HOW ONE WOMAN WON Her Health and Strength Back Again by the Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Copran writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and from the first day, it seemed to help. I had almost lost my reason, but thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and hurrying them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time-tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways.

Try it.

N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.

barbarous deed, but nothing is expected to come of the investigation.

If the Democrats have got to split over anything it ought to be over principles rather than pie.

The loss of life as a result of the Ohio floods is now estimated at three thousand. And still the horror grows.

Weather Chief Willis Moore when his resignation takes effect will, it is announced, go on the lecture platform. Well, Willis has a lot of explaining to do and being on the lecture platform will afford him a good opportunity.

The capacity of some men for meanness can't be calculated until the tests are applied. At Zanesville, Ohio, one of the flood-stricken towns, boatmen in one instance refused to remove persons from imperilled homes unless paid in advance. Luckily a squad of militiamen were at hand and forced them to aid in the rescue work. You don't want to conclude that the world hasn't a good supply of wolves in human form.

These are great days for the newspapers. With almost unprecedented floods in this country, with a new administration and a new party taking hold of affairs in Washington, with the Balkan war being fought to a grim finish, with Mexico in the throes of a civil war liable at any moment to flame into some horror that will make the world stand aghast, every hour is crowded with news possibilities of the most striking and picturesque kind.

"Montgomery's dog killer still lives," says a headline. How about the fool-killer?

The new administration took hold of the flood situation like old hands at the business.

There is every indication that the Democrats will put up as dignified a scuffle as Federal positions as the Republicans did when they were in power. Of course our Republican friends are sad at being out of office and out of power, but they undoubtedly are getting some satisfaction out of watching the antics of the "unterrified" at the pic counter.

The burning of San Francisco was a dreadful disaster and a very costly one in dollars and cents, but it is estimated that the property loss in Ohio as a result of the recent floods is greater than was the property loss in San Francisco. Of course the loss of money is in no wise to be compared in importance with the loss of life, but the comparison with San Francisco serves to give an idea of the magnitude of the Ohio disaster.

Late news from the flood disaster in Ohio and Indiana is that the loss of life is not altogether as large as it was feared at one time it would be. Exploration of the flooded section has revealed hundreds safe who were thought to have been drowned. It was natural that the first impressions should have resulted in exaggerated opinions as to the extent of the calamity.

Life is precious. One reason the first estimates as to the dead in Dayton were too great was because the estimators failed to allow for the determined and persevering efforts which a human being will make before surrendering up his life. Whether it be the Allen's condemned to die on a murder charge or men and women marooned by the floods of Ohio, the desire to live is powerful and abiding and its results are seen in unexpected and sometimes seemingly miraculous escapes.

A nephew of President Huerta of Mexico took it into his head the other day that there had not been enough summary executions of rebels. So with a troop of soldiers he rode to the penitentiary and had one of the prisoners brought out and riddled with bullets. Of course this was simply adding fuel to the flames of the Mexican revolution, and it is not surprising that the preparation of such a crime was drunk at the time. The government has undertaken to investigate the

Can you Doubt It?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of New Bern testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of New Bern says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

C. F. Harget, 47 Burns St., New Bern, N. C., says: "I am just as pleased to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills at this time as I was after I first used them some years ago. My back ached a great deal and I had pain through my kidneys which plainly showed that I was afflicted with kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured from the Bradham Drug Co. and they so effectively removed my trouble that I have only had need of them once since then. At that time they again acted promptly and gave me entire relief. I know that this preparation acts as represented and is worthy of the highest praise."

Hot flashes—dizziness, fainting spells, headache, bearing-down feeling and all of a kindred nature—are nature's danger signals. The female disturbance or irregularity back of these calls for help, should have immediate care and attention. Otherwise the delicate female constitution soon breaks down.

"SHORT STOP" IS NEW PARADE HAT

COSTS ONLY 48 CENTS, BUT IT WILL SURELY GIVE "VOTES FOR WOMEN" BIG BOOST.

New York, March 29—The "short-stop" is the new parade hat in which the suffragists will march up Fifth avenue May 3. It will cost 48 cents, minus trimming, and is warranted to carry as little or as much adornment as the wearer fancies without infringing on the modish effect.

The short-stop was selected by Mrs. Edward Livingston Hunt of the Women's Political Union and is regarded as a pace-maker in parade hats. Its name is indicative of its type in millinery circles. The brim, which is curling, is narrower in front than in the back or at the side, where the sweeping curve reaches its highest point. It is made of soft straw and is guileless of severe angle.

All the suffrage organizations represented in the parade will adopt white as the costume. The doctors will walk in cape and gown, bearing the wand of Aesculapius, chosen for them by Mrs. William Floyd, Chairman of the Committee on Wands.

The teachers who will muster in large numbers and will be watched by Supt. Maxwell on the reviewing stand, will bear the torch of knowledge. Miss Josephine Beldering of the public schools and Miss A. Hopkins of the private schools are organizing the force.

To emphasize the picture as the column winds up the avenue a cubist ensemble will be obtained by mounting small triangular flags above the big heavy banners.

According to a newspaper correspondent there are no trills and furbelows about James Bryce, the British ambassador. It is said that when he has business at the White House he takes a street car or walks and has actually been known to ride there on a bicycle. The American citizen with anything of an inquiring mind will wonder why, if Great Britain can get along with that sort of man as her representative in this country, the United States must needs have a millionaire to represent it in Great Britain.
