Dr. Vermatille, the renowned Paris stomach specialist, being overworked, broke down and was obliged to give up the practice of his profession, at least temporarily. Before starting for the Riviera, where he proposed to recuperate, he turned over his patients to Dr. Hartwell, a young American who had studied medicine in Paris and after graduation had accepted a position with Dr. Vermatille preparatory to setting up for a specialist in America.

The two were sitting together in Dr. Vermatille's office, going over an alphabetical list of patients and a brief statement of the symptoms of each. Under the letter "L" came the name of Lassant, Louise.

"Mlle. Lassant," said Dr. Vermatille, "you will find a difficult case to diagnose. At least I have not yet made up my mind as to the nature of her disease. She is languid, takes no interest in anything, has no appetite and is inclined to melancholy. I have recommended a diet of the most digestible food and given her charcoal and other stomach remedies. She has responded to none of them. Possibly you may stumble on the weak spot that is causing the trouble, and if you do, as you well know, the battle is half won."

"Lassant?" said Dr. Hartwell, striving to recall the person to whom the name belonged. "Is not she a young lady about twenty years old, very beautiful, with chestnut hair and soft brown eyes? I think I visited such a patient one day—no; it was her mother—when you were out of town."

"Perhaps so," replied Dr. Vermatille and proceeded to give a statement of the case of the next patient on the list. A few days after Dr. Vermatille's departure Dr. Hartwell while making his round of visits called upon Mlle. Lassant. He found her dressed in negligee costume lying on a lounge in her boudoir reading a novel. On seeing the doctor a slight flush came into her cheeks.

"A little fever this morning, eh?" said the doctor cheerily, at the same time gently pushing a gold bracelet up on to her arm that he might feel her pulse. The moment he touched her wrist he felt a quiver of throbbing. "Feverish, not fever," he continued. "There is a difference, I assure you."

"Then the doctor asked her if she felt loss of breath in going upstairs, whether she suffered distress after eating, if she slept well. To all of these questions she gave satisfactory replies. Hartwell, being no wiser as to her case than before, resorted to the usual device of physicians, took out his prescription blanks, and filling one out with some hieroglyphics which any properly educated druggist would know meant pure water with an agreeable flavoring, he took his leave, promising to call again in a few days.

"At what hour?" asked the young lady. "About the same as today," replied the young man. On his next visit he found his patient in a ravishing morning costume, some cut flowers in a vase standing on a table and a silk blanket of colors becoming to the young lady's complexion thrown over her.

"Ah," he exclaimed, "I see that you are much better!" "Better? I assure you I am much worse. I thought you said you were coming again in a few days?" "This is Friday. I was here on Monday." "But I expected you on Wednesday." "Pardon my neglect. Since Dr. Vermatille's departure I have been very busy."

the decline in the wholesale price should cause a corresponding drop in the retail price, say the dealers.

The decline is attributed to increasing supplies, especially in the West, where much of the creamery butter is obtained for this market. It is thought that the improving pastures for the grazing dairy cattle has reduced the cost of feeding them and may also have increased the milk supply, all of which would tend to lower the price of butter.

SAYS SANITARY CONDITION IS BAD

Sanitary Committee Of The Chamber of Commerce Holds Important Meeting.

DR. RICHARD N. DUFFY TALKS

Urges City and County To Get Men Who Will Properly Attend to His Work.

The meeting of the Sanitary Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last night was one of the most interesting of the several meetings of the committee of this organization held during the week and will probably result in the improvement of the sanitary condition of this city and Craven county as a whole.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. R. N. Duffy, chairman of the committee, and he led in the various discussions. Dr. Duffy spoke at length on the sanitary condition of the city and county. He said that despite the fact that the city had a port officer and a milk and meat inspector and the county a health officer that the sanitary conditions were far from what they should be.

Dr. Duffy said that there was evidently some cause for this and attributed it to the fact that the men who held these offices were not paid a salary sufficient to justify them to devote their entire time to the work. He said that in his opinion the city and county should engage the services of a man who could give his entire time to the work and to pay him a salary which would enable him to do this. "This man," he said, "should examine the schools of the city and county, inspect the markets and in fact see that the sanitary conditions are kept up to the standard."

