and that it is to be housed in a style commensurate with its importance and significance in the newspaper world must be a source of great satisfaction to every member of its force and to its readers and friends everywhere.

PROGRESSIVE COMMUNITIES SEEK ADEQUATE SCHOOL FACILITIES.

A special to the Raleigh Times says: "The Troy people will vote April 8th on the question of issuing not to exceed $25,000 in bonds for a modern and up-to-date school building. There is some opposition, but the advocates of the bonds are not in anyway fearful of the outcome. Troy folks for the most part are progressive and enterprising, and believe in education. It will be the purpose to sell the bonds as soon as possible after April 8th and let the contract at once, so the building can be completed for the coming school year. The superintendent of the Troy schools is Robert E. Ranson."

Progressive communities everywhere are seeing the wisdom of providing adequate school facilities. Education is the greatest need. Ever since the late Governor Aycock went up and down the State like a flaming evangel preaching the doctrine of more and better schools, North Carolina has been firmly arrayed on the side of education as the greatest human force for the uplift of mankind. The last Legislature signaled itself and won praise for the State nation-wide in extent when it declared that whatever the cost the State should have a school term of not less than six months. Money wisely invested in schools is bread upon the waters—it will return multiplied many times.

All kinds of opportunities are to be found in the Journal's want ad column, calling for your attention—the opportunity to buy a needed article at a saving in cost—to sell at a profit—to establish a business connection that will be profitable—to better your position—to obtain the efficient clerk or stenographer or the proper kind of domestic servant.

The "Want" ads speak to a man or the young man or woman seeking a better position. Start this morning and establish the custom of reading the "Wants" every day.

Including the Wedding Fee. Mrs. Chubb (with newspaper)—I see several persons are petitioning to have their names changed. What does it cost to have a name changed? Mr. Chubb—It cost me a couple of hundred to have your name changed to mine.—Boston Transcript.

A Remedy. Lodger—I wish you would put a better mattress on my bed. Landlady—Better mattress? Why, that is a genuine hair mattress! Lodger—Oh, that before the case, perhaps a bottle of hair restorer is all that's necessary.—London Tit-Bits.

The Farmers' Department Store

FARRIS NASSEF, Proprietor

It was a political meeting in the east end of London, and the M. P., an exceptionally popular man, was addressing his constituents. The politician in question rejoices in a luxuriant crop of hair. The audience was sympathetic for the most part, but there was one man in the front row of the audience who made numerous interruptions. He was a coal beaver, apparently, and had but recently been shaving.

"Get your hair cut!" he shouted during a most pathetic passage in the candidate's speech. The well known catch phrase seemed particularly applicable, so a good many of the audience laughed.

But the M. P. was equal to the occasion.

"I will make a bargain with that gentleman," he said. "I will get my hair cut if he will get his face washed."

There were no more interruptions.—London Express.
