KILLS PARAMOUR! SHOTS HIMSELF

Goldsboro Young Man Slays Woman With Whom He Had Been Intimate.

URNS PISTOL ON HIMSELF

Tragedy Took Place In Hospital Where The Woman Was Being Treated.

(Special to the Journal)
Goldsboro, April 14.—For the second time in less than a month, Goldsboro is shocked by a tragedy, this time in which the life of a young woman was snuffed out without warning and the life of her paramour, who rushed her soul into eternity, is hanging by the slenderest thread.

Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, Mrs. May Carter Lomax was shot and instantly killed by Cleveland Prince a young man who is well known locally and who lives in a section of the city known as Webb Town.

Prince had only recently returned from a trip west in the interest of his health and last Thursday he and Mrs. Lomax went out in the latter's automobile for a "joy ride". The machine was wrecked and Mrs. Lomax was injured and later carried to the hospital for treatment. This morning Prince went to Mrs. Lomax millinery establishment and told one of the young lady clerks that her employer wanted to see her. Not doubting the young man's word the clerk donned her hat and cloak and together the two went to the hospital.

As the floor nurse had no reason to question the visitors they were permitted to see Mrs. Lomax; neither did the young lady who accompanied Mr. Prince suspect anything for she went with him on his statement in calling for her to accompany him, that Mrs. Lomax had requested him to call and take her out to the hospital, that Mrs. Lomax wished to see her.

Soon after the two entered Mrs. Lomax room the young lady was requested by Mr. Prince to step into the hall for a moment, that he wanted to have a private talk with Mrs. Lomax, and hardly had she complied with the request when two pistol shots rang out in the room and through the hall and when the startled floor nurse and others hurried to the scene they found Mrs. Lomax dead with a wound through the head and Mr. Prince writhing in unconsciousness from a like shot, self inflicted, immediately after shooting Mrs. Lomax. Her death was instantaneous.

There was a noticeable intimacy between Prince and Mrs. Lomax and many of the more observant suspected that an infatuation existed mutually between them but few if any gave it a serious turn in their minds. Rumors, however, began to go the rounds as rumors will and Prince, about four months or so ago, went west for his health and people forgot it. He returned two weeks ago and Thursday night he and Mrs. Lomax in the latter's automobile left the city together after midnight for a "joy ride" and Friday morning the wrecked automobile was found on the road near the park and there was evidence that there had been drinking aboard. Rumor again became rife and yesterday Mrs. Lomax was entered as a patient in the hospital. At 11 o'clock tonight Prince is still living but is unconscious and there is no hope for his recovery.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Lomax was Miss May Carter. She and her father and mother and two brothers came here about ten years ago. A short time later she opened a millinery establishment on East Centre Street and this proved very popular from the very first. A few years ago she married a Mr. Lomax who was employed as a conductor by the Southern Railway Company, on her return from this city and Greensboro. After her marriage she continued to conduct her millinery establishment with the same success which characterized its Goldsboro, April 15.—Cleveland Prince, the young man who yesterday visited the Goldsboro hospital and fired a bullet into the brain of Mrs. May Carter Lomax, killing her instantly and then turned his still smoking revolver on himself and inflicted injuries, died this morning without regaining consciousness.

Immediately after the young man had shot himself he was placed on the operating table in the hospital and an attempt was made to save his life but from the very first it was seen that there was not the least hope for him.

PRESBYTERY IS NOW IN SESSION

Many Ministers and Elders Arrive In The City To Attend Important Meeting.

FIRST SESSION LAST NIGHT

Introductory Sermon Was Delivered By Rev. J. C. Shive of Wilson, N. C.

The Presbytery of Albemarle, composed of ministers and ruling elders in the northeastern part of North Carolina, convened here last night at the Presbyterian church in its annual session with Rev. J. C. Shive of Wilson, presiding as Moderator.

This meeting is of special interest to the members of the Presbyterian churches in this section of the State and is always well attended by the ministers and elders of these churches. About twenty-five delegates arrived last night and others are expected to reach here this morning.