After the members of the committee had considered and discussed Dr. Duffy's remarks, the following resolutions were drawn up:

"RESOLVED: That the Health and Sanitary Committee of the Chamber of Commerce beg to call the attention of the County Board of Health of Craven county, to existing sanitary conditions of the city and county which are said to be very unsanitary, and request that they investigate and devise such measures that they deem best for their improvement.

"RESOLVED: That these resolutions be printed and a copy of the same be sent to the Board of Health."

Another matter which came up for discussion was that of the violation by soda fountain owners of the ordinance passed a year or more ago relating to the washing and disinfecting of the glasses used at their fountains. For a time after this ordinance was passed the soda fountain owners complied with it but later on the majority of them ceased to comply with the requirements.

One local druggist was present and he cited occasions where the failure to wash and disinfect glasses endangers the health of the community. The committee will endeavor to have this ordinance enforced.

Owing to the fact that Dr. Duffy was called away just at this time a recess was taken until some future date.

FIVE PROMOTERS ARE SENTENCED

ALLEGED SWINDLERS, DENIED NEW TRIAL, ARE GIVEN PRISON TERMS.

Philadelphia, April 30.—Judge Wilmer, in the United States Court here, yesterday refused a new trial to the convicted promoters and officers of the International Lumber and Development Company and immediately imposed sentence upon five men. John R. Markley and Isaiah Miller, of Chicago promoters of the company, were fined $10,000 each and sentenced to 15 months' imprisonment; William H. Armstrong, Jr., Philadelphia, a former business manager of the concern, and Charles R. McMahon, Philadelphia, secretary and treasurer, were fined $2,000 each and given two years in prison and Col. Alfred G. Stewart of Mason City, Iowa, a director, was fined $1,000 and sentenced to one year imprisonment.

An appeal was taken which was allowed by Judge McPherson, of the Court of Appeals. He permitted the defendants to renew their bail of $15,000. All had the bonds ready except Colonel Stewart, who said he could not provide bail for two or three days. He was taken to prison.

These men were interested in property in Mexico and used the mails and newspapers advertisements to sell stock. The Government charged that the scheme was fraudulent and that nearly $6,000,000 was realized by the promoters. Some of this money was returned to stockholders in the form of unearned dividends.

Captain Dryden is now cruising the waters of eastern North Carolina looking after violations by motor boat owners of the navigation laws and in the district of Pamlico, which includes New Bern, has found a large number of violations.

These violations consist mainly in the failure of the boat owners to provide their craft with life preservers for every passenger on board, either whistles or fog horn, two copies of pilot's rules and some means by which burning gasoline may be extinguished. Some of the boats were equipped with one of these while other had only a part of the required equipment.

The complaints made out against these boat owners have been filed

INSPECTOR FINDS MANY VIOLATORS

Government Officer Finds Large Number of Violators Of The Navigation Laws.

UNISHABLE BY A SMALL FINE

Boat Owners Fail To Provide Their Craft With Necessary Equipment.

Capt. A. Lincoln Dryden, Navigation Officer of the motorboat Tarragon of Baltimore, Md., was among the business visitors in the city yesterday. Captain Dryden is connected with the government's Department of Navigation and is the man who a few years ago apprehended the oyster pirates in Chesapeake Bay, an incident that was given much notoriety through the press and for which he received commendation.

These violations consist mainly in the failure of the boat owners to provide their craft with life preservers for every passenger on board, either whistles or fog horn, two copies of pilot's rules and some means by which burning gasoline may be extinguished. Some of the boats were equipped with one of these while other had only a part of the required equipment.

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die. At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well. I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years. Your druggist sells it. Please try it.

C., for action and it is within his power to name the amount of the fine for the violation.

It is not the object of the government to fine the boat owners merely for monetary purposes but to educate them to the value of protecting life and property.