The major part of last night's session was taken up with the opening sermon, delivered by Rev. J. C. Shive. Rev. Shive is a speaker of marked ability and the sermon rendered by him was thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard it. Following the sermon the organization was completed after which the night's session was adjourned. This morning another session will be held and the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend this.

The following elders and ministers arrived in the city last evening and were in attendance at the session held at night:

Samuel Walker, Henderson; Franklin McNeil, Raleigh; George Howard, Tarboro; R. H. Bachman, Edenton; Leo D. Hart, Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morrison, Bellview; C. M. Brown, Washington; Prof. S. L. Sheep, Elizabeth City; E. W. Kendrick, Goldsboro; John Webb, Oxford; A. C. Hughes, Apex; N. H. McLain, Farmville; Rev. V. G. Smith, Goldsboro; Rev. J. E. Ballou, Tarboro; Rev. W. D. Morton, Rocky Mount; Rev. S. K. Phillips, Oxford; Rev. H. B. Scarratt, Washington; Rev. R. A. White, Henderson; Rev. J. E. Humphill, Wake county; Rev. M. Mc. G. Shields, Greensboro; Rev. W. Mc. C. White, Raleigh; Rev. J. C. Shive, Wilson; Rev. Robert Key, Fayetteville; Rev. C. O. Pardo, Sanford.

Although she has not announced her plan. It is understood that Mrs. Wilson will come here once or twice more in connection with the work which she is having done by the dressmaker.

early history. She was a very attractive woman, in fact her charms were such that she was greatly admired by all who saw her and the tragedy which caused her death is regretted by all.

HE SECURES EXPERT OPINION

May Secure The Treasure That Pizarro and His Men Failed to Obtain.

New York, April 14.—On the United Fruit Company's steamer Carillo, which sailed yesterday for Guayaquil, Ecuador, were Mr. and Mrs. William G. Gates, of Callao, Peru, and three mining engineers and assayers.

Mr. Gates has had large mining interests in Peru for some years past; but a couple of months ago he came upon a "find" in the course of explorations in the wilds of the Andes that impressed him so deeply that he came at once to New York in order to secure expert opinion on the question. The location of the "find" Mr. Gates refused to make public beyond saying that it is between the headwaters of two rivers.

The ore, says Mr. Gates—gold ore—is of such richness that he believes he has at last actually found the original treasure lode of the Incas, and has thus re-discovered, an ancient mine that has been the subject of wild speculation, the object of hundreds of prospecting expeditions and the theme of scores of romances in every language since the days of Pizarro.

"The tales of the old Spanish conquistadores," said Mr. Gates, "are full of descriptions of the Incas, Manco and Huaym Capac, of the gold plates on the walls of their places and temples, the gold ornaments on the costumes of even the meanest of their court attendants, the gold that apparently strewed the very ground around them. The precious metal seems to have been common as lead among them."

"Pizarro and his men seized vast quantities of gold and silver at the taking of Quito and Cuzco, but it has always been believed that even larger portions of the treasure escaped them and has remained to this day buried far back in some almost inaccessible recess of the Andes.

"I do not know whether these tales are myth or exaggeration or plain sober fact. Certainly none of the many expeditions organized to search for the treasure has ever been successful. But it is not open to doubt that Pizarro and his men did seize immense quantities of gold in Peru. Enough of it was brought back to Spain to prove that. None of the mines now known in Peru would account for such vast wealth. The lode I have just found, however, is of such amazing richness that I think it is only reasonable to suppose that it must be the true source of the treasure of the Incas."

Mr. Gates said that he had not let his discovery be known in Peru for fear of Governmental interference. It is understood in Lima that he has found iron ore, and his expedition is known in Peru as an expedition to develop a new iron mine.

PHYSICIANS TO GIVE SERVICES

HEALTH OF VETERANS AT REUNION TO BE LOOKED AFTER WITHOUT COST.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 16.—Toked up on the walls of Confederate reunion headquarters in this city, is a large card, dimensions about two by three feet. This card contains information of interest to the reunion hospital service.

For three days of the reunion, May 27, 28 and 29, the physicians of Chattanooga will give their services to the reunion association to look after the health of the veterans and visitors. A couple of physicians each day will be located at convenient points in the city and on the battlefields, so that medical service may be quickly provided if needed. The card indicates the assignments for each day, tells where the doctors will be and gives their names.

So, if a veteran or visitor is suddenly stricken with any ailment he will be given immediate attention by the medical corps. City Physicians Steel is at the head of the medical corps, and has been active in making preparations. Prominent ex-Confederates from other states, who have looked into this branch of the coming service, pronounce it the most perfect they have ever seen.

In case of accident, the medical corps will promptly give attention to the injured. Hospital service will be provided free of all charge to veterans, and any other that may need medical attention in an emergency.

May is the healthiest month of the year in Chattanooga, but in immense crowds, like that expected during the reunion, medical attention is generally in demand by somebody. The preparations to provide this attention immediately if needed, are all that could be desired.

ROYAL ARCANUMS IN WILMINGTON

CAPE FEAR CITY IS TODAY ENTERTAINING MEMBERS OF THAT ORDER.

THE BRIDE IS A DAUGHTER OF SENATOR

and Mrs. F. M. Simmons of This City

BRILLIANT ASSEMBLAGE

On account of the social prominence of bride and groom, a wedding of wide social interest in North Carolina was solemnized at Christ Episcopal church at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Miss Isabelle Gibbs Simmons, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Furnifold McLendell Simmons became the bride of Dr. Joseph Flanner Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Patterson. There was gathered at the church one of the most brilliant wedding assemblages ever seen within the precincts of historic New Bern.

Rev. Bartholomen F. Huske rector of the church impressively performed the ceremony. The decorations of the church were beautiful and effective. Following a color scheme of white and green dogwood branches, palms and Southern simlax were used as a background, while the back of the altar was covered with white and festooned with smilax and snow balls.

Quantities of Easter lilies inter-perced with Cathedral candles decorated the altar. The chancel was a mass of ferns and palms and the choir stalls and organ were effectively decorated with Easter lilies and white tulle, while festooned above the chancel was a garland of m'xax and white rosebuds. Under this the ceremony took place. Mrs. Garrison Farrow presided at the organ, and before the entrance of the bride party, rendered the following beautiful selections: "Spring Song"—Mendelssohn. "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star." Pastoral from William Tell, Berceuse from Jaclyn and Love's Old Sweet Song. As the organ pealed forth the grand chorals of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the four ushers, Mr. John Patterson, Ensign Donald Patterson, U. S. N., Mr. William Dunn, J., and Mr. Jesse Claypool, leading the bridal party, walked two by two down the centre aisle, up to the chancel and stood two on either side.

Mrs. Wade Meadows, as dame of honor was her sister's only attendant. She wore a handsome gown of white satin, trimmed with point lace and carried an arm bouquet of pink Killarney roses and asparagus fern.

Tenderloin Man of Mystery Found Dead In Saloon Storeroom.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.—True to his oft-declared intention of drinking himself to death, "Professor," a Tenderloin habitue, whose real name is unknown to the police, was found dead at Fourth and Vine streets, with two partly-filled demijohns of whiskey beside him. It is the belief of the police that the litterally carried out his intention by consuming part of the contents of every bottle, demijohn and keg in the place.

For several months the man had been seen in the neighborhood, and his language indicated that he was well educated. This fact earned for him the nickname of "Professor," and on account of his reticence his real name or past was never found out.

Yesterday morning when John J. Gochler, one of the bartenders went to the storeroom to sweep it out he found the man lying in a heap in the midst of the remains of his alcoholic orgy. Special Policeman Beiger and Fagan, of the Seventh District, were notified and they had the body removed to the morgue, after it had been taken to Hahnemann Hospital and pronounced dead.

Land Sale At Whiteville Yesterday Was Well Attended.

The third and last sale conducted by the Atlantic Coast Realty Company for the Simmons-Bradham-Farrior syndicate, was held yesterday when residence lots for colored people only were offered for sale at Whiteville, located little more than a mile from New Bern.

As on the two former days, the sale was well attended and the lots were sold rapidly, about thirty being disposed of at prices averaging seventy five dollars. The sale was conducted by the Burton brother, the twin auctioneers who claim the distinction of selling a lot a minute.

Whiteville is an ideal location for the colored man who wants to purchase a residence lot and in the opinion of those who are thoroughly familiar with the existing conditions, it will be only a matter of a few years before property in that section will have considerably increased in value.

Senator La Follette seems unable to get the block out of his mind.

PRESIDENT'S WIFE VISITS BALTIMORE

Mistress of White House Having Her Gowns Made In Monumental City.

SIGNIFICANCE IS UNCERTAIN

May Mean That First Lady Thinks Baltimore Prices Lowest to Be Had.

Baltimore, April 16.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is having her gowns made in Baltimore and she came here yesterday for two fittings.

Whether this means that the mistress of the White House is trying to keep within the limit of $1,000, which she said several weeks ago should be the maximum annual cost of a woman's clothes, or whether she just likes this particular Baltimore dressmaker better than all others in the country her friends have not ventured to ask.

However, Mrs. Wilson arrived about 10 o'clock by train. She was accompanied by her secretary, Miss Bones, and a Secret Service man. The presence of the special agent of the Government was a source of surprise to Mrs. Wilson's friends, but it was explained that the precaution has always been taken for the safety of the wives of former Presidents and had to be followed in the case of Mrs. Wilson.

After a short stay at the home of her cousins, the Misses Hoyt, 609 Lexington street, Mrs. Wilson, still accompanied by Miss Bones and the Secret Service agent, went to the dressmakers, where she remained for about an hour. The party returned to the Hoyt residence for luncheon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Wilson was anxious to see the family of Mr. W. D. Hoyt, on Twenty-first street, especially the children, whom she had not seen for some time, and so she visited their home in the early afternoon. Mr. Hoyt is also her first cousin.

Another fitting at the dressmaker's took place in the afternoon and then the party, by special permission, spent about two hours in the Waiter's Art Gallery.

It was the first time that Mrs. Wilson had visited the gallery. Being herself an artist of repute her appreciation was intense.

It was the second time Mrs. Wilson had come to Baltimore without formal announcement, the first having been about a month ago when she came to see a sick relative at Johns Hopkins Hospital. On that occasion she was the guest of Reverend Doctor and Mrs. Harris E. Kirk.

Another tribute to the bride was a beautiful silver fruit dish sent from "Members of the North Carolina Delegation in Congress." A handsome silver service was sent from the groom's family and a chest of flat silver by parents of the bride. Cut glass, trays, silver services, china, and household goods go to make up this gorgeous collection of wedding presents.

Bridal Party Entertained.

Many pre-nuptial affairs were given the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Wade Meadows entertained the bridal party and a few other friends, Tuesday evening, at their home on South Front street. Easter lilies, lilies of the valley and smilax attractively decorated the rooms.

Mrs. Thomas Williams gracefully presided over the beautifully appointed, rich table and all drank to the future happiness of bride and groom elect. The dining room was especially attractive, being decorated entirely in lilies and smilax. A lovely wedding cake formed the centerpiece of the table, the chandeliers above was wreathed in smilax, and the trailing vine twined with white tulle extended to the four corners of the table where they were caught by tapers in silver candlesticks. Much merriment was caused by the cutting of the wedding cake, Rev. B. F. Huske cut the thimble.

Delicious refreshments were served and as souvenirs of the happy occasion each guest was presented with miniature boxes, decorated with lilies and containing wedding cake. Thus enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Meadows hospitality were: Miss Isabelle Simmons, Mary Hughes, Mary Nixon, Mildred Ball, Jane Stewart, Mamie Hunter Richardson, Dr. Joseph Patterson, Mr. George Atmore, Rev. B. F. Huske, Mr. John Patterson, Mr. Jesse Claypool, Mr. Albert Patterson, Mr. Rodman Guion, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Du Val Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams.
